LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works, in Beryl street, West Roxbury.

The property is bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Frederick C. Niethold, bounded:

West by Beryl street, ten feet; north by other land of said Niethold, one hundred two and 50–100 feet; east by taking made by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes, November 27, 1907, seven and 50–100 feet; again north by the same, seven and 50–100 feet; east by the easterly lot line of land of Niethold, two and 50–100 feet; and south by other land of said Niethold, one hundred and ten feet: containing ten hundred and forty-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 120 feet of 15-inch earthen pipe surface drain, in the above-described premises, being private land off Beryl street.

The Board determines that the undermentioned person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of an easement for sewerage purposes in Beryl street, West Roxbury, to the amount hereinafter mentioned, and awards said amount therefor:

Frederick C. Niethold, 1,044 square feet	$30

PRAISE FOR CITY LIGHTING.

Mayor Curley received the following indorsement for the lighting of Boylston street, upon the 16th instant:

Boylston Street Retail Merchants' Association,
459 Boylston Street, Boston,
September 15, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—We wish to congratulate the City of Boston and to thank you personally for your co-operation with us in establishing the best illuminated street, with one exception, in the United States.

The section of Boylston street, illuminated for the first time this evening, connecting as it does the hotel and theater districts, will make a distinct, favorable impression on the many tourists who visit our city and add, we think, to its prestige.

Again thanking you, we are,

Very truly,

William Spottiswoode.
Ernest Manahan.
A. C. C. Hill, President.
Lovell Clapp, Secretary.

BUILDING ON CITY LAND.

Mayor Curley has signed an agreement whereby Andrew J. Badaracco obtains a lease from the City of Boston and the Boston Elevated Railway Company of a strip of land on Canal street, 200 feet long and 20 feet in depth, upon which he will erect a business block similar to that erected by him nearby a few years ago.

The lease will run for fifteen years and the terms are 6 per cent of the value of the land, with the addition of taxes. The conditions are similar to those imposed in the previous lease. The new building will join the present one and will be of the same style of architecture.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works in Savannah avenue, Dorchester.

The property is bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Savannah avenue, bounded:

Southwest by Oakland street, six and 3–100 feet; northwest by another part of Savannah avenue, one hundred and 15–100 feet; southwest by another part of Savannah avenue, twenty and 50–100 feet; northwest by the northwesterly line of Savannah avenue, by two measurements, eighty-three and 88–100 feet and three hundred seven and 81–100 feet on a curve of twelve hundred fifty-five and 88–100 feet radius; northeast by another part of Savannah avenue, twenty-one feet; northwest by the same, one hundred seventy-five and 14–100 feet; northeast by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Canaan street) six feet; southeast by another part of Savannah avenue, one hundred seventy-four and 92–100 feet; northeast by the same, twenty-three feet; southeast by the southeasterly line of Savannah avenue, by two measurements, two hundred ninety-nine and 4–100 feet on a curve of twelve hundred five and 88–100 feet radius and eighty-three and 88–100 feet; southwest by another part of Savannah avenue, twenty-three and 5–100 feet; and southeast by the same, ninety-nine and 54–100 feet: containing twenty-one thousand and fourteen square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Canaan street, bounded:

Southwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from owners unknown (Savannah avenue), six feet; northwest by another part of Canaan street, by two measurements, twenty and 8–100 feet and nineteen and 93–100 feet; northeast by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Savannah avenue), six feet; and southeast by another part of Canaan street, by two measurements, twenty and 9–100 feet and nineteen and 92–100 feet; containing two hundred and forty square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Savannah avenue, bounded:

Southwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from owners unknown (Canaan street), six feet; northwest by another part of Savannah avenue, four hundred sixty-six and 10–100 feet; northeast by land of Hayes heirs, six feet; and southeast by another part of Savannah avenue, four hundred sixty-five and 91–100 feet; containing twenty-seven hundred and ninety-six square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 1,170 linear feet of 12-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Canaan street, crossing Savannah avenue and part of the private way known as Savannah avenue, from Canaan street northeasterly, for a distance of about four hundred and sixty-six feet.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of land abutting on the northwesterly and southeasterly sides of Savannah avenue, excluding the two corner lots at Oakland street, now or formerly owned by Thomas F. Greene and John W. McNeill, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement ordered herein, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein:

Boston Elevated Railway Company, Dorcester avenue, location.

CONDEMNATION OF BUILDINGS.

Mayor Curley announces that persons who own old and dilapidated buildings, against which the Health and Building Departments have complained for years, face condemnation proceedings at once. Mayor Curley will take up this work where he left off at the close of his first administration and states that at least one thousand buildings are doomed. He says the list of condemnations during the four years of his first administration, from 1914 to 1918, contained 2,200.

Building Commissioner John H. Mahony, acting under the Mayor's instructions, sent a list of buildings to be condemned and condemnation orders were promptly signed. All the buildings are old wooden structures. They are located at 36 Troy street, South End; 5, 7, and 7½ West Third street, South Boston; 218 Athens street, South Boston, and at 653 East Fourth street, South Boston.

DR. MAHONEY AT CONVENTION.

Dr. Francis X. Mahoney of the Health Department was authorized to visit New York to attend a meeting of the Committee on Reorganization of the American Public Health Association Friday, September 22, 1922. This meeting will be the first and probably the only meeting of the full committee on reorganization. The recommendations of this committee will affect the whole future of the association.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

Carolina B. Schmedegaard and Antoni M. Schmedegaard, in the amount of $100, as full payment for land taken and all rights acquired and all damages occasioned to their estate in Wollaston terrace, Dorchester, by the laying out and construction of the said terrace.

Frank Arena and Giovanna Lentini, in the amount of $150, as full payment for land taken and all rights acquired and all damages occasioned to their estate in Tilton (formerly Tileston) street, Dorchester, by the laying out and construction of said street.

REJECTED CLAIMS.

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel, states the Law Department has disapproved thirty-six claims against the city; in nineteen of which no amounts were specified, and the other seventeen aggregated $1,521.70, and are classified as follows:

Against the Building Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Fire Department, three, amounting to $210.75; against the Hospital Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Institutions Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Park and Recreation Department, seven, in one of which no amount was specified, and the other six amounted to $161.25; against the Police Department, two, in one of which no amount was specified, and the other one amounted to $35; against the Public Buildings Department, two, in which no amounts were specified; against the Public Works Department, seventeen, in ten of which no amounts were specified, and the other seven amounted to $1,114.70; against the Schoolhouse Department, two, in which no amounts were specified.

All these claims have been disapproved for the reason that there appeared to be no legal liability on the part of the city.

CITY EMPLOYEES MUST PAY TAXES.

Mayor Curley addressed the following communication to the heads of city departments upon the 20th instant:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
September 20 1922.

To the Heads of Departments:

The City Collector has directed my attention to the fact that a large number of employees of the City of Boston have, up to the present time, failed to pay their taxes.

You are accordingly directed to canvass the employees in your department and notify all who have not paid their taxes that they must do so at once.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

Mildred Whedon, chief director of occupational therapy at the Boston Sanatorium, has been granted permission to attend the annual meeting of the American Occupational Therapy Association at Atlantic City, N. J., September 25 to 29, inclusive.

INCREASE OF HEALTH SERVICE.

Mayor Curley received the following communication from Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Health Commissioner, upon the 21st instant:

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Schick toxin-antitoxin activities have increased to such an extent that it is impossible to continue the work adequately with the small staff of nurses and physicians at present engaged in this work.

Up to date 12,500 children have been Schick tested and treated, and the department has already started a campaign to carry on this work in the parochial schools of Boston, where there are over 27,000 pupils. This procedure, plus the retesting of the 12,500 children already treated, is the reason that I respectfully request the services of additional nurses and physicians to be added to the present staff.

In the city of New York, where this work has now progressed for several years, there has been a great decrease in the number of cases of diphtheria, with a consequent lowered mortality from this preventable disease, and I feel sure that the City of Boston will be amply justified in the expenditure of money for these additional employees.

I therefore respectfully request that you give permission for the temporary employment of two physicians at salaries at the rate of $1,600 each, to fill existing vacancies in the budget under the item of inspectors, and two nurses at salaries at the rate of $1,300 each, to fill existing vacancies in the budget under the item of nurses; also one extra nurse at $1,300 to be charged to Item A-2, Temporary Employees.

Respectfully,
Francis X. Mahoney,
Health Commisiioner.

PUBLIC CITY ENTERTAINMENTS.

There was a demonstration of one form of the service to be rendered by the new Boston Conservation Bureau at an open air show at Columbus Park, Strandway, South Boston, upon Thursday evening. The program included music, moving pictures and information on matters in which men, women and children of the city can co-operate to their own advantage.

The program featured health, clean streets and alleys, as well as street accident prevention, with motion pictures and "silent talks" on the screen, the latter including a new message prepared for the occasion by the Health Department. "Why a Traffic Officer?" was explained by one of the police force assigned by Superintendent Crowley. Singing by the people, with cornetist and song leader, was a feature.

From the middle of July to date there have been thirty-two open-air park shows in various sections, with audiences aggregating 100,000 people, of whom two thirds were adults and one third children. The work of arranging and directing this public service has been in the hands of the Service Unit organization of interested citizens co-operating with city officials, whose efforts will shortly bear larger fruits through the functioning of the Conservation Bureau authorized by the City Council upon Monday last.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR.

While the City of Boston provides men and instrumentalities for the protection of life, health and property, these protective aids to attain the full measure of their purpose and efficiency must have the sympathy and co-operation of our citizens. Carelessness, untidiness and indifference are the chief causes of death and destruction in municipal life for they are the breeders of disease and the sources of fire, and these evils are preventable.

Last year 15,000 lives, largely women and children, were lost by fire; 17,000 were maimed and crippled; and some $485,000,000 of property laid waste Boston contributed its share to these needless and preventable evils; carelessness and ignorance were the elements that prepared the material for this waste of life and property, when watchfulness and self-interest could have saved America from such unnecessary calamities.

The week of October 2 to 9, 1922, has been set apart all over the United States as "Fire Preventive Week" and I ask the citizens of Boston to unite with their fellows all over the country in devoting time and attention to the preventive education the week connotes, join in the official ceremonies of the week and by practical work and demonstration take the measures necessary to impress upon the minds of all the value of the ancient proverb, "Prevention is better than cure."

Now, therefore, as Mayor of the City of Boston, I deem it my duty to designate the week of October 2 to 9 as "Fire Prevention Week" and urge upon all city departments and the people at large to join in making the observance of the week city-wide and in keeping with the character of the fire prevention ceremonies that will be held at the same time throughout the entire United States.

Specifically, I ask:

That the schools hold suitable exercises at some time during the week in order that the younger generation may be impressed with the need for carefulness in connection with fire hazards.

That all business men and householders remove rubbish from their premises, for cleanliness and fire safety are largely synonymous.

That fire drills be held in schools, factories and public buildings, so that there may be a minimum of delay in evacuating such premises should the need arise.

That hotels, theaters and other places where numbers of people congregate, be carefully inspected and all possible precautions be taken to insure safety to life and limb.

That all heating apparatus, flues and chimneys be inspected and repaired where necessary, in order to avoid fires during the coming winter.

That all electric wiring and apparatus be examined and their defects corrected, and

That the press co-operate by taking cognizance of the observance and what it stands for, as a measure of public welfare.

James M. Curley, Mayor.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

Dr. Arthur J. White, Superintendent of the Boston Sanatorium, has been granted permission to attend the American Hospital Association meeting at Atlantic City, N. J., September 25 to 30, inclusive.

SPECIAL EXHIBITION AT LIBRARY.

The Trustees of the Boston Public Library announce an exhibit in honor of the bicentenary of Samuel Adams, born upon September 27, 1722.

Several portraits are exhibited in the Fine Arts Department, third floor, the most important being the painting by Copley, a photograph of the original in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and Paul Revere's engraving, made for the April issue of the "Royal American Magazine," 1774.

There are several printed brochures pertaining to the American Revolution and bearing Adam's autograph; also several publications written by him, including his oration in Philadelpha, August 1, 1776, in a London reprint of the same year, omitting the words "United States" from the title.

Other documents are a broadside giving the order of procession at Adam's funeral in 1803, and several manuscripts signed by him as clerk of the Province of Massachusetts Bay and president of the Senate of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 132.

On August 29 I sent out to the department General Order No. 121, commending Patrolman Hammerslough of Division 2 for a meritorious piece of police work in apprehending four men in an automobile who were wanted for robbery on Division 15.

On further investigation of this case I find that some officers of Division 15 also assisted in this case.

Patrolman Michael J. Regan of Division 15 remembered the numbers of the sedan car which passed him and gave these numbers to Officer Hammerslough of Division 2. Shortly after, this car appeared in Adams square and was stopped by Officer Hammerslough, and the occupants of the car proved to be the men wanted on Division 15 for the robbery mentioned above.

I desire to give full credit to any and all the officers who assisted in this excellent piece of police work, and I therefore also commend Patrolmen Regan and Conlan of Division 15 for their part in this arrest.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 133.

The resignation of Patrolman Francis L. O'Brien of Division 12 has been accepted.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

TRANSFER OF HORSES.

The Mayor has granted permission to transfer horses Nos. 1327, 1635, 1663 and 1715 from the Fire Department to the Public Works Department. On account of the new motor apparatus installed in the department more horses are at hand than are necessary for present needs. These horses are transferred with the understanding that they may be recalled by the Fire Department whenever needed.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

The General Construction Company, Inc., have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for rebuilding Hyde Park Avenue Bridge, over Mother brook, Hyde Park. Items ordered: Cutting and dressing stone bridge seat and concreting holes behind parapets—the estimated cost of extra work being $150.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

Construction Inspector (Male), Boston Transit Department, October 3, 1922.

The salary is $1,700 a year. There are two vacancies.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Experience, 5; the writing of a letter or report, 1; practical questions, 4; total, 10. The practical questions will be based upon the following: The proper bracing and bridging of subway excavations; the care and support of underground structures such as sewers, water pipes, electric conduits, etc.; the construction of brick, stone and concrete masonry; the proper placing of waterproofing materials; setting reinforcing steel and erecting structural steel work; checking lines and grades.

Applicants will be required to obtain at least 65 per cent in experience and in practical questions.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

Inside Wireman (Male), Boston Fire Department, Fire Alarm Branch, October 3, 1922.

The salary is $5.60 per day. Applicants must be not more than 35 years of age at the time of filing application and must file a certificate of date of birth with the application.

The duties of the position are to do the interior wiring for both lighting and signal service systems. It is desirable that applicants have some telephone experience or fire alarm experience, although this is not essential. Applicants must be licensed electricians.

The examination will consist of the filing of a statement of training and experience. The mark given in experience will be combined with the mark given applicants by the State Board of Electricians at the time of receiving their license.

Successful applicants will be given a physical examination.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz. 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, September 11, 1922.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m. President BRICKLEY in the chair. Absent Coun. Donoghue, Ford, Watson.

The orders were passed.

SIDEWALK ORDERS.

President BRICKLEY offered the following orders, viz.:

That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along the northerly side of Jamaica street, from South street to Woodman street, Ward 22, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width and to be built of artificial stone under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along the easterly side of Woodman street, from St. Joseph street to Jamaica street, Ward 22, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along the southerly side of St. Joseph street, from South street to Woodman street, Ward 22, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Coun. GILBODY offered the following orders, viz.:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along both sides of Centre avenue, from Centre street to Dorchester avenue, Ward 20, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

The bidder must leave his proposal with a certified check for $200, payable to and to become the property of the City of Boston if the proposal is not carried out, at the above office. A duplicate bid, without check, must be left with the City Auditor prior to the time named for opening bids. The bids will be publicly opened and read Friday, September 29, 1922, at 12 m., at Room 801, City Hall Annex. The successful bidder must furnish a bond for one quarter the amount of the contract with a surety company authorized to do business in Massachusetts. The contract calls for pure dairy milk, neither skimmed or topped, nor in any way deprived of its natural proportion of cream. An average of fifty-five (55) cans of eight and one half (8½) quarts each is required for delivery per day, including Sundays. The Superintendent reserves the right to accept or reject any or all proposals and to award the contract as he deems for the best interests of the city. All contracts made subject to appropriations to meet payments thereunder.

MUNICIPAL SERVICE.

Complaints, inquiries or suggestions regarding the work of municipal departments should be made in writing to the officials directly in charge. The failure of such officials to make reply within a reasonable length of time should be brought to the attention of the Mayor. Communications should be directed as follows:

TO THE BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS, Room 401, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the laying out, relocation,, widening and the discontinuance of highways; the taking of real property for municipal purposes; the assessments of betterments for streets and sewers; the plotting of undeveloped areas for streets and the opening of private ways; the granting of licenses for the storage or sale of merchandise in public streets; the regulation of street traffic; the making of specific repairs in public streets, the naming of public streets, the planting and removal of trees in public ways, the issuing of licenses for the storage of gasolene, oil and other inflammable substances or explosive compounds, the use of the public ways for any permanent or temporary obstruction or projection in, under or over the same, including the location of conduits, poles and posts for telephone, telegraph, street railway or illuminating purposes, signs, marquises, bay windows, coal holes and vaults.

TO THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS, Room 511, City Hall Annex, for information as to the watering, cleaning, lighting and repairing of streets, the construction and care of sewers and catch-basins, the operation of the ferries, the maintenance of bridges and drawbridges and the removal of ashes and offal.

To Room 604, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the supplying or metering of water and the water charges of the city.

TO THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT, Room 1107, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the inspection of milk, vinegar, meat, fish and vegetables, the issuance of permits for stables, slaughter houses, etc., smoke nuisances, the existence of contagious diseases or public health nuisances.

TO THE BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS, 33 Beacon street, for information as to the care of the Common, Public Garden, Franklin Park, Franklin Field, Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay Fens, Marine Park and the small parks and playgrounds in general throughout the city, and as to the extermination of gypsy moths and the charges made for such service. Application may be made to this department for information regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mount Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 26 Mason street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

TO THE SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

TO THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

TO THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Room 905, City Hall Annex, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of wires and electrical apparatus. Also to the same office for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must invariably be paid in advance.

HEALTH UNIT FOR EAST BOSTON.

A district Health Unit for East Boston, similar to that so long and successfully operated in Blossom street, West End, was decided upon at a regular meeting of the George R. White Fund Trustees, held in Manager George E. Phelan's office at City Hall upon the 28th instant.

The structure is to stand upon a centrally located site which is already owned by the city, and the firm of Coolidge & Shattuck will be commissioned to draw plans for remodeling the building which now stands there. It is stated that $40,000 will cover the architects' fee and the cost of necessary renovations.

Mayor Curley was chairman of the meeting, which was attended by City Auditor Rupert S. Carven and President Henry F. Hurlburt of the Boston Bar Association, all three of whom, with President David J. Brickley of the City Council and President F. S. Snyder of the Chamber of Commerce, are trustees under the will.

It was voted to cancel plans for the remodeling of the old Police Station 8 House in Commercial street, where it is planned to locate the North End Health Unit, and to construct on its site an altogether new building, at a cost of $135,000, when the police there move to their new home a short distance away this winter.

CONGESTION OF TRAFFIC.

The parking of automobiles in such manner as to block approach to post hydrants and failure of vehicular traffic to give way quickly to fire apparatus has resulted in many accidents and delays in the past few months, according to Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn.

Particular difficulty is experienced in the narrow streets throughout the business district. The police are constantly warning drivers. Blockades are more frequent also owing to the increased traffic between the terminals.

Mayor Curley will call a meeting of department heads, including the Police Commissioner, to see what action can be taken. The Street Commissioners realize that adequate relief cannot be afforded unless by drastic action, which, in many of the streets, would permit drivers of vehicles merely to stop at the curb to allow occupants to alight, or to enter cars, such as is the rule on Washington street.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

Park Department.

Upon September 25 the Mayor approved a contract with Frank J. Gallagher & Co., for the construction of refreshment booths at Franklin Park. Bids for the work, opened August 24, were as follows:

Frank J. Gallagher & Co., $2,092; M. S. Kelliher, $3,100; R. A. Bossi Company, $3,336.

Public Works Department (Water Service).

Upon September 22 the Mayor approved a contract with C. Russo for laying and relaying water pipes in Aldrich, Ashland and Beryl streets, West Roxbury. Bids for the work, opened September 19, were as follows:

C. Russo, $2,716.25; V. Barletta, $2,956.25; De Cristoforo & Brothers Company, $3,131.25; M. De Sisto Company, $3,168.75; John Williams & Co., $3,351.25; V. (James) Grande, $3,914.50; M. De Matteo, $5,437.50.

Upon September 25 the Mayor approved a contract with the A. Baruffaldi Company for furnishing and laying 3-inch black steel pipe at Jeffries Point, East Boston. Bids for the work, opened September 18, were as follows:

A. Baruffaldi Company, $4,675; D. Di Pietro, $3,410; John Williams & Co., $6,400; George T. Rendle, $6,492; John J. Loonie, $8,200.

Incident to the award of this contract Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, made the following statement:

"The lowest bidder, Daniel Di Pietro, submitted a proposal which is below the cost price of the work, and for that reason his bid is rejected. The work to be done under this contract is to be completed on or before November 15, 1922."

Supply Department.

Upon September 21 the Mayor approved a contract with Gastner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., and the Maritime Coaling Company for furnishing and delivering semibituminous coal to the Institutions Department, Infirmary Division, in the bins at $10.91 per gross ton; to the Institutions Department, Penal Division, alongside Deer Island, $10.26 per gross ton; to the Public Works Department, Sewer Service, Calf Pasture, in the bins at $11.06 per gross ton, and to the Boston City Hospital alongside at $10.26 per gross ton, which, figuring the cost per million B. T. U., shows this concern to be the lowest bidder.

The award of contract to the Maritime Coaling Company is for furnishing semibituminous coal to be delivered in the bins of the Ferry Service, for the North and South Ferries, at $10.50 per gross ton, which is the lowest bid per million B. T. U. Bids for the supply, opened September 18, were as follows:

Three Thousand Five Hundred Tons, Long Island.—Maritime Coaling Company, $11 per ton; Gastner, Curran & Bullitt, Incorporated, $10.91* per ton.

Three Thousand Five Hundred Tons, Deer Island.—Maritime Coaling Company, $10.25 per ton; Gastner, Curran & Bullitt, Incorporated, $10.26* per ton.

Six Thousand Five Hundred Tons, Ferry Division.—Maritime Coaling Company, $10.50* per ton; Gastner, Curran & Bullitt, Incorporated, $10.91 per ton.

Six Thousand Tons, Sewer Division.—Maritime Coaling Company, $11.10 per ton; Gastner, Curran & Bullitt, Incorporated, $11.06* per ton.

Two Thousand Five Hundred Tons, City Hospital.—Maritime Coaling Company, $10.25 per ton; Gastner, Curran & Bullitt, Incorporated, $10.26* per ton.

British Thermal Units.—Maritime Coaling Company, 14,200; Gastner, Curran & Bullitt, Incorporated, 14,300.

Ash.—Maritime Coaling Company, 7 per cent; Gastner, Curran & Bullitt, Incorporated, 7½ per cent.

Upon September 22 the Mayor approved a contract with the Groton Granite Company for furnishing paving blocks to the Public Works Department, Paving Service. Bids for the supply, opened May 24, were as follows:

James C. Kilrain, $110 per M.; total, $55,000. Groton Granite Company, $112.50 per M.; total, $56,260. S. & R. J. Lombard, $120 per M.; total, $24,000 (bid on 200,000 only). Bernard F. Kilby, $125 per M.; total, $62,500.

The 1921 price was $115.

Incident to the award of this contract Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department, issued the following statement:

"The low bidder, James C. Kilrain, is not in the granite business and upon investigation I found that he was engaged in the trucking business in Quincy, and if awarded the contract for furnishing the blocks he would be obliged to pick them up at any quarry where he could secure them. The granite quarries have been on strike for almost a year, and I deem it inadvisable to award a contract to any other than a granite company, who can assure us of delivery and will not hinder the work of the Public Works Department through failure to deliver the blocks when they are needed."

Brighton.—100 tons at $11.45 per ton. Other items same as above.

West Roxbury.—1,000 tons at $11.50 per ton. Other items same as above.

Hyde Park.—100 tons at $11.75 per ton. Other items same as above.

The Whole City.—Metropolitan Coal Company, 15,000 tons at $11.15 per ton; British Thermal Units, 14,350. Other items same as above. Revere Coal Company, 15,000 tons at $9.85* per ton, C. Prime Gregory Coal Mining Company, South Ford, Penn., 2.50 per cent moisture, 17 per cent volatile matter, 73.50 per cent fixed carbon, 7.50 per cent ash, .65 per cent sulphur, 14,150 British Thermal Units, 7.50 per cent in dry coal.

* Lowest bid per million B. T. U.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

Upon September 27 the Mayor approved a contract with Edward J. McHugh & Son, for furnishing double and single teams and auto trucks for East Boston Tunnel alterations, for the year ending September 30, 1923.

Bids for the work, opened September 27, were as follows:

Edward J. McHugh & Son, double teams, $6.20 per day; single teams, $4 per day; double caravans or jiggers, $4 per day; auto trucks, $20 per day.

A. DeStefano Company, double teams, $6.95 per day; single teams, $5 per day; double caravans or jiggers, $6.95 per day; auto trucks, $20 per day.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Upon September 25 the Mayor approved a contract with the Joslin Company for building artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, September 22, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the Joslin Company, 21 Mt. Vernon avenue, Braintree, Mass., is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

‡ Did not bid on all items.

Incident to the granting of this contract Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department made the following statement:

"Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, for furnishing groceries and canned goods to the various city departments, to the Bay State Grocery Company.

"Bids were received after public advertisement for the above and were publicly opened and read on September 1, 1922, at which time the Bay State Grocery Company was the lowest bidder on the total for each department. Upon comparing the bids at the auditor's office it was found that the Bay State Grocery Company did not file a bid there as required by law, although they did file a certified check with their bid at the Supply Department as required by law, and are willing to furnish a bond for any amount to insure the city that the contract will be properly filled.

"In view of the fact that the Bay State Grocery Company is over $500 lower than the second lowest bidder, I believe it is for the best interests of the city to award this contract to the Bay State Grocery Company without publicly advertising same."

Upon September 25 the Mayor approved a contract with the R. H. Long Motors Company for one Bay State sedan, and who are to take in trade one sedan of 1922 pattern. The car is for use of the Commissioner of Public Works. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, September 23, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Permission is requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to the R. H. Long Motors Company, Framingham, Mass., for one 1923 Bay State sedan at a cost of $2,648.75, this price to include extra equipment, consisting of oversize tires, spare rims, and a spare tire, tube and rim. The R. H. Long Motors Company are taking in trade one 1922 Bay State sedan, for which they are allowing $2,216.02, making the net amount of the contract $432.73.

This car is for the use of the Commissioner of Public Works and the 1923 sedan is a larger and heavier car with a heavier motor and many extras that were not in the 1922 sedan, and I feel that this type of car is much better for the use of the Commissioner of Public Works than the one he now has.

Trusting the permission requested will be granted, I am,

Respectfully yours,

Frank P. Rock,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon September 25 the Mayor approved a contract with the Boston-Buick Company for furnishing one five-passenger automobile for the Water Service Division of the Public Works Department. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, September 23, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to the Boston-Buick Company for furnishing one 1923 five-pasenger, 6-cylinder Buick to the Water Service, Public Works Department, at a price of $1,305 delivered.

This car is the one best suited to the needs of the department, and in view of same I trust that the permission requested will be granted.

Yours respectfully,

Frank P. Rock,
Superintendent of Supplies.

LAND FOR SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Mayor Curley addressed the following communication to Chairman Thomas P. Glynn of the Schoolhouse Commission upon the 27th instant:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
September 27, 1922.

Mr. Thomas P. Glynn, Chairman, Schoolhouse Commission, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir,—In view of the extremely large expenditures being made for schoolhouse construction I beg to suggest that your Board consider the advisability of securing sufficient land when sites are determined upon to anticipate future additional needs in the matter of enlargement of buildings that may be constructed, and in addition, in connection with new buildings, make such provision in designs, plans and specifications as will permit of easy extension to provide such additional accomodations as the future may make necessary.

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

TAX BILLS SOON READY.

Though the tax rate for Boston was announced only a day later than last year, it is certain that the bills will be in the hands of property owners much earlier than was the case a year ago, owing to the use by City Collector William M. McMorrow of the "Metered Mail" system.

There are more than 90,000 tax bills to prepare and the machine was at work upon the 26th instant on the first 5,000. Clerks in the department said that they will be able to do the work in about one-third the time that would be consumed by any other method and that they will be able, with the postage-meter machine, to do away with all other machinery in connection with the dispatching of mail to property owners.

INQUIRY BY ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

Mayor Curley addressed the following communication to Chairman M. W. Burlen of the Election Department on the 27th instant:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
September 27, 1922.

Mr. M. W. Burlen, Chairman, Election Commissioners, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir,—The changes that have occurred in industry affecting the hours of the workers, coupled with the extension of suffrage to women, in my opinion render necessary a change in the time for opening and closing of the polls on primary and election days. Under the present system it is not an unusual situation to find fifty or a hundred or more persons outside of the voting precinct at six o'clock in the morning and this rush continues until about nine o'clock, with an interval between nine and twelve when very few votes are cast and the same interval between one-thirty and three-thirty.

Under the present system unless the voter whose employment takes him outside of the city during the course of the day casts his vote before going to work, which, owing to the crowded conditions at most precincts represents either a hardship or an impossibility to him, he is deprived of the privilege of voting unless he makes a sacrifice of time and money to return from his occupation outside of the city during the day.

Under the circumstances I would greatly appreciate an investigation as to the methods in use in other cities and consideration by your Board as to the advisability of changing the hours of opening and closing the polls from the present system to a time which would range from twelve o'clock noon until nine o'clock p. m.

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

LIGHTS ON WEST BOSTON BRIDGE.

Upon the request of Clarence W. Barron, Mayor Curley has instructed Chief Engineer John E. Carty of the Public Works Department, Bridge and Ferry Division, to ascertain why the lights in the towers on the West Boston Bridge are not in use. Since the erection of the bridge in 1907, the lights appear never to have been operated.

MESSAGE OF GREETING.

Edward F. Albee, director of the B. F. Keith Theaters, now in New York, but who enjoyed a residence of many years in Boston, has presented a magnificent oil painting of the late Edwin Booth, premier of American actors, to the famous Shakespearean art gallery, at Stratford-on-Avon, England.

Mayor Curley, in honor of this event, addressed the following cablegram to Archibald Flower, Esq., Mayor of Stratford-on-Avon, upon the 24th instant:

Boston, September 24, 1922.

To Archibald Flower, Esq., Mayor of Stratford-on-Avon, England:

Pray accept the felicitations of citizens of Boston upon acceptance of E. F. Albee's painting of Edwin Booth for Shakespearean Gallery by Rotary Clubs.

James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS.

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel, states the law department has this day disapproved fourteen claims against the city; in eight of which no amounts were specified, and the other six aggregated $9,411.82, and are classified as follows:

Against the Institutions Department, one, amounting to $600; against the Police Department, two, amounting to $260; against the Public Works Department, eleven, in eight of which no amounts were specified, and the other three amounted to $8,551.82.

All these claims have been disapproved for the reason that there appeared to be no legal liability on the part of the city.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

Luke E. Shields, Director of the Municipal Employment Bureau of the City of Boston, has presented the following report:

September 25, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I beg to call your attention to the report of activities of state and municipal employment services for the months of May, June and July, which has just been received at this office from the Department of Labor at Washington.

For the month of July, which is the last month included in the report, the City of Boston has been given credit for 936 placements, and the Municipal Employment Bureau is credited with 736, or approximately 80 per cent of the entire number of placements in Boston.

This Bureau has functioned 250 per cent better than all the other state and city free employment bureaus in the City of Boston. During the month of May we were credited with approximately 50 per cent of the placements in Boston for that month, according to the statistical reports from Washington, and the July reports of approximately 250 per cent more than the other state bureaus of this city shows the substantial progress of this office.

I am sure your Honor will be pleased with this report, as it proves the efficiency of the plan of employment approved by you last March.

Respectfully submitted,

Luke E. Shields,
Secretary.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

Catherine Higgins, 756 East Fourth street, South Boston, in the amount of $200, as compensation for damage to property at said address, caused by defective water meter February 9, 1921.

Frederick Farley and Robert B. Farley, executors of the estate of Catherine Farley, in the amount of $2,500 as full payment for land taken, all rights acquired, and all damages occasioned her estate on Gove street, East Boston, by the taking made for school purposes.

Catherine E. McDonnell and James H. McDonnell, in the amount of $223.10 as full payment for land taken and all rights acquired and all damages occasioned to their estate on North Beacon street, Brighton, by the relocation of said street.

PENSION RETIREMENT BOARD.

Mayor Curley has chosen Wilfred J. Doyle of Dorchester, Assistant City Clerk, as a member of the Retirement Board which will administer the new pension system for employees of the City of Boston and County of Suffolk.

According to the act, which was passed by the last Legislature, the City Treasurer is designated as a member of the Board. The Mayor has the duty of naming another member, leaving the third member to be named by these two.

Mr. Doyle's apppointment is subject to civil service confirmation. He is a lawyer, having entered the service of the city in 1892. He was appointed Assistant City Clerk in 1908. He is one of the best versed men in the city service concerning city laws and regulations, carrying in his mind a vast fund of information which is at the service of city departments and the public.

The Board will have permanent headquarters in City Hall and the organization will comprise a new city department. The act specifies that an executive officer shall be chosen, as well as an actuarial and clerical staff. The members of the Board will be compensated at the rate of $10 for each meeting, the total yearly compensation not to exceed $500. The salaries of others shall be determined by the Board, with the approval of the Mayor.

VISIT MR. WHITE'S GRAVE.

In accordance with a request in the will of the late George R. White, who left a bequest of $5,000,000 to the City of Boston, Henry F. Hurlburt, one of the trustees of the estate, has visited Mr. White's grave at Forest Hills. With him were Mrs. Harriet J. Bradbury, a sister of the city benefactor, and Manager George E. Phelan.

A clause in the will reads:

"I request that the trustees named in this article shall annually designate one of their number who shall visit and inspect my lot in Forest Hills Cemetery in the months of September and April of each year and report to the board any neglect or failure to comply with the provisions of the contract of perpetual care, and it shall be the duty of said trustees to see that such neglect or lack of care be remedied without delay."

NECESSITY FOR REMOVAL OF DIFFERENTIAL.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter to the mayors and selectmen of every city and town in the Commonwealth upon the 25th instant relative to the elimination of the freight differential:

"The Interstate Commerce Commission will grant a hearing upon the petition of the Boston Chamber of Commerce for the removal of the present discriminatory differential. The differential as adopted by the Interstate Commerce Commission and which has been in operation for about twenty years will, if permitted to continue, destroy the commercial life of New England, and since without commerce industry is impossible, it is imperative that every city and town in the Commonwealth assist both by protest and presence in the work of removal of the differential.

"The hearing will be held at the Post Office Building, Boston, Tuesday, October 3, at 10 a. m., and you are earnestly urged to attend."

CHANCES FOR EMPLOYMENT.

Luke E. Shields, secretary of the Employment Bureau of the City of Boston, Rooms 1 and 2, City Hall, announces he can place the following male help:

Foremen (sewerage), masons, bracers, pavers, plumbers (union), marine fireman, baker, cooks, chefs, dishwashers, piemakers, punch press hands, asphalt and concrete workers (skilled and unskilled), edgestone setters, laborers (pick and shovel), laborers (factory), boys (factory and errands), cement finishers, engineer (bridge work), pumpman, laundry helper.

Shipyard.—Electricians, pipe fitters, coppersmiths, carpenters, joiners, sheet-iron workers, machinists, painters, riggers and canvas workers, pipe coverers, shipfitters, reamers and bolters, and general helpers.

Female Help.—General housework, private nurses, maids, packing and sorting (candy), cleaners, waitresses, factory workers.

SERVICE OF CITY BUREAU.

The Commercial and Industrial Bureau of the City of Boston has received a request for assistance in the matter of straightening out legal and other obstacles affecting the Street Laying-Out and Public Works Department, for the purpose of expediting the breaking of ground for a steel products plant at Mildred avenue, Dorchester. This is but one of a number of similar industrial projects that are receiving the attention of the Commercial and Industrial Bureau, induced, in all probability, by the prospect of the removal of the differentials and the present low tax rate as compared with other cities in the Commonwealth.

ABATEMENT OF POLL TAX.

The law now limiting the right of a veteran to apply to the assessors within ninety days from the date of the tax bill in order to receive the abatement of the $3 war poll tax ought to be amended so that the veteran who is unable to apply within the required ninety days by reason of absence, sickness or any other inability, might upon satisfying the assessors of his inability to apply within this time, be allowed six months, the period now allowed on all other abatements.

Samuel F. Bowman, to Division 17.
John B. Glawson, Jr., to Division 6.
James W. Downing, to Division 17.
Joseph E. Greene, to Division 9.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 136.

In several instances during the past few years officers have failed to take their regular day of relief when due, with the result that the days of relief not taken at the proper time have accumulated in round numbers of from four to fourteen days to certain officers. When vacation time comes around the officers ask for accumulated days of relief to be added to their regular fourteen days' vacation.

Members of the department must understand that this practice cannot be continued because if officers allow their days of relief to accumulate and to be added to their regular two weeks' vacation, division commanders will not be able to make arrangements for the covering of routes, etc., especially during the vacation period.

I feel that not more than three days should be allowed to accumulate in any one year and, when an officer is unable for a good and sufficient reason to take his day of relief when due, he shall take it as soon as possible after the day due or within the period of the next block of days off.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 72.

I. Fire Prevention Week.

During the week from October 2 to 9, in addition to the usual inspections by district and company officers, one member from each engine and ladder company, in its sub-district will inspect the cellars and yards of stores, and the cellars, backstairs and roofs of dwelling houses containing three or more families, with a view of causing the removal of combustible rubbish, obstructions to egress, etc. These inspections will be made between meal periods, viz., 10 a. m. to 12 m and 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. Each inspector will submit to headquarters daily the street and number of each building inspected.

The inspectors detailed to the Bureau of Fire Prevention and Intelligence, together with such additional members of the department who may be placed in this service during the week, October 2 to 9, will inspect the high value district of the city for the purpose of causing the removal of combustible rubbish, articles blocking egress, and other simple but hazardous conditions tending to create a fire menace.

Lectures on fire prevention will be delivered by district and company officers in the various public schoolhouses, if requested to do so, also fire drills will be held during the week. District chiefs will arrange, when requested, the time for lectures and drills with masters of the schools. The basis for such lectures to be as follows:

Statistics for 1921 show a property loss by fire in the country approximately $500,000,000, with an estimated loss of life of upwards of 15,000 persons.

Experts say that 80 per cent of the above loss of life and property was due to carelessness.

One of the most prolific causes of loss of life and property from fire is the careless habit of permitting accumulations of waste combustible material in cellars, attics, etc.

The following conditions are of such importance that both school children and grown-ups should observe them:

Never put hot ashes in wooden barrels.

Caution children not to start or go near a bonfire, or to handle matches. Keep matches out of reach of small children.

Never hang clothing over a stove or stovepipe.

Never enter a clothes closet with a lighted match, candle or lamp.

Never use gasolene, naphtha, or benzine in a room with an open flame, such as gas light or fire in stove—the vapors will catch the flames and cause an explosion.

Never start or refresh a fire in a stove by adding kerosene to the fuel.

Never leave a kerosene lamp or stove burning when you leave the house, or when you are the last person to go to bed.

Never permit articles to obstruct a fire escape or stairway.

Report all conditions liable to cause fire to the nearest fire station, and they will be promptly remedied.

Learn the location of the nearest fire alarm box to your dwelling, also the method of sounding an alarm of fire. (Note, officers will, where possible, demonstrate the proper method of giving an alarm.)

Learn how to operate a fire extinguisher. (Note, officers will demonstrate operation.)

After giving an alarm of fire through means of fire alarm box, stand by box to direct firemen upon their arrival. (Note, officers will state reason.)

Never give a false alarm of fire.

Deputy chiefs, in their respective divisions, will see that the arrangements above set forth are properly carried out.

By order of the Fire Commissioner,

John O. Taber,
Chief of Department.

POLL TAX OF VETERANS.

Mayor Curley declares there is strong likelihood that hundreds, if not thousands, of World War veterans will have to pay the $5 poll tax in Boston through negligence in securing an abatement of $3, as provided by law.

There are approximately 25,000 veterans who have thus far failed to file the necessary blanks with the Board of Assessors. Chairman Edward T. Kelly has informed the Mayor that the applications are coming in very slowly and that the time will expire October 15. The chairman fears that there will be a rush in the closing days which will prevent many applicants from being served.

The question of physical or mental condition has been given no consideration in the law, and the Assessing Department has no option other than to compel the payment of the entire poll tax unless abatement is applied for within the time mentioned.

Veterans of the World War should take advantage of the above-named privilege immediately.

PROTEST OF GAS PRICES.

Mayor Curley has addressed the following strong protest relative to the price of gas in the City of Boston to the Corporation Counsel:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor.
September 25, 1922.

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, Corporation Counsel, 730 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir,—In view of the position taken by the president and counsel for the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, namely, that the present cost of labor and materials will not permit of a reduction in the price of gas consumed by the people living in the territory served by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, in my opinion it is advisable that you request an investigation by the Board of Public Utilities with a view to securing a reduction in price.

It might be advisable, in view of the present price of gas in New York, to prepare a draught of such legislation as, in your opinion, may be necessary to repeal the present sliding scale act and end the interlocking system which at present obtains between the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the New England Fuel and Transportation Company, which interlocking system apparently renders it extremely difficult to secure the reduction in the price of gas to which the public, served by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, is entitled.

Sincerely yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a land-taking for sewerage works, in Ogden street, Dorchester.

The property is bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Ogden street, bounded—

North by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes in Ogden street, April 24, 1922, four and 78/100 feet; west by the same, three and 85/100 feet; northeast by another part of Ogden street, by two measurements, eighty-eight and 1/100 feet and 52/100 feet; southeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Stone and Gallagher, trustees, six and 16/100 feet; and southwest by another part of Ogden street, eighty-five and 69/100 feet; containing five hundred and thirteen square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Nathaniel H. Stone and H. Clifford Gallagher, trustees, bounded—

Northwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from owners unknown (Ogden street) six and 16/100 feet; northeast by other land of said trustees, one hundred twenty and 53/100 feet; southeast by the same, six feet; and southwest by the same, by two measurements, one hundred twenty and 17/100 feet and 55/100 feet; containing seven hundred twenty-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 200 linear feet of 12-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Ogden street and private land.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works, and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lot of abutting land on the easterly side of Ogden street (opposite Wilmington avenue) now or formerly owned by Jennie L. Stevens, and the lots of abutting land on the easterly and westerly sides of a proposed extension of Ogden street, now or formerly owned by Nathaniel H. Stone and H. Clifford Gallagher, trustees, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement ordered herein, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against them herein:

Foreman Caster, Boston Printing Department, October 20, 1922.

The salary is $2,500 per year. The foreman caster man of the monotype typesetting plant is responsible for the mechanical working condition of the monotype casting machine and keyboard, and is also responsible for the product of both machines. The caster man need not necessarily be a keyboard operator but should thoroughly understand the mechanism of that machine as well as that of the casting machine. He should also have a knowledge of the quality of metal used in making type, as any deviation from the standard formula of tin, antimony and lead would result in much trouble and produce inferior type. His duties also include the interior management of the casting room and the practical and efficient handling of all work which comes to him to be cast. He should also be able to make all adjustments and repairs on both keyboard and casting machines.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 1; special questions on the duties of the position, 1; total, 2.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

General Information.

The names of veterans who pass the examinations will be placed upon the eligible list in the order of their respective standing, above the names of all other applicants, as provided for in section 23 of chapter 31 of the General Laws.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 73.

I. Loss of City Property.

In view of the numerous reports which have been received at this office concerning the loss of clothing, especially fire coats, the attention of the officers and members of this department is drawn to the fact that the uniforms and rubber coats furnished to them are the property of the city, and must be guarded and accounted for as such. Hereafter, any clothing that has been lost through neglect or carelessness must be paid for by the member losing it.

II. Operation of Hydrants.

Engineers or men in charge of hydrants at fires will see that connections are properly made before turning on the water, as the high pressure hydrant, once in operation, presents a dangerous condition if not properly and efficiently operated.

District chiefs will see that all members of the department in their respective districts are instructed in the making of proper connections to apparatus and hydrants of all types. Deputy chiefs will be held responsible for the carrying out of this order.

III. Chief and Branch Officers' Uniforms.

Hereafter district chiefs and all officers of the department wearing the insignia and uniform of district chiefs will wear gold buttons on their uniforms instead of nickel as at present.

In addition to the above, the chin straps now worn by district chiefs and all officers of the department wearing the insignia and uniform of district chiefs will be increased in size from three-eighths (⅜) inch to one half (½) inch.

By order of the Fire Commissioner,

John O. Taber,
Chief of Department.

MAYOR'S EMERGENCY FUEL ORDER.

Authority to borrow $250,000 to place Boston in the retail coal business to provide for such families as will be unable to procure fuel through the ordinary channels, will be asked for in an order to be introduced in the City Council upon October 2, Mayor Curley has announced.

Mayor Curley plans to distribute the fuel in one-ton quantities at cost, plus the cost of handling of fuel.

Disclosing a survey made by city officials the past few days of local dealers who admit that they will be unable to fill even part of the orders already filed by consumers by February 1, the Mayor admitted that he has already made plans for obtaining coal in large shipments, the nature of which he will announce within the next few days.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT OR "GREATER BOSTON."

Consists in the most inclusive sense of 40 municipalities, including Boston, or 14 cities and 26 towns, all within 15 miles of the State House. The 7 cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the 6 cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The 6 adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the 20 other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Swampscott, Wakefield, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester. North and northwest of Boston are situated 11 of the cities and 12 of the towns; south and southwest, 2 cities and 14 towns. Area of Northern Division, 150.8 sq. miles and population in 1920, 699,685, or a density of 4,619 per sq. m.; Southern Division, 214.8 sq. miles and 211,191 population, or density of only 983 per sq. m.; in the whole Metropolitan District, 4,051 per sq. m. In percentages Boston shows 10.5 p. c. of District's area and 45.09 p. c. of population; Northern Division, 36.2 of area and 42.18 of population; Southern Division, 53.3 of area and 12.73 of population. In the period 1915–1920, increase of population 34,798 larger in Northern than in Southern Division.

Total land area of District, 409.5 square miles; population by census of 1920, 1,658,936 or 4.08 per cent increase over that of 1915. Of the total population of the State, "Greater Boston" has 43.06 per cent; of total valuation, 51.23 per cent; of total value of manufactures, 32.21 per cent.

Total valuation of taxable property in District on April 1, 1920, $2,737,589,002, i. e., for realty and tangible personalty, including bank stock, intangible personalty being exempt from taxation (except income therefrom) in 1917 and thereafter. The said total exceeds the 1919 valuation by $130,698,130, a gain of 5.01 per cent. Of said total 57.57 per cent was in Boston and 42.43 per cent outside. The four organized Metropolitan Districts existing for the purpose of constructing and maintaining certain extensive systems of public works under State control are as follows: Metropolitan Park District, established by chapter 407, Acts of 1893, including all the cities and towns except Lexington, and managed by a State Board of five commissioners; Metropolitan Water District, established by chapter 488, Acts of 1895, including 10 cities and 9 towns, and covering an area of 175 square miles; Metropolitan Sewerage District, established by chapter 439, Acts of 1889, consisting of the North System and South System, including 17 cities and towns in the former system and 8 in the latter, and covering an area of 225 square miles; the last two districts managed by a single State board of three commissioners; Charles River Basin District, established by chapter 465, Acts of 1903, including all the cities and towns except Cohasset and Lexington, and in charge of the Metropolitan Park Commission. By Chap. 350, General Acts of 1919, the two Metropolitan boards were abolished and a single Metropolitan Commission of five members was established.

Another Metropolitan District, viz., the Fire Prevention District, was organized in 1914 by the enactment of chapter 795. In this district are the 14 cities of "Greater Boston," but only 10 of the towns, to which were added Reading and Rockland, a total of 26 municipalities. The District is in charge of a single commissioner, assisted by a deputy commissioner, both appointed for a term of three years. This office was also abolished by said Chap. 350, the work of same being transferred to Dept. of Public Safety.

Total gross Metropolitan debt for water, parks, sewers and Charles River Basin improvements on July 1, 1920, $77,292,543; sinking funds, $27,263,179; net debt, $50,029,364 or $1,796,817 less than in 1919. The division of this net debt was Water supply, $26,399,132; sewers, $12,301,741; parks, boulevards, etc., $8,044,420; Charles River Basin, $3,284,071. Of the latter, $1,106,345 is payable by Boston alone, i. e., $640,884 for Boston Embankment, and $465,461 for Charles River Bridge. Of 1920 tax rates, the highest of all the cities was Quincy's ($32.20) and the highest among the towns, Saugus's ($35.95); the lowest among the cities was Boston's ($24.10) and among the towns, Dover's ($9.00). Mean tax rate of the 13 cities in the District outside of Boston, $29.10 or $3.29 more than in 1919. Mean tax rate of the 26 towns, $24.61 or $3.87 more than in 1919. There were in the District in 1918, 4,319 manufacturing establishments, value of product, $1,240,496,193; capital invested, $672,377,072; value of stock and materials used, $737,506,555; total wages paid, $210,781,794; average number of wage earners, 212,629 (maximum number 251,867); increase over 1917 product, 30.87 per cent. Rank, 1 to 12, in value of product: Boston, $522,646,032; Lynn, $130,386,667; Cambridge, $130,022,595; Somerville, $107,572,650; Quincy, $85,248,312; Watertown, $53,131,801; Everett, $34,366,419; Chelsea, $31,492,524; Malden, $20,583,671; Woburn, $18,786,306; Waltham, $17,608,720; Newton, $14,817,126. Boston's total product value was 42.13 per cent of the Metropolitan District's.

PUBLIC RECREATION IN BOSTON.

Number of large parks, 24; separate playgrounds, 43, with total of 324 acres, also 13 playgrounds in parks, with area of 155 acres; small parks and squares, 75; total area, 2,685.68 acres. Cost of Main Park System, i. e., 1,386 acres (incl. Common and Public Garden, 72.65 acres) land and construction (since 1877 when begun), $12,180,832; of Marine Park System, i. e., 457.9 acres (since 1883), $4,474,150; of all other parks and public grounds, $2,274,437; of separate playgrounds, $4,385,346. Total cost, $23,314,765.

The leading attraction of the Main Park System is Franklin Park (named for Benjamin Franklin), acquired in 1883-84, and containing 527 acres, about 80 of which are occupied by the Zoological Garden, 15 miles of walks, 8 miles of driveways, etc., the entire cost up to 1921 being $4,496,801. There are also within the City limits 958 acres of Metropolitan parks and parkways under State control, chief of which is Stony Brook Reservation in West Roxbury, containing 464 acres of wild forested hill and dale with many rocky knolls and an extensive view of the Charles River valley and beyond.

Number of public indoor baths open all the year, 14; 9 beach baths and 7 floating baths open during summer; indoor gymnasia, 11; total number of indoor baths taken in year 1920, 1,389,994, of which 74.2 per cent were by men and boys.

Total valuation of City properties devoted to recreation $69,306,900 (including $55,112,400 for Boston Common and Public Garden), which far exceeds that of any other American city except New York.

PRINCIPAL COUNTRIES OF EXPORT AND IMPORT TRADE, WITH VALUES, MASSACHUSETTS CUSTOMS DISTRICT.

Of total exports, $115,725,800 or 63.27 per cent, were to England; $11,807,418 or 6.45 per cent to Cuba; $9,132,614 or 4.99 per cent to Germany; $8,561,768 or 4.68 per cent to Belgium; $6,761,250 or 3.70 per cent to Canada and Newfoundland; $5,535,463 or 3.03 per cent to Scotland; $4,660,921 or 2.55 per cent to Italy; $3,208,987 or 1.75 per cent to Argentina; $3,160,549 or 1.73 per cent to Denmark; $2,741,001 or 1.50 per cent to France, this being only one-ninth the total exports to France in 1919-20.

Of total imports, $75,224,439 or 21.05 per cent were from Egypt; $70,130,887 or 19.62 per cent from Cuba; $56,210,920 or 15.73 per cent from England; $35,322,192 or 9.88 per cent from Argentina; $15,346,752 or 4.29 per cent from Uruguay; $10,581,206 or 2.96 per cent from British South Africa; $8,243,154 or 2.31 per cent from Canada and Newfoundland; $7,692,795 or 2.15 per cent from Australia; $5,391,470 or 1.51 per cent from Mexico; $5,106,199 or 1.43 per cent from Japan; $4,079,414 or 1.14 per cent from China.

CITY CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885 and 1909 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission, and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2 was adopted by a majority of 3,894. Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirement as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor, and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway from Broadway and Tremont st., South End, to North Station and from Boylston st., near Charles to Park st., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State st. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,327,000; East Boston Tunnel Extension, from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917 to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; trains of four or six cars are run in the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel and connecting Cambridge Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways; amount borrowed to 1921 for the Dorchester tunnel, $10,750,000. Total cost of all subways and tunnels, about $36,995,000, incl. loan of $825,000 for new Arlington Station, against which a sinking fund of $5,818,710 has been accumulated from the revenue, payable mostly in 40 years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways about 8.9 miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of 4½ to 4⅞ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at ⅜ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be 4½ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

POPULATION OF BOSTON BY WARDS.

In stating the population by wards and comparing same with the ward totals in 1915, various incredible decreases appear. The 1920 totals are as follows, with increase or decrease from 1915 stated for each ward by + or — sign: Wd. 1, 24,738 (+962); Wd. 2, 38,313 (—3,591); Wd. 3, 18,566 (—2,450); Wd 4, 15,706 (—2,879); Wd. 5, 63,267 (—14,306); Wd. 6, 35,030 (—2,220); Wd. 7, 38,091 (+3,007); Wd. 8, 39,105 (+788); Wd. 9, 28,959 (—5.037); Wd. 10, 25,727 (—14); Wd.11, 26,875 (+641); Wd. 12, 28,015 (—1,401); Wd. 13, 26.380 (—4,153); Wd. 14, 26.003 (—1,796); Wd. 15, 25,960 (—265); Wd. 16, 29,363 (+3,959); Wd. 17, 27,277 (+1,424); Wd. 18, 28,547 (+2,670); Wd. 19, 24,810 (+2,062); Wd. 20, 26,546 (+3,588); Wd. 21, 33,938 (+7,439); Wd. 22, 25,989; (+2,177); Wd. 23, 24,904 (+3,462) Wd. 24, 23,849 (+1,234); Wd. 25, 22,8282 (+5,681); Wd. 26, 20.020 (+1,639). Gain of 40,733 in 15 wards, mostly in Wards 16 to 26 incl.; loss of 38,112 in 11 wards, mostly in Wds. 2 to 15 incl. These 11 wards contained 56.8 per cent of the foreign-born residents in the entire city in 1915.

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON.

Boston was settled in the latter part of August, 1630, by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to September 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, September 18, 1922.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., President BRICKLEY in the chair. Absent—Coun. Ford.

JURORS DRAWN.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

The following were received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I appoint Alfred F. Geary, 157 Dorchester avenue, South Boston, to the position of Constable of the City of Boston for the term ending April 30, 1923.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I appoint Samuel P. Rodgers, 660 Tremont street, Boston, a Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1923.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

Laid over under the law.

PURCHASE OF STEAMER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication received from the Institutions Commissioner, requesting an appropriation of $40,000 to purchase and recondition a boat to take the place of the steamer "Monitor," and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Institutions Department, September, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I respectfully ask that an appropriation in the sum of $40,000 be provided to purchase and recondition a boat to take the place of the steamer "Monitor."

The boiler of the "Monitor" has been condemned by the United States inspectors. It is estimated that it would cost at least $30,000 to install a new one and make other necessary repairs. We would still have an old boat—one twenty years old.

On September 25, the government is to sell at auction a number of new steel boats. It is believed that it would be to the city's advantage to purchase one and have it reconditioned. I have already had a survey made of the "General Rochester" and believe it could be readily adapted to our purpose.

Trusting that the appropriation may be granted in order that I may submit a bid, I am

Very truly yours,
David J. Johnson,
Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $40,000, to the appropriation for Institutions Department, steamer, $40,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SETTLEMENT OF ATLAS COMPANY CLAIMS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Uopn September 14, 1922, as a result of a conference between the Corporation Counsel and the attorney for the Atlas Construction Company, an agreement was reached in settlement of the claim of said company against the City of Boston in the sum of $7,500 for the construction of a sea wall at Deer Island in 1907.

I respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer the sum of $7,500 from the Reserve Fund in settlement of the claim of the Atlas Construction Company, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 207 of the Acts of 1922.

The matter was declared referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I ask for reconsideration of that reference. I believe from information which has reached me that this is something to which we should give close attention before passing the appropriation order. We have heard from one side of the case, the claimant's side, but evidently there is another side, and I certainly trust that we shall take proper time to give the matter the thought and consideration it deserves before passing the order. Certainly we should try to arrive at some intelligent conclusion before acting. The action we have taken so far has been merely perfunctory. The suggestion I make now is that we appoint a committee and have a public hearing on this matter, giving anybody and everybody on both sides full and ample opportunity to air their views. We can then come to an intelligent conclusion as to what our action in the matter should be. I certainly believe there should be a public hearing.

Coun. WATSON—I voted for this proposition at the recent meeting because I knew that it had merit. I had checked up the Atlas Company claim and found that instead of $7,500 being justly due, the claimant should receive at least $12,000. It seems to me there is only one side of the question, and that is the right side. The Mayor has looked into the matter and I am only too willing to approve of his verdict. I don't believe anything will be gained by a public hearing. If the gentleman will tell me what he means by referring to "both sides," I might agree with him. Who is the other side?

Coun. HAGAN—Why, the people on the other side. I understand that there is a great deal of opposition to the passage of the proposition.

Coun. WATSON—Will the gentleman kindly tell me from whom?

Coun. HAGAN—That will appear later. I don't know that it is proper to go into it at this time.

Coun. WATSON—I think now is the time, Mr. President. I think we should know.

Coun. HAGAN—Citizens and taxpayers.

Coun. WATSON—If the gentleman will give me the names of those opposed to the proposition, I will gladly wait.

Coun. HAGAN—I don't think the gentleman should make that request at this time.

Coun. WATSON—Well, I think if somebody is trying to oppose this particular order, and only conveys the information to one member of the body, I, for one, am perfectly willing to ignore that person. I want information that is reliable. Is this some more propaganda? Certainly, I would like to know something about it. I have no desire to disagree with the member on the left on this matter, because he and I voted the same way upon it at the last meeting. We voted to accept the act. I voted for it and I think he voted for it. You voted for it, didn't you?

Coun. HAGAN—Yes.

Coun. WATSON—Why did you vote for the act, in view of the present objections?

Coun. HAGAN—I didn't know there were any.

President BRICKLEY—Would you like to have this go to the Executive Committee?

Coun. WATSON—I would like to see it go through, unless we can get some information on it today. I believe in the city doing justice in matters of this kind. It may be that by delay you will be handicapping that man financially. I am willing to come out in the open and say that I favor the proposition. I believe that instead of receiving $7,500 this man should receive $12,000. I think the city is acting in a niggardly way on the proposition. They ruined the man. They did not live up to the contract. There was a guaranty that the gravel should be right near his work. They had no right to guarantee it. The United States Government, which had the right, did not do it, and when he came there the United States Government said, "No," and he had to hire teams and horses. The City of Boston treated the man brutally, ruined him, bankrupted him. Now he has had to wait all these years, the matter being acted upon in three Legislatures and three Councils. I am perfectly willing to say here now that the city ought to pay not the Atlas Construction Company, but the individual who is interested in it. He served with me in the Legislature and in this Council. I will take his word on anything, and unless the gentleman (Coun. Hagan) gives me the names of the people who are opposed to this, I will insist on acting today, whether there are enough votes to pass it or not.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I do not in any sense or any manner want to put myself in opposition to this order. I know nothing about it. I voted for it when it first came in, as did everybody else. That is, I voted to accept the legislative act. We had no information—at least, I had no information—and it was one of those perfunctory things that comes here quite often and goes through unnoticed. I don't want to say that it does not have merit, that the city should not pay this price. I don't know. The gentleman takes refuge in the fact that I don't care to mention the name of a man who has written a letter to me asking for a public hearing, so that he may appear. I cannot give the names of men who write in that way without consulting with them. I don't know that the gentleman would care to have me do it. But I understand that this man and other men would like to appear at a public hearing. Who may wish to appear, I don't know. But I do know that the Boston Finance Commission under date of August 11 wrote to the Mayor on this subject, in opposition, and, while I have not properly digested their communication, it is very clear that they believe it is an unsound proposition, that this is an amount that the city should not pay. Certainly, therefore, the Boston Finance Commission are entitled to an opportunity to come before this body and air their views. The Finance Commission are the investigating body of the city government, paid by the taxpayers to do this job. I think, out of decency to them, we should give them an opportunity to come in and express their views; and if there are other citizens who also wish to come in and air their views they should have an opportunity to do so. After they have done so, the gentleman's opinion may be changed, or perhaps I might decide against them and vote for the order, after listening to what they have to say. I simply want all the light I can get. It has been the custom of the body to grant hearings at all times upon matters of public interest, and it seems to me we should not depart from that custom at the present time. I am only asking for a reasonable time to give consideration to the matter, hearing the remonstrants. It seems to me I am entitled to that consideration before coming to a conclusion.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am always in favor of public hearings, but this thing, to my mind, was passed some six or eight weeks ago. We adjourned for four weeks, and met last Monday. Anybody interested as an individual citizen has had ample time to communicate his views, not to you as an individual member of the Council, but to the Council. If he desired a public hearing he has had ample time to ask for that. But, in so far as the Finance Commission is concerned, the result only proves that they are not on the job. They had their say with the Mayor before he rendered a decision, and if they were not satisfied with the decision of the Mayor they had ample time to request a hearing before this body. But this is simply another example of the crude, snide way that the Boston Finance Commission does its business. The Finance Commission of Boston does not give the same courtesy to this Council that we are willing at all times to give to them. I have no doubt that the member across the way (Coun. Hagan) has a communication from some individual citizen, but I don't believe it compares at all with the letter from the Finance Commission. I will say this, illustrating my feelings toward the Finance Commission, that if they were in favor of this I would be opposed to it and if they were opposed to it I would be in favor of it, because if there was ever a commission that should be wiped out of existence, saving $40,000 to $50,000 to the citizens of Boston, it is that commission, with its five members, one active and four inactive, and a paid secretary by the name of Dowling, who is the dominating character of the organization.

Coun. WATSON—Absolutely.

Coun. MORIARTY—It is about time, as far as the Boston Finance Commission is concerned, that we should allow the citizens of Boston to find out who is protecting them. If any member of this body can show me where the Finance Commission of Boston has ever saved a five-cent piece after being in existence practically thirteen years, I will agree to take some notice of their communications. But all I can say is that they have not only used the entire appropriations we have been compelled to give them under the Act of the Legislature, but have in other ways compelled the city to lose many more dollars. I have the calendar here of August 7 of the meeting. It was on August 7, that this body passed the order. The Finance Commission and every individual citizen of Boston then had an opportunity to express themselves in the matter. I am not interested in this claim; I remember when it first came up that I voted for postponement and that the member who is now asking to put it over voted against postponement. It was held up here for one or two weeks, laid on the table, and the member now trying to hold it up for a public hearing voted not to postpone it, but to put it through. Under every permissive act of the sort coming from the Legislature the Mayor has always been the man to make the agreement. In connection with the claims coming in here because of the boys shot on the street in the policemen's strike, the Mayor set a price, and there was nobody who arose then to save the citizens' money or to save or protect the citizens' children. By a vote of 8 to 1 those orders have gone through this Council under an agreement made by the Mayor. If those agreements were good enough to be made in connection with the death of a human being, a boy shot in the back, the son of a respected citizen of Boston, this order should go through without the Finance Commission coming in here in their sneaking dog-like way and asking for a public hearing in order to try and create sentiment against the matter. I believe the order should go through in accordance with the agreement.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I think Coun. Moriarty has covered the ground much better than I could. We have had this letter from the Finance Commission, Coun. Hagan, since August 11.

Coun. HAGAN—We haven't met.

Coun. WATSON—Yes, last Monday. Now the Mayor has decided that $7,500 would be a fair amount. I would like to ask the gentleman, in no spirit of opposition or desire to belittle him or to in any way to make him appear as inconsistent, if he did not vote $5,000 here within a year for a man by the name of Thomas F. Goode, who was shot, I think, during the police strike, a man making a lot of money—John I. Fitzgerald, Lomasney's representative,—came in here in favor of it? There was no hearing on that, no chance for the Finance Commission to investigate, but it was passed immediately when it came in. Why make fish of one and flesh of another? I think that Mr. Linehan's case is a just one. Why, in the Finance Commission's communication they admit the justice of the claim. It is admitted that he was taking material a greater distance from the work than was expected or required under the contract. They admit that. If you say that this is establishing a precedent, I am willing to vote to establish a precedent at any time, when it means doing justice. I trust that this will not go to the Executive Committee. I feel that we should vote upon the matter today. I would ask if the communication the gentleman has is from a man named Brady, an attorney, claiming $1,000 due him on a legal matter? If that is true, I certainly trust that this City Council will not be influenced by it. That matter was brought to my attention, and I stated then that I didn't think the City Council should act as a collecting agency for Brady.

Coun. HAGAN—In answer to the gentleman's question, I remember distinctly a man named Goode asking some compensation from the city, or I believe the request came from his heirs.

Coun. WATSON—He is alive yet.

Coun. HAGAN—I have forgotten the facts, then. That was presented to me and I was asked simply to be the medium through which it should be presented to the body. I personally knew nothing whatsoever about it. If there was any reason for a public hearing at that time, there were eight men here who could have asked for it and I should not have opposed it. I would have been glad to have had a public hearing if anybody wanted it. When this matter first came up I took the say-so of Mr. Linehan. No request for a public hearing was made at the time. So the two cases really are not on a par at all. Nobody asked for a public hearing in the Goode case, and I am asking for a hearing in this case. It has been the custom of this body—I think a wise and proper one—when such a request has been made to grant it, giving parties an opportunity to present their claims and arguments in public hearing and giving others a chance to take the other side if they wish to do so. I hope the day never will arrive when this body will refuse to give a public hearing on any matter involving expenditure of the public funds, that the opportunity to present views at such a hearing will not be denied to anyone. I did receive a letter from Brady, in regard to the matter the gentleman speaks of, and I imagine everybody else did. I replied to Brady that I knew absolutely nothing about the merits of the case. At the time when I voted to accept the legislative act I knew nothing about the matter. As a matter of fact, I was asleep at the switch when I voted. I was busy on some other matter at the time and was asleep when that was going through. I don't think that ought to be held against anybody, because it is quite a common occurrence in this body. I wrote to Brady practically what the gentleman has said, that I did not think the City Council should be considered a collection agency, but I felt that if he wrote asking for a public hearing it would be granted to him and he would have an opportunity to air his views. It seems to me, if I remember correctly, that he had written the President of the body asking for a public hearing, and also to the City Clerk. I am pretty confident that I got such a reply from Brady. But the letter that I have now is not from Brady. It goes into some details of the case and states that this man and certain taxpayers would like an opportunity to appear in opposition if an opportunity was granted in a public hearing. This is a matter involving expenditure of $7,500 of the public money. If it has merit in it—I am willing to take the gentleman's statement that he believes it does have merit—it will certainly not be impossible to convince me that it has merit. But I do think that it is wise and proper that those in opposition should have a chance to have their say. I don't like to see things jammed through the body without regard to the feelings of anybody. It certainly seems to me that matters of this kind should not be pushed through, jammed through the body, without giving everybody an opportunity to be heard.

Coun. WATSON—If you will guarantee that the writer of that letter will appear at the public hearing, I might take your word for it and favor the public hearing, but I fear that when the opportunity is given the gentleman will not appear in protest.

Coun. HAGAN—I am quite satisfied that he will appear in protest if a public hearing is given, and that there will be a number of other citizens here likewise. It may be that their protest will be an unjust one. You may have the rights of the case. I don't know about that. But there will be at least an opportunity for this gentleman and others, taxpayers, to appear at the hearing and state their position. The gentleman will be here. That I will guarantee.

Coun. WATSON—Will you kindly give his name so that I may know who he is?

Coun. HAGAN—I have told you that this is a confidential communication and that I would have no right to give the name.

Coun. WATSON—I don't ask for the contents of the letter, I merely want to know his name.

Coun. HAGAN—I have answered your question.

Coun. DONAHUE—Mr. President, after listening to the speech of the gentleman opposed to the proposition (Coun. Hagan) who has talked about jamming matters through, my mind reverts to the time when the order first came here. When it first came in I felt, as I feel now, that we ought not to act too hastily on any of these propositions. Therefore, on that day I moved that we postpone action on that particular proposition for at least one week, so that we might hear something as to the merits of the thing. So when the councilor takes the position he does today, that we should not jam matters through, I will simply say that he voted not to postpone it then for even one week, but to immediately pass it. But we did hear from the counsel for the Atlas Construction Company in regard to the matter. That was sufficient for me. He proved his case to my mind, that they had a rightful reason for making this claim upon the city; and in view of the fact that the matter has been favorably acted upon by his Honor the Mayor, I cannot see what advantage is to be gained by further postponement. We have already held the matter up for four or five weeks, and I think, in justice to the men interested in the proposition, that there should be no further delay. I think the order ought to go on its passage immediately. Certainly talk about jamming matters through is entirely out of order coming from the source whence it does on this particular matter. Had the member voted to postpone then and pay some attention to the presentation of facts that were brought out, he probably would have today some of the information that we who are in favor of the proposition do have. I think we have had a lot of useless talking and wrangling on the matter, and that it ought to be passed today.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I don't feel like continuing this case, but there has something come to my mind, something that the Finance Commission had no interest in at all. Sometime ago there was an order introduced by myself, and at the next meeting, while it was a matter concerning which the Finance Commission had no business, they did send a communication to this body telling us that we had no right to investigate certain officers, and they sent along an interpretation of the late Corporation Counsel Babson's opinion on the law. I thought we had a Law Department here, that when we wanted to know what our rights were we had a Law Department which could inform us. But I find the Finance Commission not only acting as a Finance Commission but as a Law Department of our city. Here is a case where they say money is involved and that the city is not getting a fair deal. I am reliably informed that the chairman of the Finance Commission was present in the Mayor's office when this conference took place between the Mayor, the chairman of the Finance Commission and the representatives of the Atlas Construction Company. It must have taken place earlier than yesterday, and if Mr. Dowling was not too busy up there tending to other people's business and not the Finance Commission's business they would have had ample time, if they so desired, to request the City Council for a public hearing, for which I, and I think the rest of the members, would have voted. But I believe every time when anybody wants a public hearing he should be at least willing that his name should be used. If anybody is not willing to have his name used in connection with a request for a public hearing, I believe he is not entitles to any consideration from this body or any other body. When any individual citizen desires to write an individual communication to any individual member of this Council, to me or any other member, and I or the other member do not feel like divulging his name, I feel that the other eight members ought to vote against the request. Of course, the writer of that communication may be the chairman of the Finance Commission. He has done things like that, and I would not put it past him, and his secretary up there would even stoop to lower things than he would. I am in favor of the passage of the order.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I am going to make one more attempt to prevent this matter being rushed through here today without proper thought and consideration being given to the expenditure of $7,500 from the public funds. I think an opportunity should be given to taxpayers and citizens to come before this city government and I hope to the good God that such a request will never be denied. I think that is the only right and proper course to take. In reading over this communication I find that "the claim came into court in 1909, was passed before a master, and the master's report confirmed by the court. This decision found no agreement whatever to justify any claim and threw the whole business out. Almost every year since, Frank J. Linehan, who really was the Atlas Construction Company, has petitioned for a special act"——

Coun. WATSON—If the gentleman will permit an interruption, I have to telephone, and I will be back in a moment . (Coun. Watson left the room at this point.)

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, if I may proceed, I will say that "almost every year since Frank J. Linehan, who really was the Atlas Construction Company, has petitioned for a special act to permit paying his claim. Just as regularly his petition was thrown out, until this year, when with the assistance of eminent counsel from Brighton, Martin Hays (who prior to the present Council is reported to have opposed passing the desired legislation), the act permitting payment was passed upon acceptance by the City Council and the Mayor." I do not characterize these statements. I don't know whether they are so or not. But if they are so, let the thing come out in a public hearing, where all the facts can be presented. I am simply asking the courtesy of a public hearing, something that has never been denied a member in this body in my knowledge, and I have been here a number of years. I certainly hope it will not be denied now. Then, if it appears that the case has merits, I will favor it. I am not speaking as one who is at all prejudiced in this matter. I simply want the facts.

Coun. WATSON.—Mr. President, I have just talked with Mr. Dowling of the Finance Commission. He said he would undertake to get Mr. Sullivan to talk with me. But he found that Mr. Sullivan had just left the office. Mr. Dowling said that Mr. Sullivan was opposed to the payment, whether it was $7,500 or $15,000. He said he thought Mr. Sullivan was present at the time when the Mayor was considering the claim of the Atlas Construction Company. That information does not change my mind. Coun. Hagan, while I was absent, read from the letter that he had received. Did you give the name of the writer?

Coun. HAGAN.—No.

Coun. WATSON.—Then, Mr. President, I move that the matter read be removed from the minutes of the Council. At any time when a letter is read from an individual protesting a claim, without our having an opportunity to know the name of the person writing it and standing back of it, I think should be taken out of the records. I am satisfied that Frank J. Linehan has enemies, like all of us. I am also satisfied that the person who wrote this letter will never show up when we have a hearing.

Coun. HAGAN.—Yes, he will.

Coun. WATSON.—Give his name and I will vote to postpone as long as you want to. I will ask my associates to join me publicly in asking for the name of the man who wrote that letter. Mr. President, I ask the gentleman to withdraw such part of the letter as he read to the stenographer, in view of the fact that it is not of any importance, as it is anonymous; and, secondly, because any man who writes a letter and who is afraid to have his name appear should not have the letter put upon our records. I am going to move now that we pass the order at this time.

The rule was suspended. yeas 6, nays 2:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Gilbody, Moriarty, Walsh, Watson—6.

Nays—Coun. Hagan, Lane—2.

The order was passed, yeas 6, nays 2:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Gilbody, Moriaty, Walsh, Watson—6.

CONSERVATION OF HEALTH.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith draft of ordinance the adoption of which, in my opinion, is necessary in connection with the work of protecting the health and lives of the Boston public.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston.
In the Year Ninteen Hundred and Twenty-two.
An Ordinance Establishing the Boston Conservation Bureau.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston as follows:

Section 1. There shall be a conservation bureau consisting of nine members appointed by the mayor, three of whom shall be appointed for a period ending May 1, 1923, three for a period ending May 1, 1924, and three for a period ending May 1, 1925. The chairman shall be designated by the mayor. Thereafter beginning with the year 1923, three members shall be appointed annually for a term of three years from the first day of May in the year of appointment. Any vacancy that shall occur shall be filled in like manner for the balance of the unexpired term. The members shall serve without compensation.

Sect. 2. The bureau shall from time to time make such recommendation to the mayor as in their opinion will be conducive to the conservation of human life and the promotion of public health.

Sect. 3. The bureau may appoint such additional persons as in its judgment it may deem necessary, who shall be designated as advisory members, but in no case shall the said advisory members consist of more than one hundred.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

TRANSFER FROM WATER INCOME.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication received from the City Collector, requesting the transfer of $8,200 from Water Income for the purpose of proving outstanding accounts in the Water Income Division, and respectful,y recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Collecting Department, September 8, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—For the purpose of proving outstanding accounts on the Water Income Division books, it was necessary to cross-check all payments and abatements, balance the manuscripts, and prepare shut-off lists.

In accordance with instructions from the City Auditor, this work has been under way since July 13, 1922, nights and Sundays, by employees of the department, and the estimated cost will be $8,200. I therefore respectfully request a transfer of the above amount from Water Income to Collecting Department, Water Division, A-3, Unassigned.

Respectfully,
William M. McMorrow,
City Collector.

Ordered, That the sum of $8,200 be and the same hereby is transferred from Water Income to the Collecting Department, A-3, Unassigned, for the purpose of proving outstanding accounts on the books of the Water Income Division.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

EXTENSION OF HIGH PRESSURE SYSTEM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the inclosed communication from the Commissioner of Public Works, requesting an appropriation of $100,000 from Water Income for the extension of the high pressure fire system, and respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
September 14, 1922.
To the Honorable the Mayor:

In order that the extension of the high pressure fire service may be prosecuted next year, the materials for the two miles of work proposed to install should be contracted for at once, so as to insure delivery in time for spring pipe laying. At present we have little or none of the materials to be used on hand.

It is respectfully requested that $100,000 be appropriated from Water Income to provide for the extension of the high pressure fire service.

Yours very truly,
J. A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works,

Ordered, That the sum of $100,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated from Water Income to be expended, by the Commissioner of Public Works, for the extension of the high pressure fire system.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

REMOVAL OF WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY.

Coun. WATSON offered the following:

Resolved, That it is the opinion of the City Council that Webster's Unabridged Dictionary of the present day be removed from all Boston public libraries and Boston public schools as it is distinctly an anti-American publication tending to undermine true Americanism.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I have been informed, reliably so, I believe, orally and by communication, of propaganda that I consider un-American which is being spread throughout our country, and particularly in Boston. I have referred to this matter in a communication which I sent to the Public Library Trustees on September 1, in which I called upon them to consider the advisability of removing from the shelves of the public library the Webster's Unabridged Dictionary of the present day, which is entirely opposite to an earlier Webster's dictionary in its definitions of certain important words, the more recent definition of those words being, in my opinion, stated with what might be called their "Anglo-Saxon" meanings. There are many books on the shelves of the public library and in our public schools that represent British propaganda. I received from the librarian, Mr. Charles Belden, in response to my letter, the following communication:

> "The Public Library of the City of Boston,
> September 7, 1922.
>
> "Hon. James A. Watson,
> Council Chamber, City Hall, Boston 9:
>
> "Dear Mr. Watson,—This is to acknowledge your communication of September 1, addressed to the Trustees of the Public Library. I shall bring the same to the attention of the Board at their October meeting.
>
> Very truly yours,
> Charles Belden, Librarian."

I must first of all indorse the words which I am about to read of the Hon. Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior in President's Wilson's cabinet. They are printed on the cover of the first volume, first number, of a paper that is positively American, the "Hail! Columbian," published in St. Paul, Minnesota, and which is filled with wonderful words tending to true Americanism. Franklin K. Lane said, and well said, this:

"Before we take up this work of Americanization of others we must first be sure that we have Americanized ourselves."

I indorse every word of that utterance. I have another reason for speaking here today. I am a member of the Patriot League for the Preservation of American History. Among the foundation members are the following: Hon. Wallace McCamant, director-general of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution; Hon. Charles H. Betts, publisher of the Lyons, New York, Republican; Hon. James M. Graham, former representative in Congress from Illinois; Mrs. Edward Lansing Harris, national chairman of the Committee on Patriotic Education of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Capt. Walter I. Joyce, national chairman of the Americanization Committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Mrs. Diana Belais, president of the New York Anti-Vivisection Society; Charles Edward Russel, publicist. Those are but a few members of the organization of which I am a member and which I would hope every member of this body might be a member as well. I am going to read a part of my remarks, which I prepared recently for this occasion. The purpose of my order is to try to bring back to the people of the present day a little of the old-fashioned Americanism of the founders of this republic, and to destroy the propaganda that is and has been undermining our institutions, made possible by the sacrifice of the blood and lives of our forefathers. I am not unaware of the mighty forces that are behind the Anglo-Saxon and anti-American propaganda and I fear it little. I do not approach my task with any feeling of bitterness toward England or her people, but as I am an American I must speak plainly, regardless of who is hurt. I am a member, as I said before, of the Patriot League for the Preservation of American History, and it is my duty to use every means at my command to offset when and where I can the insidious, vicious and undermining propaganda which has been spread and still is being spread throughout our country and which is eating at the very vitals of our Constitution and government. I shall call as some of my witnesses in spirit 100 per cent Americans long since gone to their eternal home, by quoting from accredited publications their words. I shall compare these words and the fundamentals of our Constitution with the witnesses of a latter day for Anglo-Saxon proponents. To make plain that I am trying to be 100 per cent in my Americanism I will say that I trace back my Americanism many years. My father's mother was a direct descendant of John and Samuel Ruggles, who came to what is now Roxbury in 1631–34. Their offspring were many among them being the Rev. Timothy Ruggles of Massachusetts and his son, Brigadier General Ruggles, chief justice of the highest court in Massachusetts prior to the Revolution and the speaker of the Assembly of that time, also president of the first colonial convention of which Hancock, Adams, Franklin, Otis and others were members. On my mother's side I point to the fact that her father—my grandfather—was a major in the War of 1812 and her grandmother was a full-blooded Mohawk Indian. So much for my Americanism. The Cecil Rhodes scholarships, the Carnegie Foundation and the like are all working with one purpose in mind—the Anglicizing of America. For example, let me read extracts from two dictionaries—both called "Webster." Noah Webster's dictionary of 1843 and the speeches of Daniel Webster are my witnesses, and I stand by them and other witnesses to prove that some sinister interests are slowly but surely poisoning the minds of the growing Americans who attend our schools of learning. I shall compare the definitions from the Webster dictionary of 1843 with the present day Anglicized dictionary. I shall take but three words, although the same conditions prevail as to other words, and permit me to state that the vicious propaganda is not confined to the dictionary. The organization in charge of the Anglo-Saxon propaganda in Boston is the Loyal Coalition, and I must give credit to this Anglo-Saxon organization for fighting in the open. We can meet its attack, but what should be feared most is those who hold high positions of trust but work in the dark. I shall take the words "constitution," "union" and "federal" for comparison. I will take first the definition of the word "constitution" as set forth in Noah Webster's dictionary in 1843. Noah Webster was a relative of Daniel Webster, and I am willing to take my Americanism from Daniel Webster or any of the offspring or relatives of the Daniel Webster of those days. The definition of the word "constitution" in Webster's dictionary of today is as follows:

"The principal or fundamental laws which govern a state or other organized body of men, and are embodied in written documents or implied in the institutions for usages of the country or society."

That is the definition in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary of today. Here I have, however, the definition of the word "constitution" by Noah Webster in 1843, and you will notice the change:

"In free states the constitution is paramount to the statutes or laws enacted by the legislature, limiting and controlling its power; and in the United States the legislature is created and its powers designated by the constitution."

Gentlemen, the two definitions are diametrically opposite, the definition in the Anglicized, so-called Webster's dictionary of today and Webster's dictionary of 1843, published, written and edited by Noah Webster. And that is not the only word. We go further. We look at the definition of the word "union," a word so dear to us. It was defined by Noah Webster in 1843, the old Webster of nearly eighty years ago, as:

"States united. Thus the United States of America are sometimes called the Union."

Listen to the other, the latter-day Anglicized dictionary.

"A consolidated body, as the United States of America, are often called the "Union."

While the real statesmen of both political parties are warning the people against the danger of a consolidated government, the children, who are soon to take the places of these statesmen, through our public school machinery, are indoctrinated with the idea that we already have a consolidated republic. But I would refer to the case of McCullough, the State of Maryland, in which Chief Justice Marshall of the Supreme Court of the United States says:

"No political dreamer was ever wild enough to think of breaking down the lines which separate the states and of compounding the American people into a solid mass."

I will now take another word, the important word "federal." What is the definition of the word "federal" in the Anglo-Saxon edition of the so-called Webster's dictionary. Permit me to read it. I want to be careful, because I am going to be quoted, I know, elsewhere. The Anglicized Webster's dictionary defines "federal" as being "specifically composed of states, and which retain only a subordinate and limited sovereignty, as the Union of the United States and the Fonderbund of Switzerland."

That is the present-day Webster's dictionary definition of the word "federal." Here is the definition of the word "federal" in Noah Webster's dictionary:

"Consisting in a compact between parties, particularly and chiefly between states and nations formed an alliance by contract or mutual agreement, as a federal government, such as that of the United States."

Any man, woman, or child can easily read and understand how opposite those two definitions are. It is undoubtedly true that in all those matters in which, under the Constitution, the federal government has been clothed with sovereign authority, the authority of the state is subordinate to the federal government. But in all things else the sovereignty of the state is as supreme and independent of the federal sovereignty as if the federal sovereignty had never existed. In the celebrated Dred Scott case, the United States Supreme Court said:

"The principles upon which our government rest, and upon which alone it continues to exist, is the Union of States, sovereign and independent within their own limits in their internal and domestic concern."

But if, as now talked, the states have no sovereignty except such as is subordinate to the sovereignty of the United States, what becomes of our sovereign right to local self-government? Suppose that the federal government should tomorrow, in the exercise of its supposed superior sovereignty, undertake to nullify our state constitution and laws, abrogate our state government, remove from office our governor, abolish our state courts and our Legislature, and force us to accept for our local government just such laws as the Federal Congress might choose to give us, what remedy would we have? Shall I be told that such action on the part of the federal government, clashing as it would, with the principles of state sovereignty, would not be tolerated? But if a state possesses no sovereignty except such as is subordinate to the sovereignty of the federal government, would not our subordinate sovereignty be forced to yield to the superior sovereignty to which it is subordinate? Is it not a law of nature that whenever two unequal forces meet, the inferior must yield to the superior? It is easy to see how, with all the powers of government centered at Washington in one federal head, they could at a single stroke put an end to American liberty. But they well understand that before striking this blow the minds of the people must be prepared to receive it. And what surer or safer preparation could possibly be made than is now being made, by indoctrinating the minds of the rising generation with the idea that ours is already a consolidated government; that the states of the Union have no sovereignty which is not subordinate to the will and pleasure of the federal head, and that our Constitution is the mere creature of custom and may therefore be legally altered or abolished by custom? Such are a few of the pernicious and poisonous doctrines which 10,000,000 American children are today drinking in with the very definitions of the words they are compelled to study. And yet the man who dares to utter a word of warning of the approaching danger is stigmatized as an enemy to education and unfit to be mentioned as a candidate for the humblest office. Pro-British individuals tell us of our American dead that Warren was a coward, that Washington was this and that, and they belittle Otis, Franklin, the Adamses and others. They try to show that instead of the farmers of Concord and Lexington being heroes, they were cowards. They try to show that in every battle they (the British) were outnumbered. They even say that General Gage and his redcoats were outnumbered by the Americans on Boston Common. I do not expect much support from some of the papers of the country, but I do expect the aid of the publications of Mr. Hearst throughout the country, because I believe that Mr. Hearst is 100 per cent American. As one member of this body I demand the removal from our schools and libraries of every single pro-British book that is a publication of propaganda against our institutions. This republic is the beacon light for all nations. Our institutions are an inspiration to every land seeking happiness and true liberty. We saved the world for democracy, we were told, and I hope this is true, though it looks to me as though we saved it for England. We must lead the world, not follow England. We struck from our limbs the shackles of Britain in 1776 and we must remain free. We must not permit our institutions to be libeled and defamed from any quarter. Washington, Adams, Hancock, Otis, Franklin, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln and their followers of blessed memory are our patterns of true Americans and no sinister interests of any nations will be permitted in any way to reflect upon their honor, courage or true Americanism. I might go on indefinitely, Mr. President, but I will take only a moment more of the time of the Council. I might read some extracts from a book in the Public Library which has been called to my attention today. It is entitled "The Book of American Wars," by Helen Nicolay, published by the Century Company. I am going to read one or two extracts from it. Listen to this, for instance, friends:

"Had England been alive to her opportunity, the Rebellion might have ended just there, by the dispersal of this enthusiastic rabble, the confiscation of estates and fortunes, and the tragic end of a few leaders."

I am going to read from "Hail! Columbia," the first edition of this great American magazine, a few extracts taken from this book of Helen Nicolay's, dedicated to "America's Boys in the Present War," and put out for the children of our schools to read. Speaking of Patrick Henry, this book says:

"As for Patrick Henry, who was pouring incendiary eloquence over the Virginia Assembly, he was a slovenly, fiddle-playing incompetent, with an odd gift of oratory, who had been slow at his studies and had failed twice at clerking and once as a farmer before he decided to practice law."

That is fine stuff to teach our American children! Further:

"If the country had to choose between government by such a rabble and government from England, conservative and well-to-do Tories preferred the one 3,000 miles away."

Then,

"Our final break with England came over a very small matter; a tax on tea so light that it brought in virtually no revenue."

Then it says:

"The Stamp Act of 1765, which raised such an outcry, had not been intended as an insult."

Speaking of the Boston Massacre, it says: that "it was a mere street brawl in numbers and begun by citizens who annoyed a passing file of red coats by pelting them with ice and snow. The soldiers lost patience and fired into the crowd, killing three or four and wounding others." I might read on indefinitely, members of the body, but what is the use? I think I have touched a match to a trail that will lead to the Anglo-Saxon powder chest. I have received communications from all over the United States indorsing my attitude, with one exception. The New York Times, in one third of a column, indorses my attitude. The Chicago Post and other papers, too numerous to mention, have passed favorable comment on my efforts. In letters to the Patriot League for the Preservation of American History, such men as Alvin M. Owsley, national director of the Americanism Commission of the American Legion, Hobart Brinsmade, secretary of the Society of Colonial Wars in the state of Missouri, United States Senator William E. Borah, Frank Hervey Pettingell, president of the Sons of the Revolution in the state of California, Wallace M'Camant, director-general of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, James M Montgomery, general president of the National Society of the Sons of the Revolution, Sidney C. Partridge, Episcopalian bishop of Missouri, George S Wyckoff, national secretary of the Early Settlers of America, and United States Senator from California, Hiram W. Johnson, have taken a strong stand in support of American ideals and against such propagandist influences as I have referred to. I might add thousands of names of people who are in this organization. They are all Americans — not all native born, because many of them are sons of immigrant parents. After all, the date of the sailing of the vessel from the other side does not determine the question of who are Americans. People not born in the days of the "Mayflower" could not come of course, come here at that time from foreign shores. But those who in latter days so much helped to win the fight, to save the democracy of the world were not born when the "Mayflower" came over, but they or their parents have come over recently, at the first opportunity that offered. They proved themselves to be just as good Americans, however, as those who came over in that boat. Mr. President, we are asleep. There is vicious propaganda going on in our public schools. School histories have been introduced that have been perverting the minds of American children. That Nicolay book should be removed from the library. These books representing Anglicized history, propaganda, should be removed. This Anglicized dictionary should be taken away from the library and we should go back to the dictionary of Noah Webster. I am willing to take my definitions from old Noah Webster, and willing to take my Americanism from Washington, Jefferson, and Franklin, not allowing the Loyal Coalition and such organizations to put out and to have introduced into our schools and our libraries such insidious propaganda, which constitutes a menace to this country. I might add that the latest president of the Loyal Coalition is not Demarest Lloyd, but Lothrop Stoddard. Demarest Lloyd is in England, getting instructions as to how to continue his insidious anti-American propaganda, and another man is acting as president of the Loyal Coalition. I have been told so by the secretary. I have here a recent circular sent out by the Loyal Coalition, of which I will perhaps read a few words and give it to the stenographer, asking leave to print it. It is headed with the word, printed in red ink, "Danger!" At the head it says "Our Platform, Americanism; Promotion of American Traditions and Ideals by an Educational Campaign in American History; Undivided Allegiance to the Flag, Constitution and Government of the United States; No Interference in the Domestic Affairs of Other Nations; the Friendship of English-Speaking Nations."

English-speaking Nations! Not the Gaelic-speaking nations, but English-speaking Nations!

"24 Mt. Vernon Street, Boston, Massachusetts."

Then, in red, "Danger!"

"The recent parade and demonstration in the City of Boston in honor of Cathal Bruga and Harry Boland, late citizens of the Irish Free State and members of the Irregular Army, rebels to the Provincial government of the Irish Free State, shows that Sinn Fein propaganda in favor of the Irish Republic is again rampant in America.

"The national flag of the United States is being used by the advocates of the Irish Republic for non-American purposes. The Mayor of the City of Boston and the District Attorney of Suffolk County, in their official capacity, addressed a non-American meeting in a manner calculated to promote ill feeling towards a friendly nation.

"The national flag of the United States was used to symbolize that national honors were being paid to the memory of Cathal Bruga and Harry Boland, noncitizens of the United States and rebels to the Irish Free State.

"The uniform of the United States Navy, or the United States Coast Guard, was disgraced by a wearer carrying the Sinn Fein flag, the emblem of a country not officially recognized by the United States Government.

"The United States Congress has been denounced by Sinn Feiners in America as being responsible for the civil war in Ireland on account of its failure to recognize the Irish Republic.

"American ideals and traditions are being perverted in the public schools by agents of a foreign potentate for the purpose of promoting propaganda foreign to America."

Why don't they come out and say that they refer to the head of the church of which I am a member, the head of a church that 52 per cent of the people of Boston are members of? No, they hide that, but they go on further:

"Loyal Americans, the future of America is threatened! The foundation stone laid by our forefathers, those stalwart English pioneers of New England and Virginia"—think of that, stalwart English pioneers of New England and Virginia!

"The foundation stone laid by our forefathers, those stalwart English pioneers of New England and Virginia," —is being destroyed by the hyphenated groups within our country who are enemies to the true America.

"The Loyal Coalition is in the field to uphold the principles upon which America was founded. The future of this nation for the coming generations must be firmly established now.

"As the patriots of 1776–1783 stood behind the American Colonies in their time of need, so must the patriots of today stand behind the Loyal Coalition, which is carrying out for you the sacred trust given to your keeping by the men and women who founded this country, secured its freedom, and preserved its union so that it might be passed down from generation to generation.

"Patriotic American, give your moral and financial support to the Loyal Coalition in its great work."

My fellow members, I demand, as one member of this body, that this Anglo-Saxon propaganda through the public schools of Boston and other places in the state, and the un-American books in our public Boston and state libraries be removed. My remarks have been rather rambling, I admit, but the meat is here, the facts are here, the evidence is here. It cannot be denied. I invite any man in this body or any man in the city to discuss with me this qeustion of undermining our institutions by this vicious Anglo-Saxon propaganda, belitting those who made this country what it is through the great Revolution. I recall reference to the "rabble" in 1896, when I supported for president the great Commoner, William Jennings Bryan. I was called one of the rabble when I supported James M. Curley for mayor. I was called a rabble, one of the rabble, when I ran for the Common Council in the old days, and I have been so called since. But, as the old saying goes, "Sticks and stones will break my bones, but words will never hurt me." A saying translated from the Persian has been handed to me: "The dogs bark, but the camels and the armies pass on." In other words, the dogs make a noise, but they do not stop progress, they do no harm. So I care not for those who criticize me. The Boston Herald, which has been unfriendly to me, is one of those who has vilified Thomas Paine; but that paper has recently come out in an editorial praising Paine and quoting his first one of the phrase, "The United States of America," where he said " 'The United States of America' will sound as pompously in the world and in history as 'The Kingdon of Great Britain,' " Well, the Boston Herald now having indorsed Thomas Paine, now logically indorse me, because I am taking my sentiments from those long gone, from volumes handed down containing an account of their lives and sayings. In conclusion, I thoroughly believe that we must await. There is no greater work for the veterans of the great war, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, than to stand together and crack out of their hiding places the skulking traitors to American history and American ideals. I say that if any man stands in front of me and defends General Gage and his followers against Washington, Jefferson, Patrick Henry, Lincoln, the illustrious heroes of early days of American history, he must reckon with me. And living up to my feelings in this matter, I would strike in between the eyes or spit in his face because he would be beneath me, unfit to talk with me, un-American. Such men do not belong here. They should go back to England, where they have no constitution, not remaining in this free country, a country of laws, rather than of men, under the Constitution of Hamilton, Paine, Adams, Washington, Jefferson, Webster. When that Constitution was written by the great men of the past, it was intended that we should live under it, and those who do not believe in it should go back whence they came. I have more respect for the little dark-skinned Italian who comes here and lives a while, until he betters his condition, and then becomes a true American citizen, forgetting his Italian allegiance, than I have for the man who is born here, who makes his living here, and who attempts to haul down the flag. In closing, I desire to read something else from this "Hail! Columbia," something printed in large type, and to every line of which I subscribe:

"Emma Goldman and her sister and brother anarchists never stained the American flag with worse insults than those who would teach our children that the founding fathers of our republic were a rabble. Why should she be exiled and these character assassins of America and American institutions not receive the same fate? What is the technical difference which condemns the one and condones the other? Both should be excluded."

Those are my sentiments to the letter. If I have done nothing else, I shall be glad if I have brought down on my shoulders some more heated criticism of my conduct from those who take an un-American attitude on matters affecting the people of this great country. I have had no time for preparation, except this morning. I had the documents, it is true, but I have had no chance to put the thing together. Perhaps I may be criticised by some for over-enthusiasm in this as in other matters, but that is my make-up and a leopard cannot change his spots. I wish that I had the balance and conservation of some other members of the body. I was told by a close friend recently in a campaign that I was too sensitive and tender, and I guess that is my fault. I might go into this matter at much greater length, as I have the documents, but I have probably said enough to indicate the importance of the matter with which I am dealing. If my rambling remarks have done nothing else than bring down on my head the wrath of those whose coats are red inside and black outside I am satisfied. I say to the British propagandists all over our nation, "Go back whence you came; we don't need you here. We want only 100 per cent Americans. We don't care for your color, your circumstances, your station in life or your religion. All we ask of you is the true American spirit, love for our institutions, love for our flag, and a willingness to defend our country and its institutions with your lives." Mr. President, I ask a suspension of the rule that the order may go upon its passage at this time.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, it seems to me that we ought not to act too hastily on matters of this sort, suspending the rule for immediate passage. In the gentleman's remarks he said that he had written to the Trustees of the Boston Public Library, and I think out of courtesy to them we should await a reply. Then, if action is postponed, it may be that at some future meeting of the Council my position would be the same as that taken by the gentleman. But I do not believe that we should take hasty action at this time. I do not wish to appear as antagonistic to the order or in opposition to the gentleman's patriotic remarks, but I do think that Webster's dictionary has been in use for a great many years and that on a matter of this sort we should take time for consideration. What education the gentleman and I have derived as children from that foundation has not made either of us un-American in type or in character. Therefore I think there is no immediate need of hurrying to dispense with Webster's dictionary in the public library or in the schools. It may be, as I say, that later I will be with him in endeavoring to accomplish what he has in mind. But I believe as a matter of courtesy we should at least await a reply from the Trustees of the Public Library before taking action.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, on second thought I am inclined to agree with Coun. Hagan. I think that is very likely the proper position to take on the matter. Sometimes my enthusiasm runs away with me. I am satisfied, however, that when the gentleman has read what I have said here, and when he has had a chance to think the matter over, he may feel even more earnestly in the matter than I do. Certainly none of us believe in anti-American propaganda. I am perfectly willing, however, to have the matter referred to Executive Committee and to have it acted upon at the next meeting.

Coun. HAGAN—I understand that the trustees do not have a meeting until October.

Coun. WATSON—It has been called to my attention, Mr. President, that they will not have a meeting until October. I wrote my letter to them under date of September 1. This was the reply (reading again the letter from Librarian Belden, acknowledging the communication of September 1 addressed to the Trustees of the Public Library and stated that he would bring the matter to their attention at their October meeting). I am perfectly willing to wait, but in the meantime it seems to me they ought to move a little faster, that the matter should be acted upon before October.

Coun. HAGAN—Well, of course, October is not very far away now.

Coun. WATSON—About two weeks. However, it is perfectly agreeable to me that the matter should be referred to the Executive Committee. I would suggest, however, that the Library Trustees be asked to appear here at our next meeting to give us some information upon the matter. They haven't this information that I have, probably.

The matter was referred to the Executive Committee, and the Clerk was instructed to invite the Library Trustees to appear before the City Council in Executive Committee at the next meeting.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. GILBODY, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted a report recommending the passage of an order for the payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of August.

Report accepted; order passed.

MONEY FOR SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That there be allowed and paid to the Acting Soldiers' Relief Commissioner, and charged to the appropriation for Soldiers' Relief Department, the sum of three hundred dollars, said sum to be expended subject to the approval of the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, by said commissioner in affording immediate relief to persons entitled to aid under the law.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

DOBRY AND GOZIKOWSKI SQUARES.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the junction of Chambers and Brighton streets be named Michal J. Dobry square in memory of said Dobry, and that the corner of Wall and Cutting streets be named Stanislaw Gozikowski square, in memory of said Gozikowski, both of whom were killed in action in the World War, and that said places be marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

WILLIAM J. KEYES SQUARE.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the space at the junction of Julian and Judson streets be named William J. Keyes square in memory of said Keyes, who was killed in the United States service during the World War, and that said space be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 3.25 o'clock p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the President at 5.35 o'clock p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. HAGAN, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Report on petition of Frank R. Hancock (referred today) for permit for children to appear at Jordan Hall on September 28—that a permit be granted.

Report accepted; permit granted on the usual conditions.

2. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) that the sum of $8,200 be transferred from Water Income to Collecting Department—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

3. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) that the sum of $100,000 be appropriated from Water Income to Extension of High Pressure Fire System—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; orders passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

6. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) for appropriation of $10,000 to be expended by Fuel Administrator for the City of Boston—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

7. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for appropriation of $40,000 for Institutions Department steamer—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

8. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred September 11) for Park Department transfer of $5,000—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

ORDINANCES.

Coun. HAGAN, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted a report on message of Mayor and ordinance (referred today) for appointment of Conservation Bureau—that the ordinance ought to pass.

Report accepted; ordinance passed.

NAMING OF BOAT, "MICHAEL J. PERKINS."

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take the necessary steps to have the institutions boat, when purchased, to be named the "Michael J. Perkins," in honor of the soldier of that name who fell gloriously in battle during the World War.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I don't think any member of the body is any more interested in paying honor to a departed soldier who gave his life as the supreme sacrifice than I, and I am on very friendly terms with the Michael J. Perkins Post, but I do think we ought to wait a while before naming a boat that we don't own. It is rather an embarrassing position to be in. I would rather have the matter referred to Executive Committee, so that we may have a chance to talk it over.

President BRICKLEY—The order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I move a suspension of the rule that the order may be put upon its passage.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I am opposed to suspension of the rule, and if it goes through at this time I shall feel that I will have to do something I don't want to do at this time, vote against the order.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I talked with the commissioner and asked him if it was his intention or that of the department to have the boat named "The Monitor." He told me they were going to allow the name on the boat to continue. He gave me further information, that to have the name now on the boat changed would take an act of Congress. I don't know what the name now is.

Coun. WATSON—I will say for your benefit that it is "Rochester."

Coun. MORIARTY—Then, if the name is "Rochester," that is all the more reason why our order should go on its passage, because that name does not mean anything to me.

Coun. WATSON—That is where my ancestors were born, Rochester, Mass.

Coun. MORIARTY—I feel that the order is in order and that it should be passed. If I did not think it was a proper order I would not have introduced it. Simpy brcause I was first in putting the order in, objection is made and there is an attempt to hold it up. But I will make a fight, you will be put in a different position than you are today. The order, in my estimation, does not need any time for consideration. There should be no hesitation about it. It doesn't need time to talk it over.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I deplore hasty action on these matters. It is embarrassing to talk against an order of this nature, seeking to do honor to one to whom honor is due. But there are many other men to whom honor is due, although perhaps other members were not as alert or as much on the job as the gentleman who thought of this particular order at this time. I commend him for that course. But while honoring one we are denying an opportunity to honor all. I think if we waited we might think of some name for the boat which would do honor to all who lost their lives in the world war, rather than singling out one. I think somebody fertile in imagination might, conceive of a name that would honor all. I don't want to appear antagonistic to this particular order, but I would like to honor all if I could.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, this naming of squares and parks after those who made the supreme sacrifice has got to the point where we have to stop, in my opinion. I realize that it is rather a delicate thing for me to talk upon, in view of the fact that I am a candidate for re-election. It does not add to my popularity a bit. I was the one who started naming squares after departed heroes, until today, the squares having been absorbed, some of the most worthy heroes who fought in the World War have been neglected. Now, there are just two boats controlled by the city, bearing the names of departed heroes, or one boat, and now we anticipate having another. We named a boat after young Flaherty, whom I knew well, and who was not a resident of Boston. He lived in Revere and had a park, the finest park in Revere, named after him. Am I not correct, Mr. President?

President BRICKLEY—You are correct.

Coun. WATSON—No, this business of making fish of one and flesh of another I am tired of. When we try to find squares to name after boys, we cannot find one left. Why not. Because they are all absorbed, because we politicians, through political friends, have absorbed them all.

Coun. HAGAN—Statesmen.

Coun. WATSON—No, we are living; statesmen are dead ones! Many a boy with a splendid record has been neglected, his memory forgotten, because there are no squares left that we can name after departed heroes. I repeat, I don't believe in making fish of one and flesh of another. The Flaherty case I don't object to, but there was a case where we named a boat after a man who was not a resident of Boston. Is that fair? Why not name that boat "Michael J. Perkins," as Perkins lived in the City of Boston? Then, also why pick out one boat to name after one man, when so many others are neglected? It is not fair, and I am ready to go before the Perkins Post and say that I don't think we should pick out one man and honor his memory in this way. The young man's memory has already been honored by a Congressional medal. To merely name a boat after him is to take a step backwards. His father wears the medal, the Congressional medal, the highest honor that can be bestowed on an enlisted man. We are not even adding to the honor to his memory by naming the boat after him, as he has already received the highest honor that the government can bestow. I know of ten men in Roxbury, practically unknown, just as great heroes as many whom we have named squares after. I sincerely trust that the gentleman opposite will not put me in the embarrassing position of being obliged to cast my vote on this proposition in a way that may be misunderstood.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I move as an amendment that his Honor the Mayor be requested to take the necessary step to have the institution boat when purchased named "The Yankee Heroes."

The question came on Coun. Hagan's amendment.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I don't like to stay here or to keep other members here, but if we can't disagree over something bigger than this I don't know what we are sent here for. As far as naming the boat after Flaherty is concerned, that was not done through a request of the Council. It was done by the Mayor's office. And the Mayor is not compelled to take this name if he does not so desire. But there was another boat named after a soldier. There are two boats named after soldiers, boats owned by the City of Boston.

Coun. WATSON—The other is the "Ralph Columbo." Yes, I agree with you.

Coun. MORIARTY—Now, why not have another one? No member of the Council is responsible for the other two. They didn't ask the Council when they were naming the two boats.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield a bit?

Coun. MORIARTY—Yes.

Coun. WATSON—We cannot name this boat.

Why don't the member go across and make the suggestion without bringing us into it, if he wants to?

Coun. MORIARTY—Maybe if I had consulted my colleague I might have done so. If I thought anybody would be so narrow——

Coun. WATSON—I would go out that window if I were as narrow as you.

Coun. MORIARTY—I think you are the narrowest man here.

Coun. WATSON—I don't think so.

Coun. MORIARTY—I do, and others do.

Coun. WATSON—I dont believe others think so.

Coun. MORIARTY—If other members told the truth, they would agree with me, and some of them have told me so.

Coun. WATSON—Then I am mistaken, that is all.

Coun. MORIARTY—We may both be mistaken. I want to say that I have been here five years with the councilor on the other side, and that when he is talking I have never interrupted him. But it has been my fortune to see him interrupt everybody at every opportunity, when he so desired. Now, I did not interrupt him and I don't think he ought to interrupt me. I don't think anything I can say is going to change any vote here. I simply want to say that any action I have voted for in regard to any soldier I have not had occasion to regret. When any order comes in here to name a park after a dead soldier, I will vote with the person who brings it in. That has been the spirit I have had here in these matters. I could go back to different fights. I could go back to the Christopher J. Lee Park in South Boston, in regard to which there was a difference here, but we all got together and agreed to the name "Christopher J. Lee," although he didn't live in the district, but in the Dorchester district. This thought came to me. The councilor on the other side said I was alert and ought to be commended, and all that. I didn't introduce this intending any slight to any other soldier. The gentleman speaks of the Congressional medal. Yes, but that is worn on the vest of his father. The only ones seeing it will be those seeing the father wearing it. The father might walk into the halls of Congress, and there would be only one man in Congress who would know him; he might walk in here and nobody here would know him, would simply see the medal and would not know who or what it commemorated. But if you have a boat flying the American flag, going down the harbor, people are going to see the name, and the boat is going to run for many years. Many boys and girls growing up will want to know about Michael J. Perkins, and will find out that the boat was named after a boy who made the supreme sacrifice, and they will learn something about what he did. If any member of the Council had brought in an order to name the boat after any other soldier, I would have voted for it. My brother on the other side thinks the reason why I have introduced the order is because I am the narrowest man in the Council. Mr. President, I have introduced this order, which I think is a worthy order, and I sincerely hope that it will be passed.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I am rather disappointed to hear from the councilor opposite that the other members of the body think I am narrow. I had hoped that I was broad. If I am narrow, it is a fault of the head and not the heart. The gentleman opposite has the happy faculty of insisting on having his way, like a spoiled child, and as one member of the Council I am not going to stand for it any more. I am going to call a spade a spade with him, and if he wants to go to it I am there. I want to say that I trust that the newspapers will not misunderstand my position on this order. No honor too great can be given any boy who dies or who serves his country whether he volunteered or was drafted; but I don't think we ought to neglect those who have not influence or who are not in the limelight. I came through the outskirts of Boston recently, from Dedham, and the only name apparently of a man of Irish extraction that you see in coming from Dedham is that of Michael J. Perkins. Some tire company has placed the name there, so that all who go by may read it. That means something, because it says where he died and what he died for. But when that name is attached to a boat, what does it mean to those who come afterwards? There might be some Michael J. Perkins in the future, a criminal, who will say in a jocular way, "That boat was named after me," and nobody would know about the facts. Furthermore, that boat, going up and down the harbor, will break up some day. But that medal of Congress will be handed down to posterity from one to another, to children and children's children, to the end of time, and until the end of time the records at Washington will show that Michael J. Perkins father, because of his son's noble death, was given the highest medal that is conferred by the United States Government. I trust that I have made myself plain. I am sorry that the member opposite (Coun. Moriarty) and myself disagree frequently. There is no animus back of it. Personally, I think it is time to stop this fake business, naming a square here and there after certain soldiers and overlooking others, putting up signs that mean nothing. Let us erect a monument on Boston Common, with tablets containing the names of all the boys who served in the World War, and against the names of those who died or may die place a star. Let us do the thing right not continuing with this picayune stuff any longer'.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I agree with the last thought of the previous speaker as to a memorial to the heroes who gave their lives for their country, but I don't think this is the time, by amendment or otherwise, to change the original intent of the order introduced by Coun. Moriarty. I think there will be plenty of other things coming before us in time so that we can suitably commemorate the memories of those who gave their lives to their country by naming some boat or something else "The Yankee Heroes," or building monuments to them. But I think at this particular time we ought to confine ourselves to the original order introduced by Coun. Moriarty and either vote for or against that particular order, not adopting any amendment that will interfere in any way with the intent of the councilor who introduced the order. We ought either to vote to name the boat "Michael J. Perkins" or ought not to name it at all.

Coun. Hagan's amendment was rejected, and the order as introduced was passed.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I desire a roll call.

The roll was called, with the following result:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Gilbody, Hagan, Lane, Moriarty and Walsh—7.

Nays—0.

When Coun. Watson's name was called, he said, "I don't desire to vote on it at all."

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I want to say this, so as to get it on the record, that while the vote was being taken Coun. Watson refused to vote on it.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

President BRICKLEY called up unfinished business, No. 1, viz.:

Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor, September 11, 1922, viz.:

1. William H. Muldoon, Henry W. Bokelman, Charles E. Goode, Horace W. Moody, Thomas A. Holt, James J. Powers, Claude J. Borden, George Littlefield, Richard F. Coyne and A. J. Merigold to be Weighers of Goods.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Moriarty and Donaghue. Whole number of ballots cast 7, yeas 7, nays 0, and the appointments were confirmed.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. MORIARTY moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 6.01 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. MORIARTY, to meet on Monday, September 25, at two o'clock p. m.

PUBLIC STREETS OF BOSTON.

Total length of the 2,447 paved (accepted) streets, February 1, 1921, 604.80 miles; total area, 11,410,829 square yards, or 8.46 per cent of the City's total land area. This is exclusive of the private streets (not accepted), numbering about 2,870. 375.28 miles, or 62.05 per cent, are paved with macadam (including 121.21 miles bituminous macadam); 105.23 miles with granite block; 43.88 miles with asphalt; 30.38 miles with gravel; 27.68 miles with asphalt concrete (17.32 m. being bitulithic and 10.28 m. Topeka); 11.06 miles with wood block; 5:39 miles with brick. Old macadam pavement is gradually being replaced with more satisfactory and durable kinds, such as bitulithic, concrete, granite block, etc., over $4,000,000 having been expended during the past three years in resurfacing about 300 streets and parts of streets or total area of 1,350,000 square yards. Granolithic sidewalks laid in 1920, 76,201 square yards or 16 miles, averaging about 8 feet wide, 50 per cent of cost assessed on estates benefited.

New highway construction completed in period 1917-1920 includes 6 streets in Boston Proper; 32 in Dorchester; 31 in West Roxbury; 13 in Roxbury; 19 in Brighton; 6 in East Boston; 2 in Hyde Park; 4 in South Boston, and 1 in Charlestown, roadway pavement bitulithic or asphalt surface on concrete, and bituminous macadam. Gross debt outstanding February 1, 1921, for all street construction, including damages, $21,341,441 or $267,080, less than in 1920.

Proposals for Sewerage Works in Lorna Road, from Tiverton Road About 600 Feet Southwesterly, Dorchester.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations, wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for sewerage works in Lorna road, from Tiverton road about 600 feet southeasterly, Dorchester. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of fifteen hundred (1,500) dollars, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Plans and proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Sewerage Works in Lorna Road," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. on Monday, October 9, 1922, with a certified check for five hundred (500) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the proposals. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

Joseph A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works.

MAYOR CURLEY SEEKS AID OF NAVY IN COAL CRISIS.

Mayor Curley has appealed to the Secretary of the Navy for use of apparatus at the Charlestown Navy Yard in order to be able to handle fuel for the protection of the public this winter. The letter sent to the head of the Navy Department reads as follows:

Hon. Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.:

Dear Sir,—The City of Boston during the year ending 1921 consumed 1,450,000 tons of anthracite coal and about 3,300,000 tons of bituminous coal. From January 1 to August 1, 1922, the total receipts of anthracite coal were slightly in excess of 400,000 tons and of bituminous 2,825,000 tons.

The bearer, Mr. Frank P. Rock, Superintendent of Supplies for the City of Boston and a member of the Municipal Fuel Commission, reports under date of October 1 that the total supply of anthracite coal on hand is less than 15,000 tons and of bituminous less than 50,000 tons, this being approximately two days' supply. To overcome the coal shortage it will be necessary to have more than 700 cars per day pass through the New England gateway, and this is impossible. Consequently, other sources to provide protection against the severity of New England winters are necessary, provided the people are to be protected from an epidemic resulting from exposure due to fuel shortage. Upon Saturday last I conferred with Admiral Coontz, Chief of Naval Operations, and discussed with him the question of allowing the City of Boston the use of coal-discharging apparatus, bunkers and a portion of the docks at the Charlestown Navy Yard for the discharge, storage and distribution of coke, which is obtainable, and anthracite provided it may be obtainable, the same to be sold to the public at cost plus the expense of handling. In my opinion the emergency is sufficiently grave to justify a departure from established rules if there are any which might interfere with the carrying out of this program so imperatively essential for public welfare.

The City of Boston has an opportunity to purchase approximately 20,000 tons of coke, the consumption of which for fuel is better understood and more desirable than bituminous coal, and provided the Navy Department will coöperate to the extent of allowing the use of the apparatus of the Charlestown Navy Yard, the City of Boston should be able to handle fuel direct, not only to protect the public in this emergency but in addition to effectively curb profiteering by the coal companies.

Trusting you will find it possible to issue the necessary orders, I beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

ADDRESS OF HON. JAMES M. CURLEY, MAYOR.

DELIVERED AT THE HEARING OF THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION, AT ROOM 306, STATE HOUSE, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1922. DURING RATE DIFFERENTIAL HEARING, CONDUCTED TO ALLOW NEW ENGLAND BUSINESS TO PROTEST DISCRIMINATIONS BY RAILROADS, THUS KILLING THIS SECTION COMMERCIALLY.

The decay of Boston's import and export business, it is significant to understand, is coincidental with the creation of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the operations of that body in the administration of certain laws governing interstate commerce and the establishment of rate schedules between the Middle West and the Atlantic ports. By assumption of powers which are of doubtful constitutionality the Interstate Commerce Commission, an administrative body, has taken on judicial functions and has exercised an authority based on Congressional sanction which Congress itself does not possess and cannot delegate.

The commission under its legislative authority has power to make rates that shall govern the common rail carriers; but when those rates are higher to and from certain central interior points—like Chicago—and certain selected seaports on the Atlantic seaboard, then between Chicago and other Atlantic ports this differential, as it is termed, is a discrimiation against the penalized ports and is substantially a violation of that constitutional provision which forbids the levying of duties that are discriminatory. Setting aside this constitutional point of view for the moment, it is well to recall that the Interstate Commerce Commission has adopted a policy of zones and uniformity of rates to and from those zones and that only in the case of Atlantic ports in this eastern zone has it elected to depart from this policy. It maintains a flat rate from Chicago to all Pacific ports and from Chicago to all Gulf ports; but in dealing with the Atlantic seaboard it decrees one rate for Baltimore and Philadelphia and another and higher rate for Boston and New York.

If the policy applied to the Pacific and Gulf seaboards is sound the refusal to make a flat rate for Atlantic ports is rank discrimination against and commercial injustice to New York and Boston. New York has been able to stand this discrimination, though the means adopted to overcome the effects of the differential have made it the most expensive shipping point on the Atlantic coast; but the differential has been a body blow to Boston, whose natural advantages should make it the busiest port on the Atlantic coast. The difference in rates—the differential upon the commodities that constitute the fundamental cargoes of transatlantic export trade, grain, flour and food products, 1½ cents on grain and 2 cents on flour per hundred for Baltimore and 1 cent on both for Philadelphia, is enough to keep the overseas traffic out of Boston, and is transformed into a subsidy to the ocean carriers mostly alien.

It has been computed by Mr. Chandler, the traffic expert of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, that the difference in volume of the import and export business of Boston for 1920 and 1921 showed a decrease of 58.02 and 68.55, respectively, and unless some action is taken to remedy this intolerable condition of affairs, Boston, with all its potentialities under just and equitable conditions, will become a mere negligible quantity in the commercial life of the United States. We have been having innumerable hearings before the commission and its committee for twenty years that appear to get us nowhere; delays, evasions, "passing of the buck," have been all we have secured at great expense and we are beginning here in Boston to question the usefulness of a public body which denies us a square deal.

This existing discrimination prevents Boston from doing the business its natural advantages entitle it to; if the maritime business of the United States is to be built up as designed by Congress when it provided the Shipping Board, and an asset of national importance in peace and war is to be developed, it is apparent that all ports on this Atlantic Coast must be treated alike and that favoritism must be eliminated.

The reflex of this favoritism and discrimination is written all over industrial New England; it is driving out our industries into more rate-favored regions; the conditions of our railroads is deplorable; and yet all our efforts to maintain the industrial activity and commercial prosperity that have been patiently and courageously built up in a century of hard work, are being thwarted by the inertia, circumlocution and raw injustice of the Interstate Commerce Commission. We now ask for action, for a positive decision upon a question that has been before this commission for many years and we want it before the port of Boston becomes the subject of a post-mortem inquiry.

As Mayor of Boston, and as a citizen proud of his city, I have watched the decline of commercial Boston with feelings of astonishment and indignation; for I realize as we all realize that this process of decay is artificial and made possible in the presence of unquestioned natural advantages only by methods that are invidious and discriminatory and by means that we insist shall cease.

Let me cite some official figures from the office of the Surveyor of the Port of Boston that tell their own story when viewed in connection with growth of population and industrial expansion of Massachusetts in the same period covered by these figures. Between 1891 and 1900 the imports alone of Boston averaged $68,467,648 per year compared with $50,450,914 for Philadelphia and $13,631,613 for Baltimore, showing that during that period Boston's imports exceeded in value those of the other two ports combined.

In 1907 the figures had changed. Boston, $100,872,147; Philadelphia, $109,261,436; Baltimore, $89,988,505. In 1914 Boston and Philadelphia dropped to $65,000,000, while Baltimore jumped to $109,600,000. In the war years from 1915 to 1921, these are the figures in round numbers:

YEAR.	Boston.	Philadelphia.	Baltimore.
1915.	$107,000,000	$90,750,000	$132,000,000
1916	131,000,000	193,000,000	180,500,000
1917	225,000,000	464,000,000	374,000,000
1918.	221,000,000	425,000,000	300,500,000
1919	265,000,000	488,000,000	214,000,000
1920.	281,000,000	449,000,000	339,000,000
1921	122,000,000	322,000,000	306,000,000

The figures tell a story that is almost sinister in its meaning of a discrimination amounting near to hostility to the port of Boston, in years when time was one of the most vital elements in the success of the war, when the quickest delivery of foods, munitions and supplies, military and civil, were of first importance, and yet by means and through influences that are not wise now to probe, the port nearer to Europe by a full day than any other on this coast, and equipped with the best instrumentalities for loading cargoes, from the best piers and docks in the finest and safest Atlantic harbor, was discriminated against in favor of inferior ports. The blindeness of such a policy and its indifference to the military purposes of America, point to a type of patriotism that we here in Boston have suffered from.

I will let those who will comment on it; I want to go on record as demanding that we have an end of such policies and methods; and to remind the Interstate Commerce Commission that Massachusetts and Boston are close to the end of their tolerances of them. Patience has ceased to be a virtue and we look to the Interstate Commerce Commission to remove the evils and favoritism they have maintained against us.

LAND DAMAGES ACCEPTED.

Johansen have agreed to accept the sum of $3,100 as full payment for all damages occasioned to their estate on Hebron street by the taking made for school purposes, under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of September 14, 1922; it being agreed, the Schoolhouse Commission having assented thereto, that the building standing upon the land taken under the aforesaid order shall remain in the possession of Henrik K. CITY WILL SUPPLY COKE.

As a result of his visit to Washington Mayor Curley mailed letters to the Secretary of the Navy and to the Secretary of the Army asking those governmental departments to lend ships for the transport of fuel to Boston, and thereby prevent dealers from jumping their prices.

It is probable that Boston will burn coke instead of coal, since, in the terms of the Mayor, "the coal operators and jobbers work so neatly together" that it is doubtful whether they would encourage a municipally conducted project, no matter how large the order may be. A representative from an English company was in the Mayor's office with a proposal to bring anthracite to Boston.

Some of this anthracite is now in Montreal, while the remainder of the lot is aboard vessels due to arrive within a few days. In all there are something like 30,000 tons available, but 10,000 will probably be all that the city can afford to buy.

The English proposition is now being considered by Frank A. Rock, city purchasing agent and a member of the city fuel committee. who will have complete charge of the distribution, and who is at present arranging for conveniently located distributing stations.

Boston will officially go into the fuel business, with headquarters at the Charlestown Navy Yard, and the first big shipment may be 200,000 tons of coke from New Jersey, which has been assured the Mayor. He has also the option of 5,000 tons monthly from Birmingham, Ala., that will presumably be sold here at $14 a ton, or $2 less than the present retail price.

"By taking drastic action," the Mayor said, "we will be able to keep the people from freezing and also prevent the dealers from profiteering, and that is all we can hope to accomplish." Asked if he thought the dealers would profiteer, he replied, "I have not the slightest doubt."

ACTS FOR HYDE PARK CAR RIDERS.

Mayor Curley has called a conference, to be held in City Hall on Monday at eleven o'clock, of representatives of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway and the Transit Department and the Corporation Counsel, to discuss the sale of the franchise of the road in the Hyde Park and Readville section to the Boston Elevated.

If a price cannot be reached, the Mayor asserted that he would recommend the abrogation of the franchise. He added that residents in that section have suffered long enough because of high rates to Boston and that the present service is retarding business development in that district.

"We are more concerned with purely Boston problems," said Mayor Curley, "and are interested in no others until our own problems are definitely solved.

"The Hyde Park and Readville situation has been an open sore for years. The City of Boston expended $160,000 to widen Hyde Park avenue for the use of a double-line of tracks, but it still is undeveloped.

"That situation has been caused by the failure of the Eastern Massachusetts trustees to abandon a property that is a losing project unless they obtained an exorbitant price for it. We have been unable to induce new business and new industries to locate or develop there for that reason."

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

Upon October 4 the Mayor approved a contract with the Whiting Milk Companies for furnishing milk to the Boston City Hospital. Bids, opened September 29, were as follows:

220,000 Quarts—H. P. Hood & Sons, Inc., 10½ cents per quart; Whiting Milk Companies, 9.85 cents per quart.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

Supply Department.

Upon September 29 the Mayor approved a contract with the New England Coal and Coke Company for furnishing 200 tons of coke to Long and Deer Islands. A communication from Commissioner Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, September 29, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to the New England Coal and Coke Company for furnishing approximately 200 tons of coke to Long and Deer Islands, 100 tons to be delivered alongside Deer Island and 100 tons to be delivered alongside Long Island, at a price of $14.55 per net ton.

As we are unable to purchase anthracite coal, it is deemed advisable to purchase this coke as it works just as well in the kitchens as anthracite coal, and in view of this fact I trust that permission will be granted.

Yours respectfully,

Frank P. Rock,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon October 5 the Mayor approved a contract with the Carnegie Steel Company for furnishing steel beams. A communication from Acting Superintendent of Supplies C. E. Thornton was as follows:

Boston, October 9, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising for same with the Carnegie Steel Company for sixteen 20-inch 65-pound I-beams 40 feet long at a price of $3.26½ per hundred pounds—estimated amount of contract, $1,375.

In explanation of the above request would state that the Water Service have notified this department that they are in immediate need of the above material which is to be used in connection with the repairs to the bridge at Beacon street and Boston & Albany Railroad. The fact that the repairs to this bridge are being held up awaiting the arrival of these beams makes it almost imperative that they be supplied at the earliest possible moment and for this reason the above request is made.

Attached please find list of bids received from various companies in Boston on this particular item.

Respectfully yours,

C. E. Thornton,
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

Harvey Steel Company, 6 pieces, weighing 59 pounds to the foot, at $4.05 per 100 pounds; 5 pieces, weighing 65.4 pounds to the foot, at $3.51 per 100 pounds; Boston Structural Steel Company, 16 pieces, weighing 59.5 pounds to the foot, at $4.25 per 100 pounds; Carnegie Steel Company, 16 pieces, weighing 65.4 pounds to the foot, at $3.265 per 100 pounds.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

James J. Conway has been granted an extension of time for building sewerage works for Salt Creek brook conduit under Boston & Albany Railroad, Brighton, until November 25, 1922 (49 days).

Louis DeSisto has been granted an extension of time for building sewerage works in Colonial road, Brighton, until October 21, 1922 (29 days).

Antony Cefalo has been granted an extenson of time for building sewerage works in Board of Survey streets Nos. 1047 and 1050, between Board of Survey street No. 1177 and point 1,230 feet southerly, Brighton, until September 30, 1922 (14 days).

Vozzella & Capone have been granted an extension of time for building sewerage works in Washington street between Auburn street and Beech street, West Roxbury, until November 18, 1922 (49 days).

An extension of time has been granted for the completion of contract made with DeCristoforo & Brother Company, for sewerage works in Copenger street and outlet in Parker Hill avenue, Roxbury, from September 9, to September 26 (17 days).

BUILDING ACTIVITIES IN AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER.

Building Commissioner John H. Mahony has submitted to Mayor Curley a tabular report of building activities for the months of August and September. A communication accompanying the report is as follows:

Boston, October 3, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—In accordance with Circular No. 3, I am submitting statement of the operations of this department for the months of August and September, 1922, and a similar statement for August and September of preceding years; also a statement of the revenue from all sources for the same periods.

Yours very truly,
John H. Mahony,
Building Commissioner.

MAYOR CURLEY SCORES KU KLUX KLAN.

Mayor Curley, in commenting on the recently reported activities of the Ku Klux Klan, severely scored the order. He said:

"Massachusetts has from the beginning of our government enjoyed a distinction among the states of the Union in the matter of a liberal interpretation of the constitutional guaranties and rights of all men living within her portals. The value of her interpretation was emphasized in the World War, where under the selective draft system absolute equality without regard to race, creed or color obtained.

"The most valued lesson furnished by the World War may be forgotten in those sections of America south of the Mason-Dixon Line where illiteracy and child labor in industry are found but are still remembered in Massachusetts. The appearance in the University City of a delegation of men and their foul assaults upon the rights and liberties of their fellow Americans makes necessary a message to the rest of America, namely: That the un-American principles and propaganda presented by the Ku Klux Klan represents a menace that decent men will not tolerate and that every agency which the Constitution provides for the safeguarding of the life, liberty and happiness of the people should be speedily invoked to end."

LABOR REPORT FOR SEPTEMBER.

There was a decided improvement in business during September, according to the records at the Massachusetts Public Employment Office. The orders from employers show an increase of 14 per cent over August, also an increase of 3 per cent over September a year ago. The number of people called for by employers shows an increase of 13 per cent over August and an increase of 4 per cent over September last year. The number of positions reported filled shows an increase of 12 per cent over August and an increase of 10 more than September, 1921.

The attendance of applicants for employment shows a decrease of 1 per cent from August and a decrease of 48 per cent from September, 1921. During the month 1,702 service men (1,104 soldiers, 598 sailors) visited the office in search of work. Of these, 138 (107 soldiers, 31 sailors) were given introduction cards to employers and 108 (78 soldiers and 30 sailors) secured positions.

There has been a persistent call for building mechanics and the supply has been reduced to a point where it is only fair to say that the only skilled mehanic available is when a man finishes one job and comes back for another or if any mechanic out of town comes into the city. The demand in the building industry has been principally for painters, plumbers, plasterers, roofers, carpenters, bricklayers and electricians. There has been a little more activity in the metal trades, especially for highly skilled machinists, with a good complement of competent applicants to choose from. The demands in this branch have been for machinists, millwrights, tinsmiths and machine molders and helpers. The cold spell in the middle of the month caused some activity in the steam trades and a number of positions for engineers and firemen have been filled. The printing industry has been very quiet with only a few calls for compositors and pressmen, while a number of pressfeeders have secured positions. There is a decided shortage of tailors and upholsterers and some orders are on hand waiting for applicants to fill them. In the general trades there have been calls for rubber spreaders, paper box cutters, wood workers and packers. The shipyards are in need of all classes of skilled and unskilled help with very few applicants willing to accept positions. There are scores of men looking for positions as chauffeurs and automobile workers with no demand from employers.

The shortage in able-bodied laborers is becoming so acute that employers are now offering 60 cents and 65 cents an hour for competent workers, while the general price is from 40 cents to 50 cents an hour. There are very few men available and the same conditions exist as in the skilled mechanics. There has also been a heavy call for experienced farmers who can milk, also for married couples on farms, with a very short supply. Many farmers are obliged to wait for a week or ten days before a suitable man can be secured. There are hundreds of men looking for light indoor work, but there is practically no demand for their services. The calls for dishwashers and kitchenmen for hotels and restaurants and cafes have been brisk with a small supply of applicants.

The demand for boys for errands, office and factory work has doubled that of September a year ago. There is a scarcity of the right kind of boys to fill these positions, although there are numbers who visit the office daily looking for jobs at prices the employers are not inclined to consider.

In the women's skilled department there has been a continuous call for young girls for factory work between the ages of sixteen to twenty, with practically no applicants. There are numbers of women from twenty-five years up who are experienced workers, but there is hardly any demand for their services. There has been a good demand for power stitchers, which has been met with the supply of competent help gradually diminishing. The demand for waitresses and chambermaids has been good with a good supply of applicants. The demand for help from schools and institutions has been small but there is a good supply of competent help on hand.

The demand for housework girls continues to be heavier than the supply of applicants.

The average daily demand was 68, as compared with 65 in 1921; 129 in 1920; 122 in 1919; 113 in 1918; 115 in 1917; and 111 in 1916.

The average daily number of positions filled was 46, as compared with 45 in 1921; 68 in 1920; 53 in 1919; 55 in 1918; 61 in 1917; and 58 in 1916.

LAND=TAKING AWARD.

Margaret S. Darling has been awarded $8,800 for all damages occasioned to her estate on Cherry street by the taking made for playground purposes under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of April 28, 1922.

BOURKE COCKRAN COLUMBUS DAY ORATOR.

W. Bourke Cockran of New York will be the orator at the municipal exercises to be held at the Parkman Bandstand on the Common on Columbus Day. He was invited by Mayor Curley and telegraphed that he would be present.

The program includes a number of pageants portraying prominent events in American history and a Brazilian overture in honor of the one-hundredth anniversary of the independence of that country.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for an extension of Monastery road, Brighton. The property is bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows:

Southwest by Washington street, fifty-one and 23/100 feet; northwest by land supposed to belong to The Passionist Missionary Society, by three measurements, one hundred eighty-eight and 54/100 feet, one hundred thirty-three and 58/100 feet and one hundred twenty-seven and 54/100 feet; and southeast by other land of said Commonwealth, by two measurements, two hundred sixty-six and 67/100 feet on a curve of seven hundred and fifty feet radius and one hundred ninety-nine and 71/100 feet: containing eighteen thousand five hundred and thirty-three square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to The Passionist Missionary Society, bounded and described as follows:

Southeast by land supposed to belong to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, by two measurements, one hundred twenty-seven and 54/100 feet and one hundred thirty-three and 58/100 feet; northwest by other land of said Society, by two measurements, two hundred ninety-nine and 38/100 feet on a curve of seven hundred feet radius and eighty-three and 43/100 feet; northeast by land of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, fifty and 24/100 feet; and southeast by the same, by two measurements, seventy-eight and 53/100 feet and fifty-four and 10/100 feet on a curve of seven hundred and fifty feet radius: containing ten thousand seven hundred and twenty-six square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows:

Southwest by land supposed to belong to The Passionist Missionary Society, fifty and 24/100 feet; northwest by the same and by land supposed to belong to De Courcy et al., trustees, eight hundred forty-three and 5/100 feet; northeast by Warren street, fifty and 28/100 feet; and southeast by other land of said Commonwealth, eight hundred fifty-three and 27/100 feet: containing forty-two thousand four hundred and eight square feet, more or less.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Said highway is bounded and described as follows:

Southwest by Washington street, fifty-one and 23/100 feet; northwest by the northwesterly line of said extension of Monastery road as hereby laid out, by three measurements, one hundred eighty-eight and 54/100 feet, two hundred ninety-nine and 38/100 feet on a curve of seven hundred feet radius and nine hundred twenty-six and 48/100 feet; northeast by Warren street, fifty and 28/100 feet; and southeast by the southeasterly line of said extension of Monastery road as hereby laid out, by three measurements, nine hundred thirty-one and 80/100 feet, three hundred twenty and 77/100 feet on a curve of seven hundred and fifty feet radius and one hundred ninety-nine and 71/100 feet.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on the easterly and westerly sides of said extension of Monastery road, from Washington street to Warren street, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots within said limits to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Monastery Road, Brighton, Assessment Plan, August 25, 1922, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

PLANS TO PROTECT EYES OF CHILDREN.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter to Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Health Commissioner, relative to ophthalmology in health units:

Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Health Commissioner, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Doctor,—I have considered your suggestion with reference to the establishment of a Department of Ophthalmology in connection with the health units and would suggest that you direct the matter to the attention of the advisory board representing the Massachusetts Medical Societies and other organizations interested in the conservation of public health with a view to having them take up with the Massachusetts General Hospital the clearing of such cases as may be recommended to them by the oculist in charge at the health units, in the same manner that the Forsyth Dental Infirmary now serves as a clearance on dental work.

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved an order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners for the taking of land for an extension of the yard of the Hugh O'Brien School, for the purpose of erecting thereon an elementary annex, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Hugh O'Brien District, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on Shirley street 61 feet northeasterly from the corner of Dudley and Shirley streets, thence northwesterly by land of Hassey 70 feet to land of the City of Boston; thence turning and running northeasterly by land of said city 169 feet of land of Geraliano; thence turning and running southeasterly by land of said Geraliano 70 feet to the line of Shirley street; thence turning and running southwesterly by said line of Shirley street 169 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 12,600 square feet of land, be all said measurements more or less.

In connection with the taking the Superintendent of Schools has submitted an opinion as follows:

"The Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners thinks it advisable to take, for extension of the yard of the Hugh O'Brien School, for the purpose of erecting thereon an elementary annex, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Hugh O'Brien District, bounded and described as follows:

"Beginning at a point on Shirley street 61 feet northeasterly from the corner of Dudley and Shirley streets; thence northwesterly by land of Hassey 70 feet to land of the City of Boston; thence turning and running northeasterly by land of said city 169 feet to land of Geraliano; thence turning and running southeasterly by land of said Geraliano 70 feet to the line of Shirley street; thence turning and running southwesterly by said line of Shirley street 169 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 12,600 square feet of land, be all said measurements more or less.

"The $26,800 appropriated for land and construction under Item 20 of the 1922 appropriation is not sufficient to take the land at the corner of Dudley and Shirley streets, which the Board deems it advisable to take in addition to the above described parcel."

The Mayor has approved an order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners for the taking of land for an extension of lot on which new intermediate school is to be erected, a certain piece or parcel of land in the William E. Endicott District, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on Blue Hill avenue 285.28 feet from the intersection of the line of Blue Hill avenue and Harvard street, thence southwesterly by line of Blue Hill avenue 50 feet to land of Stephano; thence turning and running northwesterly by land of Stephano and Horne 221 feet to the line of Harvard street; thence turning and running northeasterly by line of Harvard street 50 feet to land of the City of Boston; thence turning and running southeasterly by land of said city 221 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 11,000 square feet of land, be all said measurements more or less.

In connection with the taking the Superintendent of Schools has submitted an opinion as follows:

"The Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners thinks it advisable to take, for extension of lot on which new intermediate school is to be erected, a certain piece or parcel of land in the William E. Endicott District, bounded and described as follows:

"Beginning at a point on Blue Hill avenue 285.28 feet from the intersection of the line of Blue Hill avenue and Harvard street; thence southwesterly by line of Blue Hill avenue 50 feet to land of Stephano; thence turning and running northwesterly by land of Stephano and Horne 221 feet to line of Harvard street; thence turning and running northeasterly by line of Harvard street 50 feet to land of the City of Boston; thence turning and running southeasterly by land of said city 221 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 11,000 square feet of land, be all said measurements more or less.

"This additional land is necessary owing to the increased size of building from ten-room (Item 35, 1920 appropriation) to sixteen-room unit (Item 12, 1922 appropriation)."

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commissioners announce examinations for municipal offices as follows:

School Physician, Boston School Department, October 20, 1922.

There are two vacancies at a salary of $900 per year. This examination is open to both men and women. The duties of this position are to report every school day to the principal of the schools to which they are assigned and to visit each school to which they are assigned by the director of medical inspection, to examine all children entering school for the first time, to make an examination and diagnosis of every child returning to school without a certificate from the Health Department or from the attending physician, after absence on account of illness or from unknown cause, and to make such examination and diagnosis of every child who shows signs of ill health or symptoms of communicable or infectious disease, to exercise general supervision on all matters pertaining to school hygiene, and to report to the director of medical inspection in writing any unsanitary conditions in their respective schools or districts, and such other duties as are outlined in pamphlet issued by the Boston School Department, Department of Medical Inspection, on "Duties of School Physicians."

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; mark given by the Division of Registration in Medicine, Department of Civil Service and Registration, at the time of registration, 3; personality and fitness, as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

Confidential Executive Secretary (Female), Boston Institutions Department, October 20, 1922.

The salary is $2,300 per year. Applicants must be not less than twenty-five years of age at the time of filing application. A certificate of date of birth must be filed with the application. The duties of this position are to act in a confidential and executive capacity to the Commissioner of Institutions, which duties involve the meeting and interviewing of visitors, the making of special investigations relating to departmental matters and the performance of other matters which relieve superiors of the details of office work, and to act as the intermediary between the commissioner and the deputy commissioners.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; special questions on the duties of the position, 2; personality and fitness, as determined by an oral interview, 4; total, 10.

Applicants will be required to obtain a mark of at least 65 per cent in training and experience and in the oral interview.

Foreman Caster, Boston Printing Department, October 20, 1922.

The salary is $2,500 per year. The foreman caster man of the monotype typesetting plant is responsible for the mechanical working condition of the monotype casting machine and keyboard, and is also responsible for the product of both machines. The caster man need not necessarily be a keyboard operator but should thoroughly understand the mechanism of that machine as well as that of the casting machine. He should also have a knowledge of the quality of metal used in making type, as any deviation from the standard formula of tin, antimony and lead would result in much trouble and produce inferior type. His duties also include the interior management of the casting room and the practical and efficient handling of all work which comes to him to be cast. He should also be able to make all adjustments and repairs on both keyboard and casting machines.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 1; special questions on the duties of the position, 1; total, 2.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

General Information.

The names of veterans who pass the examinations will be placed upon the eligible list in the order of their respective standing, above the names of all other applicants, as provided for in section 23 of chapter 31 of the General Laws.

MAYOR ASKS FUEL HEAD TO AID BOSTON.

Mayor Curley has called the attention of State Fuel Administrator James J. Phelan to the fact that navy vessels and those under control of the United States Shipping Board available for handling fuel may be secured, and has urged the administrator to secure them for the present coal emergency. The Mayor's letter reads:

Boston, October 4, 1922.

Mr. James J. Phelan, State Fuel Administrator, Cornhill, Boston, Mass.:

My Dear Mr. Phelan,—I beg to call your attention to the fact that the navy colliers and many boats under the control of the Shipping Board available for the handling of fuel might be obtained from the War Department and the Navy Department for the distribution of coke or other substitutes for anthracite, provided in your opinion such a step is necessary to relieve the public in the present emergency. I appreciate that this may be deemed a radical departure, but nevertheless it has been the custom almost from the beginning of our government to extend succor to the needy the world over whenever necessity required.

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

DENBY FAVORS MAYOR.

Mayor Curley received the following telegram from Superintendent of Supplies Frank P. Rock:

Washington, D.C.,

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACTS.

William Barrett & Co. have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for building sewerage works in Farragut road extension, South Boston. Items ordered: Construct 33 feet of 6-foot by 6-foot reinforced concrete conduit, the same being in addition to existing contract, the work to be paid for under Items 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the contract—the estimated cost of extra work being $1,900.

V. Barletta has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Perkins street, West Roxbury, between Chestnut street and Hyde square. Items ordered: Relocating catch-basin and house drains, relocating 12-inch pipe under 36-inch main and discontinuance of supply to vacant lot service pipes—the estimated cost of extra work being $250.

De Stefano Brothers, Inc., have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for paving Stuart street, from Dartmouth street across Trinity place, and from Clarendon street to Columbus avenue. Items ordered: Furnish and lay extra concrete base below the regular sub-grade of street as directed. Price to be paid—for each cubic yard of concrete base furnished and laid the sum of $7.50,—estimated cost of extra work being $225.

The C. & R. Construction Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for Dorchester brook sewer, east fork, in Norfolk avenue, Dorchester. Items ordered: Repair tidegate frame on account of imperfections; perform necessary labor in connection with changes in concreting work for tidegate manhole at station 004 of sewer—the estimated cost of extra work being $55.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

An extension of time has been granted for the completion of the contract made with Samuel J. Tomasello for building sewerage works in Oak avenue, Fairview street and Ormond street, Dorchester, from September 2, 1922, to September 20, 1922 (18 days).

Warren Brothers Company has been granted an extension of time for the completion of pavement in Perkins street, Olmsted Park, and Columbia road, Dorchester, until November 1, 1922.

Samuel J. Tomasello has been granted an extension of time until August 1, 1922, for the completion of concrete bleachers at John W. Murphy Playground, West Roxbury.

An extension of time has been granted for the completion of the contract made with V. Grande, for laying and relaying water pipes in Bowditch road, Firth road, Lasell street, Murray Hill road, Newfields street, Perham street, Rosemary street and Temple terrace, West Roxbury, also Forest avenue, Hyde Park, until October 21, 1922.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 138

Section 5 of Rule 53 of the Rules and Regulations of the Boston Police Department is hereby amended by striking out the whole of said section and inserting in place thereof the following new section, which will be known as Section 5:

5. Special police officers will be furnished with a badge numbered and recorded in the office of the commissioner which they shall wear on the left breast when on duty; and they shall surrender said badge at the end of their term of service, or when they resign or are discharged. In case a badge is lost the holder thereof shall immediately report such loss to the Chief Clerk, who will furnish a new badge upon payment therefor. If a uniform be worn by a special police officer it shall not include a cap which is in any way similar or identical to that worn by a member of the Boston Police Department, and it shall not be of such cut and color that on the whole it might cause the wearer to be mistaken for a member of the Boston Police Department; the commander of the division in which the special officer is licensed to act to be the judge and to be responsible. (Police Rule.)

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

SEWER CONSTRUCTION.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners that in accordance with requests of the Commissioner of Public Works that a sanitary sewer of concrete 1 foot 6 inches by 5 feet, a surface drain of concrete 1 foot 6 inches by 1 foot 6 inches, and four catch-basins be constructed in Stuart street, between Huntington avenue and Dartmouth street, in the city proper, at a cost of $11,470.

The Mayor has approved the proposal of the Commissioner of Public Works to construct a sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe in Wales place, between Westwood street and New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, in Dorchester, at a cost of $700.

REJECTED CLAIMS.

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel, states the Law Department has disapproved twelve claims against the city, in four of which no amounts were specified, and the other eight aggregated $278.60, and are classified as follows:

Against the Fire Department, two, amounting to $115.10; against the Hospital Department, three, in two of which no amounts were specified, and the other one amounted to $9.75; against the Police Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Public Works Department, six, in one of which no amount was specified, and the other five amounted to $153.75.

All these claims have been disapproved for the reason that there appeared to be no legal liability on the part of the city.

PORT OF BOSTON.

Best of natural harbors, sheltered, spacious for anchorage, main ship channel 35 feet in depth at low tide, near open sea, area about 6,300 acres; waterfront (i. e., lineal pier space) 40 miles, 6 miles fronting on 30 feet depth at low water. A 45-foot channel from entrance of harbor to President Roads, and 40-foot from there to wharves will be dredged in the near future. New Commonwealth Pier No. 5, South Boston, 1,200 feet long, 400 feet wide, accommodating five 600-foot ships at one time, 40 feet depth at mean low water on both sides, with three 2-story fireproof buildings of steel and concrete construction, containing 900,000 square feet of floor space; total cost of this enterprise to State, $4,500,000. Commonwealth Pier No. 6, South Boston (Fish Pier), buildings on same erected by lessee, Boston Fish Market Corporation, cost to State, $1,487,361. New Commonwealth Pier No. 1, East Boston, 900 feet long, costing State $764,600 for site and about $345,000 for construction. New dry dock at South Boston (probably the largest in world), completed in 1919, 1,200 feet long and 120 wide, costing over $3,000,000 and taken by U. S. Government at total cost of same to State. Islands in Boston Harbor over 3 acres in area, 17, with total area of 965 acres; Long Island the largest, or 215.5 acres. Owned by United States, 392 acres; by City of Boston, 334 acres. Number of wharves, 146, of which 8 are owned by the City. There are 24 foreign steamship lines. In 1915 a revision of the harbor lines was made and the project undertaken whereby 600 acres of flats between Governor's Island and Jeffries Point, East Boston, will be filled in and used for extensive commercial development under State control.

In April, 1918, the Government decided to establish its Army Supply Base on a portion of the Commonwealth lands in South Boston. About 57.6 acres were purchased of the State, the price being $1,317,510, quickly followed by the construction of two pier sheds, each 920 feet long, a wharf shed and other buildings, including one of the largest storehouses in the world, built of reinforced concrete, eight stories high, 1,638 feet long, 126 feet wide and with floor space of over 1,650,000 square feet. The total outlay for the plant was about $26,000,000.

Total Federal expenditure for improvement of Boston Harbor from 1790 to June 30, 1918, $12,525,981; total expended and provided for by State, $18,364,947 since 1859.

HOW THE CITY DOLLAR WAS SPENT DURING THE LAST FINANCIAL YEAR.

For Public Schools, $0.23 cents (if the total amount appropriated had been expended, the correct figure would be 0.262); Public Works, 0.176; State Tax and Assessments, 0.133; Debt Requirements, 0.12; Police Dept., 0.08; Fire Dept., 0.07; Institutions and Poor Relief, 0.039; Hospitals and Health, 0.038; General Government, 0.037; County Courts, etc., 0.037; Public Recreation, 0.027; Public Library, 0.013, making a total of 100 cents. This excludes all expenditures from loans, etc., but includes Special Appropriations from Tax Levy and other General Income.

The revenue of the departments amounted to 16 per cent of their gross expenditures. The revenue of Public Service Enterprises alone (including Water Service, Markets, etc.) amounted to $3,997,166 or $234,117 more than their total expenditures. The fractions of the dollar above stated represent net expenditure, computed after deducting department revenue.

Revenue from another class of public $19,979.55 more than the interest and sinking-fund requirements of the Rapid service enterprise, i. e., Rapid Transit subways and tunnels, $1,446,516.75 or Transit debt in 1920.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, September 25, 1922.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., President BRICKLEY in the chair and all the members present.

APPOINTMENT BY THE MAYOR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 25, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I appoint Gilbert A. Campbell, 194 Whiting avenue, Dedham, a Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1923.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

Laid over under the law.

TRANSFER REQUESTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 25, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith various requests for transfers within department appropriations and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying orders.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
September 20, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I respectfully request that the following transfer be made in the budget items of the appropriation for the Sanitary Service:

From the appropriation for B-15, Motorless Vehicle Repairs, $490.97, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, $490.97.

The reason for this request is that provision may be made for the payment of the salary of Vincenzo Musto, who has been appointed as constable in this service to take effect September 26.

Yours respectfully,
J. A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Public Works Department, Sanitary Service:

From the appropriation for B-15, Motorless Vehicle Repairs, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Constable, 1 at $1,400 per year, $490.97.

City of Boston,
Institutions Department,
September 20, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I respectfully ask that transfer of funds within appropriation granted Boston Almshouse and Hospital be allowed as follows, in order that the position of general mechanic may be established in place of that of plumber, dating from September 22:

From appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 1 plumber at $1,000, $441.32, to appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 1 General Mechanic at $1,000, $441.32.

We believe that the employment of a general mechanic who understands not only plumbing but other lines of repair work would best meet the needs of the institution. There is not enough work to keep a plumber busy at all times, but the services of a general mechanic are always in demand.

Trusting that this transfer will meet with your approval, I am,

Very truly yours,
David J. Johnson,
Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Institutions Department, Boston Almshouse and Hospital:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Plumber, 1 at $1,000 per year, $441.32, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, General Mechanic, 1 at $1,000 per year, $441.32.

Boston City Hospital,
September 16, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—When the budget was prepared it was not deemed wise to provide for the employment of the physicians for the Thorndike Memorial Laboratory, because it was not known just when the laboratory would be in such a stage of completion as to warrant such employment. It was explained at that time that when the laboratory was ready for use assistants would be necessary. It now becomes necessary to employ at least one assistant to aid Doctor Peabody in the organization of the new laboratory, and the trustees, on his recommendation, have voted the employment of Dr. Henry Jackson, Jr., as an assistant in his laboratory, and respectfully request the transfer of $1,380.45 from B-39, General Plant Repairs, to A-1, Permanent Employees, to provide for the payment of his salary from September 12, 1922, to January 31, 1923, at the rate of $3,500 per year.

Yours respectfully,
Joseph P. Manning,
President, Board of Trustees.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Hospital Department:

From the appropriation for B-39, General Plant, $1,380.45, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Physician (Thorndike Memorial Laboratory, Assistant, 1 at $3,500 per year, $1,380.45.

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department,
September 25, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Board of Street Commissioners respectfully requests that the following transfer be made within the maintenance appropriation of the Street Laying-Out Department for the current year:

From Rodmen, 12 at $1,200 per year, to B-3, Advertising, $350.

This transfer is requested as the departmental appropriation for B-3, Advertising, is entirely exhausted.

Respectfully yours,
Joseph F. Sullivan,
Secretary.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Street Laying-Out Department:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Rodmen, 12 at $1,200 per year, $350, to the appropriation for B-3, Advertising and Posting, $350.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
September 25, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I respectfully request that the following transfer be made between budget items of the appropriation for the Paving Service:

From the appropriation for B-14, Motor Vehicle Repairs and Care, $1,000, to the appropriation for C-17, General Plant, $1,000.

The reason for the above transfer is to purchase 100 new iron signs and sign posts, which are to be substituted for the wooden posts which are continually rotting.

Respectfully,
J. A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That under the authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Public Works Department, Paving Service:

From the appropriation for B-14, Motor Vehicle Repairs and Care, $1,000, to the appropriation for C-17, General Plant, $1,000.

APPROVAL OF CONSTABLE'S BOND.

The City Treasurer, after having duly approved of the same, submitted the constable's bond of George B. Mullay.

Approved by the City Council.

REQUEST FOR REMOVAL OF "THE BOOK OF AMERICAN WARS."

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the Library Trustees remove from the index the volume called "The Book of American Wars," by Helen Nicolay, published by the Century Company, as the same is anti-American and an insult to the traditions and memory of our early patriots, as well as being untruthful.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I am going to ask the suspension of the rule that the order may go upon its passage at this time. At the last meeting of the Council I offered an order requesting the Library Trustees to remove from the shelves of the library the recent unabridged edition of Webster's dictionary, as its definitions were in direct conflict with the definitions of the original Webster, by Noah Webster, published in 1843. At that time Coun. Hagan suggested that we should lay the matter on the table and have the Library Trustees before us to talk the matter over. I agreed to that proposition, because I thought it was understood that the Library Trustees would be asked to be here today to furnish us with the excuse, if any, why they used that dictionary. But, through some hitch, the Library Trustees have not been asked to appear here today and explain, if they wish to do so, why my order for the removal of that dictionary from the library should not go into effect. I have high regard for the Trustees of the Public Library. One of the gentleman on the Board, the Rev. Arthur T. Connolly, officiated at my marriage thirty-two years ago this month, and I have a high regard for him. I know the Rev. Alexander Mann, of Trinity Church, and my admiration and regard for him is just as high. Judge Murrary I know and respect, as I do the other members. I have high regard for the entire Board of Trustees, as well as for Mr. Belden, the librarian. But it seems to me that, either by arrangement or by accident, libraries and schools throughout the United States are being vitiated and poisoned by books that are un-American. Whether or not this placing in the hands of the youth of the country of anti-American or pro-English books is arranged for through certain agencies, by the "Anglo-Saxons," I don't know, but I do know that a condition such as I have described existed. I do know also this, that Demarest Lloyd, former president of the Loyal Coalition, has resigned the presidency of that organization and is now in Europe in consultation with some people concerning Anglo-Saxon propaganda in the United States. That was told to me by a man who did not know my make-up. He thought I was a bigot and leaning to that side of the controversy, which, of course, is absolutely untrue. Perhaps if the blood that was in some of my forefathers on my father's mother's side had trickled down into my arteries, I would be pro-English, because one of my ancestors, Brigadier-General Timothy Ruggles, was president of the Colonial Congress and stood alone against giving to the colonies that which Otis, Adams and others requested. But he was a Loyalist, a Tory, loyal to the mother country, and, second on the list after Governor Hutchinson, was exiled from our shores, He made tremendous sacrifices, left wife, sons and daughters, brothers and sisters, and sacrificed thousands and thousands of acres of wonderful soil. But his relatives, his wife and others, remained here and worked side by side with the other patriots, the early heroes who fought for liberty. So, if I followed the dictates of the blood of some of my ancestors, I might be inclined toward England. But with me it is always America first. History today is not written correctly, either by arrangement or accident. All through the history books of today they speak of Sam Adams, Otis, Franklin and other patriots as standing on the floor of the Colonial Congress and fighting for something that belonged to this country and that England denied to them, but never mention the proceedings in which Timothy Ruggles took part, as chief justice of the Court of Common Pleas prior to the Revolution and as speaker of the House of Representatives prior to the Revolution. They do not speak of that, but I know it. He was anti-American and pro-English. But I am as pro-American as he was pro-English. Demarest Lloyd will come back here with British gold in his pockets for that work, instead of its being put into the hands of the Loyal Coalition of Boston, which is simply an "Anglo-Saxon" instrument for propaganda, which, among other things, is trying to pervert in the minds of our people our early history. So much for that. I asked Mr. Belden to come here today and he informs our Clerk of Committees that he is unable to do so because he has no authority to come. Therefore, I am not going to consider for a moment the question of referring this matter to the Executive Committee for Coun. Hagan's benefit. Coun. Hagan, if he were here, might very likely ask to have that action taken, but I would personally refuse to grant it, voting for suspension of the rules if my vote is the only vote, because I have evidence here which is undeniable. I am going to be brief. I have here the volume entitled "The Book of American Wars," by Helen Nicolay, author also of "Personal Traits of Abraham Lincoln," "Our Nation in the Building," "Boy's Life of Abraham Lincoln," and so forth, illustrated with portraits and maps. It is published in New York by the Century Company, and on the first page is a picture of George Washington. The book is dedicated—just think of this—"To America's boys in the present war." I wish only to read briefly from it, because it is so inaccurate, so unreliable, and so pro-English, that I do not desire to warm up and express myself as I might if I read all of it. I am going to point out a few lines written by this lady. I don't know who she is, but if she knows as much about her own affairs as she knows about American history, she knows very little about herself. Let me say that the book is numbered 6,6398.1, and is stamped as the property of the Public Library of the City of Boston, and I received it from Mr. Belden's own hands one week ago today. I am going to read just about five paragraphs, commencing on page 71:

"At first few men of wealth and position joined in such demonstrations. As is often the case, it was the men who had little to lose who were most willing to risk everything. Their rich neighbors were too cautious, and looked upon them as enthusiasts who fortunately were unable to do much harm. Samuel Adams of Massachusetts"—— and may I put in a word of my own here? We are going to pay tribute to his memory at his 200th anniversary, I think, shortly. I believe the state is going to do it, and do it in a proper way.

"Samuel Adams of Massachusetts, with his constantly nodding head, his red cloak, and his tie wig, was so morally incorruptible and had displayed such 'conspicuous ineptitude for trade' that his wife was forced to practise all sorts of economies to keep the household clothed and fed."

Isn't that beautiful stuff, Mr. President, to permit to be in our library? Then it says:

"James Otis, that 'great incendiary of New England,' had been foolish enough to resign a fine position as advocate-general, because, forsooth, he felt himself too good to argue in favor of writs of assistance. James Warren"——

Let me interject a word here and say that the "James" Warren referred to is Joseph Warren of Roxbury, showing that author knows nothing about history.

"James Warren, who had invented the committees of correspondence that were spreading discontent over the land, was Otis's brother-in-law, and he had a sister worse than he, a strong-minded woman who wrote books and presumed to teach men their duty."

More insults.

"Benjamin Franklin had espoused the cause of the patriots,—but everyone knew Franklin. His was the eccentricity of genius.

"As for Patrick Henry, who was pouring incendiary eloquence over the Virginia Assembly with his 'Tarquin and Caesar had each his Brutus, Charles the First his Cromwell, and George the Third (cries of "Treason!") may profit by their example. If this be treason, make the most of it,' he was a slovenly, fiddle-playing incompetent, with an odd gift of oratory, who had been slow at his studies and had failed twice at clerking and once as a farmer before he decided to practise law. This he had the assurance to do after a paltry six weeks of preparation. If the country had to choose between government by such a rabble and government from England, conservative and well-to-do Tories preferred the one three thousand miles away."

Is there an American in this body within hearing of my voice, or in this City Hall, who dares to approve of continuing on the shelves of our public library this un-American volume, which is but one of many there? It may be said that I am looking for notoriety, Far be it from me to look for this kind of notoriety, because in Boston there is a considerable number of people wo believe in that stuff, who will use their very greatest efforts to defeat me for any office I seek. I am not getting very great attention from the members. I presume the Chair would not be here if somebody else would take the gavel, and I think Coun. Lane is remaining here because he is a descendant of some of those who came over in the "Mayflower." His ancestry runs back as far as mine. I want to give honor to Coun. Moriarty, too; I wish to give credit where credit is due. There is almost a quorum here. Mr. President, is there a member here who will ask for postponement of my order? Is there a member here who dares to do so? Every word I have read is accurate. I may not have used the proper pronunciation, because, forsooth, my education has been limited. I am not going to apologize for it any more. My intentions are good, regardless of the methods I have of expressing them or the lack of education to put them properly before you. I want to pay tribute at this time to the Boston School Committee, made up of one lady and four gentlemen—the four gentlemen, I believe, sons of Irish immigrants, and one lady, named Miss Curtis, who undoubtedly has just as good an ancestry, if that amounts to anything, as I, Coun. Lane, Coun. Moriarty, or any of us. I want to pay tribute to the entire School Committee for their attempt to remove from the hands of school children filthy, un-American and Anglo-Saxon volumes. I have here in my hand a book that is in direct contradiction of what has been said by Miss Nicolay concerning Samuel Adams and the other patriots. May I be permitted to read from "A First Book in American History," by Beard and Bagley, published by the Macmillan Company in 1921, and bearing on its first page a picture of Independence Hall in Philadelphia? Permit me to read what is said here on page 105 about Samuel Adams, whom this woman insults. "Samuel Adams to the front," is the heading:

"People everywhere were indignant. In Boston they found a spokesman in Samuel Adams. No one understood his fellow citizens better. He was born in Boston in 1722. He had attended Harvard College. After finishing his college course, Adams studied law. Then he worked as a merchant's helper. Later he became his father's partner in the brewing business."

That is a good business.

"On his father's death he inherited the brewery, but could not make a success of it."

He certainly could in these days! I suppose that reference to the brewery ought to be stricken out because anything like that would be considered as putting Adams in a bad light. I suppose if Miss Nicolay had had that in mind she would have used it also, and commented upon it. Then it speaks here about Adams in town politics and his connection with the opposition to the Stamp Act. He aroused the people of Boston to protest against it, and they elected him to the Massachusetts Legislature, which he induced to pass a resolution calling upon all the colonies to send delegates to a Stamp Act Congress in New York. This Congress drew up a protest against the tax and drafted a declaration of the rights of the colonies, and the Stamp Act was repealed by the British Government, but presently they laid other taxes on other commodities. These measures once more stirred Adams to action, and Adams took a prominent part in connection with the Boston massacre and the Boston tea party. Then the book deals with "Adams and the Continental Congress."

"As in 1765, when the Stamp Act was passed, another assembly of delegates from the colonies was called in the new crisis. Massachusetts, again under the influence of Adams, took the lead in calling it. So it came about that in 1774 the first Continental Congress was assembled in Philadelphia. Samuel Adams and his cousin, John Adams, were among the men selected by Massachusetts to represent that colony. Unhappily Samuel was so poor that he had no 'fine clothes' to wear. His neighbors knew his plight and bought him a complete outfit, not overlooking silver buckles for his shoes and a gold-headed cane. All the people had heard of him and at every large town on the way to Philadelphia he was cheered and honored at public banquets."

I might add more about Adams, but this is my direct contradiction of Miss Nicolay's references to him. Then we come down to Patrick Henry, referred to on page 111 of this book. It says:

"Patrick Henry, the orator of the Revolution. A son of old Virginia. While at Philadelphia, Samuel Adams met many of the first men of America. Among them was a delegate from Virginia, Patrick Henry, as famous in America today as Adams himself. Henry, like Adams, was not rich in this world's goods. He was born in Virginia in 1736, one among nine children. His early life was spent on a farm not far from Richmond. He attended the common school until he was ten years old, learning reading, writing and arithmetic. The rest of his education he received from his father. By the age of fifteen he knew Latin, some Greek and a great deal of history. He learned to play the violin and flute. He played hunted, read, and was a dutiful son.

"When Henry was fifteen years old, he and his brother were set up in business in a country store. This venture proved unfortunate. The Henry Brothers failed because, it is said, they were too generous in giving credit to their customers. Patrick married the daughter of a neighbor, who brought him some slaves and a few hundred acres of land. He was not very successful as a farmer. Neither did he prosper in an effort to combine farming with storekeeping. Then he tried a new line. He took up the study and practice of law.

"A Famous Case.—In making his plea to the jury at a certain trial, in which he took the side of the taxpayers against the King, Henry took the ground that the King had no right to annul a law made by Virginia. In doing this, he declared, the King had become a tyrant, and forfeited all rights to obedience. This was defiant talk. Some bystanders thought it treasonable to speak in such a way about the King.

"The taxpayers won their case. In a riotous outburst of joy, the people lifted Henry to their shoulders and carried him about the streets. By their action they declared, in effect, if not in so many words: 'Virginia will govern herself, make her own laws, and lay her own taxes. She will not allow a king three thousand miles away to dictate to her.'"

That is the kind of man that Patrick Henry was, and it might be well to bear in mind that in England, Edmund Burke, born in Ireland, took up the fight in Parliament that Henry took up in the Virginia Assembly. I might go on indefinitely referring to all these things that are set forth in the book, but I will content myself by simply referring to Benjamin Franklin, whose memory she insults. Speaking of Franklin's education, on page 138, this book says:

"His Education.—Though his school days were short, he educated himself, proving that anyone with the mind and the will can overcome heavy obstacles. First of all Franklin wanted to write pure and simple English. He learned by studying the best English books, particularly the writings of the famous essayist, Addison. He copied page after page and then rewrote each one from memory. In time he was a master of our tongue.

"At the age of twenty-six he took up the study of foreign languages. He worked by himself until he attained a reading knowledge of French, Italian and Spanish. Then he began the serious study of Latin, one year of which he had taken in school. He used a copy of the New Testament written in Latin and applied himself until he could read it easily.

"Franklin's Many Activities.—At length Franklin went into the printing business on his own account, and started an almanac under the name of 'Richard Saunders.' This pamphlet he issued for about twenty-five years. It was known throughout America as 'Poor Richard's Almanac.' In addition to information about the weather and the seasons, it contained many droll stories and witty sayings. All through it were sprinkled wise proverbs, such as: 'God helps them that help themselves'; 'He that by the plow would thrive, himself must either hold or drive.' Every year Franklin sold ten thousand copies of his Almanac.

"Besides the Almanac, Franklin published a newspaper, founded a circulating library, helped to establish the Academy of Pennsylvania, and made scientific discoveries. He also took an important part in the city government of Philadelphia, helping to introduce street paving and cleaning, establish a regular company to fight fires, and to have a better police force. In 1757 he was sent to London as the agent of Pennsylvania, and remained there for five years. In 1765 he was sent back to England, and for ten years he was really the spokesman of America in London. It was then that he came to know many famous Englishmen, among them Edmund Burke. During the Stamp Act quarrel he was called before the House of Commons to tell the English lawmakers how the Americans felt about the taxes. He was asked whether the colonists would submit to the stamp tax if some of the worst parts of the law were repealed, and to this he replied simply, 'No, they will never submit to it.'"

I simply wish to point with pride to this "First Book in American History," which is in our public schools, through the vigilance and attention of our School Committee, composed of five members, as I say, four the sons of immigrant parents, and one a lady who is perhaps a descendant of the early settlers here. Mr. President, I don't think we ought to wait one moment. We ought to demand instead of requesting that this action be taken by the Library Trustees. I would like to put in our order that "We demand the removal from the index and shelves of this un-American volume" and others that I will call to their attention later. I want to say that if the papers will leave my name out of this matter, simply printing what I have brought to their attention, I will be satisfied and they will be doing a duty to America. Just think—only one paper paid any attention to my attack on the dictionary. That was the Boston Herald, which had a liberal article. I don't know how it happened that they did, and I wish to say that they are doing good work. The Boston American did not have a line, but that was through no fault of the City Hall man. In their New York paper they have been carrying articles of a patriotic nature, having just published one by Wallace McCamant of the Patriot League for the Preservation of American History. In many papers of importance outside of Boston there have been illuminating things bearing on this subject. Now, Mr. President, I want to say that I have no quarrel with the average, decent Englishman who comes to this country. Let him remain English, if he wishes to do so, but don't let him come to our shores, become an American citizen and then spit in our faces. Now, I know that the Boston Transcript will print an account, even if it does not give my name, of the attack upon this book. I trust that the other papers will print it. You may leave my name out if you wish, merely saying that the Council did it. But as Americans, having an interest in the reading matter that Americans are supplied with, we desire to keep America in the hands of Americans, and it is our duty to do something along these lines. If the newspapers were as interested in remaining pro-American as they are in increasing their circulation and adding to the bankroll of the publishers, we might have a real true America. In passing, I would like to refer to one or two matters pertaining to the newspapers. Some of the papers talk a good deal about profiteering in coal, fuel and oil. Why have not some of our newspapers gone back to one cent a copy, instead of two and three cents? And why do thy charge for printing political advertising $3 a line where they run regular advertising at $1 a line? That is what I call profiteering. You can't get them to do anything else, because they have a little combination. I demand that they do something in the line of true Americanization, that they take an interest in eliminating from our public schools outside of Boston and from the public library in Boston and in other libraries in the state these volumes, the purpose of which is an "Anglo-Saxon" and non-American purpose. I have no quarrel with any Englishman, any foreigner, fom Italy, Germany, France, England, Roumania, Russia, or anywhere else outside of our boundaries, who comes here and becomes an American citizen and who lives up to American citizenship. They can love their mother country as such, but we want them to be true to our traditions, to the Stars and Stripes and to the Constitution. When they feel that they cannot do that it is time for them to pack up their duds and leave our shores, and the sooner they know it the better. In this propaganda there are many honest, clean people. They don't know that they are being used, that they are a part of this plan. I know of men high in the business world of Boston, who worship at the same altar that I do, whose blood comes from the Emerald Isle, sons of Irish immigrants, who are part and parcel of this propaganda. One I will mention by name—Bernard J. Rothwell. Either knowingly or by accicent he has become a part of this pro-English, Anglo-Saxon propaganda. I might name others higher than he, born of immigrant parents, who are also part of this vicious propaganda. I, in my humble way, have done my little part toward awakening the people. I know that I have the assistance and cooperation of my fellow members. I have no apology to make for the conduct of a man who does not live up to the ideals of American citizenship, whether he is the son of an immigrant, coming from Italy, Ireland and Germany, or whether he descends from the early colonists and might be expected, on that account, to be true to American traditions. I have no respect for the man, be he an immigrant or a native American, who does not stand by our traditions, who does not stand by the flag and Constitution; but the immigrant or the son of an immigrant who is a true American, no matter how poor or humble he may be, is more worthy of respect than many men who are millionaires and who have the traditions of this country behind them. If I have today awakened in the breast of any man present a little stronger desire to stand firmly for Americanism and American traditions, and against those who abandon the principle by which they should stand for personal gain, I feel that I have done my duty. I am intensely American, and, to my mind, any man who does not live up to the duties of American citizenship, whether he is native or foreign born, is unfit to associate with me, and I don't want his company. I ask a suspension of the rule that the order may go on its passage at this time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. MORIARTY in the chair.

RECESS TAKEN.

On motion of Coun. FORD the Council took a recess at 2.55 p. m., subject to the call of the President.

The members of the Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the President at 4.18 p. m.

SALE OF LAND, FAIRMOUNT RESERVOIR.

Coun. HAGAN, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted a report on message and order from the Mayor (referred August 7) recommending that the Public Works Commissioner be authorized to sell at public auction land known as Fairmount Reservoir at an upset price of $7,500 for the land, and that proposals be received for the razing and removal of standpipe upon said land—that the order ought not to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was rejected.

RESTRICTIONS ON LAND ADJOINING PARKS.

Coun. FORD, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted a report on message and order from the Mayor (referred July 31) submitting ordinance for carrying out scheme of development along border of parkways—recommending passage of ordinance in following new draft:

City of Boston.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Two.

An Ordinance Relative to Park Frontages in the City of Boston.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. No building hereafter erected or altered upon land within a distance of one hundred feet from any park or parkway in the city of Boston, excepting, however, Boston Common and the Public Garden and Commonwealth avenue, from its junction with Beacon street to the dividing line between the city of Newton and the city of Boston, shall be used for a livery or public stable or public garage, or for any mechanical, mercantile or manufacturing purposes, nor exceed five stories in height above the basement or cellar nor exceed seventy feet in height from the mean grade of the edgestone or sidewalk in front to the ceiling of the extreme upper story (excepting churches or chapels), and no roof shall be used for laundry or clothes-drying purposes.

Sect. 2. No building or structure shall hereafter be erected or altered within a distance of one hundred feet from park or parkway in the city of Boston, without permission in writing having first been obtained from the park commissioners of the city of Boston.

Sect. 3. On lands abutting upon parks and parkways and to a distance of one hundred feet therefrom, from the Fens to Franklin Park, both inclusive, no wooden house arranged for more than one family, nor wooden block consisting of more than two houses, nor wooden house or block standing at a distance less than five feet from the side line of the lot upon which the same is placed, and no wooden house costing less than five thousand dollars, nor brick or stone house costing less than seven thousand dollars, nor apartment house costing less than four thousand dollars per suite of apartments, exclusive in each case of the cost of the land, shall be erected or placed upon said premises.

Sect. 4. On land abutting upon parks and parkways and to a distance of one hundred feet therefrom, on the Dorchesterway and Strandway, no wooden house of more than three stories, nor wooden block consisting of more than two stories, nor wooden house or block standing at a distance less than five feet from the side line of the lot upon which the same is placed, and no wooden house costing less than four thousand dollars, nor brick or stone house costing less than six thousand dollars, nor wooden apartment house of two stories costing less than five thousand dollars, nor wooden apartment house of three stories costing less than six thousand dollars, nor apartment house of brick or stone costing less than three thousand dollars per suite of apartments, exclusive in each case of the cost of the land, shall be erected or placed upon said premises.

Sect. 5. No building shall be erected or placed upon premises within twenty feet from the exterior line of parks and parkways, from and including the Fens to Perkins street; and no building shall be erected or placed upon said premises within twenty-five feet from the exterior line of said parks and parkways from Perkins street to and including Franklin Park; provided that steps, windows, porticos and other usual projections appurtenant to the front wall of a building are to be allowed in this reserved space of twenty and twenty-five feet respectively, subject to the following limitations, viz.: First, that no projections of any kind (other than doorsteps and balustrades connected therewith, and also cornices and roof of the building) shall extend more than five feet from the rear line of the aforesaid space, provided, however, that outside the building limits piazzas projecting not more than ten feet shall be permitted within the reserve space from the Fens to Franklin Park; second, that no projections in the nature of a baywindow, corner-bay, circular front, or octagon front, with the foundation wall sustaining the same (such foundation wall being a projection of the front wall), will be allowed (excepting oriel windows above the first story on a street corner), unless any horizontal sections of such projections would fall within the external lines of trapezoids, the sum of whose bases upon the rear line of the aforesaid space does not exceed seven tenths of the whole front of the building, and the base of any one of which trapezoids does not exceed eighteen feet, and whose side lines make an angle of fort-five degress with the base; and each house in a block shall be considered a separate building within the meaning of this limitation.

Sect. 6. No building shall be erected or placed upon premises within twenty feet from the exterior line of parks and parkways, on the Dorchesterway and Strandway; provided that steps, windows, porticos and other usual projections appurtenant to the front wall of a building are to be allowed in this reserved space of twenty feet, subject to the following limitations, viz.: First, that no projections of any knd (other than doorsteps and balustrades connected therewith, and also piazzas projecting not more than eight feet) shall extend more than five feet from the rear line of the aforesaid space; second, that no projections in the nature of a bay window, corner-bay, circular front, or octagon front, with the foundation wall sustaining the same (such foundation wall being a projection of the front wall), will be allowed (excepting oriel windows above the first story on a street corner), unless any horizontal sections of such projections would fall within the external lines of trapezoids, the sum of whose bases upon the rear line of the aforesaid space does not exceed seven tenths of the whole front of the building, and the base of any one of which trapezoids does not exceed eighteen feet, and whose side lines make an angle of fotry-five degrees with the base; and each house in a block shall be considered a separate building within the meaning of this limitation.

Sect. 7. This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage.

Report accepted; ordinance passed.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

Institutions Department.

Upon October 9 the Mayor approved a contract for the service of the steamer "Neptune" in Boston Harbor. A communication from Dr. David J. Johnson, Commissioner, Institutions Department, was as follows:

Boston, October 7, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I respectfully ask permission to enter into a contract without advertising for the use of the steamer "Neptune" in the waters of Boston Harbor for a period of one month, more or less, at the rate of $50 per day (six days a week), during such time as the said steamer is used by this department.

The reason for making this contract without advertising is that the "Neptune" is the only available boat to be had for a reasonable compensation to take the place of the steamer "Monitor" which has been condemned by the United States inspectors.

Very truly yours,

David J. Johnson,
Commissioner.

Public Works Department.

Upon October 7 the Mayor approved a contract with the Petroleum Heat and Power Company for installing oil burning equipment at the Calf Pasture pumping station. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, October 6, 1922.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested for the award of a contract, without advertising, for the installation of oil-burning equipment, to be installed in connection with three new 350 horse power Geary water tube boilers, at the Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, to the Petroleum Heat and Power Company, 100 Boylston street, Boston, for the sum of $18,557.

Tenders were received from two other concerns, upon request, of substantially lower figures, one of which was for practically the same equipment as that recommended with the exception of another type of oil burner at $1,057 less than the Petroleum Heat and Power Company's amount.

One distinct advantage of awarding this contract to the Petroleum Heat and Power Company is that they are large distributors of fuel oil from their Chelsea storage tanks, and undoubtedly they would be more directly interested in providing at all times and under all circumstances a supply of fuel oil at the pumping station, with their equipment installed, than any other concern to this contract might be awarded and which was not so directly in control of a supply.

Yours respectfully,

Joseph A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Transit Department.

Upon October 6 the Mayor approved a contract with Hedge & Mattheis Company for one N. C. concrete mixer. A communication from Chairman Thomas F. Sullivan of the Transit Department was as follows:

Boston, October 3, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Transit Department respectfully requests your permission to award a contract, without advertising, to Hedge & Mattheis Company for one N. C. concrete mixer, at a price of $2,150.

This mixer is in stock in Boston and available for immediate delivery, and is similar to one purchased last May, after public advertisement.

It is necessary to secure this mixer immediately in order to replace a worn-out machine of another make.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. Sullivan, Chairman.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

Park Department.

An addition, in the estimated cost of $1,700, on contract with Warren Brothers Company for raising edgestones, constructing macadam walks to new grades, relaying gutters in the Fens, also excavating present roadway in the Riverway where directed, and use of excavated material for foundation where road is to be raised.

Original contract, $13, 243; total additions, $87.39; contract as standing, $13,330.39.

MAYOR CURLEY DEPLORES PORT BUSINESS LOSS.

Mayor Curley bitterly scored the inaction of the Bay State's representation in the administration at Washington for so neglecting the interests of the state and Boston as to permit the threatened discontinuance of the Cunard Line passenger service from this city. The Mayor said:

"The announcement that the Cunard Line may discontinue Boston passenger service and transfer it to Philadelphia, while a severe shock, is nevertheless what must be expected, provided the present unfair system of differentials which for the past twenty years has been slowly strangling the commercial life of New England is to continue to exist.

"The outrageous feature of the entire case is that no steps had been taken by any agency to end the destructive system of differentials until March of the present year, despite the fact that it has been within the power of the Republican majority in control of all branches during the last twenty years, with the exception of four years, to have secured the same measure of justice that is enjoyed by the remainder of the United States, with the exception of New York. The impotency of Senator Lodge as a dominant factor at Washington for the good of New England and his blind disregard for the commercial and industrial future must be apparent to every one when we realize that a flat rate today is obtaining at all points west of Chicago.

"It is true that New York is subject to the same prohibitory differential as New England, but it must be remembered that New York is the terminus for most of the great trunk lines of the country, while New England is simply the fag-end that receives only the crumbs which, while they prevent absolute bankruptcy for our railroads, keep us permanently on the ragged edge. The real question at issue to my mind is to definitely determine whether New England is a part of the Union or not. And if we are a part of the Union it is time that the present politically powerful though impotent aggregation representing Massachusetts at Washington assert itself for the welfare of New England or by an indignant and intelligent electorate be retired permanently to private life."

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

In a general order issued by Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn and Chief John O. Taber upon the 11th instant, two promotions and the transfer of seven officers, six engineers and twenty privates were announced.

The changing of seven of these privates and one officer is due to the disbanding of Chemical 5, Washington street, Grove Hall. Two of the officers in the list are promoted, Charles A. Fernald, to the rank of captain, and James C. Taylor, to lieutenant.

These promotions are made necessary by the death of Capt. William C. Swan, who was killed under the wheels of Ladder 15 two weeks ago.

The vacant command of Ladder 15, Boylston and Hereford streets, Back Bay, rated as one of the most important companies in the department, will be taken over by Captain Fernald, who has been second in command of Engine 41, Brighton, for a number of years. Lieutenant Taylor will be one of the extra lieutenants doing duty with Engine 22 and Ladder 13, Warren avenue, South End.

Among the changes ordered is the return of Capt. Fred I. Adams to Engine 20, Neponset, from Engine 12, Dudley street and Blue Hill avenue, where he has been for several months.

Capt. William F. Quigley, who has been in command of Engine 4, Bulfinch street, for a number of years, will move to Engine 12, which will bring him nearer home. Capt. Louis C. Stickel, one of the youngest officers in the department, will come in from Neponset to Bulfinch street, as he requested duty in the downtown district.

Lieut. Daniel W. Baker, who for years has done duty with Ladder 8, Fort Hill square, and who for a number of months has been drillmaster and executive officer of the Fire College, has proven so capable in this position that he is permanently assigned to the headquarters staff.

Lieut. John J. McLane will go to Engine 41, Allston, from Engine 14, Roxbury, and his place will be taken by Lieut. John J. Kenney, who in turn will be succeeded on Ladder 23 by Lieut. Edward W. Fottler, who has been stationed in this house for a number of years as commander of Chemical 5.

Transfers are:

Engineer Patrick Hart, from Engine 16 to Engine 43; Engineer Aloysius A. Hart, from Engine 4 to Engine 16; Engineer William J. Foster, Jr. from Engine 43 to Engine 50; Engineer Walter D. Fitzgerald, from Engine 50 to Engine 4; Engineer Thomas F. Callahan, from Engine 9 to Engine 38–39; Engineer Frederick T. Dyer, from Engine 38–39 to Engine 9; Edward F. Trainor, from Engine 47 to Ladder 16; Martin J. Flaherty, from Engine 53 to Engine 9; John T. Lynch, from Engine 9 to Engine 47; John F. Boyle, from Engine 4 to Ladder 28; William J. Winn, from Engine 42 to Engine 22; Charles C. McNamara, from Engine 44 to Ladder 1; Cornelius J. Sullivan, from Engine 27 to Ladder 1; Louis W. Tucker, from Engine 47 to Engine 17; John J. Rowean, from Chemical 5 to Ladder 13; George F. Leary, from Chemical 5 to Ladder 23; Arthur C. Carnes, from Chemical 5 to Ladder 12; Charles A. Cardani, from Chemical 5 to Ladder 23; Daniel J. Murray, from Chemical 5 to Ladder 23; Timothy J. Keefe, from Chemical 5 to Ladder 23; Albert S. Murphy, from Chemical 5 to Engine 42; John H. White, from Ladder 28 to Engine 4; Owen T. Norton, from Ladder 23 to Engine 18; Warren P. Weymouth, from Ladder 13 to Ladder 18; John J. Hernon, from Ladder 18 to Ladder 13; George H. Hassett, from Ladder 16 to Engine 53.

The general order also names Capt. Thomas J. Muldoon of Engine 16 acting district chief of the 14th District in Dorchester.

APPEAL TO RETAIN NAVY YARD.

Mayor Curley addressed the following telegram to Senators Lodge and Walsh at Washington upon October 11th:

The experience that I have had with reference to the use of a portion of the Charlestown Navy Yard for the storage of fuel for the protection of the people of Boston during the present fuel shortage leads me to believe that the question of precedence and policy in matters of this character are a minor consideration so far as a use of a portion of the yard for the storage and distribution of fuel is concerned and convinces me that lack of immediate co-operation on the part of Washington authorities is due to the understanding that the report of the Naval Investigation Board is considered as final even before it is presented. In other words, that it is the purpose of the present federal administration to close permanently, except in time of war, the Charlestown Navy Yard. The destruction of the splendid industrial organization which has been developed at the Boston navy yard, the oldest yard in America, and the splendid service rendered by them during the World War does not justify the existence of such a policy as has unquestionably been determined upon without at least a reasonable protest by our chosen representatives at Washington.

The maintenance or the discontinuance of a federal institution is after all not a municipal proposition, rather is it a federal proposition, and for the best interests of the workers of greater Boston who have found employment at the Boston navy yard I sincerely trust that it will be possible for you to relinquish your political activities for a sufficient time to arrange a conference of the Massachusetts representatives in Congress and at least impress on the officials at Washington that it is the wish of the Massachusetts representation in Congress that the oldest navy yard in America be permitted to continue to function, not only for the good of the workers of greater Boston, but for the good of America, which in every crisis it has so admirably served.

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

Dr. David J. Johnson of the Institutions Department will attend the American Prison Congress at Detroit, Mich., October 12–October 18, inclusive.

Deputy Commissioner Dennis D. Driscoll will serve as Acting Commissioner during Dr. Johnson's absence.

SEEKS FUNDS TO FIGHT DIFFERENTIALS.

Mayor Curley sent the following communication to the City Council:

The industrial future of New England and the happiness of the people is dependent in a large measure upon the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the matter of differentials. The Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce in March of the present year filed its petition for a hearing upon the proposition to secure for New England and New York the same measure of equity in the matter of freight rates for all ports on the Atlantic Coast.

In answer to the petition the Interstate Commerce Commission have held hearings in Boston during the past week before a referee and final hearings will be held in November at Washington. At the present time a flat rate obtains along the entire Pacific Coast west of Chicago, while a favored rate obtains for all maritime cities on the Atlantic Coast with the exception of New England and New York.

New York being the terminus for many of the railroad trunk lines, because of its position, has not been seriously affected by the discriminatory system of differentials in operation during the past twenty years. The effect on New England, however, has been disastrous owing to the fact that it is impossible for foreign shipping to secure ballast cargo, with the result that our export trade has practically been destroyed and we have become largely a port of call.

The justice of our claim for equity in the matter of rates is such that properly presented no fairminded jury can decide our case adversely. The appended communication from the Maritime Association of the Chamber of Commerce contains a request for financial aid which the importance of the case justifies favorable action upon and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order:

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500) be transferred from the Reserve Fund to be expended by the Maritime Association of the Chamber of Commerce upon the New England port differential case now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

ABATEMENT OF ASSESSMENTS.

The Board of Street Commissioners announce in the matter of William Worthington heirs, petitioners for abatements of assessments of $60 and $60, listed October 4, 1922, for a sewer laid in Savin Hill avenue, Dorchester, and completed January 14, 1892, deem it just and proper that abatements should be made from said assessments, acting under chapter 359 of the Acts of the year 1896, and accordingly—

Voted, That from so much of said assessments of $60 and $60 to said estate as remain unpaid at this date the sums of $36.36 and $36.36 be and the same hereby are abated.

COLLECTING DEPARTMENT BREAKS RECORDS.

The following communication has been received by his Honor from City Collector William M. McMorrow:

Boston, October 6, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—I wish to report to you that, owing to the fact that we have had the use of the postage meter machine for the mailing of bills, and because the men of the department worked with me several evenings, all real estate and personal property bills were delivered to the postal authorities by October 4. All records were broken. I understand that last year the final batch of bills was not delivered to the mails until October 14. Therefore, this year the bills were out ten days earlier than last year (the tax rate having been declared the same date, September 20).

The early delivery of the bills has resulted in payment of taxes much more rapidly than last year. During the first four days of October, 1921, there had been paid $243,789.93 on 1921 taxes. During the same four-day period this year we have collected $393,437.15, a net increase of $149,647.22.

I desire to state also that the policy of the department in the ward collections will be changed, so that payments may be made at outside stations, a list of which is now being prepared, during the week of the 16th of October, from nine until two o'clock each day. I believe that outside stations opened during the regular business hours, 9 to 2, for a full week, will be a greater facility to the taxpaying public than the practice heretofore of having the outside stations opened two or three afternoons a week for a period of only two hours.

Respectfully yours,

William M. McMorrow,
City Collector.

APPEALS TO NEW YORK IN FREIGHT DIFFERENTIALS BATTLE.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter to Governor Miller, of New York, asking that state to join New England in fighting freight discriminations:

Boston, October 7, 1922.

Hon. Nathan L. Miller, Governor of New York, Albany, N. Y.:

Your Excellency,—The interests responsible for the present discriminatory system of differentials, under which the commerce of New England and New York is singled out for destruction, have endeavored, during the hearings before the examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which have been held at Boston during the present week, to exclude a presentation of New York's claim for equity in the matter of rates.

It is imperative that immediate action be taken to compel a decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission that will provide not merely protection, but absolute justice for both New England and New York in the matter of rates.

At the present time there is a flat rate from Chicago for the entire Pacific coast and we in New England demand that the same flat rate be applied to the entire Atlantic coast.

It is imperative that New York aid in preventing a continuance of the discriminatory policy which, in the past twenty years, has tended to hamstring the commerce of New York and destroy the commerce of New England.

Respectfully,

James M. Curley,
Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 144.

A trial board consisting of Captains Walkins, Fitzgerald and Mason, having heard by reference the several complaints made by Captain Matthew J. Daley of Division 11 against Patrolmen John F. Dolan, John F. Lyons and Francis O'Reilly of Division 11, charging them with neglect of duty, in that while in uniform and on duty they entered a building not on police business and remained there for an appreciable length of time, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty with a recommendation that they be reprimanded in General Orders.

While the offence committed may seem trivial, yet the rules provide what an officer should do when he is about to leave his route. These officers failed to do this, thus leaving three routes unprotected in the immediate section. Robberies, assaults and other crimes could easily be committed in their absence; and any citizen observing such conduct might believe, and with justification, that the disciplne of the department was at low ebb if such a condition were allowed to exist.

This conduct on the part of officers will not be tolerated, but this being the first offence of this character which has come to my attention, I wlll follow the recommendation of the trial board, and it is hereby ordered that Patrolmen John F. Dolan, John F. Lyons and Francis O'Reilly of Division 11 be reprimanded in General Orders.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 145.

It is hereby ordered that Captain Charles T. Reardon of the Superintendent's Office be and hereby is relieved from the duties as designated in superintendent's order of March 2, 1921, in which he was designated as Inspector of Divisions, and that Deputy Superintendent Thomas F. Goode be and hereby is designated as Inspector of Divisions, which duties he will assume and perform as per superintendent's order of March 2, 1921.

This order to take effect October 13, 1922, at 7.45 a. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 146.

The resignation of Patrolman Frank E. Barthelmess of Division 11 having been presented while charges against him are pending, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Wednesday, October 11, 1922, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

Boston, October 11, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—In further reply to your Honor's request of July 8, that an investigation be made of the Water Service, Income Branch, the Finance Commission submits the following report:

Since 1910 the Water Department has been a division of the Public Works Department, in charge of a division engineer. The Income Branch of the Water Service is in charge of a superintendent, (see chapter 28, section 22 et seq., Revised Ordinances of 1914).

The designation "Income Branch" is misleading. Many citizens believe that all charges for water service are paid into and received by the Income Branch of the Water Service. Although all bills for water service are made up by the Income Branch of the Water Service, they are sent out by and must be paid to the City Collector. The City Collector has sole jurisdiction of the payment of water bills unless and until they are abated by the Income Branch of the Water Service. He alone can order water shut off for nonpayment of bills and his order to the Public Works Department to have water shut off for nonpayment of a water charge is mandatory on that department. Water service that is once turned off upon the order of the City Collector for nonpayment of service charges can be restored only on the collector's order, to that user.

For several years there has been great neglect in collecting water bills due the city. For some time prior to the present year the Collecting Department has not made sufficient use of the "shut-off" method of collecting for water service. Thousands of accounts now uncollected, amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars, could have been collected by making use of this method. For reasons unknown to the Finance Commission the Collecting Department has not seen fit to make adequate use of this method. Moreover, in the comparatively few cases where the City Collector has made use of this method, he has not insisted that his orders be carried out by the Public Works Department.

In the early summer of the present year the City Auditor employed Messrs. Grimes, Elliot and Clarkson, public accountants, to audit the accounts of the Water Service. They reported that on June 30, 1922, there were 13,775 unpaid water accounts due the City of Boston for the years 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921, amounting to $404,919.08, and that during these four years only 2,210 users of water had their service discontinued for nonpayment.

On June 30 of the present year there was due for water rates for the six years prior to 1918 the sum of $204,762.66, making a total for the past ten years, exclusive of the present year, of $609,681.74. Under the law no interest can be charged on overdue water accounts.

In connection with this neglect of collecting bills for water service there has grown up in the Income Branch of the Water Service a practice of accepting payment of water bills This practice began as an accommodation to water users who had their water shut off and who came after the collector's office had closed at two o'clock to pay their bills.

The money thus paid was later turned over to the collector, who acquiesced in the practice. The next step in this practice by the Income Branch was to accept from water users a partial payment on account, retaining this partial payment until the balance was paid, months later, and then turn the whole amount over to the collector, who was unaware that the amount of the bill had been received in installments, contrary to a custom of the Collecting Department that water bills must be paid in one amount.

A further development of this practice of the Income Branch of illegally receiving money for water service consisted in receiving "lump sums" of money from water users who questioned the amount of the bill or the city's right to render them any bill. These lump sums were held pending a decision by the superintendent of the Income Branch. Meanwhile, the user was not disturbed in his use of water.

The final step in this development was for the Income Branch to accept post-dated checks, extending many months into the future, for water bills one or more years old.

The accountants reported sums aggregating $4,330.88 in the possession of the Income Branch, representing moneys collected from water users without any authority and unknown to the Collecting Department. Of this sum, $1,775.54 represented post-dated checks from one large property owner, divided into monthly payments from July to December, 1922. This user testified before the commission that if the use of water had been denied him he would have paid his bill; that giving the post-dated checks to the Income Branch was for his own convenience, and that this water was used in apartment houses from which the owner was deriving a monthly income.

Under the ordinance the Commissioner of Public Works is given the sole power to make abatements of charges for water when improperly assessed. This power has been delegated to the superintendent of the Income Branch, who has permitted nearly every clerk in the department to abate water charges by using any one of the many rubber stamps used for that purpose and bearing the facsimile signature of the superintendent.

The accountants reported that during the fiscal year ending January 31, 1922, the total abatements of water charges were in excess of $40,000. They examined 750 abatements, aggregating $12,145.70. Of this number 107 had no reason assigned for the abatement. The most common reasons assigned were "winter waste," "vacant," "errors in assessments," or "over charge," but in many cases with no supporting evidence.

The superintendent of the Income Branch of the Water Service is also vested with the power of waiving the charge of twenty-five cents for summons or notice to water users who are in arrears. The abatement of this charge is also left to the clerks in the department, with little or no restriction. A rubber stamp with the superintendent's facsimile signature is available to any clerk in the department who desires to use it.

The income from the Water Service is applied to the cost of maintaining the department, meeting the annual water debt requirements, and paying the assessment of the Metropolitan Water Board. There should be a substantial surplus every year, which under the law must be applied to the general debt requirements of the city. The prompt collection, therefore, of the water charges means a lower tax rate.

About 70 per cent of the water now used in the city is metered. Bills for the metered service are sent out quarterly, not in advance. Thus the city is extending credit all the time to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars. A transfer of property while this credit is outstanding usually results in a loss to the city, for the reason that the transfer of the property defeats the "shut-off" method of collection. Water service may not be denied the new owner, because his predecessor in ownership failed to pay for his water.

Recently it was found that there existed 4,000 instances where the city suffered a loss varying from one to one hundred dollars because of the transfer of property by users of water who had not paid their bills. A lien upon the real estate for these water charges would have avoided this loss to the city and would make certain the payment of all water rates.

In February, 1921, the Finance Commission investigated the matter of unpaid water bills. The conclusion then reached and strengthened by the present investigation is that charges for water service should be made by law a lien upon the real estate served. Following the investigation of 1921, the Finance Commission filed a bill in the Legislature to accomplish that purpose, but it failed to become a law.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That the Income Branch of the Water Service be conducted within the powers given it under the ordinances.
2. That the Collecting Department arrange for the receipt of water charges each business day until five o'clock p. m., instead of two o'clock p. m., as at present.
3. That the Collecting Department made adequate use of its power of denying the use of water to those whose water bills are not paid.
4. That the Public Works Department be instructed to shut off the water service promptly from all users reported by the City Collector for nonpayment.
5. That the recommendations of the public accountants employed by the Auditing Department and made in their report of August 2, 1922, be put into effect.
6. That your Honor take steps to secure legislation for making water charges a lien upon real estate served.

Respectfully submitted,

Michael H. Sullivan,
Chairman,
Courtenay Guild,
John F. Moors,
J. Waldo Pond,
The Finance Commission.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS.

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel states the Law Department has this day disapproved thirteen claims against the city; in ten of which no amounts were specified, and the other three aggregated $113.24, and are classified as follows:

Against the Collecting Department, one, amounting to $9.49; against the Fire Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Hospital Department, three, in two of which no amounts were specified, and the other one amounted to $8; against the Police Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Public Works Department, five, in four of which no amounts were specified, and the other one amounted to $95.75; against the Schoolhouse Department, two, in which no amounts were specified.

All these claims have been disapproved for the reason that there appeared to be no legal liability on the part of the city.

THE NECESSITY OF FUEL.

Mayor Curley addressed the following telegram relative to the fuel situation to Congressman Peter F. Tague, upon the 10th instant:

Boston, October 10, 1922.

Hon. Peter F. Tague, M. C.,
Washington, D. C.:

Dear Congressman,—Telegram received informing me that approval of Interstate Commerce Commission and the Federal Fuel Administrator is necessary to secure permit for unloading of fuel at the Charlestown Navy Yard. In view of the assignment of naval vessels for the preservation of peace in Turkey and the conversion of federal property for the benefit of humanity in every portion of the world in a crisis, I beg you will direct the attention of the leaders of the Republican party from Massachusetts in Washington to the necessity for the immediate slashing of red tape so that the Christian population of Massachusetts may receive equal consideration with the Mohammedan population of Turkey as there is little difference between freezing to death in Massachusetts and being executed in Turkey. If anything, the latter is preferable as the death is more speedy.

Boston wants the right to use the facilities of the Charlestown Navy Yard and wants them now because they are necessary if the people are to be saved from freezing this winter, a condition for which the Republican party in Washington are responsible and not the innocent sufferers in Massachusetts.

Trusting you will confer with the Secretary of the Navy and distinguished leaders of the dominant party in Massachusetts at once in order that the needs of the people may be given other than absent treatment, I remain,

Respectfully yours,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works for construction work as follows:

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe in Lorna road, between Tiverton road and a point 613 feet southwesterly, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $5,000.

A surface drain of 10-inch earthen pipe and seven catch-basins in Beryl street, between Cornell street and a point 110 feet southeast of Newburg street; a surface drain of 20-inch earthen pipe in Brook street, between Orange and Beryl streets, and a surface drain of 15-inch earthen pipe in private land, from a point in Beryl street about 215 feet north of Brook street to a point 145 feet easterly, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $7,832.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

Messrs. Hitchings & Co. have been granted an extension of time until December 15, 1921, for completion of their contract for the construction of a range of greenhouses at Franklin Park, Dorchester.

An extension of time has been granted for the completion of the contract made with Gore, Inc., for granite block pavement in D street, from Fargo street to Claflin street, South Boston, until October 31, 1922.

An extension of time has been granted for the completion of the contract made with the C. & R. Construction Company for planking West Fourth Street Bridge, South Boston, from September 14, 1922, to October 5, 1922. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor was delayed by the railroad company putting in stringers and painting the bridge, which work was done before the contractor could start his contract.

The Warren Brothers Company have been granted an extension of time until November 15, 1922, for completion of contract for pavement in Fens and Riverway roads.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with John T. Shea, Jr., for recutting and relaying granite block pavement in Berkeley street, from Providence street across Columbus avenue, city proper, from October 1, 1922, to November 1, 1922. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor was delayed by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company in laying conduit.

COAL SHIPMENTS FOR BOSTON.

The following telegram was received Friday, from the Federal Fuel Administrator:

Washington, D. C.

Frank I. Rock, Superintendent of Supplies, City of Boston, Mass.:

Plan of handling coal for City of Boston through Charlestown Navy Yard as outlined in your telegram eleventh instant has my full approval. Assume this is satisfactory to State Fuel Distributor.

LAND-TAKING IN BACK BAY.

At a meeting of the Schoolhouse Commissioners held October 10, and in compliance with chapter 473 of the Acts of 1901, it was voted to take, for the purpose of erecting thereon a girls' high school, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Martin District, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on Worthington street 260 feet from the corner of Longwood avenue and Worthington street, thence northwesterly by land of College of Pharmacy 304 feet to land of the City of Boston; thence turning and running northeasterly by land of said city 383 feet to land of Simmons College, the center line of Board of Survey street No. 219; thence turning and running southeasterly by land of Simmons College 321 feet to line of Worthington street; thence turning and running southwesterly by line of Worthington street to the point of beginning, and contains 109,705 square feet of land.

The property is taken by eminent domain and the Mayor has formally approved the order.

FIRE PREVENTION.

BY FIRE COMMISSIONER THEODORE A. GLYNN OF BOSTON.

BROADCASTED BY RADIO — COURTESY SHEPARD STORES. OCTOBER 9, 1922.

The standards, efficiency and morale of the fire department has always been a matter of pride to the inhabitants of American cities and towns. This high esteem in the development of a department which represents the first line of defence in a community is defined throughout the country as "civic pride." But civic pride is not confined alone to the efficiency of any body of city employees, or any particular achievement of a community, but includes the interest the citizens take in the welfare of their cities and towns. Today wastefulness is the most grievous sin of the American citizen, and this fault is most strongly emphasized in the fire loss of the country.

In 1921 in the United States $485,000,000 worth of property was consumed by fire. This amounts to within a few dollars of $1,000 per minute. No foreign country approaches this by one-sixth. These figures represent only the actual property loss. They do not include the cost of maintaining fire departments, loss due to suspension of business, the cost of replacement, the hopes, ambitions and fortunes of thousands of individuals which have been reduced to ashes. The burden of this loss does not, as many people believe, fall on the insurance companies, but it must be borne by every individual who pays a fire insurance premium. If the fire losses of America can be substantially and consistently reduced the citizens can expect and demand a material reduction in the cost of fire insurance.

Massachusetts contributed $12,000,000 as her share of the fire loss for 1921. In the City of Boston the loss amounted to $4,010,201. This amount, with a population of 822,000 persons, shows a per capita loss for the year of $4.88 for every resident of Boston. A comparison of the per capita loss with the premiums paid by individual policy holders will bear evidence to the fact that the policy holder is bearing the burden and not the insurance companies.

Even more than the money values mentioned consideration must be given to the gruesome fact that during the year just passed the fire fiend collected a toll of 15,000 human lives. No comment is necessary on the wake of sadness, sorrow and despondency left by fire when, without a moment's warning, it snatches its innocent victims from homes of happiness and prosperity. There are many flourishing communities in New England with a population far less than fifteen thousand people. What would be said if one of the mill or residential cities of New England should be destroyed by fire, and every citizen up to fifteen thousand was lost in the flames. What do we hear after a disaster at sea or a massacre in the east. From out of the length and breadth of the country comes the cry "Stop it." Then comes the question "How shall it be stopped?" Fire department officials and insurance engineers for years have been trying to stop this devastation and slaughter for years, but the chief factors, the people themselves, must awaken to a realization of the importance of their part in the effort.

President Harding, Governor Cox of Massachusetts and Mayor Curley of Boston have issued forceful proclamations calling the attention of the citizens to the waste of fire and that Fire Prevention Week has come around again. These proclamations emphasize the fact that eighty per cent of all fires are due to carelessness. The national government, states and cities are spending great sums in preventing the spread of disease and crime. The wonderful results obtained from these expenditures have proven the wisdom of this action. But, in addition to the expenditure of money, they have the earnest co-operation of the citizens.

Today much money is spent by cities for fire protection and prevention. Boston is making great strides to furnish its fire department with the best fire fighting equipment in the country. A modern high pressure water system has been installed at great cost and is in operation. Schools are conducted to educate the members of the fire department in their profession. Drills are held at frequent intervals in all the fire stations and at fire headquarters to keep the men in the best possible condition to meet any emergency that might arise. Fire officials from various corners of the globe are sent to Boston to study the standards, the equipment and the methods of her fire fighting force. These officials have left Boston expressing the greatest praise for the efficiency, morale and apparatus of the Boston Fire Department. But Boston needs more than its equipment and methods. This great investment of time, money and energy can result most beneficially if the Fire Department is assured of the co-operation of her citizens.

Every day firemen inspect buildings of all kinds to discover and call to the attention of responsible parties conditions liable to cause fire. A regular corps of men is doing this work from one end of the year to the other. During the past week the regular inspection force has been augmented by approximately one hundred firemen who have given their attention to the condition of cellars, yards, stairways, roofs, etc., of dwellings, apartment houses, stores and mercantile buildings. Approximately 72,000 inspections have been made during the past week. Fire drills have been held in the schools, and talks given to the school children on causes of fire, and how to prevent fire.

Notwithstanding all the inspections and the publicity that has been given to the subject, success cannot be achieved without the earnest and hearty co-operation of every man, woman and child. By the careful observation of the following rules and suggestions, much good will result, the community will be a better and cleaner place in which to live, and the waste from fire will be materially reduced.

1. Do not allow combustible rubbish or waste material to accumulate in yards, cellars, attics, stairways, closets, etc.
2. Never put hot ashes in wooden barrels.
3. Keep matches in metal containers, and always out of reach of children.
4. Do not hang clothes over a stove or stove pipe.
5. Never enter a clothes closet with a lighted match, candle or lamp.
6. Carefully extinguish cigar or cigarette stubs before or when you throw them away.
7. Do not use gasolene, naphtha or benzine in a room with an open flame, such as a gas light or a fire stove. The vapors may cause an explosion.
8. Never use kerosene to start or increase a fire.
9. Never leave a kerosene lamp or stove burning when you leave the house or go to bed.
10. It is against the law to leave articles on a fire escape, stairway, or any means of egress. Do not do it.
11. Never look for a gas leak with a lighted match. If you discover that gas is leaking notify the gas company immediately.
12. Learn the location of the fire alarm box nearest your home and place of business, and learn the manner of sending in an alarm of fire.
13. Familiarize yourself with the method of operating hand fire extinguishers.
14. The statutes of Massachusetts give to fire apparatus the right of way over all vehicles. When driving on the road be careful to observe this law.
15. When any conditions liable to cause fire come to your notice report them to Fire Headquarters or the nearest fire station.

These rules are not for Fire Prevention week alone, nor for any particular season of the year. They are all-the-year-around rules. They are rules for every minute of the day. Eternal vigilance is the price of safety. Because you never had a fire is no assurance that you never will have one. A fire in your place of employment will throw you and many others out of work. Can you afford it? A fire in your home may leave you penniless. It may rob you of your loved ones and the happiness you now enjoy. Such a catastrophe, gruesome as it is, has been visited upon thousands. Do you think that such a thing might happen to you?

Keep in mind that "all fires are the same size at the start." Every disastrous fire had for its beginning an incipient blaze, surrounded by some conflagration breeder in the form of combustible or explosive material, stimulating and accelerating the devastation, resulting in the loss of millions of dollars' worth of property before the fire was controlled.

Do not forget this subject and the rules I have mentioned as soon as the week is passed. Stimulate your civic pride to a desire to reduce this terrible waste and slaughter. The efforts of fire department officials can be of no avail without your assistance. Co-operate with the public officials in this work for your own safety; for the conservation of our resources, and for the welfare of the community in which you live.

VETERANS' TAX EXEMPTION.

Mayor Curley announces that the last day in which to take advantage of the provisions of the law which gives a veteran exemption of $3 in connection with the payment of the $5 poll tax is Sunday, October 15, and as a consequence two men in the Collecting Department have been detailed to work until five o'clock Saturday, and will receive all bills tendered in payment up to that time.

TREE PLANTED FOR SHOE INDUSTRY

Mayor Curley directed a novel tree planting ceremony upon Boston Common to give honor and permanency to the name of the National Leather and Shoe Finders' Association.

The idea originated with Mayor Curley last July, when the association was holding its annual convention in this city, and he proposed in that convention that because of the large number of shoe finders attending he would cause a tree to be planted especially in honor of their president, Albert J. Ehlers of Chicago.

Consequently the shoe finders of Boston and vicinity, and many from distant places, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Chicago, came to Boston upon Tuesday, the 10th instant, expressly for the purpose of attending the tree planting on Boston Common. They assembled early in the afternoon at the New England Shoe and Leather Association headquarters on Essex street, where Major Charles T. Cahill accepted their commission of grand marshal, and escorted them to City Hall to meet Mayor Curley. There were about seventy men and women in the party, the women assembling at City Hall so as to avoid the march from Essex street in the drizzling rain.

Having shaken hands with every delegate the Mayor called for automobiles to take the ladies to the Common, and then he led the way to the Oliver Wendell Holmes Mall on the Common, where a European linden was waiting to be set into a permanent position on the Mall in honor of the shoe finding industry, and it will bear the distinction of being the first tree planted in Boston for such a purpose. James B. Shea, chairman of the Park Commission, was there to assist.

In connection with the ceremonies Mayor Curley made an address. President Albert J. Ehlers of Chicago responded, and Frank W. Whitcher, who was chairman of the Boston committee which made arrangements for the large convention last July, read an original poem bearing on the transition of Boston Common from a cow pasture to a public park that now adds to its treasures a monument in honor of the shoe finding industry. President Ehlers threw into the bowl the dirt that will make the linden grow, and Mayor Curley added his contribution.

It was an unpleasant day for the visitors, on account of the rain in which they had been marching and in which they had to stand during the ceremonies; but it was an ideal day for the tree, and it is predicted that the European linden will stand there for countless ages to bear testimony to the shoe finding industry.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Commissioner of the Health Department, will attend the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, to be held in Cleveland, October 14–20, inclusive.

Prof. James O. Jordan of the department will attend the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, to be held in Cleveland, October 14–20, inclusive.

NAMES ZONING DIRECTOR.

Arthur C. Comey, secretary of the Boston Society of Landscape Architects, has been named zoning director of the City Planning Board. Mr. Comey will have under him a corps of investigators, draughtsmen and engineers and will work with the City Planning Board which plans, with Mayor Curley's approval, to select from the large advisory committee recently called together by the Mayor, a small but well-qualified group, to coöperate with committees recently appointed by the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange and the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

SEEKS BIG PARKING SPACE.

Mayor Curley has recommended, in a letter to Frederick H. Fay, chairman of the City Planning Board, that the car storage space between Huntington avenue and Boylston street, Massachusetts avenue and Exeter street, be arcaded as a means of solving the problem of parking automobiles.

His letter is as follows:

"Perhaps one of the most important problems to be solved in connection with traffic conditions in Boston is that of automobile parking, and I am desirous that you confer at once with the Street Commissioners and with the officials of the Boston & Albany Railroad with a view to the arcading of the car storage space between Huntington avenue and Boylston street, Massachusetts avenue and Exeter street. Provided satisfactory arrangements can be made, it would be possible to at least make more attractive this area, at present so unsightly, and in addition, with the completion of Stuart street, create a convenient and adequate parking space that would relieve the city streets downtown.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

Foreman Caster, Boston Printing Department, October 20, 1922.

The salary is $2,500 per year. The foreman caster man of the monotype typesetting plant is responsible for the mechanical working condition of the monotype casting machine and keyboard, and is also responsible for the product of both machines. The caster man need not necessarily be a keyboard operator but should thoroughly understand the mechanism of that machine as well as that of the casting machine. He should also have a knowledge of the quality of metal used in making type, as any deviation from the standard formula of tin, antimony and lead would result in much trouble and produce inferior type. His duties also include the interior management of the casting room and the practical and efficient handling of all work which comes to him to be cast. He should also be able to make all adjustments and repairs on both keyboard and casting machines.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 1; special questions on the duties of the position, 1; total, 2.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 139.

Patrolman James W. Kelley of Division 2 having arrived at the age of sixty-five and four-twelfths years and having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-seven and nine-twelfths years, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Patrolman James W. Kelley be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of nine hundred (900) dollars per annum, said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired; to take effect Friday, October 6, 1922, at 5.45 o'clock p. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 141.

My attention has been called to the meritorious service which has been recently performed by Patrolman John P. Cavanagh of Division 9, who apprehended a dangerous criminal at the risk of his own life. This man had just previously shot and killed a respected citizen of Dorchester and was in a fair way to make his escape for the time being at least, had it not been for the courage displayed by Patrolman Cavanagh, who upon learning from the chauffeur of the car in which the criminal was riding that his passenger had a gun, overpowered and arrested him.

It is very gratifying to know that we have men in the Police Department, who when such emergencies arise, respond in such a prompt and courageous manner, and I desire to commend Patrolman Cavanagh for his action in making this important arrest.

I also wish to give full credit to Patrolmen James H. Mitchell of Division 9 and Lester M. Brackley of Division 15 for such assistance as they rendered in making this arrest.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 142.

The resignation of Patrolman Edward A. Mayhew of Division 7 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Monday, October 9, 1922.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

PAN AMERICANS PLEASED.

The Pan American Union, in a letter signed by its director general, L. S. Rowe, thanks Mayor Curley for the co-operation shown by the City of Boston and especially by the Public Celebration Association, in giving a Latin-American character to the Columbus Day exercises to be held on the Common. The union mentions in particular the number on the program that comprises a concert of Latin-American composers.

MORTUARY REPORT.

For the week ending October 7, 1922:

Population estimated, July, 832,678.

Number of deaths (stillbirths excluded): Residents, 166; nonresidents, 42; total, 208.

Death rate per 1,000 of population: All deaths, 14.20; nonresidents deducted, 11.34.

Death rate per 1,000 of population: Last week, 13.58; corresponding week last year, 11.66.

Deaths by age periods, sex, etc.: Under one year, 30; one year to five years, inclusive, 15; sixty years and over, 63; total deaths, male, 112; female, 96; deaths in hospitals and institutions, 117; deaths of colored, 6.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 70.

Soft Coal and Fuel Hazard.

On account of the serious shortage of hard coal occasioned by conditions at the mines and transportation facilities it may be necessary to use a large amount of soal coal for domestic purposes. His Honor Mayor James M. Curley and Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn, having well in mind the need for extreme care in the storage of soft coal, request that the suggestions issued by the National Fire Protection Association be followed with a view to safeguarding life and property in the City of Boston.

In addition, certain precautions relative to smoke pipes, vent pipes and chimneys are published herewith, and should be strictly observed for the prevention of fire.

I. Storage of Soft Coal.

Fire Hazards Which Should be Carefully Watched by Property Owners.

Large quantities of soft coal are being stored by mercantile establishments and industries because of the fear of a fuel shortage during the winter. The danger of spontaneous combustion in this causes a serious fire hazard, and unusual care should be exercised by the owners of such properties. The hazard can be reduced by proper selection of the grades and sizes of soft coal, and the exercise of proper precautions in its handling and storage.

Where large quantities of soft coal are stored in the open it should be in separate piles, so that a fire starting will not spread through the entire supply, and the affected pile can be extinguished or moved. Where the coal is stored in basements the Fuel Administration suggests the following precautions:

1. Never place coal near a hot pipe, against a hot furnace or any other hot surface.
2. Do not mix ashes with the coal, as there may be live coals in the ashes.
3. If coal must be wet down, wet only the portion that is to be used immediately.
4. It is very important that pieces of waste, oily rags, sticks, paper and other rubbish should not be mixed, or allowed to come in contact with the coal.
5. Special attention should be paid to the proper cleaning of flues and chimneys regularly.

II. Fire Hazards of the Fuel Shortage.

Many new fire hazards are being introduced by the fuel shortage. Much soft coal is being stored in the basements of dwellings, apartment houses and mercantile buildings and on the premises of factories. Spontaneous combustion in this is likely to start fires, and great care should be shown in the selection of coal and in its storage and use.

The East will not receive its usual amount of anthracite this year, and soft coal must be used in stoves and furnaces constructed for other fuel. The large amount of soot deposited by soft coal is apt to clog the smoke pipes and chimneys and cause forcing of the furnaces, while the fumes and gases from soft coal will have a deteriorating effect upon the mortar in chimneys and thus lead to defective flue fires.

A number of householders are investigating the possibility of using fuel oil and kerosene burners in their furnaces, because of the difficulty in securing hard coal and their unwillingness to use soft coal because of the dirt and soot. This also will introduce serious fire hazards, because of the storage of oil on the premises, and the danger of feed pipes bursting and starting fires. No such appliance should be considered without ascertaining whether it complies with the underwriters' requirements.

Fire hazards which endanger the homes should be watched with special care, as the mothers and children run the greatest risk. All heating appliances should be installed and operated with constant attention to the unusual risks due to the changes in fuel, as well as to their ordinary dangers. Careful inspection should be made of all stoves, furnaces and flues before using them in the fall.

III. Inspect Smoke and Furnace Pipes.

Eternal Vigilance is Needed to Safeguard These Important Danger Points.

In the fall and early winter special attention should be paid to stove pipes, furnace pipes, smoke vents and flues. Where these are of metal they frequently rust, come apart or deteriorate during the summer, and when fires are started up in the fall, or they are put to a severe test during the first very cold weather, a blaze is likely to result. Now that fire prevention and safety first have become national slogans, the importance of careful supervision of heating apparatus and flues should be recognized by every good citizen, and a thorough inspection should always precede the first use of heating apparatus.

There is special need of unusually careful attention to flues, smoke-pipes and heating apparatus generally this season, because of the abnormal fuel conditions. Millions of householders will be compelled to use soft coal who have heretofore used hard coal, and the change will necessarily introduce many serious fire hazards, unless great care is taken to see that flues and smoke-pipes are kept clear and that proper safeguards are provided for the other dangers which will develop.

Fires due to faulty furnace pipes and smoke pipes have been unusually numerous this season, especially where there was dampness. Where the surface was already corroded by the heat and fumes, the dampness soon rusted the metal so that a pipe which looked all right on the outside would collapse with the slightest strain. The danger of such pipes in basements, often near wooden partitions and ceilings, is evident, but only an inspection would reveal the interior weakness.

These warnings should be especially emphatic as to dwellings, for basement fires are apt to get under dangerous headway before they are discovered, and when they occur at night life as well as property is endangered. Special attention should also be paid to furnace pipes and smoke vents in churches and schools, because of the large numbers of people whose lives are at risk. School boards and church trustees, working on the theory of personal responsibility for preventable fires, should pay special attention to these danger points, and if necessary, the metal smoke pipes leading from the furnace to the chimney should be replaced each year to insure safety. An ounce of fire prevention is worth a pound of fire extinguishment.

IV. How to Remove Soot.

Large numbers of shingle roof and defective flue fires are being reported, due to the increasing use of soft coal. The accumulations of soot on heating surfaces reduce the value of the fuel, and frequently clog the flues and start fires. The Federal Fuel Administration Board suggests the following plan for removal of soot:

> The fire is put into good condition with a substantial body of hot fuel. Common salt, thoroughly dr'ed, is then thrown or sprinkled onto the incandescent fuel bed in a quantity depending entirely on the size of the furnace. In the case of a house heating furnace, one pound at a time is ample, in the case of a large power plant boiler. four or five scoops full may be required. The dampers are kept open so as to maintain the furnace temperature and the salt is allowed to remain until the fumes have entirely disappeared.
>
> Immediately upon charging the salt, the furnace becomes filled with dense white fumes wh'ch may require as much as half an hour to entirely disappear. If results are not secured on the first application, it should be repeated as many times as necessary.
>
> Once the heating surface is thoroughly cleaned a small application every few days is usually suffic'ent to keep it so.
>
> Everyone using soft coal is urged by the administration to use this remarkably simple and cheap process for getting rid of the soot, cleaning and heating surfaces of boilers, thus saving large amounts of coal, preventing fires from chimneys and generally conserving all along the line heating and the production of power.

V. Conclusion.

It seems wise and proper to point out all these dangers, but, at the same time, it should be remembered that there is more soft coal used safely and successfully in houses in this country than there is hard coal used. he use of care and common sense should, and, we believe, will reduce these dangers to a minimum.

By order of the Fire Commissioner,

John O. Taber,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 75.

I. Correction.

1. The following correction in paragraph II., General Order No. 74, c.s., is hereby announced:

Lieut. James F. O'Connell, from Engine 46 to Engine 20, should read Lieut. James F. O'Connell, from Engine 46 to Ladder 27.

II. Information.

1. The attention of all members and employees of the department is directed to rule No. 346 of the Rules and Regulations of the department. This rule reads as follows:

"No information relative to the business or affairs of the department shall be furnished persons not connected therewith, except as authorized by the commissioner."

2. Infractions of this rule will not be tolerated.

III. Change of Location of Fire Alarm Boxes.

1. The following changes in fire alarm box locations have been made:

Box 5126.—From Brainerd road, opposite Marshall terrace, to Brainerd road and Gorham street.

Box 5143.—From Allston street and Summit avenue, to Corey road and Summit avenue.

Box 647.—From Condor street, near Pottery Works, to, Condor street, near Brooks street.

2. Box 647 has been taken out of circuit No. 6 and connected into circuit No. 28.

3. Company commanders will see that these changes are made in assignment, running and circuit cards.

By order of the Fire Commissioner,

John O. Taber,
Chief of Department.

MAYOR APPEALS TO ALL NEW ENGLAND IN FREIGHT DIFFERENTIALS BATTLE.

Mayor Curley has sent the following telegram to the Governors of the New England States, the Congressmen from Massachusetts and New York:

The Interstate Commerce Commission has, during this week, been holding hearings at Boston on the petition of the Maritime Association of this city to abolish the differential freight rates, whereby preference is given to the ports of Baltimore and Philadelphia over all other ports on the North Atlantic coasts on export and import freight moving between the Atlantic seaboard and the city of Chicago, and other points within the central freight association's territory. If this favoritism by way of a differential is not soon abolished, the commerce of our New England ports will be destroyed.

The cities of Baltimore and Philadelphia, and the communities along Hampton Roads, together with the railroad serving these favored ports, were well represented at these hearings, and it is a breach of no confidence to say that it was frequently remarked among their counsel that it was surprising that New England, and Massachusetts, particularly, were so helpless in a matter which might be easily adjusted by either or both the Interstate Commerce Commission and the United States Shipping Board, these being political administrative bodies peculiarly responsive to political influence. They mentioned the fact that the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and the leader of the Senate, Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Congressman Gillette, the Vice President of the country, the Hon. Calvin Coolidge, and the Secretary of War, the Hon. John W. Weeks, all Masasachusetts men, to say nothing of the other able senators and congressmen occupying ranking positions on important congressional committeees, not only from Massachusetts but from each of the other New England States, could, if they would, easily accomplish the abolishment of this differential.

The Interstate Commerce Commission likes to regard itself as a judicial tribunal when, in fact, it is a political administrative body, the same even as the United States Shipping Board. It is proper, therefore, that the governors and congressmen of New England, who are concerned about our industrial welfare and our future development, should insist that their representatives at Washington get solidly behind the petition of the Maritime Association of Boston.

James M. Curley, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN CHARLESTOWN.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for the widening and construction of Chelsea street, Charlestown district, as a highway, from Adams street to Bunker Hill street. The property is bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, bordering the northwesterly side of said Chelsea street, from Adams street to Prospect street, bounded and described as follows:

Southeast by the northwesterly line of said Chelsea street as it at present exists, eighty-nine and 72–100 feet; south by the northerly line of said Chelsea street as it at present exists, twenty-six and 17–100 feet; northwest by the northwesterly line of said Chelsea street as relocated, by three measurements, twenty-five and 94–100 feet, fifty and 90–100 feet and thirty-nine and 92–100 feet; northeast by Prospect street, eighteen and 32–100 feet; containing fifteen hundred and eighty-nine square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, bordering the northwesterly side of said Chelsea street, from Prospect street to Tremont street, bounded and described as follows:

Southeast by Prospect street, sixteen and 77–100 feet; northwest by the northwesterly line of said Chelsea street as relocated, by two measurements, sixty-two and 96–100 feet and two hundred thirty-three and 12–100 feet; northeast by Tremont street, fourteen and 80–100 feet; southeast by the northwesterly line of said Chelsea street as it at present exists, by three measurements, eighty-eight and 98–100 feet, fifty and 62–100 feet and one hundred sixty-one and 17–100 feet; containing forty-nine hundred and twenty-one square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, bordering the northwesterly side of said Chelsea street, from Tremont street to Ferrin street, bounded and described as follows:

Southeast by Tremont street, ten and 12–100 feet; northwest by the northwesterly line of said Chelsea street as relocated, by two measurements, fifty-six and 84–100 feet on a curve of two hundred twenty-six and 42–100 feet radius and twenty-one and 24–100 feet; northeast by Ferrin street, ten and 19–100 feet; southeast by the northwesterly line of said Chelsea street as it at present exists, by two measurements, two and 25–100 feet and seventy-six and 6–100 feet; containing six hundred fifty-nine square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, bordering the northwesterly side of said Chelsea street, from Ferrin street to Bunker Hill street, bounded and described as follows:

Southwest by Ferrin street, nine and 82–100 feet; northwest by the northwesterly line of said Chelsea street as relocated, forty-five and 80–100 feet; northeast by Bunker Hill street, two and 32–100 feet; east by the westerly line of said Chelsea street as it at present exists, eleven and 90–100 feet on a curved line; southeast by the northwesterly line of said Chelsea street as it at present exists, thirty-seven and 22–100 feet; containing four hundred and fifteen square feet, more or less.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement herein ordered.

Said highway is bounded and described as follows:

Southwest by another part of Chelsea street, forty-one and 35-100 feet; west by the same, twenty-five and 34-100 feet; northwest by the northwesterly line of said Chelsea street as hereby relocated, by seven measurements, ninety and 3-100 feet, twenty-five and 94-100 feet, fifty and 90-100 feet, one hundred forty-three and 6-100 feet, two hundred sixty-three and 33-100 feet, fifty-six and 84-100 feet on a curve of two hundred twenty-six and 42-100 feet radius and ninety-seven and 9-100 feet; northeast by the northeasterly line of said Chelsea street as hereby relocated, sixty feet; southeast by the southeasterly line of said Chelsea street as hereby relocated, by four measurements, one hundred thirty-three and 23-100 feet, three hundred one and 91-100 feet, one hundred forty and 36-100 feet and one hundred eighty-four and 18-100 feet.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on the northwesterly side of Chelsea street, between Adams street and Bunker Hill street, the lots of land Nos. 25, 27 and 29 Adams street, now or formerly owned by Catherine Mahan, George A. Sanderson and Elizabeth C. O'Flanagan, and the lots of land on the northeasterly side of Prospect street, Nos. 1A, 3, and 3A, now or formerly owned by Edward R. Williams and Dora Smith, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Chelsea Street, Charlestown, Assessment Plan, August 18, 1922, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

CONFER ON STREET CAR PURCHASE.

At a conference held at the office of the Mayor, at which were present the Board of Public Control of the Boston Elevated Street Railway System, officials of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway (with the counsel for both roads), the Transit Commission and the Corporation Counsel for Boston, the question of a purchase of the Hyde Park and Readville Divisions of the Eastern Massachusetts Railroad were considered.

The conference lasted nearly two hours and at the conclusion, at the suggestion of the Mayor an agreement was reached whereby the trustees of both roads would meet in conference later in the week to determine on the price at which the Eastern Massachusetts Railroad property in Hyde Park and Readville, with the exception of the rolling stock, might be purchased outright, to be operated and become the property of the Boston Elevated Street Railway system.

In the event of the purchase of the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company's property at Readville and Hyde Park a single fare should be possible between Hyde Park and Forest Hills, particularly with the development of rapid transit in Dorchester, to Mattapan square. A new loop system connecting Dudley street transfer station by way of Mattapan square with the Elevated structure at Forest Hills, via River street and Hyde Park avenue, would be possible, thus happily ending the vexing controversy which has continued for nearly four years.

BROADCAST COLUMBUS DAY FEATURES.

One of the unique and important features of the Columbus Day celebration on Thursday, October 12, was the installation of a huge voice amplifier by the Western Electric Company, at the Parkman Band Stand on Boston Common to convey the musical program and the speeches of Mayor James M. Curley and Hon. W. Bourke Cockran to every quarter of the Common.

By special arrangement with the Shepard Stores radio station (W. M. C. A.) the speeches and program will be transmitted within the radius of New England, as far north as Canada, throughout New York State, south to Baltimore, west to Michigan and five hundred miles to sea.

POLICE PARADE.

The annual parade of the Boston Police Department upon Columbus Day provided fourteen hundred policemen in line. The line was in regimental formation, with three bands, including the Traffic Band heading the three battalions. Superintendent Crowley with Captain Patrick F. King, the department drillmaster, headed the line, which was reviewed at City Hall by Mayor James M. Curley and at the State House by Governor Cox.

The parade formed at Commonwealth avenue and Dartmouth street and started at 9.50, marching to Arlington street, to Boylston to Tremont street to Temple place, Washington street to School to Beacon street to Boston Common.

Upon Boston Common Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson reviewed the regiment. Captains George C. Garland and Charles T. Reardon of headquarters served on the superintendent's staff with Lieut. Michael C. Bresnehan, Edward H. Mullen, Martin H. King, Charles B. McCloskey, Sergt. Louis E. Lutz and Patrolman Edward J. Seibolt. The first battalion was commanded by Deputy Superintendent Thomas C. Evans with Lieut. William H. Allen acting as adjutant. Deputy Superintendent Forrest H. Hall commanded the second battalion with Lieut. George Guard as adjutant, and Deputy Thomas F. Goode commanded the third battalion with Lieut. Harry P. Burns as adjutant.

The first two battalions headed by the YD and 110th Cavalry Bands comprised companies from the Jamaica Plain, East Dedham street, LaGrange street, Hyde Park, West Roxbury, Charlestown, Roxbury Crossing, Dorchester (Morton and Adams street) and East Boston stations, the Harbor police, two South Boston, City Hall avenue and Hanover street stations in that order. The traffic division headed the third battalion with two companies and following them were companies from the Back Bay, Joy street and Brighton stations and two shot gun companies. These were followed by six patrolmen carrying the Thompson machine gun, motorcycle officers, patrol wagons and light touring cars in which machine guns are mounted.

Sergt. Joseph W. Comerford, with a detail of twenty horsemen, headed the parade and another detail of mounted men brought up at the rear. The Harbor police were designated as the color company and the color guard carried the national colors with the Boston police standard. The uniform ordered was the fall uniform with double-breasted dress coats, white gloves and collars and the men were cautioned to refrain from chewing any substance and from making any reply to greetings friendly or otherwise by spectators along the line of march. All men who were decorated by the United States Government or any of the foreign powers were allowed to wear their medals.

THE FREIGHT DIFFERENTIAL.

Governor Nathan L. Miller of New York has notified Mayor Curley that he will co-operate in the campaign to eliminate discriminatory differential rates. Boston is primarily affected, since New York, by reason of the trunk lines that begin in that city, is in a position to maintain its trade despite the handicap.

PROPOSALS ADVERTISED.

Supply Department.

Advertises for proposals for furnishing to the Public Works Department, Water Service, fifteen 16-inch gate valves for the High Pressure Fire Service. Surety bond will be required in an amount equivalent to one fourth of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Superintendent of Supplies, Room 801, City Hall Annex, Boston. Bids, accompanied by a certified check in the amount of $300, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Monday, October 30, at 12 m.

Leading hose 150,949 feet and suction hose, 2,027 feet; horses, 147; 2-ton fuel wagons, 41; fire alarm boxes, 1,205. In reserve are 18 engines (8 auto) and 3 chemical engines; 18 hose wagons (7 auto); 11 ladder trucks (6 auto); 1 water tower (auto) and 9 officials' cars. Set aside to be sold are 7 horse-drawn chemicals. Total alarms in calendar year 1920, 4,485 or 938 less than in 1919, of which total 530 were needless and 110 were false alarms. Total fires, 3,728 (i. e., 625 less than in 1919), of which 2,373 were in buildings, 1,327 outside buildings and 28 out of city limits. In 10 cases the buildings were totally destroyed, in 64 the damage was considerable and in 1,456 the damage was slight.

The Boston Protective Department (not a City department) reported the total fire losses in 1920 on buildings as $1,045,050 and on contents as $1,952,766, or total of $2,997,816, which is $562,532 more than in 1919 and $175,707 more than in 1918. Of total loss, the amount not covered by insurance was $284,262. The B. P. D. also reported that of the 1,760 fires involving losses, 458 were caused by carelessness with matches, 215 by smoking, 121 by open lights, 101 by stoves, furnaces, etc., 95 by explosions, 93 by sparks from combustion, 83 by electricity, 51 by overheated or defective flues and chimneys, 41 by spontaneous combustion, 35 by hot ashes, etc.

Cost of maintenance for 1920, $3,223,133 (including pensions), or $359,093 more than in 1919 and $1,001,752 in excess of 1918. Value of land and buildings, $2,270,900; of equipment, $1,350,000.

Annual salaries; Commissioner, $7,500; Chief, $5,000; deputy chiefs, $4,000; district chiefs, $3,500; captains, $2,500; lieutenants, $2,300; engineers, $1,900; assistant engineers, $1,800; 1st-year privates, $1,400, with $100 yearly increase until maximum of $1,800 is reached.

By Chapter 4, City Ordinances of 1917, the firemen have one day off in three, dating from February 1, 1918, instead of one in five, as before, which called for an addition of about 170 men to the force.

By Ordinances of 1919, Chapter 2, the Wire Department became the Wire Division of the Fire Department.

New motor apparatus added in 1919 and 1920 costing $350,837, makes the department 70 per cent motorized. Appropriation of $150,000 for more of same in 1921.

BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Number of permanent school buildings in use for school purposes, 265, or 216 brick and 49 wooden; portable houses, 160; besides these, 14 rented quarters; day schools contain 3,256 class-rooms and 133,392 sittings; also 101 assembly halls and 15 drill halls and gymnasia; 3,422 teachers in all schools, or 2,883 women and 539 men; evening schools, 20, with 263 regular teachers. Playground teachers, 149, having charge of games, gymnastics, etc., in 54 park and 36 schoolyard playgrounds; school physicians, 47; school nurses, 48; attendance officers, 25. Number of pupils registered in regular day schools year ending June 30, 1920, 123,392; in evening schools, 9,911; Continuation School, 8,705; Day School for Immigrants, 1,312; total registration, 143,320 or 2,020 increase over 1919. Average number belonging in day schools, 109,110 or 2,367 more than in 1919; average number in evening schools, 5,015; in summer review schools, 3,941. Membership in Normal, High and Latin Schools on Sept. 30, 1920, 17,641; in elementary schools, by districts; East Boston, 10,451; Charlestown, 3,594; North End, 5,341; West End, 5,866; City Proper, 4,360; South End, 3,673; South Boston, 8,488; Roxbury, 14,739; Brighton, 4,479; West Roxbury, 7,608; Dorchester, 23,468; Hyde Park, 2,187; in special schools, 967. Total, 112,862, or 1,989 more than in 1919. In 1920, total number of graduates, 7,686. Average number of day-school pupils per teacher in elementary grades, 41.2; in high schools, 27.6; in kindergartens, 26.1. In 1918 the ninth grade or junior high school plan, recently adopted, relieved the high schools of 925 first-year pupils, and in 1919 the number of pupils promoted to these intermediate classes was 1,581. Valuation of school property, $29,188,215 or $27,940,258 for land and buildings and $1,247,957 for equipment. Cost of maintenance for 1920, $9,897,928 or $2,485,296 (i. e., 33.53 per cent) more than in 1919; expenditure for construction of new schools, etc., $910,825, of which all but $50,000 was from Tax Levy. Gross debt outstanding for Schoolhouses and Sites, Feb. 1, 1921, $15,583,500 or $200,500 less than in 1920. Annual maintenance cost per attending pupil in Latin and high schools (day), $109.87; in elementary schools (day), $54.03. The registration of minors, 5 to 15 years, inclusive, also illiterates over 15, April 1, 1920, as directed by Chap. 102, General Acts of 1916, showed a total of 135,052 or 22,562 of 5 and 6 years of age; 89,343 of 7 to 13; 22,612 of 14 and 15, and 435 illiterates 16 years of age and over. Total belonging to public schools, 105,129; to parochial schools, 25,476; other private schools, 4,192; not in any school, 255.

Only 174 in each 1,000 of pupils in Boston are in private schools, while the average for the large cities is 284. The School Centers for educational and social improvement of other than school pupils started in 1912. There are now 13 with 150 leaders and assistants and 30 to 40 study and entertainment clubs in each; total attendance during the 7 months sessions in 1919–20, 463,894. Cost of this "extended use of public schools" in 1919–20, $29,800.

Per capita (of Boston population) cost in 1920 of schools, approximately $13.30 (including special appropriations from taxes, etc., for new schoolhouses), which is $3.09 higher than in 1919, $5.38 ahead of 1915 and $6.61 or nearly 100 per cent more than in 1910.

AREA OF BOSTON.

Area to ward lines (26 wards), 30,598 acres (i. e., 47.81 square miles), 2,843 acres being filled land, 1,143 acres water area and 1,585 acres flats. Land area only, 27,870 acres (i. e., 43.55 square miles). Included in the latter are 138 acres of filled flats added to the land area of South Boston in 1919 and 48 acres to that of East Boston in 1918. Original Boston contained about 780 acres of land. Of the twelve leading American cities, six are larger in land area than Boston, viz., New York (326.9 square miles), Chicago (199.37), Philadelphia (129), Detroit (75.62), Cleveland (56.6) and St. Louis (61.37). The only city in Massachusetts with larger land area is Taunton (50 square miles).

If Boston should expand by annexations as New York, Chicago and Philadelphia have expanded, its total area, in case of including the 39 cities and towns within the 15-mile radius, would exceed the largest, viz., New York, the present land area of "Greater Boston" being 409.5 square miles.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, October 2, 1922.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., President BRICKLEY in the chair and all the members present.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the City Council, the Mayor submitted the following appointments for terms ending April 30, 1923, viz.:

1. Constables of the City of Boston: James F. Mohan, 51 Newbern street, Roslindale; Edward N. Goldstein, 160 Harold street, Roxbury; Allen Whetherhalt, 572 Massachusetts avenue, Boston.
2. Richard I. Shedd, 23 Harvard street, Brookline, a Weigher of Coal, Weigher of Boilers and Heavy Machinery and a Weigher of Goods.
3. Silas N. Jameson, 5 Idlewild street, Allston, a Weigher of Coal and Measurer of Wood and Bark, and Martin J. Maguire, 42 Granger street, Dorchester, a Weigher of Coal.

Laid over under the law.

MONEY FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication received from the Register of Deeds of Suffolk County, requesting additional funds to carry on the work of the department in the amount of $6,039.52, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Registry of Deeds, Suffolk County,
Boston, September 20, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

My dear Mr. Mayor,—The volume of business of this department during the current year has increased so much over last year that it will be necessary to provide additional funds to carry on the work of the office and render expeditious service to the public. The entry book shows that at the close of business on September 15 there had been 44,455 documents received for record as compared with 34,519 on the corresponding date in 1921. With the same number of clerks employed now as were on the pay roll in 1921, it is impossible to keep the work up to date. I therefore respectfully request transfers of funds, as follows:

To A-1 for three clerks (one male and two female) at $1,400 per year, from October 1, 1922, to February 1, 1923; total amount needed, $1,400.

To A-2, Temporary, for night clerks on indexes, from October 1, 1922, to February 1, 1923, $1,125.

To A-3, Unassigned, from October 1, 1922, to February 1, 1923, to be applied to the different departments of the office as occasion requires, $5,500.

Chapter 301 of the Acts of 1922 authorizes an increase in the salaries of assistant registers of deeds from 55 per cent to 60 per cent of the salary of the register. This makes an increase from $3,575 to $3,900 in the salary of each of the two assistant registers. The act was approved April 15, 1922, and to pay this increase for the balance of the fiscal year will necessitate a transfer of $257.26 in the case of each assistant register to A-1, making a total transfer of $514.52.

I shall be pleased to confer with you regarding the above transfers, if you desire, at any time that it may be convenient for you to talk with me.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM T. A. FITZGERALD, Register.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $6,039.52, to the appropriation for Registry of Deeds, A-1, Permanent Employees, Assistant Register, 1 at $3,575 ($3,900) per year), $257.26; Second Assistant Register, 1 at $3,575 ($3,900) per year, $257.26; Clerks, 2 (5) at $1,400 per year, $1,400; A-2, Temporary Employees, $1,125; A-3, Unassigned, $3,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

MONEY FOR FUEL SUPPLY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The Purchasing Agent of the City of Boston has submitted to me data with reference to the coal situation, which I present for the consideration of your honorable body

The annual consumption of anthracite coal in the City of Boston for the year 1921 was about 1,450,000 tons, while the yearly consumption of soft coal was about 3,300,000 tons.

During the period beginning January 1, 1922, and ending August 1, 1922, 405,000 tons of anthracite coal and about 2,825,000 tons of bituminous coal were received in the City of Boston.

The average cars passing through the New England gateway during 1917–18 containing anthracite coal was 455 per day; during 1920-21, 481 cars per day; during 1921-22, 417 cars per day, and commencing April 1, 1922, the average was 169 cars per day, the minimum delivery being reached in July, 1922, when but 61 cars were received in Boston.

At the present time, owing to the settlement of labor disputes, the average is slightly in excess of 200 cars per day, and to overcome the shortage it would be necessary to increase this number to 600 cars per day through the New England gateway, which, in the opinion of those qualified to pass judgment upon the subject, from the angle of production as well as railroad transportation, is an impossibility.

At the present time the total of anthracite coal in Boston is less than 11,000 tons, and slightly less than 40,000 tons of bituminous coal, which represents, under winter conditions, less than a two days' supply of coal. The average price of bituminous coal during 1921 was $10.50 per ton and anthracite coal $15 per ton. The price at present is about $14.50 per ton for bituminous and $18 per ton for anthracite, and it is not unreasonable to believe that advantage will be taken of the situation by the coal dealers to further advance prices.

With a twofold object in view, first to secure fuel for those in need and who, because of straitened financial circumstances, are obliged to live from day to day as it were; and, second, through the sale and distribution at a price sufficient to cover the cost of purchase and delivery for the purpose of preventing profiteering, I respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of sections 19 and 20 of chapter 40 of the General Laws the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) be and the same is hereby appropriated for fuel supplies, etc., and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be hereby authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

Further ordered, That the income received from the sale of fuel supplies be credited to the appropriation.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER, SOLDIERS' RELIEF DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 2, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith request for transfer within the appropriation of the Soldiers' Relief Department and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Soldiers' Relief Department,
October 2, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Sir,—I respectfully request authorization for the transfer of the following sums:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Commissioner, 1 at $5,000 per year, $748.34; Stenographer and Typist, 1 at $1,200 to $1,300 per year, $216; Clerks, 2 at $1,200 per year, $1,035.66, to the appropriation for A-2, Temporary Employees, $2,000.

This transfer is requested in order to provide for the continued employment of ten employees who are now being paid on the temporary roll of this department. The original amount providing for temporary employees is now practically exhausted, and without this transfer it will be necessary to let these people go. This would seriously interfere with and handicap the work of this department. Hence I am requesting the transfer.

Respectfully yours,
CHARLES J. FOX,
Acting Soldiers' Relief Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Soldiers' Relief Department:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Commissioner, 1 at $5,000 per year, $748.34; Stenographer and Typist, 1 at $1,200 to $1,300 per year, $216; Clerks, 2 at $1,200 per year, $1,035.66, to the appropriation for A-2, Temporary Employees, $2,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PETITIONS REFERRED.

The following petitions were received and referred to the committees named, viz.:

Claims.

Armstrong Transfer Express Company, for compensation for damage to taxicab by fire apparatus.

Joseph Cortese, for compensation for injuries received on the East Boston Ferry.

M. Doyle & Co., for compensation for damage to truck by a defect in street at 41 Wormwood street.

Mae S. Glazer, for compensation for damage to truck by a defect in street at 41 Worm-Service.

Frank Imbruglia, for compensation for damage to automobile by a police patrol truck.

Arthur F. Johnson, for compensation for damage to automobile by a hole in I street, South Boston.

John William Larkin, for injuries received on a city tipcart on lot between Second and Third streets, South Boston.

Mary G. McDonald, for compensation for injuries caused by a defective fence on Rutherford avenue.

Mary Millage, for compensation for injuries caused by a police auto patrol.

Lena D. Rittenberg, for compensation for damages by water at 16, 18 and 20 North Russell street.

Isaac Saperia, for compensation for damage to wagon on the East Boston Ferry.

Francis Steinberg, for compensation for injuries due to a fall at 78 Green street.

Unclaimed Baggage.

N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co., for permission to sell unclaimed baggage.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

The following appointment was received through the City Clerk from the Mayor, a certified copy of the same having been delivered to the Civil Service Commission, viz.:

Wilfred J. Doyle, Retirement Board.

Placed on file.

FIRST ASSISTANT ASSESSOR.

Notice was received from the Board of Assessors of the appointment of Joseph P. Dempsey as first assistant assessor.

Placed on file.

TRACK LOCATIONS.

Copies of orders were received from the Street Commissioners granting locations to the Boston Elevated Railway Company, viz.:

Track on Dorchester avenue, fourteenth location.

Relocation of turnout, Blue Hill avenue, fifteenth location.

Placed on file.

INDORSEMENT OF MAYOR CURLEY ON GAS QUESTION.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the City Council stands unqualifiedly back of Mayor Curley in his efforts toward a reduction in the price of gas, and that a committee of three of the Council be appointed by the President to appear before whatever tribunal that may hear the Mayor's plea.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

PRINTING OF BOSTON POST ARTICLE.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the article in the Boston Post of October 1, 1922, in reference to the history of Miss Nicolay, entitled "Book of American Wars," be printed as a city document.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, my purpose in offering that order is that the public may know officially that one of the highest authorities on history in the United States, Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard, indorses the attitude of this body as expressed unanimously last Monday through an order calling on the Library Trustees to remove from the library the book entitled "American Wars," by Miss Nicolay. It is so seldom that this body gets the credit it is really entitled to that I think we ought to pass this order today under suspension of the rule, and have a sufficient number of the documents printed to distribute throughout the United States. I have already had innumerable letters requesting the minutes of the Council that contained my remarks concerning the book. I want to say further that you cannot now purchase one of the books in Greater Boston. The Boston Post editor informed me last Tuesday that he had tried everywhere to get a copy of Miss Nicolay's book, and that there were none to be obtained, the sale being so great because of the advertising that this body gave the book. I trust that the rule will be suspended and the order passed at this time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF STRUCTURE ON COMMON.

Coun. LANE offered an order—That the Transit Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to remove at once the temporary structure erected on Boston Common near the Park Street Subway entrance.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I move a suspension of the rule for the passage of the order. This structure has been on Boston Common for over a year. It was all very well for citizens to have put up with the inconvenience of having it there while the platforms were being fixed in the subway, while they were increasing the length of the platforms and fixing up the exits in connection with the Cambridge Subway, in order to accommodate the people. But the work is now completed, and I certainly trust that the people of Boston will be put to no more inconvenience in the matter. That structure interferes with the use of the mall, and I think it should be taken down at once.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ORDER.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along No. 2 Peter Parley road (104 feet on Peter Parley road and 50 feet on Forest Hills street), Ward 22, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE TO CITY DELEGATES.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That the heads of departments be authorized to allow all city employees who are delegates to the convention of the American Legion, to be held in New Orleans, La., from October 12 to October 16, leave of absence without loss of pay.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 2.58 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. Lane to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The members of the Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the President at 5.26 o'clock p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. FORD, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for transfer of $6,039.52 from Reserve Fund to appropriation for Register of Deeds—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

2. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for transfer of $2,000 in Soldiers' Relief Department appropriation—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

3. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) for loan of $250,000 for fuel supplies, etc.—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

COUNTY ACCOUNTS.

Coun. FORD, for the Committee on County Accounts, submitted a report on communication from the chief justice of the Municipal Court (referred February 20) concerning retirement of probation officer Wordell—recommending the passage of the following, viz.:

Ordered, That Arthur A. Wordell, probation officer of the Municipal Court of the City of Boston, be retired from active service as probation officer of said court, under the provisions of section 75 of chapter 32 of the General Laws, his retirement pay to date from the first of the fiscal year 1922.

Report accepted; order passed.

EDWARD F. CUMMINGS SQUARE.

President BRICKLEY offered an order—That the junction of Bayswater street and St. Andrew road be named Edward F. Cummings square, in memory of said Cummings, who died from the effects of injuries received in the World War.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENT.

President BRICKLEY called up unfinished business, No. 1, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor, September 25, 1922, of Gilbert A. Campbell, to be a Weigher of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Walsh and Moriarty. Whole number of ballots cast 8, yeas 8, nays 0, and the appointment was confirmed.

UNCLAIMED BAGGAGE.

Coun. MORIARTY, for the Committee on Unclaimed Baggage, submitted the following report on petition of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. (referred today) for permission to sell unclaimed baggage—recommending the passage of the following, viz.:

Ordered, That the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. be hereby authorized to sell at public auction on or before October 16, 1922, and after publication of the time and place of sale, according to law, the articles left and remaining unclaimed in the possession of said company in the City of Boston.

Report accepted; order passed.

SIDEWALK, HENSHAW STREET.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested to arrange with the contractor now constructing granolithic sidewalks on Bentley street to construct granolithic sidewalk in front of No. 35 Henshaw street.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, the reason for the introduction of that order is this. A gentleman from Brighton came in to me today and asked me to use what little influence I could to have this walk placed around the corner of Henshaw street, by his property. I gave him a card to the Commissioner of Public Works, but he was told that nothing could be done about it. I think, in view of the fact that it will mean only a small extra expense to have 40 feet more added, and it would mean a good deal to a property owner, that a request from us might have some effect. I therefore move a suspension of the rule.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

COMMITTEE ON SUPPLY OF FUEL.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the President appoint a committee of three to act in conjunction with the Executive Department in the matter of the purchase and distribution of coal by the city.

Passed. The President appointed as said Committee Coun. Watson, Lane and Gilbody.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. MORIARTY moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 6.02 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. MORIARTY, to meet on Monday, October 9, at two o'clock p. m.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commissioners announce examinations for municipal offices as follows:

School Physician, Boston School Department, October 20, 1922.

There are two vacancies at a salary of $900 per year. This examination is open to both men and women. The duties of this position are to report every school day to the principal of the schools to which they are assigned and to visit each school to which they are assigned by the director of medical inspection, to examine all children entering school for the first time, to make an examination and diagnosis of every child returning to school without a certificate from the Health Department or from the attending physician, after absence on account of illness or from unknown cause, and to make such examination and diagnosis of every child who shows signs of ill health or symptoms of communicable or infectious disease, to exercise general supervision on all matters pertaining to school hygiene, and to report to the director of medical inspection in writing any unsanitary conditions in their respective schools or districts, and such other duties as are outlined in pamphlet issued by the Boston School Department, Department of Medical Inspection, on "Duties of School Physicians."

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; mark given by the Division of Registration in Medicine, Department of Civil Service and Registration, at the time of registration, 3; personality and fitness, as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

General Information.

The names of veterans who pass the examinations will be placed upon the eligible list in the order of their respective standing, above the names of all other applicants, as provided for in section 23 of chapter 31 of the General Laws.

CITY OF BOSTON.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Proposals for Recut Granite Block Pavement in Bristol Street Yard, City Proper.

The Fire Commissioner of the City of Boston, office Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for recut granite block pavement in Bristol street yard, city proper. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Recut Granite Block Pavement in Bristol Street Yard," and left at Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, before 12 m. on Wednesday, October 25, 1922, with a certified check for four hundred ($400) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposal must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

Theodore A. Glynn,
Fire Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Proposals for Sheet Asphalt or Bitulithic Pavement in Chambers Street, from Cambridge Street across Green Street, City Proper.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for sheet asphalt or bitulithic pavement in Chambers street, from Cambridge street across Green street, city proper. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of fifteen hundred (1,500) dollars, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Sheet Asphalt or Bitulithic Pavement, Chambers Street," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. of Monday, October 23, 1922, with a certified check for five hundred (500) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. If the price of any item appears to the Commissinoer to be abnormally high or low or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

Joseph A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works.
Boston, October 11, 1922. (Oct. 14.)

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON.

Boston was settled in the latter part of August, 1630, by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to September 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

NAVY DAY PROCLAMATION.

The president of the Navy League of the United States with the approval of the President of the United States and the Navy Department, has designated Friday, October 27, 1922, as Navy Day and asks that the day be observed throughout the Republic.

No Commonwealth in the Union of States owes more to sailors and ships than Massachusetts; from the beginning her progress and prosperity were secured and safeguarded by her maritime zeal and enterprise; and some of the most heroic chapters in the history of Massachusetts and Boston were written by the Continental cruisers and national war vessels built in the Commonwealth and manned and navigated by Massachusetts mariners. From the harbor of Boston sailed the "Constitution" upon her career of glory under the gallant Stewart, and today she lies at her dock in the Charlestown Navy Yard a constant reminder of splendid deeds, a silent testimony to services that made America self-reliant and safe for democracy. Out of Boston in earlier days swarmed the privateers that kept the seas in the face of the most powerful navies of the world and by their daring and courage harried the commerce and curbed the pride of the young Republic's foes; and the traditions of those days of naval audacity and danger helped to foster the race of seamen who carried the American flag into every port of the Seven Seas and made the name of Boston a household word in every latitude.

Massachusetts should not forget her glorious maritime record; out of the seas her sailors and fishers brought home the riches that were the financial foundations of her industrial eminence and only as she turns back to the ocean at her door and renews her marine activities can she rewrite the glories of her older days.

In every crisis of America's life the navy has been her strong right arm. The valor and tenacity of her men and ships closed the harbors of the Confederacy, thwarted the activities of dubious neutrality, and throttled rebellion. The services of our navy in the recent World War made safe the Atlantic seas and brought us victory.

In every hour of our American history the navy has been an honor and a glory to the Republic. The names of its Captains Courageous—Barry, Jones, Stewart, Lawrence, Barron, Perry, McDonough, Porter, Farragut, Dewey and Benson—glitter like stars in our national firmament. Their names and service should not be forgotten; the lessons of valor and patriotism they taught should be repeated to our children while time endures. In the future as in the past the sea and our ships and men will be the pledges of our national independence, the promise of safety, the promoter of our prosperity. Let us cherish the American navy and teach the story of its greatness and glory to the coming generations.

Now, therefore, as Mayor of Boston I ask the citizens of this city to observe Friday, October 27, 1922, as Navy Day and hang out the stars and stripes in honor of the day. I direct that the American flag be hoisted over every schoolhouse and public building in Boston; and I suggest that suitable patriotic services be observed in the schools commemorative of the American navy and its deeds.

Given under my hand this seventeenth day of October, 1922, in City Hall, Boston.

James M. Curley, Mayor.

Incident to the award of this contract Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works made the following statement:

"The proposal of the lowest bidder, A. G. Tomasello & Son, has been rejected for the reason that his bid is too low for the proper carrying out of the contract with profit; that it is imperative that the Stuart street contracts, which are being performed by this contractor, be completed as soon as possible; and that the prosecution of this work might interfere with his completion of Stuart street. The work to be done under this contract is to be completed on or before December 20, 1922."

Public Works Department (Highways, Making of).

Upon October 19 the Mayor approved a contract with the Alco Contracting Company, Inc., for bituminous macadam pavement in Boardman street from Saratoga street to Boston and Maine Railroad, East Boston. Bids for the work, opened October 16, were as follows:

Incident to the award of this contract Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department made the following statement:

Boston, October 18, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Attached please find list of bids on proposals for furnishing 300, more or less, uniform overcoats to the Fire Department, which were publicly opened and read at this office under date of October 9, 1922. I respectfully request that permission be granted me to award this contract to A. Shuman & Co., the second lowest bidder, at a price of $30.20 each for the following reasons: A. Shuman & Co. is a Boston concern and manufacture these overcoats in the City of Boston, and they are in a position to give the service to the Fire Department in the matter of fittings and try-ons much more speedily than would be the case if this contract was placed with the lowest bidder, a concern located in Philadelphia. Also, in the event that alterations are necessary, they can be made without any inconvenience such as packing the overcoats and sending same to Philadelphia. A. Shuman & Co. have already made 900 overcoats for the Fire Department, which have proven satisfactory in every respect, and for the reasons outlined above, I feel that the city will be best served by placing this contract with a local company, viz., A. Shuman & Co.

Respectfully yours,

Frank P. Rock,
Superintendent of Supplies.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

Public Works Department (Sewer Service).

Upon October 14 the Mayor approved a contract with the Power Equipment Company for repair parts for turbine units. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

Boston, October 11, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Your approval is respectfully requested for the award of a contract, without advertising, to the Power Equipment Company, 131 State street, Boston, for repair parts for No. 1 and No. 2 turbine units at the Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, at a total cost to the city of $4,689, made up as follows:

Repair of large gears, $3,712.50; new pinion shaft, $405; new short shaft, $121.50; rebucket one old rotor, $450. Total, $4,689.

All the old parts on which work is to be done are now boxed up at the pumping station ready for shipment. These units were furnished by this concern, and this work can be done by them cheaper and to better advantage to the city than by any other concern.

Joseph A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Supply Department.

Upon October 14 the Mayor approved a contract with the Postage Meter Company for furnishing to the Collecting Department one Pitney-Bowse postage meter machine. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department, was as follows:

Boston, October 13, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Postage Meter Company, Stamford, Conn., for furnishing to the Collecting Department of the City of Boston, 1 Model A Pitney-Bowse postage meter machine, 1 cabinet for meters and accessories, at a price of $1,350 delivered, plus a charge of $10 per month for rental of model No. 1 meter.

The machine and meter are already installed in the Collecting Department and have been approved by the City Collector as being the machine best suited for the needs of his department and for this reason I respectfully request that the permission asked for be granted.

Yours very respectfully,

Frank P. Rock,
Superintendent of Supplies.

FERRYBOAT TO BE DESTROYED.

The Mayor has approved the request of Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works that the abandoned ferryboat "Revere" may be destroyed.

The statement of Commissioner Rourke was as follows:

Boston, October 11, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,— During the previous ten-year contract for the disposal of garbage, and up to recently under the new contract, the workmen and some of their families at Spectacle Island occupied for living purposes the abandoned ferryboat "Revere" of the East Boston ferries, originally placed in service in 1872.

Upon your Honor's visit to the island some time ago you decided that this was not a fit habitation, in which opinion the Health Commissioner cordially agreed, and Coleman Brothers were ordered by your Honor to provide new structures located at the highest part of the island to properly house the workmen and their families.

At present, for the first time, modern housing facilities are available for the families of the workers on this island.

The old boat now abandoned should be broken up, removed or destroyed, as it is an unsightly structure and decidedly a fire menace and of no further value for any useful purpose. Your permission is respectfully requested to have this old boat destroyed by the disposal contractor, at an expense to the city not exceeding $500.

Yours respectfully,

Joseph A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 17.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
October 10, 1922.

To the Heads of Departments:

The Fourth National Convention of the American Legion will be held at New Orleans, La., October 16 to 20, inclusive. You are hereby directed to grant leave of absence without loss of pay to duly elected and accredited delegates and alternates who are employees of your department upon presentation by them of their credentials. The leave of absence here granted is to include time consumed in traveling to and from and attending convention.

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

PARK COMMISSION ENTERTAINED.

The Park Commissioners of East St. Louis, who are making a tour of the United States, were the guests of the Boston Park Commission upon the 16th instant. They viewed the Charles River Embankment and the Fens, and inspected Franklin and Marine Parks.

Boston's public parks and playgrounds were declared wonderful in character.

The visiting commission called upon Mayor Curley this noon and received from him the key to the city, the presentation taking place in the Mayor's office.

F. P. Ernest, one of the commissioners, emphasized the need of playgrounds in large cities. He admitted that in the past a factory site was considered of more value than a field for children to romp in, but declared that city officials are beginning to abandon this materialistic theory.

The commission were guests of Arthur J. Sheldon, director of the Shubert Theaters, at the Boston Opera House, Monday evening.

TAGUE CONGRATULATES MAYOR.

Mayor Curley received the following congratulatory telegram from Congressman Peter F. Tague:

Washington, D. C.,
October 13, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Federal Fuel Administrator and Interstate Commerce Commission advise me of their approval of your plan to land coal, Boston Navy Yard, in conjunction with State Fuel Administrator. Accept my congratulations for your ingenuity and ability to cope with coal situation for benefit of citizens of Boston.

Peter F. Tague.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS.

The Board of Election Commissioners announce the total registration of voters in the City of Boston is 220,426. The list comprises 133,275 men and 87,131 women. This is the largest registration the city has ever known.

Under the laws of the state, registration in cities closed upon the 18th instant at 10 p. m. Towns, however, may not complete their registration until the 28th, being given ten days longer than cities. The only persons that can now register in Boston for the coming election are soldiers and sailors who, under the law, can register until the third day preceding the election, provided that they were absent from the city when sessions of registration were held. No material increase is expected from this source.

The last day of the registration was one of the busiest, as 5,439 voters were registered. Of these 2,072 were men and 3,367 were women.

This year, or since the first voting list was printed in May, 35,645 voters have been added.

PROVINCE STREET WIDENING.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners determining that public convenience and necessity require that building lines be, under the provisions of chapter 462 of the Acts of 1893, and acts in amendment or addition thereto, established on Province street, city proper, between Bromfield street and School street, as follows:

On the southeasterly side of said Province street, between Province court and the southwesterly boundary line of the property of the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank, substantially parallel with and distant approximately thirty-three (33) feet from the southeasterly exterior side line of said Province street.

For one year from the date of this order: On the southeasterly side of said Province street, between Bromfield street and Province court, substantially parallel with and distant approximately thirty-six (36) feet from the southeasterly exterior side line of said Province street.

For one year from the date of this order: On the southeasterly side of said Province street, between the southwesterly boundary line of the property of the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank and School street, substantially parallel with and distant approximately thirty-four (34) feet from the southeasterly exterior side line of said Province street.

For one year from the date of this order: On the northwesterly side of said Province street, between Bromfield and School streets, substantially parallel with and distant approximately fifty (50) feet from the building lines hereinbefore established on the southeasterly side of said street.

The Board further orders that existing buildings, steps, windows, porticos and other usual projections appurtenant thereto, as far as they lie between the building lines herein established and the present exterior side lines of said Province street, may remain as they are at the date of this order, intending hereby to sanction all existing projections over said building lines until the said projections shall have been removed therefrom or until said Province street is ordered relocated or widened by the City of Boston by and through its duly authorized officials under authority of the statutes in such cases made and provided.

The Board determines that the undermentioned estates sustain damages by the establishment of building lines, on the northwesterly and southeasterly sides of Province street, between School and Bromfield streets, each of said estates to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it, and awards said amounts therefor:

MAYOR SCORES LODGE IN DIFFERENTIALS CASE.

Mayor Curley received the following telegram from Senator Lodge on the differentials to which his Honor replied, severely scoring the Senator. The Lodge telegram reads:

Boston, October 13, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Your telegram addressed to Washington where I have not been since the adjournment of Congress only reached me today. I know as well as you do that the differential is injurious to Boston. You heard me speak in Washington at the dinner of the Maritime Committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce last spring and you know that with the other representatives of Massachusetts I demanded such adjustment of the differential as would put Boston on an equality with the other Atlantic ports.

I have done everything that I could do in co-operating with the Maritime Committee and so have the Vice President, the Speaker and the Secretary of War. What you have done I do not know. The question is being presented to the committee as the committee planned.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is not political or politically controlled. The law requires a membership of both parties. Mr. Eastman, our Massachusetts member, is a Democrat, appointed by Mr. Wilson. Under the law the question of the differential can only be decided by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the courts. All our New England representatives in Washington will support and carry forward, without regard to party, everything that can be done to abolish this unjust differential.

H. C. Lodge.

The Mayor's reply reads:

Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, Nahant, Mass.:

My dear Senator,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your most illuminating telegram and regret exceedingly that my communication to you has made you peevish.

You say that you do not know what I have done with reference to the abolition of the differential and I beg to say that it has been in operation for twenty years and that nothing was done until, as a result of a protest made by me, a bill for a hearing on the question of the abolition of the differential was filed by the Maritime Division of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

I beg to say, sir, that I assumed the office of Mayor upon February 6, 1922, and that the bill of the Maritime Division of the Chamber of Commerce was not filed until March, 1922. Upon examination you will find that I have been extremely busy in the short time that an opportunity has been open to me, but I have difficulty in finding out where any one else was busy in the twenty years prior to February 6, 1922.

Trusting that you will be successful with your potential party associates in Washington in not only securing the removal of the differential, but in preventing the closing of the Charlestown Navy Yard, I beg to remain with good wishes for your health.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

CLEMENCEAU ACCEPTS MAYOR'S INVITATION.

Mayor Curley received the following note from Hon. Georges Clemenceau from France:

Paris, France, October 14, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Excuse, Mr. Mayor, this short answer. My very best thanks for your kind invitation which I accept with deep gratitude.

Yours very truly,
G. Clemenceau.

CHANGES IN WATER INCOME DIVISION.

Mayor Curley addressed the following communication to Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, relative to the Water Income Division, upon the 16th instant:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
October 16, 1922.

Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works:

Dear Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt this day of report relative to action taken in the matter of investigation of the Water Income Division of the Public Works Department and approve the recommendations made by you: First, that Frank A. McInnes, division engineer, be placed in immediate charge of the Income Branch with a reduction in salary from $5,000 to $4,000 per annum and that Patrick G. Finnerty, at present acting as deputy superintendent of the Income Branch, continue in the position he now holds; second, that Christopher J. Carven be appointed engineer in charge of all water activities except Income Branch and Installation and Maintenance of Meters, reporting directly to Mr. McInnes; third, that James A. McMurry retain charge of the Installation and Maintenance of Meters, reporting directly to Mr. McInnes. Also that the division engineer, in addition to general supervision of the Water Service activities, devote the major portion of each day to the work of the Income Office in order that this branch of the Public Works Department may be established on an honest and efficient working basis.

I also approve the recommendation for the immediate discharge of Robert W. Wilson at present employed as superintendent of the Income Branch.

In my opinion it is advisable for the protection of the public to discontinue the practice of accepting money in payment of water rates other than at the office of the City Collector and that at the earliest possible date, in any event not later than October 23, arrangements be made for the payment of all water rates at the office of the City Collector.

The recommendation of the Finance Commission for an extension of the hours for the receiving of payment of water rates until five o'clock in my opinion is inadvisable as anyone desirous of protecting their premises should find it possible to make payment within the hours now established for the paying of all moneys due the city. In my opinion it would be advisable to adopt an absolute rule with reference to unpaid water service, namely, the shutting off of the water unless bills are paid promptly. It would be advisable to request the Corporation Counsel to assign a representative of his department to investigate all statutes or ordinances applying to the Water Division of the Public Works Department with a view to the presentation not only of a bill which would make unpaid water bills a lien on properties but such other legislation as in the opinion of the Corporation Counsel may be necessary to properly safeguard the city's investment in the Water Service of Boston.

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department submitted the following report:

To the Honorable the Mayor:

Recent investigations have disclosed facts which show that the Income Branch of the Water Division, Public Works Department, under Robert W. Wilson, the present superintendent, has been very inefficiently administered. They show that the high-priced clerks are careless in their work; that abatements are made for little or no defensible cause, and by several clerks without the approval of a responsible official; that summonses are waived in the same manner; that money and checks were collected and held illegally; that post-dated checks were held for no other possible reason except for favoring one individual; that there was extreme laxity and perhaps criminal negligence in the use of the shut-off to insure payment of accounts; that when properties changed hands collection of bills due from the old owners were not placed in the hands of the Law Department; that the present superintendent has been grossly inefficient and negligent in the discharge of his duties; that the division engineer should bear part of the responsibility in not keeping in closer touch with the methods and conduct of the Income Branch.

An investigation by the Finance Commission resulted in a report under date of October 11, 1922, which in its substance and specific recommendations failed to properly censure the administration of this very important branch of the Water Division, and no reference is made to the chief reason for the disclosures of rotten conditions in this branch due to the initiative of Mr. P. G. Finnerty who was reinstated as deputy superintendent by the present commissioner. He was suspended by the previous commissioner, Mr. T. F. Sullivan, under the Peters' administration for no cause. and the Civil Service Commission deserves great credit for permitting an exception to their rules in the approval of his reinstatement.

In relation to the five recommendations of the Finance Commission:

1. The Income Branch is being conducted within the power given under the Ordinances as far as that can be done with the present superintendent in charge.

2. A deputy from the collector's office has been assigned to the Income Branch to receive moneys on account of water bills from two o'clock to five o'clock p. m., five days a week, in order to help out during the recent active period of shut-offs.

There is no reason why the payment of water bills should be outside of the hours established for the payment of all bills in the collector's office, and instructions have been issued that, beginning on the 23d of this month, payments of water bills will not be made outside of the collector's office and only during its regular hours.

3. This recommendation is very misleading, and is the one intended by the Finance Commission to divert the censure absolutely due the Income Branch to the Collecting Department. It reads "that the Collecting Department make adequate use of its power denying the use of water to those whose water bills are not paid."

The practice of the Collecting Department during many years has been to forward to the Income Branch, in book form and in handwriting, the names, addresses and amounts of all unpaid bills on a certain date, for each ward in the city, and which has been the official list of premises from which the water should be shut off by the Income Branch in order to insure collection. These books are kept up to date by daily check of further payments to the collector, the elimination on the book being by blue pencil line. When water is shut off a stencilled date is placed against the particular premises on the book. An inspection of these books extending back a considerable period shows that there was almost criminal negligence—and due entirely to the Income Branch—in not having the water shut off and payments of bills made.

One overdue account which should have received specific attention in the Finance Commission report amounted to a total on July 23, 1922, of $7,271.65 due on account of various premises in the downtown section and extending back through the years 1919, 1920, 1921 and 1922. Of course, an individual in a position to pay such an amount of money cannot be considered sufficiently poverty-stricken to merit such consideration and it must be due to extreme favoritism. By using pressure on this person and threats of shutting off the water, up to date $4,217.86 have been collected, with the balance to be received shortly.

4. The recommendation for shutting off water for nonpayment is being carried out by this department at present in an efficient manner and in accordance with whatever toleration may be necessary for those now owing large amounts of money on account of previous delinquencies of the Income Branch in not insisting on their payment before they reached such high figures.

5. Some of the public accountants' recommendations will be incorporated in the office routine; also some other changes which will make for better administration of the office and its efforts.

6. It is presumed that a bill will be introduced in the Legislature similar to that introduced last year, to have water charges made a lien on real estate.

In connection with the laxity of forwarding to the Law Department bills not paid and where a change of ownership was made, this had been the custom previously, but for the past five or six years only a few large disputed cases have been turned over to the Law Department. This neglect resulted in thousands of dollars now being outlawed or passed for collection, the revenue from which is entirely lost to the city. Last July there were about 4,000 transfers of ownership where, in all probability, the city stands to lose the total amount. Very significant is a letter, under date of August 26, 1922, signed by R. W. Wilson and sent to the clerks in the Income Branch:

"Hereafter when a certificate from the Register of Deeds is presented by a new owner of property, you are hereby directed to make out all outstanding bills charged to or against said property, and hand same together with certificate to Mr. Donnelly, so that he may take action at once."

The re-establishment of this method was probably the cause of possible results of the present investigation of the Income Branch.

The above conditions in the conduct of the Income Branch call for drastic action, and nothing less than the discharge of the present superintendent would be adequate punishment for the official directly in charge.

The division engineer should also be disciplined for not exercising closer supervision over the activities of the Income Branch, his excuse being that he had absolute confidence in the superintendent.

Yours respectfully,
JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Robert W. Wilson, whose removal from the office of Superintendent of the Income Branch of the Water Department was recently announced by Mayor Curley, has been allowed to resign. City Collector William M. McMorrow states that $75,283.45 in overdue water bills was collected between June 29 and October 4. There have been more "shut-offs" in the past few weeks than there were in the preceding two to three years. The Mayor said that this means of procuring payments would be enforced.

A measure to make unpaid bills a lien on real estate is being draughted by Corporation Counsel E. Mark Sullivan.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the recommendation of Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works, for new construction work, as follows:

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe in Belle avenue, between Baker street and a point 1,098 feet southerly, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $5,362.

A surface drain of 10-inch earthen pipe and seven catch-basins in Beryl street, between Cornell street and a point 110 feet southeast of Newburg street, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $5,632.

PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION CONVENTION.

The Mayor addressed the following communication upon the 16th instant:

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
October 16, 1922.

DR. FRANCIS X. MAHONEY, Public Health Association Convention, Cleveland, Ohio:

DEAR DOCTOR MAHONEY,—The City of Boston extends a cordial invitation to the Public Health Association to be the guest of Boston in 1923, upon the occasion of their annual convention.

Boston is proud of its municipal institutions for the care of the sick and anticipates, through the extension of the health unit program and the Conservation Bureau recently established, together with its medical and surgical research institutions, to present a more interesting field for study than any other American municipality.

Boston is prepared to receive the convention in 1923 and looks forward to an acceptance of this invitation.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Mayor Curley's letter was in reply to the following telegram:

CLEVELAND, OHIO, October 16, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

Leading members of Public Health Association are enthusiastic for Boston for the 1923 convention. Will you invite them?

FRANCIS X. MAHONEY.

READY TO SELL COKE TO CITIZENS.

The cargo of coke purchased by the City of Boston has been unloaded, and his Honor the Mayor instructed Superintendent of Supplies Frank P. Rock to confer with the Institutions Commissioner, Dr. David J. Johnson, with a view to utilizing the services of the short term prisoners at Deer Island for the bagging of the coke, thereby eliminating additional labor costs and making possible its sale to the public at the lowest possible price.

A conference of the fuel dealers was held at the office of the Mayor, where the necessity for urging the public to purchase fuel of any character was emphasized. It was contended by the coal dealers that, with production and delivery as at present, it would be impossible to provide in excess of 60 per cent of the coal consumed during the last year, which was an especially mild winter season.

As a result of the conference his Honor the Mayor instructed the purchasing agent of the City of Boston, who is a member of the Fuel Commission, to take up with State Fuel Administrator James J. Phelan the question of discontinuing the sale of any form of anthracite coal other than for household purposes, so that the present large quantities of buckwheat and pea coal that are used in manufacturing plants and office buildings and elsewhere be discontinued and that they be required to use soft coal in order that every possible pound of anthracite, of any description, may be reserved for household requirements.

It was pointed out that, even if all anthracite available was reserved, there would still be a shortage of 40 per cent and that, at the present time, the total amount of coal available in the various fuel yards of Boston is less than one week's supply, emphasizing the immediate need of every person who can do so of buying fuel at once.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

Boston, October 18, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—Your Honor's attention is called to the matter of cleaning the city water mains under contract of the city with the National Water Main Cleaning Company, 507 Church street, New York City.

This company received several small, noncompetitive contracts for cleaning the city water mains during the administration of your predecessor. At a conference with the Commissioner of Public Works and the Finance Commission early in the present year, your Honor will remember that you instructed the Commissioner of Public Works not to award any more contracts to this company or to the Pitometer Company of New York, contractor for water waste survey, and to have the day labor force of the Public Works Department do the work which these contractors had been doing.

Notwithstanding your Honor's instructions to the Commissioner of Public Works, on May 31, 1922, a noncompetitive contract—amounting to $25,000—for completing the water waste survey of the city, was given to the Pitometer Company. Shortly thereafter proposals for cleaning water pipes were advertised in public competition. The only bid received was from the National Water Main Cleaning Company, at a price of thirty-five cents per linear foot. The contract with this company was approved by your Honor on July 11, 1922, and provided for cleaning about 7,200 linear feet of 12-inch pipe. The actual cost to the National Water Main Cleaning Company of doing this work, as shown by a statement from the Distribution Service, was about twenty cents per linear foot, which included the cost of a foreman at $25 a day, instead of $8 a day—the going rate—and a 60 per cent overhead charge.

Following the completion of this contract, proposals were again advertised for a very much larger contract, involving the cleaning of 12-inch pipe in nineteen streets, with a total length of 69,500 feet. The only bid was from the National Water Main Cleaning Company, the price bid being thirty-six cents per linear foot. A contract based on this bid was approved by your Honor on August 14, 1922.

The Finance Commission assigned one of its representatives to this contract, to ascertain at first hand the cost of doing this work. His figures to date cover the cleaning of approximately 52,439 linear feet of pipe on eleven streets. The cost to the contractor varies from slightly over six cents a foot to a little more than eighteen and one half cents, with an average cost of eight and three tenths cents per linear foot. The maximum cost was for a single section of 2,100 linear feet, where unusual obstacles were encountered.

In addition to the contract price for this work, the city must furnish laborers experienced in water main work to open and close the gates on the pipes cleaned. This cost to the city is conservatively estimated at three cents per foot.

The Finance Commission's figures of cost to the contractor are made up from the actual wages paid the men and an allowance of $10 a day for the foreman. The profit to the contractor in this work is in excess of 300 per cent. The work done requires no special skill, nor does it require any mechanical devices that cannot be obtained by the Public Works Department. In point of fact the cost of cleaning water mains is comparatively small and the process simple. An opening is made in the pipe sufficiently large to admit a mechanical device used to scrape the sides of the pipe. The opening in the pipe is then closed, and some hundreds of feet away another opening is made on the "down stream" end of the pipe, the water again turned on, and the pressure of the water drives the mechanical device through the pipe to the second opening, completing the process.

Water mains should not be cleaned unless it is made definite that the cost of cleaning will be less than the interest on the cost of new and larger pipes over the term that the cleaning is effective which, according to the consensus of opinion of expert engineers, is about two years in metropolitan Boston. If it is the policy of the department to clean pipes every two years, then the openings that are made ought to be fitted with removable covers, so that the second and subsequent cleanings may be easier and less expensive.

There ought to be determined, therefore, before the water mains are cleaned, two important facts; first, is the cleaning necessary; second, if necessary, is the cleaning financially economical?

As to the first, a water main should not be cleaned simply because it is corroded if it supplies sufficient water for the needs of the district served. Neither should a pipe be cleaned if the feeder pipes to it are for any reason insufficient to supply the pipe to its full capacity.

As to the second, the Finance Commission believes that the present contract for cleaning water mains in the city, assuming that the cleaning is necessary and the work being done is proper, is too costly to the city and obviously yields to the contracting company an unconscionable profit.

The Finance Commission is also of the opinion that the work being done for the city under such an extensive contract should be tested before being paid for. This is not now being done and there is no way of determining whether the work is accomplishing much or little that will be of benefit to the city.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That before any further water pipe cleaning is done by the city, under contract or otherwise, a study be made to determine if the cleaning is necessary and, if necessary, whether it would not be financially advisable for the city to renew the pipes, rather than to clean them.
2. That no contract for cleaning water mains in the city be entered into at a price in excess of twelve cents per linear foot for a 12-inch main.

Respectfully submitted,

Michael H. Sullivan,
Chairman,
Courtenay Guild,
John F. Moors,
J. Waldo Pond,
The Finance Commission.

Mayor Curley received the following report from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department:

Department of Public Works,
Boston, October 19, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,— The adoption of the Pitometer Survey System by the administration of your predecessor, Hon. Andrew J. Peters, is perhaps the most worthwhile achievement of his administration, despite the criticisms of the Finance Commission, and it has been continued for two reasons, one of which I consider most excellent.

First, that the sum of $42,000 had been expended under the administration of your predecessor and which expenditure resulted in a saving to the city of $29,000 annually in metropolitan assessments, with an increase in revenue due to the Pitometer Survey. The second, a really unimportant reason for its continuance, is the fact that during the two years of its operation under your predecessor, Hon. Andrew J. Peters, no comment was made thereon by the Finance Commission. The total expenditure to date under the present administration is $25,000 and $14,000 additional will be required to complete the survey.

It is estimated by Mr. Frank A. McInnes, Division Engineer of the Water Division of the Public Works Department, that the total saving to the city, as a consequence of the $42,000 expenditure made under Hon. Andrew J. Peters, will be in excess of $59,000 per annum, and that the completion of the Pitometer Survey should result in a saving of not less than $100,000 annually.

There is no way in which to justify the abandonment of the survey upon which more than 50 per cent of the total amount necessary had been expended by your predecessor, and the completion of which and the establishment of permanent gauging stations through which, without additional outside expense, losses may be prevented in the conduct of the Water Service.

The criticism with reference to the contract for the cleaning of water mains is an injustice for the reason that neither of the recommendations made by the Finance Commission represent investigation or intelligent consideration of this subject. The first recommendation, namely, that a study be made to determine if cleaning is necessary, is most amusing in view of the fact that the policy of cleaning water mains has been in operation since 1913, and during that entire period this is the first criticism to my knowledge that has been made with reference to this most necessary work. The criticism with reference to the price and the recommendation for the establishment of a maximum cost of twelve cents per linear foot is most interesting. Under the administration of your predecessor, Hon. Andrew J. Peters, contracts were awarded during the years 1918, 1919 and 1921, and the cost of which in 1921 was thirty-two cents per foot for 12-inch pipe as against the present cost of thirty-six cents per linear foot, which it is now claimed represents an excess profit to the contractor of 300 per cent, while the actual cost to the city under the present administration is but twelve and a half per cent higher than under the administration of your predecessor, Hon. Andrew J. Peters, so that the work under your predecessor, if the conclusions of the Finance Commission are correct, must have shown 260 per cent profit to the contractor. It is unfortunate that no criticism of this work was made during his administration because if such criticism had been made it might have been possible to protect the city and effect some small saving.

Respectfully yours,

Joseph A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Mayor Curley addressed the following communication to the Finance Commission:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
October 19, 1922.

Hon. Michael H. Sullivan, Chairman Finance Commission, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir,— I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication of October 18, with reference to water, and in view of the report submitted by the Commissioner of Public Works to me, a copy of which I inclose, I beg to say that I rejoice that the commission has awakened from the state of coma in which it has been enveloped during four years of reform administration when extravagance and waste were permitted to run riot and without check. Apparently the commission's criticism should have been directed at and submitted to my predecessor, the Hon. Andrew J. Peters, sometime during 1918, 1919, 1920 or 1921. Assuming that the Finance Commission have neglected to forward a copy of this report and criticism to my predecessor, Hon. Andrew J. Peters, that he may make suitable and proper answer, I am taking the liberty of forwarding him the copy sent me.

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

REPORT OF AGENT KEOUGH.

William T. Keough, Business Agent, Boston School Committee, in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of chapter 274 of the Acts of 1914, has submitted a report upon his attendance at the annual meeting of the National Association of Public School Business Officials, held at Atlantic City, N. J., May 15 to 19, 1922, which was duly presented to the School Committee at its meeting held on Monday, October 16, 1922.

June 29, 1922.

To the School Committee:

In compliance with the provisions of section 3, chapter 274, of the Acts of 1914, I submit the following report of my attendance at the annual convention of the National Association of Public School Business Officials held at Atlantic City, N. J., May 15 to 19, 1922.

At the opening session addresses of welcome were made by Mr. Charles P. Boyer, superintendent of the Atlantic City Schools, and Wilbur Zimmerman, president of the New Jersey State Federation of District Boards of Education.

At the seven sessions of the convention the following papers were read and discussed: "School Board Organization and Business Administration in the Larger Cities," William T. Keough, Business Agent, School Committee, Boston, Mass.; "An Effective State School Board Federation," Herbert N. Morse, Business Manager, New Jersey State Department of Education, Trenton, N. J.; "Public School Finances in the United States," Hugh S. Magill, Field Secretary, National Education Association, Washington, D. C.; "The Function of the School Business Manager in Smaller Cities," J. G. Stearley, Clerk, Board of Education, Oklahoma City, Okla.; "Internal School Accounting," G. W. Grill, Clerk, Board of Education, Lakewood, Ohio; "Method of Financing for Current Expenses," Paul H. Scholz, Business Manager, Board of Education, San Antonio, Tex.; "Determining Per Capita Costs," H. R. Bonner, Chief Statistician, United States Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C.; "Modern Schoolhouse Requirements," N. L. Engelhardt, Professor of Education, Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York City; "The Value of Ozone in Schoolhouse Ventilation," R. M. Milligan, Commissioner of Buildings, Board of Education, St. Louis, Mo.; "The Janitor-Engineer Problem," George F. Womrath, Business Superintendent, Board of Education, Minneapolis, Minn.

The "Uniform School Accounting Report," which was the result of the conference at Washington December last, and copies of which have been sent to the members of your Board, was presented to the association and after some discussion was accepted without amendment.

The Committee on Janitorial Service submitted a report pointing out the importance of the training of janitor-engineers and its belief that an untrained janitor-engineer is primarily responsible for inefficient care being taken of public school buildings.

The committee recommended the following program as essential for the proper administration of the janitor-engineer division of our public school buildings, and recommended its application along the lines indicated in its two previous reports:

1. Accurate and complete statistics of all school buildings (rooms, floor areas, cubic contents, glass areas, size—types—makes of mechanical equipment, etc.).
2. A score card to rate and classify each building.
3. Assignment of the proper man-power to each building in accordance with its rating as determined by the score card.
4. Setting up of a standard for janitorial work.
5. A janitor's rating card.
6. The employment of an intelligent, properly trained personnel.
7. A set of rules and regulations capable of being enforced.
8. A salary schedule based on man-hours required and the man-power exerted.
9. A proper timekeeping record for janitorial cost accounting.
10. A janitor-engineer training school.

The Committee on Text Books, in compliance with a resolution adopted at the Minneapolis Convention in 1920, reported its recommendations for procedure for the purchase, distribution and handling of text books.

The committee issued a questionaire calling for a brief outline of the methods pursued in most of the larger cities of the country, where text books are supplied free to public school pupils.

Of the eighty-four cities selected, replies were received from sixty. Eleven of the replies were from nonfree districts, and the conclusions of the committee were based on information from forty-nine different cities, the population of which ranges from 50,000 to 1,800,000. Information was sought on the three phases of the subject—purchase, distribution, and the handling of text books.

Of the districts reporting almost one half receive text book requisitions semiannually, or once each term, and this seemed to be the rule even in some of the very large cities. Practically all the remaining cities accept requisitions annually or monthly, and the number so receiving them is about equally divided.

Those which supply the requirements on the onthly basis are numbered among the pioneers in the free text book movement, and it is to be assumed from their long experience in the matter that the monthly order system is the best, all things considered.

The committee is of the opinion that once the selection of the text books has been made by the Board, the purchase should be made by the division of business administration, and finds that this is the almost universal practice.

With respect to the contract system as opposed to the open market system of purchase, the committee found that twenty-nine of the districts listed follow the latter plan. In some districts state laws interfere with free action in the matter, and impose a contract arrangement that is either unfair to the school district or to the publisher.

Of the nineteen districts using the contract system, six were subject to state control, while five considered the open market system the better of the two.

The committee found that the only benefit to be derived from period contracts is a slight financial one, while on the contrary such contracts are likely to retard the introduction of new books so necessary and beneficial to a progressive school system.

The committee found that in a large majority of cases purchasing f. o. b. the shipping point is the more economical method for the reason that discounts from list prices approximate 25 per cent, while deliveries f. o. b. destination rarely approach that discount and generally are considerably below that figure.

The committee found several different bases for controlling the distribution of books to the several schools, but it was of the opinion that experience has demonstrated the economical value and the practicability of the per capita cost basis, for the reasons that it encourages careful use in the school, makes the principal rightfully entitled to his proportionate share in the distribution, and does not seriously affect the supply to the disadvantage of the pupil.

The committee found that the life of new books that are used freely, such as readers, arithmetics, and histories, is about three years, and that the life of a rebound book is from three and one half to four years, or twenty per cent longer than the new book. The committee estimates that by rebinding a saving of practically 15 per cent of the total cost of text books can be effected.

Another interesting committee report was that of a special joint committee appointed to consider and report on the amalgamation of the National Association of Public School Building Officials with that of the National Association of Public School Business Officials.

With practically the unanimous consent of the members of the former organization, that organization has given up its name, has turned over the balance in the treasury to our association, and its members have been taken into full membership.

While for two years or more we have had several of the most prominent members of that organization attend our meetings as members of our organization, present papers, and join in our discussions, this action tends to bring additional strength to our organization not only by the addition of these new members but because it brings into the organization practically all of the men in charge of building construction in the larger cities of the country.

The paper on "School Board Organization in the Larger Cities" set forth the well known views of your Business Agent on the relations of school boards to their officers, which have been discussed at length in recent years in Boston and other cities, particularly those which have undergone the process of being surveyed by groups of theorists who have recommended radical changes in organization. He pointed out the danger of the concentration of too much power in the hands of one man in a large city, and that to do so was a dangerous step in the direction of autocratic control of the public schools. He expressed the belief that if we are going to have democratic control of our school systems, school boards should direct school policy by the maintenance of complete sympathetic contact with all responsible officials by direct communication and direct control.

Mr. Herbert N. Morse, Business Manager, New Jersey State Board of Education, in a paper on "An Effective State School Board Federation," described an organization of the school boards of the State of New Jersey. A state law authorizes the attendance of delegates of school boards to the meetings of such an organization and the payment of the costs of maintenance of the organization at the expense of the local communities. The organization holds two meetings each year, information on all pending legislation is placed before all the school boards, and a letter ballot taken to determine the attitude of each board on each question. The executive committee presents the views of the majority to the Legislature and its committees, and has been wonderfully successful in securing the passage of needed legislation and the defeat of undesirable legislation.

Prior to the creation of the School Board Federation, New Jersey had 496 boards of education operating in the state, with no common means for an exchange of ideas or making themselves felt before the Legislature. It would appear that Massachusetts is in exactly the same situation at the present time. From time to time the Legislature is asked to take action on matters which affect many or all boards of education in the state, and such boards have no means of setting forth their attitude to the Legislature. An organization such as "The State Federation of District Boards of Education of New Jersey" would be a most valuable agency through which school boards in Massachusetts could present their views and exert their pressure on the Legislature for action in the interests of the public schools, and prevent the passage of undesirable legislation advanced or advocated by selfish interests.

Mr. G. W. Grill, Clerk of the Board of Education, Lakewood, Ohio, in a paper on "Internal School Accounting and Office Organization," set forth the methods adopted in that city for the accounting and control of all the funds belonging to the many school organizations in the schools of that city, and also his ideals of the office organization of the business department of a school system.

Mr. Grill's scheme of organization provides for a business manager in control of all matters other than those educational, and as the cities increase in size, with the work subdivided and a competent official in charge of each department of the work, all, however, subject to the general control of the business manager.

Mr. Paul H. Scholz, Business Manager of the San Antonio, Tex., School Board, presented a paper on "Method of Financing for Current Expenses."

Mr. Scholz pointed out that while there was a restriction on all building activities during the war, there was no decrease in the growth of school population; that in nearly all growing communities class rooms have become overcrowded beyond all reasonable bounds; that part-time instruction for thousands of children has been resorted to; that to hold teachers it has become necessary to give a large needed increase in salaries; that tax rates have reached the limits allowed by state constitutions or laws; and that in addition to these evils has come a popular demand for an enlargement of the scope of public education.

In his judgment school boards have reached a point where mere economy in management and mere efficiency in administration fail to give relief from embarrassed finances, and either a more radical method of securing larger revenues or a decided curtailment of present day educational programs must be entered upon.

He pointed out that a very large percentage of the taxable wealth of the country is now in intangible values like stocks and other securities, in mineral rights, timber concessions, etc., and that the state should now reach out into these new channels of wealth and take in taxes a reasonable share of such resources.

Dr. H. R. Bonner, Chief Statistician of the United States Bureau of Education, read a paper on "Determining Per Capita Costs." Dr. Bonner pointed out the value of making careful comparisons between the cost of education in different cities of approximately the same population, that such information forms the best basis for asking for more liberal support of the public schools, but that such per capita costs must be comparable; that is, determined from identical items for the different cities to be compared. He discussed the various methods used in computing per capita costs and pointed out that no prescribed standard has appeared and at present there is little uniformity in the results obtained by the different statisticians. He expressed the hope that this association would agree upon some standard method for securing comparable results.

Dr. N. L. Engelhardt, of Teachers' College, Columbia University, had accepted an invitation to read a paper on "Modern School Building Requirements." The address he delivered, however, did not even touch upon this subject, but was confined to setting forth the results of a survey of school building conditions in the City of Atlanta, Ga., which he recently conducted with Dr. George B. Strayer and a group of graduate students of the Teachers' College, all of which data are to appear in book form at an early date, as all such surveys do, and without doubt at a considerable profit to the persons conducting the survey.

Mr. R. M. Milligan, Commissioner of School Buildings of St. Louis, Mo., read a very interesting paper on "The Value of Ozone in Schoolhouse Ventilation." Mr. Milligan declared that tests of the air of buildings equipped with ozonation apparatus show that such air is better than air drawn in from outdoors in that it is correctly humidified, odorless, contains a smaller amount of dust and bacteria, and affords better health protection. He stated that ozone-treated schools were practically free from influenza during the outbreak in January and February, 1922, and that there was a lower percentage of colds and illness at all times. He stated that as much as fifty (50) per cent of the fuel bill had been saved in certain St. Louis schools where ozonation of air had been combined with recirculation.

The average cost of ozone apparatus in St. Louis has been about $25 per class room, and the monthly consumption of current is 150 watt hours for a twenty-room building.

Mr. George F. Womrath, Business Superintendent, Board of Education, Minneapolis, Minn., read a paper on "The Janitor-Engineer Problem." Mr. Womrath insisted that the men in charge of our school buildings must have a thorough knowledge and understanding of the science of heating, ventilation, humidity, sanitation, housekeeping, etc. He was positive that heating did not mean an indiscriminate shoveling of fuel into the furnace and the maintenance of a temperature of about 70 degrees, but that it meant an understanding of the economic combustion of fuel, the distribution and precise control of the resultant heat so that a constant and predetermined temperature might be maintained at any given locality in the building; that ventilation no longer meant the haphazard opening and closing of windows or the operation of the ventilating plant, but that it did mean tempering, purifying, humidifying, distribution and precise control of air throughout a building.

Mr. Womrath believes that the employees in the janitorial force have not been given the consideration which the importance of their work warrants in the national plan of education, and that as a consequence scant facilities have been provided for the education and training of the men and women who are employed in this branch of the public service. He believes that the janitorial and engineer work in the public schools is doomed to failure if the men and women employed are not properly qualified, and that to prepare them properly a janitor-engineer training school is necessary.

He outlined the essentials of a janitor-engineer training school organization illustrated by charts and applicable to both large and small cities. Three fourths of the salaries of the instructors in this school are provided by federal and state aid. Many lectures are given by volunteer qualified lecturers from colleges, universities, and large industrial manufacturing plants. An abundant supply of motion picture films are available, showing the right and wrong ways to operate ventilating systems, the right and wrong ways to fire a boiler, etc.

He is of the belief that every large school system should maintain a janitor-engineer training school, and that the smaller cities should seek the co-operation of industrial, trade, technical, extension and vocational schools and state universities, which can easily maintain training schools for janitor-engineers with the assistance of federal aid.

Practically all of the suggestions made in the papers read have been referred to committees, who will report at the next annual meeting of the association.

The papers will be printed in full in the transactions of the association, and upon their receipt copy will be sent to each member of the Board.

Very truly yours,
William T. Keough,
Business Agent.

CITY FUEL COMMISSION.

Robert E. Sexton has been appointed manager of the City Fuel Commission, with offices in Room 24, City Hall Annex. He began his duties upon the 18th instant, having as his assistants Joshua H. Jones and Joseph A. Driscoll, who will care for the office work. Those who desire to buy bags of the coke recently purchased should apply to this headquarters. The coke is now being bagged by Deer Island prisoners at the City Fuel Company's wharf, East Boston.

Mayor Curley has received word that the Interstate Commerce Commission has agreed to the use of the Charlestown Navy Yard for the storage of fuel. The next shipment, therefore, may be unloaded at the yard.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

Charles K. Sullivan, in the amount of $50, as compensation for damage to automobile caused by city ash cart at 683 Atlantic avenue, city proper, February 3, 1922.

Alice E. Carey, 20 Appleton street, South End, in the amount of $125, as compensation for personal injuries caused by car track projection at corner of Essex and Washington streets, city proper, June 27, 1922.

Lena Ahearn, 75 Decatur street, Charlestown, in the amount of $125, as compensation for personal injuries, caused by defect in Decatur street, Charlestown, opposite Chauncey place, May 29, 1922.

Rose M. Reidy, 467 Dudley street, Roxbury, in the amount of $175, as compensation for injuries caused by fall on sidewalk on Washington street, between Eustis and Nawn streets, Roxbury, December 31, 1921.

Annie Gardner, in the amount of $200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in Washington street, opposite Ruggles street, Roxbury, December 31, 1921.

Mary L. Kelly, in the amount of $250, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in street opposite 433 Centre street, Jamaica Plain, November 20, 1920.

Patrick McBride, in the amount of $350, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in sidewalk at 11 Florence street, South End, December 24, 1921.

Jennie E. Norris, in the amount of $125, as compensation for personal injuries caused by being struck by a city truck while riding in an automobile on Seaver street, at Columbia road, June 21, 1922.

James T. Murtagh, 901 City Hall Annex, in the amount of $75, as compensation for loss of valuables checked at Tenean Beach Bath, August 16, 1922.

Kate B. Reiss, 58 Hewlett street, Roslindale, in the amount of $42 as payment for land taken and all rights acquired in and all damages occasioned her estate on Selwyn street, West Roxbury, by the laying out and construction of said street.

Mary C. Mazzuchelli and Cecilia P. Mazzuchelli, in the amount of $100, as payment for all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned their estate on Elder street, Dorchester, by the laying out and construction of said street.

Louis Benson, 340 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, in the amount of $50, as compensation for personal injuries caused by a hole in the sidewalk at 83 Cornhill, city proper, February 7, 1922.

George D. Hurley, 17 Maverick square, East Boston, in the amount of $175, as compensation for injuries received while a passenger on the East Boston Ferry, March 7, 1922.

Upon May 25, 1922, this claim was approved for $75, and on October 10, 1922, an additional award was made of $100, making the total $175.

Charlotte Bragg, 226 East Cottage street, Dorchester, in the amount of $775, as compensation for personal injuries caused by a hole in the sidewalk in front of 88 Broad street, city proper, May 16, 1922.

H. L. Manning, administrator, 39 St. Botolph street, Back Bay, in the amount of $2 as refund of fee for lodging house license paid for by Maria F. Engel, now deceased, and never used by her at 134 Warren street, Roxbury.

Rev. Alan McL. Taylor, 22 Whitney park, Mattapan, in the amount of $14.59, as compensation for damage to Ford sedan caused by collision with auto patrol of Division No. 5 at Beacon and Park streets, Back Bay, September 5, 1922.

Martin J. Shufro, 852 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, in the amount of $50, as compensation for damage to automobile caused by blood from man he conveyed to hospital when commandeered by police in Edward Everett square, Dorchester, May 12, 1922.

LETTER OF MR. ALBEE.

Mayor Curley received a letter from E. F. Albee, president of the B. F. Keith Circuit of Theaters, New York, upon the 18th instant, heartily thanking him for his participation in the Edwin Booth portrait presentation ceremonies at Stratford-on-Avon, England:

1564 Broadway, New York,
October 17, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston, Mass.:

My dear Mayor Curley,—May I thank and congratulate you, your administration and the people of your city, upon your alert and gracious approval and co-operation on the occasion of the Edwin Booth Day celebration at Stratford-on-Avon when your message was read before a most distinguished international assemblage and now becomes a part of the historic archives of the Shakespeare shrine. The American Rotarians and their European associates, under whose auspices the Booth portrait was presented with so much dignity and sincerity, join with me in expressions of thanks and esteem for your important share in the success of this historic event. As the donor of the portrait, I feel doubly honored that you honored the enterprise with your interest and approval and I wish to assure you that your broad spirit and gracious attitude on this occasion are fully appreciated by the Rotary Clubs of America as well as by myself and my associates.

I would have written you immediately upon receipt of information from the Mayor of Stratford that you had honored the occasion with your message, but I have been in Cleveland where our newest and finest theater is to be dedicated on November 6 and I did not receive the Shakespeare Memorial Board of Governors' record of the ceremony until today.

Trusting you will pardon the delay, I beg to remain with great respect and gratitude,

Sincerely yours,
Edward F. Albee.

THE DIFFERENTIAL CASE.

A treatise covering the differential case will be sent to New England governors, mayors and representatives in Congress by Mayor Curley, as the result of a conference the Mayor held with F. S. Davis, chairman of the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce upon the 17th instant.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

M. De Matteo has been granted an extension of time for the completion of contract for sheet asphalt pavement in Humboldt avenue, from Walnut avenue to Seaver street, Roxbury, from October 15, to November 15, 1922.

The Holbrook Construction Company has been granted an extension of time of completion of the contract for recut granite block pavement in Dudley street, from Blue Hill avenue to Magnolia street, Roxbury and Dorchester, from October 21 to November 15, 1922.

The Mount Pleasant Contracting Company has been granted an extension of time for completion of contract for recutting and relaying granite block pavement in Causeway street, from Portland street to Beverly street; Beverly street, from Causeway street to Warren Bridge, city proper, from October 15 to November 15, 1922.

The Bermudez Company has been granted an extension of time for completion of contract for sheet asphalt pavement in Clarendon street, from St. James avenue to Stuart street; St. James avenue, from Berkeley street across Clarendon street; Exeter street, from Beacon street to Commonwealth avenue; and Hereford street, from Beacon street to Boylston street, city proper, from October 15 to November 15, 1922.

An extension of time has been granted for the completion of the contract made with the State Contracting Company for laying sheet asphalt pavement in Bickford street, from Heath street to Centre street, Roxbury, from October 14 to November 15. This extension is requested for the reason that rainy weather has delayed the contractor in laying asphalt top.

An extension of time has been granted the American Architectural Iron Company upon a contract made for installing new fire escape in the Elizabeth Peabody School, Poplar street, West End, until November 4, 1922.

The contract of the Henry J. Lyons Company for installing new sanitation in the Gilbert Stuart School, Richmond street, Dorchester, has been extended to October 31, 1922.

The contract of the C. & R. Construction Company for alterations in the English High and Public Latin Schools, Montgomery street, South End, Boston, has been extended until December 20, 1922.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACTS.

George J. Regan has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for building sewerage works in Weybosset street between Oakland street and Roanoke road, Dorchester and Hyde Park; private way between Board of Survey street No. 533 and Board of Survey street No. 555, Dorchester. Items ordered: Pump water from old house connection, not shown on plan, and pump water from large old water cistern at edge of trench near station 2 plus 70 in private way, between Board of Survey street No. 533 and Board of Survey street No. 553, Dorchester. The estimated cost of extra work being $27.

A. G. Tomasello & Son have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract, for reconstructing athletic field at Charlesbank Playground: Construct two catch-basins, one manhole, lay approximately 375 linear feet of 8-inch drain pipe, connecting same with existing 2-inch by 3-inch wooden sewer; construct and fill with loam jumping boxes and prepare take-offs, and regrade area surrounding same—the estimated cost of work being $1,200.

Charles Capone has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying artificial stone sidewalks in Dana avenue, from Hyde Park avenue to Folsom street, Hyde Park. Items ordered: Remove tree where directed, the estimated cost of extra work being $40.

The B. E. Grant Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for paving Essex street and Harrison avenue, city proper. Items ordered: Relay granite block paving where directed in Essex street, with gravel base and gravel joints, the estimated cost of extra work being $125.

The C. & R. Construction Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying high service water pipes in South street, High street, Oliver street, Milk street, McKinley square, city proper. Items ordered: Repair defective 8-inch gate valve, chipping and rehandling four 2-inch curves due to casting defects, cut out and cap 16-inch lower service pipe in Summer street at High street, the estimated cost of extra work being $250.

William Barrett & Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for catch-basins, manholes and minor drains in Boston. Items ordered: Cut out old piles and other timbering found in excavation for new catch-basins, the estimated cost of extra work being $154.

COLLECTION OF WATER BILLS.

Mayor Curley has declared vigorous war upon property owners who have failed to pay water taxes for service in the years between 1912 and 1921. These outstanding bills aggregate a sum in excess of $550,000.

The shutting off of service, designed to compel payment of these bills, which has been carried on through the summer months, has brought in only $75,000, or 12 per cent of the total sum that was owed the city early in June.

Mr. Curley has requested the city Law Department to prepare a law for presentation to the January legislative session making these bills a lien on properties involved. He has also instructed Assistant Superintendent Patrick G. Finnerty of the Water Service Income Branch to intensify his campaign of suspending the water service for properties where bills remain unpaid covering this span of years.

The lien against the property contemplated in the prospective law will be exactly like that applied in cases where taxes are owed the city on real estate. After demands for payment of the water bill are made, and unsatisfied, the city's lien in each property, equal to the face of the unpaid bill, will be sold to individuals who will proceed to collect the bill in a manner in direct contrast with the leisurely way the city does that work.

MAYOR PROVIDES FUEL.

Twenty Deer Island House of Correction short-term prisoners, serving sentences for nonsupport and drunkenness, began bagging 2,090 tons of coke upon the 18th instant, the first lot to arrive in Boston in connection with the city administration's plan of retailing fuel to the poorer families.

The coke is divided between the Metropolitan Coal Company's Chelsea waterfront pockets and those of the City Fuel Company in Border street, East Boston. The men will come up to Eastern Avenue Wharf on the city steamer "Hibbard" and reach the coal pockets about 8.30 a. m. They will work under armed guard.

On an eight-hour day basis it is expected the men can bag this lot in about three weeks, and it will then be shipped in hired trucks to ten sales stations in various sections of the city, where it will be distributed as equally as possible among all who apply.

Chairman Thomas F. Sullivan of the Transit Commission, who, with Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn and Superintendent of Supplies Frank A. Rock, constitute the emergency committee to handle the matter, named the stations as follows:

East Boston, Eagle street paving yard.

Charlestown, Medford and Tufts streets water yard.

West End, North Grove street sanitary yard.

South End, Albany street paving yard.

South Boston, Old Station 6 building, Broadway.

Roxbury, Highland street paving yard.

Jamaica Plain, Child street paving yard.

Dorchester, Hancock street paving yard.

Brighton, Western avenue water yard.

Hyde Park, Hyde Park paving yard.

These centers will be opened for business as soon as each is supplied with its quota of the first coke shipment.

IN MEMORIAM—JOHN N. COLE.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement upon being appraised of the death of Hon. John N. Cole, State Commissioner of Public Works:

"I have just extended a very earnest assurance of my sympathy and condolence to Mrs. John N. Cole of Andover, upon the death of Hon. John N. Cole, State Commissioner of Public Works, who was my intimate friend for many years. Mr. Cole was a man of the finest civic spirit, high character, probity and honor, of splendid devotion to an enormous circle of friends, and who served the Commonwealth with the greatest sincerity of effort, and who leaves a blessed and hallowed memory.

"I greatly mourn his death, especially at this time, when important ways and means are being devised for the promotion of commercial and industrial interests under the auspices of the Commonwealth. The death of Mr. Cole is irreparable, and I sincerely deplore his loss."

MAYOR WINS CONVENTION.

Mayor Curley received the following telegram from Institutions Commissioner Dr. David J. Johnson at Detroit, Michigan:

DETROIT, MICH., October 16, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—I have the honor and satisfaction to report that at last night's meeting of the annual convention of American Prison Association, in session at Detroit, your Honor's invitation to association to hold next congress in Boston was presented and after heated contest it was unanimously voted to accept your invitation and hold congress in Boston in 1923.

Respectfully,
DAVID J. JOHNSON.

THE NEW HEALTH UNIT IN BOSTON.

By Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Commissioner of the Health Department.

"For the use and enjoyment of the inhabitants of the City of Boston," the late George Robert White of Boston willed to the city considerable of his valuable property to be held as a permanent charitable trust fund, the net income of which is to be used for "creating works of public utility and beauty."

As a result, therefore, of the foresight, civic pride, and unselfishness of the late George Robert White, Mayor James M. Curley and the trustees under the provisions of the will have recommended the establishnent of a health center, or health unit, as a work of public utility for the use and enjoyment of the inhabitants of the city, as described in Mr. White's will. The trustees have selected that portion of the city where such a health center would be of the greatest use, and has decided upon a site upon which is now located the discontinued harbor police station building, on the corner of Battery and Commercial streets, in the North End.

The 1920 United States Census figures give as the population of Ward 5 of Boston,— the major portion of the inhabitants of which reside in the North End, — 63,267. The North End (Ward 5) comprises 750 acres of land, and 84 persons reside in the ward per acre. Under the old ward lines, which more closely identify the sections with the wards, the population of this section of the city was exceeded only by two wards; these were included in the Dorchester district of Boston, where there is much more land area, and consequently less people to the area and less congestion. It would appear, then, that the section of the city selected as that in which a health center would be of benefit to the most people is the North End. The present building will be reconstructed or remodeled, if the old police station building will permit of economic remodeling, so as to afford quarters for those agencies interested in public health education and promotion. In an establishment of this kind it is very necessary that such agencies as are best adapted and equipped for the carrying on of the work incidental to a health center have not only suitable and convenient quarters for administrative operation, but be housed together under one roof for the purpose of co-ordination and co-operation of effort. The needs of the people whom the center will serve can best be attended to if all such agencies and their resources are available to the people at one time and place.

From the standpoint of health education, the establishment of health centers has long been recognized as one of the best means for inculcating in the people of the community the need for sanitation and care of the health, having in mind always the present day slogan of curative medicine, prevention rather than eradication after prevention has either been ignored, carried out disinterestedly or unsuccessfully. The success which has been attained in the operation of the present health unit, established and conducted by the city under municipal appropriation, under the direction of the city Health Department, augurs well for the future success of the contemplated unit in the North End established through the financial medium of the George Robert White Fund. While the care and maintenance of the unit, once established, is a financial obligation on the City of Boston, yet let it not be forgotten that to the generosity of the late George Robert White is the credit due for the initial step in the establishment of such a public utility, because the present cost of labor and materials renders it almost prohibitive for the City of Boston, with the many demands on its financial resources, to undertake the expenditure of money for the erection of new buildings. But with the money for the establishment of such a building, or the remodeling of an existing building, already assured through such a trust fund, the city can then with less monetary stringency appropriate sufficient money to enable the added function to be economically and satisfactorily carried on.

It is not to be doubted for a moment that the new health center, when in operation, will bring as good results from the standpoint of public health education and promotion as has the present center since its establishment in 1917. It is not to be doubted, also, that the successes to be met with in this function of municipal administration will show itself to such an extent that the continued establishment of health centers in other sections of the city as the need presents itself will be a matter of logical and economical occurrence.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 147.

Upon October 12, Columbus Day, there occurred the third parade of the Boston Police Force which has taken place in recent years. I wish to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to the department for the excellent demonstration which it gave and the success attained.

This was made possible because of hearty co-operation and the individual effort which each member of the force gave, and I desire officially to congratulate the superintendent, the officers and men of the department on their fine appearance and the enthusiasm shown. Numerous messages have come to me extending congratulation on the excellent showing of the department, and I wish to share these with each and every member of the force.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

REPORT ON TRIAL BOARD.

A communication was received from the Trial Board, under date of Sept. 26, 1922, to whom was referred at the meeting of Sept. 11, 1922 (see p. 117), a report from the Schoolhouse Custodian of damage to the boiler in the Tappan School-house on May 18, 1922, which did not, however, involve dismissal of school, reporting that the Trial Board has held two hearings in this matter: The first on Sept. 19, which was attended by the custodian concerned Mr. William D. Fox, and by the Schoolhouse Custodian; and the second on Sept. 22, which was also attended by the custodian, the Schoolhouse Custodian, and Schoolhouse Commissioner Mahar, the latter submitting a report of an examination made by an inspector of the insurance company.

From the report submitted, it appears that nine sections of the boiler have been damaged because of low water; and on account of the great age of the boiler, which has been in service for about thirty years, and the difficulty in securing new sections therefor, the Schoolhouse Commissioners decided to install a new boiler in place thereof, at a total cost of about $1100.

From the statement of the custodian, it appears that on the date in question he was asked to furnish some heat in the building. The boiler had been under banked fires for about five days. The custodian started up the fire, and at the time noticed that the gauge glass showed about one and one-half inches of water. He did not inspect the blow-off cock to see whether it was open or closed; he did not test the gauge glass to see whether it was operative; and he did not try the gauge cocks on the boiler to determine whether the water level shown in the gauge glass was correct.

After starting up his fire, he opened up the feed valve to admit additional water to the boiler. when his attention was attracted by some sound; whereupon he shut off the feed, inspected the boiler, and found that a number of sections were cracked and the boiler emptied of water, the fusible plug had blown, and the blow-off cock was partly open.

FINDING—That the accident was due to the negligence of the custodian in that he allowed the boiler to go for a substantial period of time without testing the gauge glass, trying the gauge cocks, or inspecting the blow-off cock, in consequence of which the water was allowed to escape from the boiler without his knowledge, and the boiler was damaged beyond possibility of repair.

RECOMMENDATION — That the custodian be fined the sum of fifteen dollars ($15), to be deducted from his weekly compensation at the discretion of the Business Agent, at a rate not exceeding three dollars ($3) per week.

The report was accepted, and the recommendation contained therein adopted.

APPOINTMENT OF MATRON, ROXBURY HIGH SCHOOL.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Oct. 2, 1922, reporting that Theresa M. Thompson, provisionally employed as matron, Roxbury High School, having successfully passed the civil service examination, is eligible for permanent appointment, and recommending that such appointment be made, to take effect Aug. 26, 1922.

ANNUITY TO WIDOW OF WILLIAM C. SWAN.

Coun. BRICKLEY offered an order—That an annuity of six hundred dollars be allowed and paid to the widow of William C. Swan, late a member of the Fire Department, who died from injuries received in the performance of his duty; said annuity to continue so long as she remains unmarried, and to be charged to the appropriation for Fire Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SUPPRESSION OF KU KLUX KLAN.

Coun. GILBODY offered a resolution: Whereas, an unwelcome, un-American secret organization has made its appearance in this city under the name of the Ku Klux Klan; and

Whereas, This said society attacks in secrecy our foremost citizens and citizenship in a most vile and scurrilous underhanded manner; be it

Resolved, That we, members of the Boston City Council, are unalterably opposed to the Ku Klux Klan and its growth in this city, and urge the authorities to bend every effort to suppress this organization.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I ask for a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order. In passing, I would like to say just a few words While in my opinion and in the opinion of the leaders of the societies attacked by this organization, the best and simplest way is to ignore them entirely, giving them just as little consideration as possible, in view of the fact that reliable and reputable business men have told me that meetings have been called in certain parts of the city today in the interest of this society, and that is a matter of positive knowledge, I have introduced this resolution for the sole purpose of acquainting our citizens with the fact that the city government of Boston is opposed to the organization. I ask a suspension of the rule for the passage of the resolution.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, while I have no objection to the resolution, I do want to go on record as having a word to say concerning the Ku Klux Klan. I think, first of all, that it is a joke. I think it ought to be laughed out of town rather than treated seriously. Organizations such as this cannot exist in America long. I think the less attention people pay to the Ku Klux Klan and such movements the sooner they will die. I see, however, no harm in the resolution, but I do want to go on record as saying that serious-minded people are treating the matter as a joke, that the whole thing will end in a joke, and that in the minds of proper people the whole movement will be deemed as of very little consequence.

The preambles and resolution were passed under suspension of the rule.

POSSIBLE APPROPRIATION FOR POLICE BAND.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the City Auditor be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council whether or not, in his opinion, it is possible for the city to expend money for the purchase of uniforms or instruments for, or otherwise contribute to the maintenance of, the band recently organized in the Police Department.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I want to say that I have introduced that order at the suggestion of several citizens, for the following reasons: The Boston Police Department, while the City of Boston pays the bills, is not controlled by us but by a state commissioner, a man appointed by the Governor. I have no desire to reflect on the commissioner, because I think Police Commissioner Wilson is going to make a fine commissioner. Now, the band of the Traffic Department, I understand, has made wonderful progress, as has been pointed out to me by several gentlemen, two of whom have written letters which I desire to have made a part of the record. The men who play in the band are all veterans of the late war, and they now have to buy their instruments, their uniforms and their music themselves, paying the bills out of their earnings. It seems to me Boston ought to follow in the path of New York, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Chicago in this matter, doing something to help out this organization. I, for one, would like to see the traffic band of the Boston Police Department the official band of the City of Boston. Further, I would like to see the City of Boston provide the means to pay for the instruments, music and uniforms. I am backed up in this proposition by several gentlemen, two of whom have written to me, and I will pass the letters over to the stenographer to be made a part of the record. I trust that the order will pass under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. MORIARTY—Who are the letters from?

Coun. WATSON—For the benefit of the member I will read them.

Coun. MORIARTY—I just wished the names, that is all.

Coun. WATSON—The names are Allen R. Frederick and Russell B. Clark. I will read the letters. [Reading.]

"Allen R. Frederick,
193 Hanover Street,
Boston, September 30, 1922.

Hon. James A. Watson,
City Hall, Boston, Mass.:

My dear Mr. Watson,—It has been called to my attention that the police band of the traffic squad is supported solely by the members of the Boston Police Department.

I have heard considerable comment on this matter—the general comment being that the City of Boston with its prestige and its love of good music should certainly assume the task of footing the bill.

I would strongly urge upon you the wisdom of introducing a bill into the City Council which would provide for the financing of our famous Boston police band, and I am doubly sure that it will receive the hearty support of the Council.

Very cordially yours,
Allen R. Frederick."

The other letter is as follows:

"Bullet Proof and Nonshatterable Glass Sales Co.,
Carney Building, 43 Tremont Street,
Boston, Mass., September 28, 1922.

Mr. James A. Watson,
City Council, Boston, Mass.:

My dear Mr. Watson,—I have had the pleasure on several occasions of listening to the municipal band and upon inquiring how the band is financed, I find that this duty lays solely with the members of Boston's finest.

It seems very fitting, at this time, to suggest that together with the excellent work which you have accomplished as councilor"—

I did not read that part before.

—"a lasting remembrance of your service to the city and to its people, might be further enhanced if you were instrumental in persuading the City Council to finance the now splendidly organized band of one of the finest, if not the finest, traffic squad in the country."

I will have to interject a word about its being the finest traffic squad in the country, that may be so, although I may have a little doubt about it. They may be fine, but not extra.

"I understand that at the recent convention of traffic police, our largest cities,—New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, especially New York, —voted to adopt some of the signals now in force in Boston, and if our signals are good enough for New York, which wholly maintains its municipal band, surely Boston can do as much for its guardians of the public safety.

May I thank you for your interest you have taken in the past, and trust the future holds equally as brilliant a career.

Most cordially yours,
Russell B. Clark."

I trust that the rule will be suspended, and that the order will be put upon its passage at this time.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I would like to read the order [examining order]. I want to say that I have no objection to getting the information asked for as to whether money may be spent for this purpose. But when the Police Department wanted to buy riot guns they did not come to the City Council and ask for the right to spend the money, but simply went ahead and purchased them. They went out and bought the riot guns, and they have them now. In so far as the Police Department are concerned, they have, in my estimation, more power than any other body that was ever constituted in the world. The Police Commissioner, if he so decides, has a right under the law to go out and buy an individual automobile for each policeman to cover his route. I feel that if the Police Commissioner saw fit to allow men in the department to form a band—and I don't like to talk about the dead, but would rather talk about the living—while I didn't even think they would be given that liberty, the department can, if it wishes, furnish means to support the band. I feel, personally, while I am just as great a lover of music as anybody, that if there are going to be instruments used and band organized, and we are going to pay for the uniforms, the instruments and the music, we should give them to our school children, not to the policemen or any other body of citizens. Give them to the children; give them to every school. The idea of making the policemen's the official band of the city will never get my vote, because we have too much police rule now. I had called to my attention yesterday on the street where I happened to live a contractor working out there with an engine and a cement mixer on the street, and making a great racket. I happened to go to church, and during my few minutes in church all I could hear was that engine and cement mixer working. I went out to the job and saw the city inspector and found out that they got a permit from the Police Department. Now, so far as the Police Department is concerned, they have absolutely no right to give anybody permission to violate the law. I looked at the permit, and one part of the permit was written in, saying, "no noise."

I went to the policeman on the beat, and I said to him, "Have you read that permit?" He said, "No." I said, "Can't you stop them?" and he said, "No; you will have to go to the captain." It depends on who violates the law. Of course, I live in a residential section of South Boston, and it is in that thickly populated section that this sort of thing was allowed to be carried on. The Police Department would not have allowed yesterday any contractor to go out on Commonwealth avenue and have an engine and cement mixer at work in that way, but it is allowed over where the people live. I feel that the Police Department now has too much power. I believe the Police Commissioner has too much power. As far as voting to find out whether we have the right to appropriate money for such purposes, I have no objection to getting light on the matter. But I do object to giving any more power to that department. If there is going to be any more money spent for instruments and uniforms, I believe in giving it to the School Department, so that the children of all the citizens may have an opportunity to learn music and to play, being taught by proper officials.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, it is unfortunate that the councilor opposite and I have to disagree on this proposition. I don't know just how to answer him, in view of the fact that he has no objection to the order. After stating that he has no objection to the order, however, he then proceeds to oppose it in a way by stating what he favors and does not favor concerning equipping school children or police officers with band instruments, uniforms, and so on. I am at a loss just how to reply to him, except to say this. He tells us about the Police Department permitting something in South Boston that it would not permit on Commonwealth avenue. He may be right about that. I will not argue the matter with him, but he ought to know that any emergency work that may be required on Sunday must be allowed by the Police Department. That is the case, for instance, in regard to circuses which come to town. Where they have to work over Sunday to get the tent and grounds ready, the permit for that work must be issued by the Police Department. I suppose that is what happened in connection with the work that the gentleman has referred to in South Boston. Now, in regard to permitting the school children to have musical instruments, I favor that, too, and I understand that the school children do have them. The high schools have bands, fife and drum corps, and I presume that the School Department pays for the fifes, drums and bugles. But, if not, I would be glad to vote for an order providing that the city bear the expense. The gentleman is one who is not pro-Boston Police Department, but I do not speak as one who is pro-Boston Police Department, either. The gentleman opposite may have his feelings in the matter, but he has not had some experiences with the new department that I have had. He never rode in a wagon since the new department came in, and I have, and the public of Boston knew it. I put the war off the front page, had an exclusive! This was simply because of contact with a rather fresh police officer, who used his power and gave me a ride. I hold no brief for members of the department individually, but as a whole I think they are doing fairly well. I don't say that they are 100 per cent perfect. But when they have a band, and are playing even to amuse themselves in their nonworking hours, they should not be compelled to buy the instruments. Let us be broad. The gentleman opposite is sincere in his opposition, but some things are like waving a red flag in front of a bull to him. Sometimes these things appeared in the same way in the old days, but I got older and acquired the philosophy of old age. He still retains his buoyancy and enthusiasm in these matters. I remember back in 1898, in the old Common Council, that every time a copper showed his head I wanted to hit him with a club. I don't blame the gentleman for his feelings in the matter, but I will blame him if he continues to oppose the order supplying instruments and using as an argument against it the idea that he would rather see the school boys have a band. I will help to have the school boys get a band. I have lived near a school in Roxbury, where they desired to have a band, and I paid my pro rata and have continued to do it since, when I had the opportunity and means, entirely independent of the city. We ought to encourage things of this kind, and I believe the councilor after due reflection will look at the matter differently. We have a very good Police Commissioner now, a man brought up in the old school, not like his predecessor—and his predecessor; Mr. Curtis, was my friend, although I did not agree with his ideas at all. But the present commissioner, I am told, almost universally, is trying to make good. His last action, compelling police officers to reside in Boston, shows a trend in the right direction, and I am satisfied that deep down in his heart the present Police Commissioner believes in home rule for Boston, that he believes the Police Department should be controlled by the citizens of Boston and not by a metropolitan commissioner. While he has not expressed himself in that way to me, I know him and knew his father before him. His father was a foreman in the Brighton paving yard. Now, I hold no brief for Herbert Wilson, but when he was Building Commissioner he made good, as we all know, and if he makes as good a Police Commissioner, as I believe he will, we are to be congratulated on his being selected for that position, even although he is a Republican, and I hate like the devil to say anything kind about the Republicans. I sincerely trust that the order will pass under suspension of the rule, to which I trust Coun. Moriarty will not object, because the order does not provide means, but simply asks for information. I think, when he considers the matter seriously, in the bigness of his heart—because, after all, he has a great big heart—he will agree with me, although he may not be a friend of the present coppers, but we ought to help the band. The Police Department members now have to pay for their own instruments, and I feel that they should not be obliged to do so. I sincerely hope that the order will pass under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, Coun. Watson has me wrong. I have no feeling against the new commissioner, and I had no feeling against the old commissioner. There was simply a difference of opinion in regard to the running of the department. He and I differed. He had a right to his opinion, and I believed I had a right to mine. As I say, I did not believe they would allow any organization in the Police Department, and I was surprised that they should allow them to have a band, let alone anything else, because no men could be under more oppression than has been exerted in the Police Department. When a man went off duty, if he went to Cambridge, he had to notify his captain that he was going out of town, and if he lived in Brighton he had to go out of town to get home.

Coun. WATSON—No, he didn't.

Coun. MORIARTY—Well, if he rode on the cars and went out through Western avenue, he had to go through Cambridge to get home. If he didn't he would have to ride around a farther distance and take a great deal more time. If this order came in from the Police Commissioner, asking that money be furnished to equip the Police Department with instruments, I would vote for it, but I don't think we ought to give him anything he does not ask for. As far as the law is concerned, he has a right to take this power without our giving it to him, and nobody knows that better than the man who has introduced the order. Again, as far as the School Department is concerned, we cannot give them any money, because their act is just as broad as that of this department. They take what they want, and we don't give them anything. After the Police Department and the School Department take what they want, we come in here and spend what they have left. The School Department gets its money through legislation and the Police Department gets its money through legislation. I don't believe in putting any false notions into the heads of those running either department, because I think both of them are taking more money than they are rightfully entitled to for the protection of the citizens, and for the care of the children of Boston. As I say, when they desire to buy a riot gun they do not come down and try to get any assistance here. They simply go out and get them and the citizens of Boston have to pay for them, whether they like it or not. As far as the policemen are concerned, I will vote to raise their pay tomorrow.

Coun. WATSON—I won't.

Coun. MORIARTY—Well, I will, and maybe I don't like any of them, but I might say that a good fellow may hit the job some day, and I don't want to stop the good fellow. But as far as putting any false notions into the head of the Police Commissioner now, I do not care to do so. As far as I know, I am on very good terms with him. When he was Building Commissioner I know I was. Of course, as Police Commissioner, I don't know until I go there whether I am on good terms with him or not.

Coun. WATSON—Perhaps you don't dare to go up and take a chance.

Coun. MORIARTY—Well, I am not afraid of anything, and I have always been ready to take a chance on anything once. That is why I decided to be with the old force. My sympathy was with them, and it is with them yet, although it is not worth anything, because sympathy won't buy a thing. Of course, because I opposed Station 2 the newspapers of Boston saw fit to say that I was trying to hamper the Police Department. No, I was trying to hamper some of the real estate promoters, and I mentioned their names. It may be that those two fellows who wrote the letters may be interested in instruments that they want to sell. I don't know who they are. Their names sound to me as though they might be the worshippers of "law and order." I don't know them, and may be they are not. But I have heard so much "law and order" that I have got into the frame of mind that, when I hear some of these fellows shouting "law and order" I think of the story of the man who stole goods and shouted "Thief," to attract attention to somebody else, while he had the goods in his own possession. So it may be that the men who wrote the two letters want to sell instruments. As far as the policemen are concerned, I am not against them individually and would not walk across the street to do one of them an injury. I know a great many of them might more than walk across the street to do me an injury. But as far as getting information is concerned, I am always glad to get information, because if we have a right to spend money for the Police Department, I would like to know it. I don't think we have. I think the councilor who introduced the order knows that we have not. We might have a right to suggest, but as far as authorizing the department to buy anything is concerned, he knows that we have no such right, because he has been here longer than I have and he knows that that question has come up here time and time again. I hope that we have some such rights as far as that department is concerned, but I feel very sure that we have not. I am not in sympathy with the purpose of the order. The only sympathy I have in being willing the order should pass is that we may get light. If the councilor on the other side, after he gets the information, finds that he has a right to introduce an order to buy instruments for the Boston Police Department, I will vote "no" on such an order if it is introduced. But if there is something in the law that gives us any such right, I have not been able to find it, with my limited intelligence. If somebody else can show me that we have some such power, I would like to know it, but I certainly don't know about it. I am willing to find out whether that is so, perhaps using the information in some other way at some other time. But if you get the information and find that you are right and that we have a right to pass such an order, if you then introduce the order to buy instruments for the Boston Police Department, I will vote "no" on buying the instruments.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, all I am trying to do is to provide means whereby the members of the traffic band of the Police Department may be relieved of the expense of buying the instruments. Whether that might be done by requesting the Police Commissioner to find the means, or through an order that we introduce or an order initiated by the Mayor, I care not. I am not interested in simply putting in an order to find out what we can do, but I do want to accomplish something. In order that we may find out what we can do, and perhaps be able to accomplish something, I ask that this be referred to the Executive Committee, to frame an order, and then the Police Commissioner may find the means.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am opposed to the order, and I am going to vote "no" on it now. I was willing to vote for the order on its face value. The order reads plainly "That the City Auditor be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council whether or not in his opinion it is possible for the city to expend money in the purchase of uniforms or instruments for, or otherwise contribute to, the maintenance of the band recently organized in the Police Department." I said I was willing to be enlightened. Now, if the order is not introduced in that spirit, I am opposed to the order. I have said frankly that I would vote against it if it came in here in the form of providing the means for this purpose, it being found that we had the right to do it. I did feel that the order in its original form might very well go through, but it now seems to be getting beyond that point. I believe the councilor on the other side knows that the act creating the Police Commissioner was the widest act that was ever created in any state, giving to the commissioner, one man, the greatest power that any man in a similar position has ever held. Of course the gentleman opposite may go to the Police Commissioner in this matter, and if the Police Commissioner sees the matter in the same light that he does, the commissioner will have the right to go out and buy the instruments, and, whether or not we like it, we will have to meet the expense. I am now opposed to the order.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I have been trying to use oil, rather than sand in this proposition, but I do not seem to be making much headway. I am willing to accept the gentleman's suggestion that we simply vote on the order as a means of obtaining light, at this time, if he has no objection. I now move a suggestion of the rule that the order may go on its passage, so that we may get the information, and I understand that the gentleman opposite would like the information. I think that will satisfy the gentleman opposite.

The order was declared passed. Coun. MORIARTY doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The order was passed, by roll call, yeas 4, nays 2.

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Ford, Lane, Watson—4.

Nays—Coun. Moriarty, Walsh—2.

QUESTION ABOUT HISTORIES IN SCHOOLS.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the School Committee be requested to inform the City Council whether or not any of the books named in the following list are in use in the public schools, either as text books or reference books:

"A History of the United States for Schools," by McLaughlin and Van Tyne, 1919. D. Appleton & Co.

"School History of the United States, Revised," 1920, by Albert Bushnell Hart. American Book Company.

"American History for Grammar Grades," by Everett Barnes, 1920. D. C. Heath & Co.

"Short American History by Grades," Parts I. and II. by Everett Barnes. D. C. Heath & Co.

"School History of the United States," by John P. O'Hara. 1919. MacMillan Company.

"Burke's Speech on Conciliation," edited by C. H. Ward, 1919. Scott, Foresman & Co.

"Our United States," by W. B. Guitteau, 1919. Silver, Burdett & Co.

"American History," by D. S. Muzzey, 1920. Ginn & Co.

"Builders of Democracy," by Edwin Greenlaw, 1918. Scott, Foresman & Co.

"History of the American People," by Willis Mason West, 1918. Allyn & Bacon.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I ask for suspension of the rule that the order may be put upon its passage. I do not intend to take more than two or three minutes on this proposition before the Council, merely stating that I hold in my hand three lengthy articles in the New York American of October 1, a week ago yesterday, of the Sunday prior to that and the Sunday prior to that, which show that these books and other books are pure British propaganda. I realize that there is no opportunity to stop this pro-British propaganda without the assistance of the press. There is less attention paid to British propaganda in the Boston papers than to some minor affairs that happened yesterday and the day before. I believe if E. A. Grozier of the Boston Post, William Randolph Hearst of the Boston American, the owners of the Boston Herald, and Enwright of the Telegram, and the other big fellows of all the Boston papers, knew that this propaganda was going on and that these books were being handed to our children, they would soon blaze the way to bringing about a reform. I have no desire to curry favor with the press. If I had, I should probably make no headway. The press will give a front page picture of Jerry Watson with a black eye, will make fun of me in some other respects, but will not let their boys run a line of consequence concerning my action concerning British propaganda. Free press! Have we a free press? I doubt it, sincerely. I care nothing for the men who run the papers, because I observe the law better than they. I am one who believes in obeying the law, who believes in real law and order, and not law and order for the privileged class. We might as well talk plainly, fellow members, and act in a straightforward manner on these things. We are free men because of the action of men in the early days upon whom aspersions are now being cast. When Sam Adams, Otis and others were blazing the way for this free republic, so called, the press of Boston of that time and the intellectual giants and men of wealth were refusing the multitude who were crying out to be liberated and who were willing to lay down their lives for the freedom of their country. So we need not care what some people say. But we do want results. We need more publicity—not for Jerry Watson or Coun. Watson, not for any members of the body. I care not what is said about me, and many things have been said which have been unfavorable and which have hurt my home life considerably. But, as I said before, I am intensely American. As I said a week ago, I am a descendant of the real American stock. I care nothing for the slurs of the Kansas City Star, or of the Asheville Times, when they blackguard as "Irish Jerry Watson." I am as proud of the Irish as an Irishman would be, but when they refer to me as being Irish in an insulting tone, it hurts me to the quick, because I am just as good an American as any one can be. I have to meet with insults, taunts and injuries in Boston, because I am frank and outspoken and sometimes cruelly harsh. I oftentimes get a slap in the face and sometimes turn the other cheek, in order to carry my point. I have been traduced and injured because I have the courage of my convictions. Public office to me is nothing. If the public do not like my actions, they have their redress. If they do not desire me to represent them, they have a real American way of replacing me by somebody else. The papers cannot make or break me, and I care little for their opinion, whether that of the editor or of the lowest minion they can employ to assassinate character. I have had my say, but I do wish to have the citizens of Boston know that scant attention is being paid to attempts on my part and those of my affiliates to eliminate from the schools and public libraries vicious British propaganda. In that connection I am going to read to my associates a letter which I was proud to receive. It is from Charles Grant Miller, a man who is intensely American, an associate of Senators Borah, LaFollette and Hiram Johnson, and of other genuine Americans. I will read it for the benefit of my fellow members:

"30 Pennsylvania Avenue, Rosebank, Staten "Island, New York City, October 2, 1922.

"Hon. James A. Watson,
38 Thornton Street, Boston, Mass.:

"Dear Mr. Watson,—Your recent favors have been received with appreciation and I have observed with the keenest interest the brave battle you are successfully waging in Boston.

"If we had such men as you in public office in every city of our country, the propaganda snakes would soon be killed off.

"For about a year and a half I have been trying to find somebody in Boston heavy enough to swing the Anglicized school history matter there. Correspondence has been opened with several, but they have turned out to be too timid or too weak for effective leadership. There has been a lot of talk there, I understand; but mere talk, without its translation into systematic action, can be harmful rather than helpful. This vice we are fighting, like any other vice, 'when seen too oft, familiar with its face, we first endure, then pity, then embrace.' We can't talk a snake to death; we've got to hit it with a club.

"All New England could be reached and stirred up on the school history matter by a stiff fight in Boston. It can be managed in such manner, as it was here, that all of the newspapers must carry the facts. They cannot get away from reporting an official investigation. Thus the whole public will get the whole truth.

"Various methods have been employed to force school boards to investigate the charges against the histories. In Boston, it now seems, conditions are favorable for the City Council to call upon the Board of Education for an official investigation of the complaints against all of the texts that are in use in the Boston public schools.

"Inclosed is a copy of the booklet, 'Treason to American Tradition,' treating of most of the Anglicized histories. Of the books treated therein the following are in the list of text books authorized for use in the public schools of Boston:

"In the Elementary Schools: McLaughlin and Van Tyne, Everett Barnes, Hart.

"And in the High and Latin Schools: McLaughlin, Muzzey, Hart, West."

They are the ones I have referred to in my order.

"I do not know to what extent these books are actually used in Boston; but they are authorized by the School Committee, and it is customary for each principal to select out of the authorized list such texts as he prefers to use. I am quite sure that McLaughlin and Van Tyne and Muzzey are very generally used. The fact that they are authorized for use is sufficient basis for investigation of the charges that they are un-American in their teachings.

"Under other cover I am sending you a copy of the voluminous report of the New York School Committee, which investigated these charges. The printing of this report was very limited and it is now unattainable, and since I have frequent and important uses for it, I am only loaning it to you, and you may kindly return it after you have digested it, if you will.

"Your enrollment in The Patriot League, with membership fee, was received, and I am very glad and proud indeed to have you with us. The membership has not yet become large, but it includes some of the very best people in the country, strategically located and willing to work. It is still only in process of formation; but in a little while there will be some big guns going simultaneously in many sections of the country.

"Every one of the great national patriotic organizations is now officially in line on the history matter, with the exception of the American Legion, which I am assured will act in its national convention soon to be held in New Orleans. I entertain no delusion regarding the patriotic organizations. They are no more patriotic than anybody else—some of them less so. But, psychologically, they stamp the movement as straight--out American, their resolutions make fine publicity, and their individual members in any community can be set into activity at proper time. The chief purpose of The Patriot League is to use the Anglicized histories as a base of operations from which to lead the patriotic organizatons just as fast and as far as they will follow in a crusade of popular appeal against all British propaganda.

"Kindly let me know what prospect you see of getting an investigation of the school histories in Boston.

"With highest regard and best wishes always,

"Yours sincerely,
"Charles Grant Miller."

I might read extracts from the books I have referred to, but it is sufficient to say that the statements in some of them are almost blasphemous. These books refer to John Hancock as a smuggler, they refer to Sam Adams as a low man, they refer to every patriot of the early days, James Otis and others, as being the scum of the earth. Nevertheless, these books are permitted to remain in our schools for our children to read. My girl, twenty-six years of age, went to the primary school for three years, and then, becoming ill, I put her into a parochial school, not paid for by the money of the citizens, but by my money and that of those who belong to our great church. Thank God, no histories can be found there that are un-American; no pro-British history is read in the parochial schools of this district; and I will thank God for the day when the public schools of Boston and of the country will no longer permit proselyting propaganda in favor of Great Britain and against our country to be read by our children. The member opposite, Coun. Gilbody, introduced an order which will do no harm and which may do good, with reference to the Ku Klux, but I think we all realize the fact that the best way to treat the Ku Klux is simply to let them alone. That is not the only un-American organization which has sprung up in the history of this country. History tells us about the old know-nothing days, and other movements in the same line. But they don't amount to any thing. They are worthy of nothing but ridicule, and they will pass away very quickly, as they have done in the past. Did you know that Telfair Minturn, secretary of the Loyal Coalition, is one of those interested in this Ku Klux movement, and did you know that one of the members is Demarist Lloyd also of the Loyal Coalition, who has gone to England, intending to come back here again with more propaganda in favor of "English speaking peoples?" That is the proposition here — An Anglicized America. But they cannot do it, they cannot do it. All Americans, regardless of their creed, regardless of their forefathers or their parents' birthplace, even though it was across the brine, will not permit any proselyting anglicizing of the history of our institutions nor will they permit interference with the right of anyone to worship God as his conscience dictates, as provided for originally in one of the first articles of our glorious Constitution, which they are trying now to undermine. I did not intend to speak so long, but it may be said, and truthfully so, that I have an obsession where my Americanism is concerned. The Kansas City Star, says that I am Irish. If I were, I would be proud of it. I am only half Irish, because I am married to an Irish father and mother's daughter, and some people say she is the best part of the family, and they may be right. But I am as intensely American as she is, and I sincerely trust that the press will do something towards suppressing this propaganda. You men of the press may say that Coun. Lane, whose forbears came over in the "Mayflower," instituted this attempt that I am humbly making, if you desire. Forget me, if you wish, but be American. Write your copy for the desk and let them tear it to pieces, if they will, and let the blame be placed where it belongs. Don't you attempt to be censors of what is right or wrong. I have no feeling against one member of the press gallery here, not a particle, but I would have if I thought he was pro-British in his leanings. I trust that the order will pass under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NEW ENGLAND DIFFERENTIAL SITUATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The industrial future of New England and the happiness of the people is dependent in a large measure upon the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the matter of differentials. The Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce in March of the present year filed its petition for a hearing upon the proposition to secure for New England and New York the same measure of equity in the matter of freight rates for all ports on the Atlantic Coast.

In answer to the petition the Interstate Commerce Commission have held hearings in Boston during the past week before a referee and final hearings will be held in November at Washington. At the present time a flat rate obtains along the entire Pacific Coast west of Chicago, while a favored rate obtains for all maritime cities on the Atlantic Coast with the exception of New England and New York. New York being the terminus for many of the railroad trunk lines, because of its position, has not been seriously affected by the discriminatory system of differentials in operation during the past twenty years. The effect on New England, however, has been disastrous owing to the fact that it is impossible for foreign shipping to secure ballast cargo, with the result that our export trade has practically been destroyed and we have become largely a port of call. The justice of our claim for equity in the matter of rates is such that properly presented no fair-minded jury can decide our case adversely. The appended communication from the Maritime Association of the Chamber of Commerce contains a request for financial aid which the importance of the case justifies favorable action upon and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and hereby is authorized to co-operate with the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce in the matter of the Boston port differential case as co-complainant, at an additional expense not to exceed $2,500, said expense to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SECRETARY OF STATISTICS DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Since the death of Dr. Edward M. Hartwell the Statistics Department has been functioning without the services of a secretary and it is advisable that this defect be overcome at once.

I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying amendment to the ordinances.

Respectfully yours,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

An Ordinance Concerning the Salary of the Secretary of the Statistics Department.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. Section one of chapter thirty-three of the Revised Ordinances of nineteen hundred and fourteen is hereby amended by adding in the second line thereof after the word "trustees," the following: "one of whom shall be chosen by the board as secretary," so that said section one as amended shall read as follows:

Section 1. The statistics department shall be under the charge of a board of five trustees, one of whom shall be chosen by the board as secretary, who shall collect, compile, and publish such statistics relating to the city of Boston, and such statistics of other cities for purposes of comparison, as they may deem of public importance.

Sect. 2. Section five of chapter three of the Revised Ordinances of nineteen hundred and fourteen is hereby amended by adding at the end of said section the following: "The secretary of the statistics department, thirty-three hundred dollars."

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

CITY PLAN FOR BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the chairman of the City Planning Board and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

September 30, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—In connection with work now going on in zoning and other features of a Comprehensive City Plan, the City Planning Board is embarrassed by the fact that the $10,000 special appropriation for this work authorizes its use "for the employment of expert assistance," whereas there is considerable incidental expense involved, such as maps, atlases, blueprinting, photostating, etc., which the Board is not in a position to meet out of its office budget. It accordingly requests, therefore, that the order be amended by the insertion of the words, "and for other expenses in connection with," so as to read as follows:

Ordered, That the sum of $10,000 be expended under the direction of the City Planning Board for the employment of expert assistance and for other expenses in connection with the preparation of a Comprehensive City Plan for the City of Boston, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Yours very truly,
Frederic H. Fay, Chairman.

Ordered, That under authority of the order passed by the City Council, February 27, 1922, authorizing the City Planning Board to expend not exceeding $10,000 "for the employment of expert assistance in the preparation of a Comprehensive City Plan for the City of Boston," that said Board be further authorized to incur other necessary expenses in connection with the work proposed under said order, the same to be charged to said appropriation.

Referred to Executive Committee.

TRANSFER FOR POSTAGE METER MACHINE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the City Collector, requesting a transfer of $1,336.50 from the Reserve Fund for the purchase of a postage meter machine, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Collecting Department, October 4, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—I respectfully request a transfer of $1,336.50 from the Reserve Fund to the appropriation for the Collecting Department, C-9, Office Equipment. This amount is required for the purchase of a postage meter machine for immediate use, mailing the tax and meter water bills about which I have spoken to you. The purchase of the machine has been approved by the purchasing agent.

Also a transfer within the Collecting Department appropriation of $40 from A-1, Permanent Employees, 2 Clerks at $1,400 to D-1, Office. This amount to cover rent of postage meter for four months, to January 31, 1922, at $10 per month.

Respectfully,
William M. McMorrow, City Collector.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $1,336.50, to the appropriation for Collecting Department, C-9, Office, $1,336.50.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Collecting Department:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Clerks, 2 at $1,400 per year, $40, to the appropriation for D-1, Office, $40.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ELECTION FUNDS FOR OUTSIDE REGISTRATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication received from the Board of Election Commissioners, requesting additional funds for outside registration work in each of the twenty-six wards, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Election Department, October 3, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Board deems it advisable to furnish further facilities for outside registration in each of the twenty-six ward registration places and desires to employ four assistant registrars instead of two, in each of the said ward registration places on the evenings of October 16, 17 and 18, from six o'clock p. m. to ten o'clock p. m.

It becomes necessary, therefore, to have provided additional funds by transfer from the Reserve Fund, as outlined below.

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $780, to the appropriation for A-2, Assistant Registrars, 52 to 104 at $5 per day, $780.

Respectfully,
Board of Election Commissioners,
M. W. Burlen, Chairman.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $780, to the appropriation for Election Department, A-2, Temporary Employees, Assistant Registrars 104 at $5 per day, $780.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPOINTMENT OF WEIGHER OF GOODS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 9, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I appoint Gesner Corbett, 27 Boylston street, Jamaica Plain, a weigher of goods for the term ending April 30, 1923.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

Laid over under the law.

PENSION STATUS FOR SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 7, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Chapter 574 of the Acts of 1920 (now sections 56 to 60, inclusive, of chapter 32 of the General Laws) provides in part as follows:

Section 59, chapter 32, General Laws: "The words 'retiring authority' as used in sections fifty-six to sixty, inclusive, shall mean as to the commonwealth, the governor; as to a county, the county commissioners; as to a city, the mayor; as to a town, the selectmen; as to the metropolitan district, the metropolitan district commission; and as to all other districts, the governing boards thereof."

Section 60 of chapter 32 of the General Laws: "Section fifty-six to fifty-nine, inclusive, shall not take effect in any county, city or town or district until accepted by the retiring authority of the particular county, city, town or district, nor shall they apply to veterans who are members of the police department of Boston.'

Under the provisions of these two sections it is necessary that the retiring authority which in Boston is the Mayor and the City Council, acting as County Commissioners for Suffolk County, shall approve the acceptance of the act. Otherwise there is no retirement pension status for veterans of the Spanish War.

On October 4, 1920, his Honor the Mayor, Andrew J. Peters, notified the City Council that he had accepted chapter 574 of the Acts of 1920 on behalf of the city, of which chapter the sections referred to above are in part recodified in the General Laws.

The failure of the City Council, acting as County Commissioners, to accept of these provisions, even though approved by the Mayor, deprives the veterans of the Spanish War employed by the County of Suffolk of the pensionable status to which they are entitled.

I accordingly recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your body so that retirement pensionable status may be extended to Spanish War veterans in the service of Suffolk County.

Respectfully yours,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

Ordered, That chapter 574 of the Acts of 1920, now sections 56 to 60, inclusive, of chapter 32 of the General Laws, providing for the retirement and pensioning of Spanish War veterans, be and hereby is accepted on behalf of Suffolk County.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 3.21 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. LANE to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The members of the Council reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by the President at four o'clock p. m.

Laid over under the law.

TEMPORARY STRUCTURE ON BOSTON COMMON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 16, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication received from the chairman of the Transit Commission, the same being a reply to the order passed by your honorable body on October 2, 1922, requesting the removal of the temporary structure erected by the Transit Department on Boston Common, near the Park Street Subway entrance.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Transit Department, October 10, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I return herewith order of City Council, dated October 2, requesting the removal of the temporary structure erected by this department on Boston Common near the Park Street Subway entrance.

This structure was erected to permit alterations of the Cambridge Tunnel stairways to upper Park Street Station, which work has now been completed.

The temporary structure has been allowed to remain, pending a decision from the Boston Elevated Railway Company for further alterations at Park Street Station, which will provide a new platform on the easterly side of the Tremont Street Subway, with entrances and exits on the easterly side of Tremont street. These alterations will permit more prompt loading and unloading of through northbound trains, and will greatly improve the movement of teaming traffic on Tremont street by permitting passengers to cross this street underground.

We expect a favorable decision in the very near future from the Boston Elevated Railway Company, and it will be necessary to use these same structures for this work, or else fence off a portion of Tremont street, thereby adding to the congestion which exists at the present time.

Yours respectfully,
Thomas F. Sullivan,
Chairman.

Placed on file.

TRANSFER, ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 16, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication received from the Board of Election Commissioners, requesting a transfer of $780 from the Reserve Fund to further extend registration facilities, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

Board of Election Commissioners,
Boston, October 11, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Board deems it advisable to further extend registration facilities in each of the twenty-six outside ward registration places by providing service from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. on the days of October 16, 17 and 18.

It becomes necessary, therefore, to have provided additional funds by transfer from the Reserve Fund, as outlined below:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $780, to the appropriation for A-2, Assistant Registrars, 104 at $5 per day, $780.

Respectfully,
Board of Election Commissioners,
M. W. Burlen, Chairman.

Approved:
Charles J. Fox,
Budget Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer: From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $780, to the appropriation for Election Department, A-2, Temporary Employees, Assistant Registrars, 52 (104) at $5 per day, $780.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER, SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 16, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court, requesting a transfer of $3,000 from the Reserve Fund to Item B-35, Fees, Service of Venires, etc., and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Supreme Judicial Court,
Clerk's Office, Boston, September 29, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Our appropriation for budget item 35 is exhausted and we need, for the bills incurred, and to be incurred under this item during the balance of this fiscal year, $3,000, and I respectfully request that an appropriation of this amount be made.

Respectfully submitted,
John F. Cronin,
Clerk.

Approved:
Charles J. Fox,
Budget Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $3,000, to the appropriation for Supreme Judicial Court, B-25, Fees, Services of Venires, etc., $3,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ROSE GARDEN AT FRANKLIN PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 16, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Park Commission, requesting an appropriation of $28,000 from the income of the Parkman Fund, $25,000 of which is to be used for the construction of a rose garden at Franklin Park and $3,000 for the extension of the golf links, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, October 6, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners held October 5 it was voted, that your Honor be requested to ask the City Council for an appropriation of $28,000 from the income of the Parkman Fund, same to be used as follows:

For the construction of a Rose Garden in Franklin Park, in accordance with plans drawn by Mr. A. A. Shurtleff, landscape architect, submitted to and approved by your Honor in July of the present year...$25,000
For the extension of the golf links........ 3,000

Yours respectfully,
Daniel J. Byrne,
Secretary.

Approved:
Charles J. Fox,
Budget Commissioner.

Ordered, That the sum of $28,000 be and hereby is appropriated from the income of the Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commission for the maintenance and improvement of the Common and parks in existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Franklin Park Building, Improvements, etc., $28,000.

Referred to the Committee on Parkman Fund.

REMOVAL OF BOOK, "AMERICAN WARS."

The following communication was received from the Library Trustees:

City of Boston,
Library Department, October 14, 1922.

Hon. James Donovan,
City Clerk:

Dear Sir,—The order from the City Council under date of September 25, requesting that the Library Trustees remove from the index at once the volume called "American Wars" by Helen Nicolay, published by the Century Company, was presented at a regular meeting of the Board held on Friday, October 6. The librarian was directed to inform the City Council that the communication had been presented to the Board and that the matter had been taken under advisement.

Very truly yours,
Charles F. D. Belden,
Librarian.

Placed on file.

CHANGE OF NAME OF NORTH END BRANCH LIBRARY.

The following was received from the Library Trustees:

City of Boston,
Library Department, October 14, 1922.

Hon. James Donovan,
City Clerk:

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Public Library held on Friday, October 6, the order of the City Council, under date of July 24, that the trustees change the name of the North End Branch Library to that of "Dante Alighieri Branch," and a communication from you under date of September 26 inclosing a memorandum from Louis Barrasso, were duly presented. The following vote was passed: That the City Council be informed that their communications were presented to the Board, together with a letter on the same subject from Mr. Louis Barrasso; that the trustees gave careful consideration to a similar request in October, 1921, at which time they voted that in view of their long-established policy in naming branches in accordance with their geographical location, it was inexpedient to comply with the request; and that it is still the sense of the Board that this policy be maintained.

Very truly yours,
Charles F. D. Belden,
Librarian.

Placed on file.

TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT OF JOHN H. DUNN.

PRINTING OF SPEECH OF W. BOURKE COCKRAN.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the speech of Hon. W. Bourke Cockran, delivered Columbus Day under the auspices of the City of Boston, be printed as a city document.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I am going to ask a suspension of the rule in order that this order may go on its passage at this time. There was but one member of the City Council present at the affair on the Common on Columbus Day, when I was there, and I was the member. The papers said that there were 15,000 people around the Parkman bandstand. I want to say that in 1896 I was on Boston Common when the Hon. William Jennings Bryan came to Boston, and the newspapers said then that there were nearly 100,000 people on the Common at the time. Of course, the numbers present in such cases are not important, but I simply want to bring to the attention of the public through the minutes of the Council what a great affair the Columbus Day celebration was. As I say, the papers said that there were about 100,000 people on the Common when Bryan spoke there in 1896, but those used to estimating crowds in places told me that there were probably 35,000 to 50,000 people there that night. I saw the crowd that night and I saw the crowd around the Parkman bandstand last Thursday, when they had the great pageant, and I will say that I believe there were half as many more on the Common last Thursday at the ceremonies as at the Bryan speech in 1896. It was the most wonderful pageant I ever saw, and I felt that I was well rewarded for attending. They had amplifiers that carried the voices of the speakers to the utmost boundaries of the crowd, away up onto Soldiers' Hill, and I heard that day two orations, one by Mayor Curley and one by the invited orator, Hon. W. Bourke Cockran, of New York. Mr. Cockran's speech was the most wonderful speech I ever heard, and I have heard them all. I have heard almost all the orators for years——Bryan, David B. Hill, George Fred Williams, and numberless others, but I never heard an oration that excelled the one delivered by Mr. Cockran last Thursday. The subject, too, was one furnishing food for thought for any orator. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask a suspension of the rule in order that the order may go on its passage and go to his Honor the Mayor.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENT.

President BRICKLEY called up, under unfinished business, the following:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor October 9, 1922, of Gesner Corbett, to be a Weigher of Goods.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Gilbody and Walsh. Whole number of ballots 6, yeas 6, and the appointment was confirmed.

LOAN OF $250,000 FOR FUEL SUPPLIES.

Under unfinished business, President BRICKLEY called up the following:

2. Ordered, That under authority of sections 19 and 20 of chapter 40 of the General Laws the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) be and the same is hereby appropriated for fuel supplies, etc., and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be hereby authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

Further ordered, That the income received from the sale of fuel supplies be credited to the appropriation.

On October 2, 1922, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passed, yeas 7, nays 0.

RECESS TAKEN.

On motion of Coun. FORD, the Council voted at 2.42 p. m. to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

The Council reassembled in the Council Chamber and was called to order by President BRICKLEY at 4.42 p. m.

SALARY OF PROBATION CHIEF SARGENT INCREASED.

The Committee on County Accounts to which was referred (February 13) communication from chief justice determining salary of chief probation officer, recommended passage of following order:

Ordered, that the salary of the chief probation officer of the Municipal Court, Albert J. Sargent, determined by the justices of said court at five thousand dollars per annum to date from February 1, 1922, be and the same hereby is approved.

Passed, yeas 7, nays 0.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I was absorbed in conversation when the matter of increasing Mr. Sargent's pay was acted upon, and I now ask the gentlemen of the Council to reconsider the action taken, in order that I may state the situation as a matter of record.

The vote taken on the order was reconsidered, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I simply wish the members to understand that when the vote was taken I was in conversation with Coun. Ford and Mr. Cashman, so that I did not notice when the action increasing the salary of Mr. Sargent to $5,000 was taken. I now want to say something in regard to that matter, for purposes of the record. I will take about ten minutes of the Council's time to explain my position in regard to probation officers in Suffolk County. I have no feeling against the probation officers as such, because I number among them many personal friends. I have no opposition to the probation scheme when it is lived up to in a proper manner. I am, however, interested from the standpoint of taxation as much as anything. The Mayor and the City Council, including myself, are being continually baited because of the ever-increasing taxation placed upon the shoulders of the taxpayers of Boston. The blame is continually being placed on our shoulders, and when we are candidates for office the Good Government Association and the newspapers call for our defeat unless we are indorsed by the Good Government Association, on the ground that we are not careful with the money. Today we had an audience with the Mayor, wherein he showed conclusively that the taxpayers of Boston have been robbed, to use a very strong word, of thousands and thousands of dollars of their money, because of the failure to get interest on money that they should have got on unpaid bills, or money the treasurer did not receive because of actual failure of payment of certain bills due the city. There has been a loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars in such ways. Now, we are held responsible for the finances of the city. We are the appropriating body. Nevertheless, we are often and generally confronted with this spectacle of acts being passed by the Legislature increasing the pay or the number of probation officers, acts which now go through without our consent, the right to pass favorably or unfavorably upon such matters, which increase the taxes of the City of Boston, being taken away from us. We have before us today an order calling for the increase of $500 in the salary of the chief probation officer of the Municipal Court. It is true, under the statutes, drawn by Republican Legislatures, that we are compelled to pay this money whether we vote it or not, upon the mere order of the chief justice of the Municipal or Superior Court of Suffolk County. But the mere fact that we must pay it is no reason why we should vote to pay it. It is true that if we vote "no" the man will get the money just the same, but we will at least go on record as protesting against the increase in the taxes of the City of Boston. The probation system of Boston, of Suffolk County, of Massachusetts, has become a great big gigantic pilfering process. The probation officers in every county in the state of Massachusetts are falling over themselves. When they first go to work as probation officers they have a heart for the unfortunates, but when they have been there for five years their hearts get as hard as flint, and a genuine case for sympathy but without political influence behind it, gets no attention at the hands of probation officers of Suffolk County, municipal or superior. I might cite as an example a case called to my attention when we visited Charles Street Jail, when I spoke to several prisoners. One of them, a Hebrew, told me that he was serving time for stealing a handkerchief. He was the father of eight children, and his wife at home was about to be operated upon for appendicitis. He wanted to get out in order to be able to earn money to look out for the children. I became interested in the matter and I followed it up very carefully. I called it to the attention of Mr. Johnson, of the Penal Institutions Department, and he took it up with Probation Officer Driscoll, who made a favorable report in the matter, but Mr. Sargent turned it down. Mr. Driscoll got a letter back from him stating that the request was denied, for reasons. I saw the letter from Mr. Sargent, denying the parole, giving as an explanation that the man had not suffered enough and that he should not have parole, in spite of the fact that there were these eight children and that his wife was about to be operated upon. Mr. Bromberg, the probation officer, was unable to get the man released even for a holiday observed by the Jews. That was refused even to Mr. Bromberg. I have talked with Mr. Sargent about the matter, and he told me no, that he wouldn't do it. I knew he wouldn't do it, because I was opposed to an increase of his salary. We have heard much here today, which was brought out not as a matter of record but in talk here, concerning Mr. Sargent, and let me now get something on the record concerning him. First of all, I supported Coun. Moriarty before the committee on the budget, in the budget hearings, when it was shown that Mr. Sargent was a mattress voter, that he lived in Acton, or out near Concord, although he was rated here as a voter. He was positively a mattress voter, as much as any man so registered in Ward 8.

Coun. LANE—Ward 5.

Coun. WATSON—Yes, and Ward 5, too. I will say one thing for the mattress voters of Ward 5, that they do live and pay taxes in Boston. They may live in another ward than the one in which they vote, which is wrong, of course, but it is certainly doubly wrong when a man does not even live in Boston. I supported Coun. Moriarty in his position, thinking he was correct at the time, and he certainly deserves credit for the position he has taken in regard to Mr. Sargent. What is the story about Mr. Sargent, Mr. President He gets $4,500 a year—a mere bagatelle!—and already this year he has had three months' vacation without loss of pay, with the approval of the judges. One quarter of his $4,500, about $1,200 of the taxpayers' money, has been paid to Sargent with the approval of Judge Bolster, knowing that he has not earned it and was not entitled to it. If a man in city service on small pay, a laborer, was sick two days, that would be deducted from his envelope and there would be no redress. But this man comes in here for $500 more increase, with the approval of Judge Bolster, and he is now away on a month's vacation, which will make three months in all; and when he gets back, as has been brought to my attention today, he will have a conference of probation officers from all over the Commonwealth, the invitation reading, "Come; your expenses will be borne by the County of Suffolk." That is another thing that they put over on us—a joy ride and a good time for the probation officers, and the taxpayers of Boston pay the bills. Gentlemen, do you approve of that sort of thing? You are going to vote today to give him $500 increase. You are wasting $500 of the taxpayers' money, and from the standpoint of principle the argument is just the same when you waste $500 as when you waste a million. You have no more right to deliberately put $500 more on the people's shoulders than you would have to put on a million more. It is true that we have no power to stop the increase, but let us at least register our protest today by voting "no." I was surprised when I saw that mine was the only "no" vote today on this matter in Executive Committee. Why, by inference, at least, one other member intended to vote the same as I did on this proposition. He said so loudly, but then when the vote was taken he voted the other way. You all know who the member was. He spoke very loudly. But you cannot fool the people all the time, cannot kid them all the time. You are either with them or against them, and if you are not with them they won't stand for you any longer than they can help, as has been proven in recent contests in county, state and local elections. Mr. Sargent has a wife and no children. He is worth $100,000, I am told. If you look up his assessed valuation, where he pays his taxes, in the town of Acton, I believe, near Concord, you will find that between him and his wife they pay taxes on $100,000; and yet he had the audacity the other day to tell me that he was not a mattress voter, he said, because he had visited the Election Commissioners and found that he had a perfect right to vote in Boston, although his real home was in Acton. Now, I have had my say. I presume that there will be but one vote against this matter. I had hoped that there would be more, and there may be more. You may say that $500 is not much. Well, $500 will go a good ways towards paying $1,000 for a necessary employee of the City of Boston, and there are times when we would like to have it when we find that we have not got it. And when it comes to approval of these matters by judges, let us remember that judges are only ordinary men, after all, gentlemen. These judges are not divine. They are made of flesh and blood, like you and I, and they secure their job because of political influence to a great extent, as was proven on the stump by Mr. Allen, who ran against Cox for Governor, or was at least suggested by him. Of course, appointments of that sort are made as political rewards. What is the use of dodging facts? I know that you don't like my long speeches, and I don't blame you. But somebody has got to wake you up. I am surprised that Coun. Hagan has not gone. He is the only man in the chamber who has his hat on. I wouldn't wear my hat in here if you were speaking. Now, why don't you be a gentleman? He says, "Go to hell!" Well, that is in the record. Well, he has taken his hat off; he obeys my instructions. We are good friends, you know. Now, I have had my say, and I have been absolutely cool and collected about it. We can simply register our protest against placing this $500 extra burden on the taxpayers, and this matter of taxation is one of the important subjects of discussion in campaign. If you believe in increasing the taxes by $500 in this case, doing a favor for this man, you will vote a million to do favors for others, and the 785,000 people who pay taxes in the City of Boston will have to pay the bills. I don't think any man is justified in voting "yes" today on this proposition, in my opinion.

The report was accepted and the order was passed, yeas 7, nay 1.

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Ford, Gilbody, Hagan, Lane, Moriarty—7.

Nay—Coun. Watson—1.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS.

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel, states the Law Department has disapproved twelve claims against the city, in eleven of which no amounts were specified, and the other one amounted to $150, and are classified as follows:

Against the Fire Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Park and Recreation Department, two, in which no amounts were specified; against the Police Department, two, in one of which no amount was specified, and the other one amounted to $150; against the Public Works Department, five, in which no amounts were specified; against the Schoolhouse Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Street Laying-Out Department, one, in which no amount was specified.

All these claims have been disapproved for the reason that there appeared to be no legal liability on the part of the city.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved an order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners for the taking by eminent domain, for the purpose of erecting thereon an addition to the yard of the Oak Square School, a certain parcel of land in the Bennett District, Brighton, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on Tremont street at the northwesterly corner of land of the City of Boston, thence southeasterly by land of city 80 feet to land of Hynes; thence southwesterly by land of Hynes 60 feet to land of Breck; thence northwesterly by land of Breck 78 feet to line of Tremont street; thence northeasterly by line of Tremont street 60 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 4,800 square feet of land.

NAVY DAY CEREMONIES.

Mayor Curley and Acting Mayor Brickley heartily co-operated in the observance of Navy Day upon Friday, 27th instant. An informal luncheon was tendered by Acting Mayor Brickley in honor of Capt. Belknap, U. S. N., of the Newport Naval Training Station, at the Parker House, and was followed by a band concert by the Boston Navy Yard Band at City Hall at 12 noon.

A large public meeting was held at the Parkman Bandstand with Hon. Peter F. Tague, representing the Charlestown district in Congress, as presiding officer, and supplemented by speeches by Acting Mayor Brickley, Capt. Belknap and other gentlemen.

Mayor Curley, who is enjoying a brief respite from official labors in the South, telegraphed to have ample provision made of fruit and refreshments for the benefit of the sailors and marines who are patients at the Chelsea Naval Hospital, and distribution was made by Acting Mayor Brickley upon the occasion of his visit to the hospital with an escort from the Boston Navy Yard.

Mr. William E. Curran, Dr. P. J. Cronin and Mr. John P. Glynn, who have been prominent in hospitalization work among the soldiers in Boston, served as aids to Acting Mayor Brickley in the distribution of fruit and refreshments at Chelsea.

The program of the day as arranged at the Boston Navy Yard, under the direction of Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley, U. S. N., commandant, was especially attractive, and provided a splendid day of very entertaining features.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

Park Department.

Upon October 21 the Mayor approved a contract with Warren Brothers Company for the construction of bituminous pavement on Fens road. Bids for the work, opened October 17, were as follows:

J. C. Coleman & Sons Company, bitulithic pavement, $4,325; Warren Brothers Company, bitulithic pavement, $41,905; Martino DeMatteo, sheet asphalt pavement, $41,090; Rowe Contracting Company, sheet asphalt pavement, $36,745.

Public Works Department (Sewerage Works).

Upon October 20 the Mayor approved a contract with V. Grande for sewerage works in Belle avenue, from Baker street to summit 1,100 feet southerly, West Roxbury. Bids for the work, opened October 18, were as follows:

V. Grande, $4,802.25; C. Russo, $4,330.50; Joseph Todesca, $4,824.75; Vozzella & Capone, $4,877.30; R. Zoppo, $4,961.50; M. DeSisto Company, $5,014.75; John Williams & Co., $5,225.75; DeChristoforo & Brothers Company, $5,234; M. DeMatteo, $5,311.50; A. Cefalo, $5,338.25; A. Baruffaldi Company, $9,542.75.

Incident to the award of this contract Commissioner of Public Works Joseph A. Rourke made the following statement:

"The lowest bidder, C. Russo, has been rejected for the reason that he is now engaged in work on one water contract and one sewer contract, which will make it impracticable for him to complete this job in the time allotted. The work to be done under this contract is to be completed on or before December 30, 1922."

Supply Department.

Upon October 20 the Mayor approved a contract with the A. Shuman Company for providing uniforms for the Hospital Department. Bids for the supply, opened September 25, were as follows:

Eighteen Blue Uniform Suits.—The Harding Uniform and Regalia Company, $35.60 each; Leopold Morse Company, alternate, $34.50 each, 32.25 each; M. Linsky & Brothers, $26 each; A. Shuman Company (Jordan Marsh Company), 20-ounce cloth, Style No. 212, $29.15 each; Style No. 213, $29.70 each; Style No. 214, $29.15 each; Style No. 221, $25.30 each; Style No. 222, $29.15 each; 8 cents each additional for letters.

Eighteen Blue Uniform Overcoats.—The Harding Uniform and Regalia Company, $38.20 each; Leopold Morse Company, alternate $37 each, $34.65 each; M. Linsky & Brothers, $35 each; A. Shuman Company (Jordan Marsh Company), 30-ounce cloth, Style No. 237, $25.85 each; Style No. 240, $34.65 each; Style No. 244, $37.40 each; 8 cents each additional for letters.

Eighteen Blue Uniform Visor Caps.—The Harding Uniform and Regalia Company, $3.40 each; Leopold Morse Company, $3.25 each; M. Linsky & Brothers, $3.50 each; A. Shuman Company (Jordan Marsh Company), $2.25 each.

Total.—The Harding Uniform and Regalia Company, $1,389.60; Leopold Morse Company, $1,262.70; M. Linsky & Brothers, $1,161.

Incident to the award of the above contract Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department made the following statement:

"Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract for uniforms for the Hospital Department, on which bids were publicly opened at this office under date of September 25, 1922, to the A. Shuman Company.

These bids and proposals were submitted to the Hospital Department trustees for their recommendations, and they have voted to accept the bid of A. Shuman Company for nineteen coats and trousers, and 19 overcoats and caps. Style No. 212 was selected for the coats and trousers at $29.50 each, the cost of six letters included. Style No. 245, the same as Style No. 240 incorporated in their bid, was selected for the overcoats at $34.65 each, the cost of six letters included. Foreman to have service stripes on both overcoat and sack coat without cost. Three letters are included in the price of the caps at $2.25 each.

"I am in accord with the recommendations made by the Hospital Department Trustees, and recommend that this contract be awarded to the A. Shuman Company."

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

VISIT OF CLEMENCEAU.

Hon. Georges Clemenceau, the famous war premier of France, will visit Boston November 22 and will speak in Symphony Hall on the afternoon of the 23d instant, according to plans arranged by a committee of welcome, of which Francis L. Higginson is chairman.

The "Tiger of France" is coming in his individual capacity, but that fact lends interest to the visit because it will enable him to speak with a freedom that might not be possible as an official representative. As all the world knows, he has a capacity for plain speech, and as he speaks English perfectly, he will find no difficulty in making himself understood.

It is intended that the present small committee, which has sponsored the public reception to the former French premier, shall be expanded to include 200 men and as many women, who shall be representative of the leading business, educational and social elements of the community.

If the tentative plans of the local committee of welcome are carried out, M. Clemenceau will leave New York on November 22 at 8.30 a. m. and arrive in Boston at 2 p. m. He will be met here by representatives of the committee, and by Mayor Curley, who will greet him in behalf of the city.

The military escort will be directed by Maj. Carroll J. Swan and a short parade is planned to enable as many as possible to see the gallant Frenchman, who, at eighty-one, revisits America, the scene of his youthful experiences as a teacher.

The route of the parade is planned as follows: Federal street, Milk street, Post Office square, Congress, State, Washington, School, Beacon and Arlington streets, Commonwealth avenue and Dartmouth streets to the public library. A stop will be made at the State House, where Governor Cox and the committee of welcome will give a short reception in the Hall of Flags.

M. Clemenceau will be the guest of Mr. Higginson during his two-day stay in Boston and probably the only public meeting which the distinguished visitor will attend will be that at Symphony Hall at 4 p. m. on November 23, at which Governor Cox will preside and introduce M. Clemenceau.

State and city authorities were desirous of recognizing in an official way the coming of the distinguished veteran diplomatist, but inasmuch as he is coming in a purely individual capacity, it is understood that he prefers to avoid any official demonstration. Also, although he is "eighty-one years young," he is not as young as he was a half century ago, and, as he is planning to visit and speak in a half dozen of the principal cities east of the Mississippi during his brief stay in the country, it will be necessary for him to conserve his energies in order to carry out this schedule.

NAVY DAY OBSERVANCE.

Capt. David J. Brickley, Acting Mayor of the City of Boston, delivered the following address upon the observance of Navy Day, at the Parkman Bandstand, upon Friday, 27th instant, the ceremonies being held at noonday. Hon. Peter F. Tague, Congressman of the Tenth Massachusetts District, in which is located the Boston Navy Yard, presided.

Mr. Chairman, Captain Belknap, Gentlemen of the United States Navy and Invited Guests:

My friends, it is a delightful honor and pleasure which is extended me today as Acting Mayor of the City of Boston to heartily welcome you upon the observance of Navy Day, designated by the president of the Navy League of the United States, with the approval of the President of the United States, and to be observed throughout the country in honor of those gallant men who, upon every sea of the civilized world, have preserved, from time immemorial, the future and destiny of our Republic.

As a soldier of the World War, who fought in France for the freedom of our posterity and for the preservation of the American nation, I desire to especially attest the fact that it was the magnificent service of the American navy, during the period of the recent World War, that made safe the Atlantic for the moving of our transports and for the convoy of our troops, and who proved the determining factor in the defeat of the most despotic tyrant who has ever stalked the earth, and provided the ways and means for reaching the European fields of battle, and which eventually brought a glorious victory to the American arms.

I fear that the American people, in the hour of our greatest triumph and the safeguarding of the world's welfare, have been rather intolerant in giving to the United States Navy its just place before the world in its vital contribution to the success of our cause overseas.

It is especially fitting that Navy Day should have honored observance within the City of Boston and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, for from Boston sailed the "Constitution" during her glorious career under the American flag, and she rests at Boston Navy Yard, today, in Charlestown, as a magnificent example to the youth of America, and of the magnificent service accorded by the gallant men of the American navy during those trying days when the future of our country rested upon the valiant service performed in the establishment of the American nation.

I glory in the maritime record of Massachusetts. Her sailors and her fishermen from years immemorial have known no such word as fear, have sailed the seven seas and have written upon the history of the world a valiant record exceeded by that of no other nation of the civilized world.

Whenever the future of our country has been imperiled, I call to your particular attention that it has been the gallant service of the American Navy that has assured the glorious triumph of the Stars and Stripes.

Let us inculcate in the minds of our children and our children's children the debt which our nation owes to the American Navy, and which, as Mayor Curley has excellently declared in his ringing proclamation, has stood as the strong right arm of America's life. Let us teach our children that the promise of safety and the successful conduct of commerce and industry rest in protection upon the sea by that illustrious American Navy that gave to the world the bravest and most enduring commanders who have lived during the period of the world's naval history, and who have left with us a blessed and most hallowed memory.

I rejoice in the observance of Navy Day, and sincerely trust that the ceremonies which mark this noteworthy anniversary may have due recognition in every port in the United States.

Let us, one and all, pay tribute to the valorous men of the American Navy who from the dawn of the republic have stood steadfast, enduring and unconquerable for the welfare of our nation and the preservation of liberty, not only for our glorious country but for the destiny of the entire world.

EXTENSIONS OF CONTRACTS.

An extension has been granted for completion of the contract made with V. Barletta for building sewerage works in Public Alley No. 926, from Queensberry street 270 feet southeasterly, Roxbury, from October 14, 1922, to November 11, 1922, twenty-eight days. This extension of time is occasioned by the fact that there was a labor shortage at the beginning of the work.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Louis DeSisto for building sewerage works in Colonial road, Brighton, from October 21, 1922, to December 9, 1922, forty-nine days. This extension of time is occasioned by the fact that more ledge has been encountered than was anticipated when the contract was awarded.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with Joseph Todesca for building sewerage works in Louder's lane, West Roxbury, from October 14, 1922, to November 18, 1922, 35 days. This extension of time is occasioned by the fact that the excavation has been more difficult than was anticipated.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with Martino DeMatteo for building sewerage works in Centre street and Roseway streets, West Roxbury, from October 28, 1922, to November 18, 1922, 21 days. This extension of time is occasioned by the fact that work was not begun until three weeks later than was anticipated when the contract was advertised.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with M. H. Loonie for removing coal bins, runway and incinerator, constructing new door and window and cutting opening in wall at the coal house, Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, from October 13, 1922, to November 22, 1922. This extension is requested for the reason that the boilers have not yet arrived; and it is uncertain when they will be placed.

An extension of the time of completion of the contract made with the Holbrook Construction Company for laying bitulithic and recut granite block pavement in Marie street, from Mt. Ida road to Percival street; and Tilton street, from Fellows street northwesterly, Roxbury, from October 15, 1922, to November 15, 1922. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor was delayed by corporations and weather on other contracts.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with DeChristofaro & Brothers Company for building sewerage works in Montgomery street, West Roxbury, from October 28, 1922, to December 2, 1922, 35 days. This extension of time is occasioned by the fact that the work was not begun until two weeks later than was anticipated when the contract was advertised, and has not been carried on as rapidly as was expected.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Frank J. Gallagher & Co. for boiler foundations in coal house, Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, from September 26, 1922, to October 18, 1922. This extension is requested for the reason that, although bids were opened August 16, 1922, the contract was not signed by your Honor until September 18, 1922.

SALE OF COKE.

The Mayor's office announces that the following stations for the distribution of coke, recently purchased by the City of Boston, were opened Friday, October 27, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily.

Water Service yard, Medford and Tufts streets, Charlestown.
Paving yard, 636 Albany street, South End.
Paving yard, East Eagle street, East Boston.
Paving yard, Highland street, Roxbury.
Sanitary yard, North Grove street, West End.
Old Police Station No. 6, Athens street, South Boston.

This coke will be sold in small bag lots, the idea of the Mayor being to provide immediately some form of fuel for housekeepers to tide over the present emergency. Coke will be sold at the rate of one cent per pound in bag lots.

The law requires that municipalities must charge a price covering every expense in connection with the sale of any necessaries of life, and also further provides that cash must be paid at the time of the sale. The price charged by the City of Boston is a very appreciable reduction from that charged by dealers in small bag lots.

SEGREGATION OF DRUG ADDICTS.

Dr. David J. Johnson, Institutions Commissioner, has issued orders that forty-nine drug addicts at the Deer Island House of Correction for the next sixty days will be confined by themselves in the building that was used during the war for housing the revolutionists. This policy was decided upon by Doctor Johnson, who visited the island upon the 22d instant and surprised the officials by his order. The step was considered by the commissioner in view of the smuggling of drugs into the institution by relatives and friends of the prisoners, which has been going on for many years. For sixty days the drug addicts will be so completely isolated that it will be impossible for them to secure the drugs from the outside.

DEMOLITION OF BUILDINGS.

The following is a list of the buildings for the demolition of which permits have been issued by the Building Department during the week ending Saturday, October 21:

Owner.	Location.	Ward.	Nature.	Reason for Taking Down.

Boston Elevated Railway Company, Walnut avenue, Ward 16, erect three poles.

New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Ashmont street, Ward 20, erect seven poles.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

The C. & R. Construction Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for building sewerage works, Dorchester Brook sewer, east fork, in Norfolk avenue, Dorchester. Items ordered: Remove asphalt concrete found in main trench between stations 4 plus 00 and 4 plus 20; remove old tree stump found in main trench and not visible before beginning the work—the estimated cost of extra work being $44.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 151.

The resignation of Patrolman John L. McCoy of Division 6 having been presented while charges against him are pending, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Monday, October 23, 1922, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 152.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Grant, Dailey and Skillings, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Patrick Gilmartin of Division 19, charging him with neglect of duty, reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which the said Patrolman Patrick Gilmartin was on October 20, 1922, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor was duly and specifically given in writing on October 21, 1922, to the said Patrick Gilmartin.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION FROM NAVY LEAGUE.

Navy League of the United States,
528 Seventeenth Street, N. W.,
Washington, D. C.,
October 25, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Mayor,—I am indeed grateful to you for your kind letter of October 17, inclosing the splendid proclamation you have issued to the people of Boston.

When I read your ringing words I wanted to cheer. The recital of the maritime glories of Boston makes me nearly ashamed that I am not a citizen of that great city. I only take comfort from the thought that there were also Kentucky riflemen in the shrouds of Perry's fleet in the battle of Lake Erie.

With the most cordial appreciation of your generous and effective action, and with kindest personal regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,
Henry Breckenridge.

CITY SALE OF COKE.

Boston is ready to come to the relief of her citizens suffering from the present shortage of coal. There were opened in several sections of the city stations from which the coke secured by Mayor Curley in anticipation of distress will be sold to the public upon Friday 27th instant.

All the stations from which supplies can be secured will shortly be in operation and citizens may visit them and secure coke in 30-pound bag lots. It was decided to bag the coke and sell it to the public in such lots for the present because of the costs which were found to be creeping into the handling of it.

Up to the present time, with crews of workers from Deer Island doing the bagging, there have been 4,298 bags of 30 pounds each bagged and placed at stations for distribution. There have also been filled 295 bags of 15 pounds each and 270 bags of 18 pounds each. These have been placed in stations at Charlestown, the West End, South Boston, East Boston and the South End.

The system of handling devised by Commissioners Frank Rock and Thomas F. Sullivan, of the Supply and Transit Departments, respectively, provides for a deputy collector from the Collecting Department visiting each station late in the afternoon for collecting money taken in from sales, while sales will be handled by a clerk and a laborer from the Public Works Department at each station, according to schedules arranged by Auditor Rupert S. Carven. In order to keep the costs down it was decided that teams from the Public Works, the Park and Transit Departments should truck the coke from the wharves to the stations.

At the stations the prices will be for 15-pound bags, 15 cents each; for 30-pound bags, 25 cents each. When it is considered that coke at present is retailing at the various stores at 25 pounds for 30 cents and in some places 33 cents per bag, it can be seen that the city is letting the citizens in for a material saving of some cents.

For the present, owing to the cost of trucking, it has been decided not to sell coke in bulk or quantity lots to be delivered by the city.

It is hoped later on to be able to make deliveries at a slight increase in price over this wharf quotation. It is the aim of those in charge of the sale to provide for the small family in the congested districts by whom only bag lots can be purchased because of the slimness of the family purse.

PROTECTION FOR FOWL.

Cats have gradually devoured the feathered population at Franklin Park and the Park Commission is about to declare a state of war upon the malefactors.

Chairman James B. Shea says the number of quail, pheasants and partridge which used to inhabit the park's peaceful hills, dales and groves has decreased in a marked degree in the past few years.

Quail, which set up housekeeping in low bushes and so are accessible to preying cats and other four-footed marauders, have all but disappeared from the reservation, it appears. Pheasants are only a little more numerous.

LAUNCHING CEREMONY

Capt. David J. Brickley, Acting Mayor, extended the greeting of the City of Boston at the launching of the United States scout cruiser "Raleigh," capable of making thirty-five knots an hour, at the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Ship Building Company, upon Wednesday, 25th instant.

Miss Jennie Procter of Raleigh, N. C., was the sponsor and with her as escort were Mayor T. B. Eldridge of Raleigh, John A. Park, publisher of the Raleigh Times, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Procter, relatives, and Miss Mary Sherrill.

Before the launching Mayor William A. Bradford of Quincy and Acting Mayor Brickley of Boston welcomed the visitors at the Neighborhood Club in Quincy. Mayor Eldridge responded in an address to the hosts. The launching was a fine success and as the vessel slid down the ways every steam whistle in the vicinity sounded a salute. Miss Procter was presented with a bouquet of American beauty roses and a platinum brooch.

The Raleigh's keel was laid on August 16, 1920, and the ship would have been completed sooner had it not been for the armament conference which delayed all work of that type. Her overall is 11.5 and her width 55.5. She has twelve boilers that will deliver 90,000 horsepower, six oil burners being assigned to each boiler. Her four funnels stand 80 feet above the keel. Her draft is 13.5 feet. She is equipped with four propeller shafts, twelve six-inch guns, three three-pounders used in saluting, two twin torpedo tubes and two triple torpedo tubes. Her displacement is 7,100 tons, and she will be manned by a crew of 424 officers and men.

Miss Procter is the daughter of Ivan M. Procter. She is a descendant of Joel Lane, a Revolutionary patriot in whose house the Legislature met during the War of Independence. In 1792 the State of North Carolina bought 10,000 acres of his land as the site for the capital city, named in honor of Sir Walter Raleigh, who attempted to found a colony at Roanoke Island.

HONOR MEMORY OF ROOSEVELT.

Acting Mayor David J. Brickley, who is president of the City Council, presented an order at the regular session upon the 23d instant, asking that the citizens of Boston be requested to pay silent tribute to the memory of former President Theodore Roosevelt on the sixty-second anniversary of his birth, upon October 27. The order reads as follows:

"That all business in every department of the City of Boston and in the business houses of the city shall hereby be requested to pay silent tribute to the memory of Col. Theodore Roosevelt on the sixty-second anniversary of his birth, October 27, 1922. All departments and business houses shall cease work during a period of from three to five minutes. The Mayor shall authorize the Police and Fire Commissioners to request firemen and policemen wherever they are to come to attention and remain silent for a period of time designated and that all street traffic be halted."

The order was adopted.

ANNIVERSARY OF BOSTON FIRE.

Plans under consideration by Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn and Chief John O. Taber for observing the fiftieth anniversary of the great Boston fire on November 9 provide for a remarkable demonstration.

The observances will open with a parade of firemen and fire apparatus from all over New England, invitations having been sent by Commissioner Glynn to the executives of every fire department which responded to the call for help from Boston on the night of November 9, 1872.

While little of the original apparatus will be here, the most up-to-date motor apparatus that has yet been built will be in the parade, which will include the greatest number of fire-fighting machines ever assembled.

Commissioner Glynn has arranged for the appearance of a steamer and hose reel which were used by the Boston firemen at the great fire. As these machines were hauled to the fire by men and boys, they will be hauled by man power in the parade.

Mayor Curley has instructed J. Philip O'Connell, chairman of the Public Celebration Committee, to co-operate with Commissioner Glynn and do everything possible for the care and welfare of the firemen who will come a long distance to assist in the demonstration.

It is expected that firemen and apparatus from cities in Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut will be in line, while every place within 100 miles of Boston in this state will be represented. A number of cities and towns close to Boston which did not have fire departments fifty years ago, but which have responded to calls since that time, and also have called on Boston for help, will have places in line.

The anniversary celebration of the fire will officially begin Wednesday night, November 8, with the tenth annual dinner of the Box 52 Association. Mayor Curley, Commissioner Glynn, Chief Taber and veterans who helped fight the big fire will be among the speakers.

TAX COLLECTIONS.

City Collector William M. McMorrow advises the public to take immediate advantage, if taxes are to be paid over the counter, and thereby avoid the discomforts and the delays incidental to the late annual rush.

Under the law, interest is charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after midnight, November 1, being computed from October 16. The collector has no power to abate the interest, inasmuch as the additional charge becomes a part of the tax. In past years many persons have experienced serious trouble in paying their bills at the last moment.

Of the total tax warrant committed to the collector this year, amounting to $42,157,722.70, there had been collected up to the 25th instant $6,399,529.56. At the corresponding time last year, $5,663,791.55 had been paid in. The increase in collections this year is $735,738.01.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

Helen V. Donoghue, 33 Dunster road, West Roxbury, in the amount of $19,429.78, as full payment for land taken, all rights acquired and all damages occasioned to her estate on Cherry street, South End, by the taking of the property 24 Cherry street for playground purposes.

Ethel E. Payson, petitioner, in the amount of $3,500, as compensation for damages for the taking of her estate on the westerly side of Centre street, West Roxbury district, for library purposes.

Leander S. Payson, petitioner, in the amount of $3,000, as compensation for damages for the taking of his estate on the westerly side of Centre street, West Roxbury district, for library purposes.

FISHERMEN'S COMMITTEE GREETED.

Canadian residents of Boston and gentlemen of Canadian ancestry tendered a luncheon to the members of the International Race Committee, having direction of the races between the "Henry Ford" and "Bluenose" at Gloucester, at the Parker House, upon Thursday, 26th instant.

In addressing the assembly, Acting Mayor David J. Brickley said:

"Gentlemen, I assure you it is a delightful pleasure to greet in the name of the City of Boston the splendid sportsmen who have made so generous a sacrifice of time and means in arranging for the international races between the finest types of the American and Canadian fishing fleets. No event for the supremacy of the sea has attracted greater or wider attention in recent years than these international contests, and it is an occasion to me of very great regret that the pressure of official cares incident to my congressional campaign and service as Acting Mayor of Boston has prevented my enjoyment of these stirring and eventful days at Gloucester.

"I extend you, gentlemen, for your devoted service, the hearty thanks of every red-blooded sportsman in the City of Boston, and assure you that the interest as aroused in these international contests will be extended in years to come until these sailing events will, in my judgment, assume as great an interest as those memorable contests between the "Mayflower" and the "Puritan" which assembled in New England waters during the late eighties, the finest gathering of sportsmen who have probably ever assembled at one time within our midst.

"May the closing race today for the international trophy and the supremacy of the commercial sea be marked by a great contest in which the best ship may win, and at which another testimonial will be paid those splendid sons of Gloucester who from time immemorial have gone down to the sea in ships."

HOURS FOR VOTING.

Voting booths in Boston will be opened between 6 a. m. and 4 p. m. at the state election Tuesday, November 7, the Election Commission has announced. It is a fact that in some other Bay State cities and towns voting will be permitted up to a later hour—until 8 p. m. in some centers.

But no person will be permitted to vote in Boston after the clock's hands reach 4. Steps have been taken to provide a generous surplus of ballots for the election, so that there will be no chance of a recurrence of conditions that existed in the primary election, due to ballot shortage.

Chairman Burlen of the commission said that body is still considering Mayor Curley's proposal that, after the next state election, the polls be kept open in Boston from noon until 8 p. m. instead of continuing longer the 6 a. m. to 4 p. m. schedule.

Before committing the citizens to such a change the commission wishes to get data from other municipalities of Boston's size which follow this proposed schedule. A decision will doubtless be made before the next state primary.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Oct. 16, 1922.

A regular meeting of the School Committee of the City of Boston was held in the School Committee Building, Mason street, at 6:30 o'clock P. M., the Chairman presiding.

Present: Dr. Bogan, Miss Curtis, Messrs, Lane, O'Connor and Scannell.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz. 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for masonry settings for new boilers at Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, Mass., and giving bond therefor of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of one thousand (1,000) dollars, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Masonry Settings for New Boilers," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. on Wednesday, November 8, 1922, with a certified check for five hundred (500) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. If the price bid appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low it may lead to the rejection of the proposal for said bid. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to accept any proposal should he deem it to be for the best interest of the city so to do.

VETO OF MAYOR.

Mayor Curley has vetoed the City Council's recent endeavor in attempting to amend the itinerant vendor's ordinance, so as to increase from $100 to $200 the fee charged this class of tradesmen.

The Mayor declares such amendment as that proposed would work a hardship upon reputable merchants who conduct business in Boston the year around; this was substantially the Chamber of Commerce objection to the proposal, in discussions preceding Council action.

The Mayor's message was as follows:

"I beg to return herewith, without my approval, the ordinance passed by your honorable body upon October 30, concerning transient vendor's licenses.

"The adoption of this ordinance would legalize the business of itinerant vendors, devoid of responsibility to the public with whom they may have dealings, and because of the very nature of their business would enjoy an advantage over legitimate concerns who conduct their enterprises during a full twelve months' period and whose property represents taxable income to the city, in addition to providing employment for inhabitants of the city.

"Recognition through legalizing by ordinance, as it is proposed, merchants not only whose goods but whose character may be questionable is an injustice to legitimate concerns and, in my opinion, should not only be discouraged, but, if possible, permanently prohibited."

On the ground that it might set up a precedent that would give the Boston Elevated a plausible excuse for refusing to continue its policy of returning to the 5-cent fare unit whenever and wherever possible, Mayor Curley has also vetoed the Council's action granting franchise to Alphonso Roberto for operation of a 5-cent jitney line between Bennington street, East Boston, and Park avenue, Revere.

LAND-TAKING IN EAST BOSTON.

The Acting Mayor has approved an order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners for the taking by eminent domain, for the purpose of erecting thereon an intermediate school, a parcel of land in the Samuel Adams District, East Boston, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on Maverick street 167 feet southeasterly from the corner of Orleans and Maverick streets; thence southeasterly by line of Maverick street 247 feet to land of Costanza; thence running southwesterly by land of Costanza 100 feet to land of Barodanza; thence northwesterly by land of Barodanza 7 feet; thence southwesterly by said land 95 feet to line of Everett street; thence northwesterly by said line 245 feet to land of DeStefano; thence northeasterly by land of DeStefano and Testa 195 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 48,750 square feet of land.

PROGRESS IN FIRE PROTECTION, 1872=1922.

BY THEODORE A. GLYNN, FIRE COMMISSIONER OF BOSTON.

On Saturday, November 9, 1872, at 7.24 p. m., an alarm of fire was sounded from Box 52, at the corner of Lincoln and Bedford streets. This was followed by four additional alarms received in rapid succession. These five alarms called the entire working force of the department to the scene of a fire which had started in the basement of a granite building at the corner of Summer and Kingston streets, occupied by Tebbitts, Baldwin & Davis as a dry goods store, and A. E. Young, hoopskirt manufacturer. The fire originated in the basement and burned through the elevator shaft to the upper stories and through the roof. The illumination from the fire was seen as far away as Charlestown fourteen minutes before the first alarm was sounded in Boston.

The fearful fire which resulted was the greatest catastrophe which ever visited Boston, and in the opinion of the officials in charge of the Fire Department in 1872 was due to the unaccountable delay in giving the alarm. The report of the commission appointed to investigate the cause of the fire and the efforts made for its suppression states that the fire "raged without control till the afternoon of the following day (Sunday), spreading through the best business portions of Boston, covering sixty-five acres with ruins, destroying 776 buildings, assessed at the value of $13,500,000, and consuming merchandise and other personal property estimated at more than sixty millions of dollars."

The date of this terrible conflagration marked an epoch in the history of Boston, and, approaching as we are the fiftieth anniversary of the disaster, it is truly characteristic of human nature that we should review the past half-century, not with any intention of boasting of our good fortune in escaping a similar fate, but to find out if we have made any real progress in preventing the possibility of such a catastrophe befalling us again. In such a review there is considerable opportunity for comparison in fire conditions of 1872 and 1922.

In 1872 the population of Boston was only 290,000, compared with approximately 832,000 today. The Fire Department at that time was under the control of the Board of Aldermen and the Common Council.

Notification.

As the size of the fire was attributed in a great measure to the delay in giving notice, it is well to consider at the beginning the facilities of half a century ago and the fire alarm system of today.

The total number of fire alarm boxes in 1872 was 164. Today there are 1,270 boxes installed throughout the city. The modern boxes are known as the "keyless door" type, which up to a few years ago the boxes were all locked and the keys intrusted to the care of certain citizens living or engaged in business in the vicinity of the box. The delay resulting from the obligation of finding the key before sounding an alarm is very apparent. If the custodian of a key was careless, or his home or place of business closed, much valuable time was lost in searching for some other caretaker. All public boxes today are of the keyless door type, and delays of this character are avoided.

In addition, two or three private fire alarm companies are in business in Boston today. These companies install private fire alarm systems in buildings, and over these systems alarms are transmitted to their central offices, and thence to the Fire Department. The systems are either automatic or may be operated manually without delay, thus assuring the Fire Department of prompt notice of the existence of a fire. Many potential conflagrations have been checked in the first five minutes, and in order to accomplish this the City of Boston has extended its fire alarm system commensurate with its growth.

Personnel.

In 1872 the membership of the department comprised a force of approximately 475 men, 385 of whom were call members, and the other 90 permanent men engaged in driving and operating the apparatus. It was necessary at the time of the great fire to enlist the services of approximately 500 additional men. The pay roll of the department in 1872 amounted to a little over $221,000, while in 1922 approximately $2,400,000 will be expended for salaries. Today the department gives employment to 1,400 men, 1,200 of whom comprise the actual fire-fighting force. The entire department is now on a permanent basis and there are no call men.

In making a comparison of the personnel of today with that of years ago consideration should be given to the type of men in our department at the present time. All appointments are made from eligible lists established after competitive civil service examinations. In order to pass these examinations a man must do considerable studying and also be in first-class physical condition to pass the rigid physicial tests imposed on all applicants for appointment. All promotions in the department are made in an almost similar manner, which induces the men to apply themselves industriously and become fully acquainted with the duties of firemen in order to fit themselves for the examinations.

In addition the department conducts schools of different kinds, frequent drills and inspections, thereby maintaining the efficiency of the personnel at a high standard. These features were unknown fifty years ago, and cannot be effectively adapted to a call fire department.

Equipment.

In 1872 the Fire Department consisted practically of twenty-one engine companies, each having a hose reel, or "jumper," the steamers being of small capacities; ten hose companies; seven hook and ladder carriages, and three extinguisher or chemical companies. Of the twenty-one steamers in service, six were located in the city proper, three in East Boston, three in South Boston, three in Roxbury and six in Dorchester. Of the seven hook and ladder carriages only two were in the city proper.

Today our fire-fighting equipment consists of fifty pumping engines, three fireboats, thirty ladder trucks, three water towers, one chemical company and one rescue company. In addition the department maintains a good percentage of reserve apparatus in first-class condition ready for any emergency. Practically eighty-five per cent of this equipment is motorized. A motor pumping engine of today has approximately the relative value of two of the steam fire engines of fifty years ago.

In 1872 the Fire Department was severely handicapped by an epidemic of a horse disease known as "epizootic," making it necessary to draw several of the pieces of apparatus to the scene of the fire by hand. It required about two hours to concentrate the total force of the department at any given point in the city in 1872. Today, with motor apparatus, and operating under a modern assignment system, we are able, if necessary, to mobilize all our apparatus in any part of the city in less than one half an hour. The cities and towns around Boston are well equipped with motor apparatus, and upon call could assemble their men and equipment in almost any part of our city in a very short time.

The Fire Department carries on sixty per cent of its apparatus what is known as "deck guns" for the purpose of concentrating heavy streams. The high pressure wagons are equipped to operate streams of such extreme caliber as to penetrate a blaze of the greatest magnitude and do effective work, where in the earlier days, less powerful streams would practically feed the flame.

Water.

Water and fire in a controlled state are two of the greatest servants of mankind today. Either, uncontrolled, presents a problem and wreaks havoc wherever it chooses to strike. Water, applied in proper force and volume, performs a great service to man in checking the ravages of the fire demon. When we look back and view the situation of fifty years ago we are amazed that even greater loss did not result from the terrible fire that visited the city.

In 1872 the water service in the downtown section consisted of a single set of mains, there being a 24-inch main in Washington street, from which a 12-inch pipe led through Bedford street, and down to what was then known as Broad street, now Atlantic avenue. This pipe continued on to State street and came up State street, connecting again to the 24-inch main. The district lying inside this territory was lined with 6-inch and 8-inch pipes, most of which had been underground for many years. The hydrants for fire purposes were of an old type, with offsets from the pipes on 4-inch pipe, and having but one outlet so that but one steamer could be connected to a hydrant. In many instances the hydrants were many hundred feet apart.

There were also scattered throughout the district quite a number of underground fire reservoirs supplied from the mains by a 4-inch pipe. The main in upper Summer street was of the 6-inch type, and without doubt was considerably reduced in efficiency through rust and inside accretions.

Today the district is gridironed with mains ranging from 36-inch feeders down to 8-inch pipes. Throughout the greater part of the district there are three independent systems of mains, namely, the so-called low service, which furnishes the general supply of water for domestic, business and fire purposes; the high service, which ordinarily furnishes water for automatic sprinklers, hydraulic elevators and similar arrangements, but nevertheless easily and quickly available for fire purposes; and the high pressure service of recent installation, intended for and devoted entirely to fire purposes. This latter service delivers water at the hydrant at the necessary pressure for fire purposes, and when desired makes the use of portable pumping engines more or less unnecessary. Thus Summer street today has all three services, a 12-inch low service main, a 12-inch high service main and a 16-inch high pressure fire service main. This applies in a general way to almost the entire district which was burned over in 1872.

The hydrants are now of the modern type, with three and four outlets, and to a large extent connected directly to the main, and where offsets are necessary they are of much larger size than were provided in 1872. Today the hydrants in our downtown section are spaced approximately 125 feet apart. Of course, in some instances they are much nearer where physical conditions govern the location. In the City of Boston today we have approximately 11,000 hydrants.

In so far as our present high pressure system is concerned, viewing it as an uncompleted system, we can easily obtain, at various pressures delivered on a fire, from 12,000 to 18,000 gallons of water per minute. In 1872, under the very best conditions, with the short line service under engine pressure, the department could deliver about forty-two streams, while today, under ordinary conditions with 300-foot lines, from our pumpers alone we are able to supply 130 $1\frac{1}{4}$-inch streams.

MISCELLANEOUS.

In addition to the protection provided by the city by a better Fire Department and increased water service, there have been many other achievements in the past fifty years which aid in eliminating the possibility of a conflagration in our city.

The building laws of today define the character of construction permitted in the congested area of Boston. In what was the burned district the greater percentage of the buildings are known as first-class construction. Fire walls are required, as well as many other fire stops, which result in confining and retarding the progress of a fire once started.

Many property owners are beginning to realize the duty they owe themselves and the community, and adopt all known measures to protect their property against destruction by fire. The automatic sprinkler has come into favor to a great extent during the past score of years, and today we have hundreds of buildings in Boston, both of first-class construction and of the older type, equipped with automatic sprinkler systems. No other private agency has been so effective in the extinguishment of fire as automatic sprinklers, and the successful career of this invention has won for it the hearty indorsement of fire and insurance officials the world over. Today the law requires the installation of sprinklers in certain classes of buildings, which fact is a distinctive testimonial of their recognition as an agency for conservation and safety.

Fire prevention is taking a position today alongside of fire protection. Fires can be prevented as well as extinguished. Just as the medical profession today is expending every effort to prevent disease, so do fire departments devote considerable time and labor in the prevention of fire. In the Boston Fire Department today we have a division known as the Fire Prevention Bureau. Affiliated with this bureau are thirty or more inspectors who are visiting buildings of all kinds in all sections of the city daily, noting defects and causing the correction of evils. Many of the hazards encountered are corrected immediately on the verbal request of the inspectors. There are found occasionally flagrant cases and conditions which require money and considerable persuasion to correct. These cases require a tremendous volume of attention and correspondence, and on account of this a force of clerks is kept busy at fire headquarters following up and disposing of the recommendations of the inspectors. The citizens of Boston have evidenced a willingness to co-operate with the Fire Department in its efforts along fire prevention lines, and since its inception the work of this bureau has been very successful.

CONCLUSION.

In spite of all that has been done and is being done Boston has problems to contend with which are not present in other cities. Our streets are narrow and traffic is congested. It is almost impossible to overcome the handicap of our narrow streets, but the traffic situation is a matter for regulation. Drastic steps should be taken to relieve the congestion of traffic in our high value district. Here a few moments' delay may result in a serious loss at any time. One flagrant feature of this congestion is the parking of vehicles, particularly of the motor-driven type, on or adjacent to hydrants in such a manner as to put the hydrant out of service for immediate use. When apparatus responds to an alarm of fire and such conditions are found, the engines must turn about and locate at some other hydrant, with the result that the most important moments in the life of a fire, so far as the defensive attack is concerned, are being wasted. The co-operation of the citizens is needed in correcting this evil.

Congestion of traffic did not interfere with the Fire Department in 1872. It has not resulted in serious consequences as yet. The evil is growing, however, and unless checked at once may get beyond control and present on some vital occasion a difficulty that no fire department is in a postion to overcome.

Time and again the question has been asked, "Could the fire of 1872 be repeated in Boston"? The answer is that American cities are not fireproof in the strict sense of the word. It might be well to quote here a statement made by the present chief of department to the effect that "anything is possible." All that is necessary is an unforeseen combination of circumstances, and the entrance of an unknown factor in our daily routine. It can be said that with the fire protection provided by the city, and the type of buildings erected and being erected in the high value section of Boston, the possibility of a conflagration covering the area of the fire of 1872 is being reduced to a minimum.

To point out clearly that great fires are still a possibility in our large cities, attention is called to the fire in Chicago on March 15 of this year, which resulted in an approximate loss of $10,000,000. To extinguish such a fire a force of fifty-one engine companies, six ladder companies, seven squad companies, two fireboats and four insurance patrols was called upon. In pumping units alone this force exceeds the entire complement of this type of apparatus in Boston. This example is not cited to emphasize the fact that there is any great possibility of a large fire in our business district, but merely to impress upon the minds of the readers of this article that it is unwise to rest with absolute security in a feeling of safety from fire.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Acting Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Beacon street, Brighton.

The property is bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to the West End Street Railway Company, bounded:

Southeast by other land of said company, three hundred thirty-five and 77–100 feet; southwest by the same, ten feet; northwest by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (private way) and from Proulx et al., three hundred thirty-five and 83–100 feet, and northeast by other land of said company, ten feet; containing thirty-three hundred and fifty-eight square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of a private way, bounded:

Southeast by land hereinbefore described as taken from the West End Street Railway Company, one hundred fourteen and 87–100 feet; southwest by land supposed to belong to the West End Street Railway Company, fifteen feet; northwest by another part of said private way and by land supposed to belong to Daniel J. Navin, one hundred fourteen and 87–100 feet, and northeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Proulx et al., fifteen feet; containing seventeen hundred and twenty-three square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Ernest Proulx and Mary T. Proulx, bounded:

Southwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from owners unknown (private way), fifteen feet; northwest by other land of said Proulx et al., two hundred twenty-one and 1–100 feet; northeast by the boundary line between the City of Boston and the town of Brookline, fifteen feet, and southeast by land hereinbefore described as taken from the West End Street Railway Company, two hundred twenty and 96–100 feet; containing thirty-three hundred and fifteen square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: About 332 linear feet of 7-foot by 6-foot $4\frac{5}{8}$-inch concrete surface water conduit and about 335 linear feet of 26-inch by 39-inch concrete sanitary sewer, in the above-described premises, being private land between Chestnut Hill avenue and the boundary line between the City of Boston and the town of Brookline.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

DEPARTMENT CHANGES.

The following changes in the number, rating and compensation of city employees have been made during the week ending Thursday, November 2:

Assessing Department.

The following-named temporary clerks have been granted an extension of time in order that they may complete work to which they have been assigned.

Edward J. McHugh, for a period of twelve days, effective November 4, 1922. James J. Sullivan, for a period of six days, beginning November 2, 1922.

The rate of compensation will be $4 a day.

Auditing Department.

Edward F. Sullivan, veteran, has been apointed as a clerk at a salary of $1,300 a year, for a period of approximately three months, as a substitute for Thomas J. Toomey, who is on leave of absence, without pay, due to illness.

Building Department.

Hector K. McInnes has been appointed to the position of plumbing inspector in the department, with a salary at the rate of $2,000 a year.

City Planning Board.

Kathleen C. Daly, stenographer, has been granted leave of absence, without pay, for a period of six months.

Gertrude M. Ryan has been appointed as stenographer for a period of six months, to take the place of Kathleen C. Daly, at the rate of $1,100 a year. This appointment is made from a list certified by the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission.

George C. Houser has been appointed to the position of assistant investigator at a salary of $30 a week. This is a temporary appointment and has the approval of the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission.

Collecting Department.

John J. McCarthy has been designated to serve as Acting City Collector at such times as City Collector William M. McMorrow may be absent during the ensuing four weeks.

Hospital Department.

The following persons have been employed at the Boston City Hospital during the week ending Thursday, November 2:

To Fill Vacancies, Permanent.—Mary Barry, ward helper, $10.50 per week; Mary E. Daley, ward helper (re-employed), $10.50 per week; Josie De Shuytnare, ward helper (re-employed), $10.50 per week; Annie Cox, ward helper, $10.50 per week; Daniel McFadden, ward porter, $13 per week; Timothy Donohue, ward helper, $13 per week; Fred Harnden, ward porter, $13 per week; Joseph T. Fitzgerald, ward porter, $13 per week; Thomas Waldron, ward porter, $13 per week; John Burtt, porter (re-employed), $12 per week; Andrew Flanagan, porter, $13 per week; Joseph O'Reilly, transfer porter, $10 per week; John T. Brewster, mortuary porter, $13 per week; Frank O'Connor, laundry porter, $14 per week; Mary A. Roddy, table girl, $8.50 per week; Steffani Koldys, laundress, $14 per week; Joseph McLaughlin, helper pathological laboratory, $12 per week; John J. Arnold, floor polisher, $12 per week; Catherine Doyle, telephone operator, $15 per week; Daniel McDougall, house cleaner, $12 per week; Dennis J. Meehan, house cleaner, $12 per week; Joseph Battilana, house cleaner, $12 per week; Edward Cooney, house cleaner, $12 per week; Christine MacIver, cleaner (re-employed), $10.50 per week; Anna Nagle, kitchen woman, $8.50 per week; Addie Moses, head nurse (re-employed), $80 per month; Mary Reed, ward assistant, $10.50 per week.

Temporary.—Julia Daly, special nurse, $42 per week; Cecelia Campbell, special nurse, $42 per week; Ellen Adams, Margaret Campbell, Margaret Kitteridge, Annabelle McLeod, Kathleen McElhinney, Florence McLaughlin, Amelia MacCormack, Laura MacPhee, Queenie MacGarvie, Maizie MacMannus, Lelia MacLellan, Sarah O'Donnell, Sarah Reardon, Anna Schultz, Margaret Sweeney, Celia Segal, Anna Walsh, affiliated nurses, $12.50 per month each; Mary Oliviera, affiliated nurse, $16.67 per month; Alice Longland, $10 per month; Samuel Hurley, cleaner, $10.50 per week; Mathew Rogan, cleaner, $10.50 per week.

The following changes in salary have occurred:

Alice R. Teague, Mildred Ferguson, Maria Millard, Mary Hines, Margaret Bean, Agnes Marks, nurses, $12.50 to $16.67 per month; Joseph Hannigan, Albert A. Vendetto, male nurses, $30 to $35 per month; Mary A. Croker, Helen R. Paul, nurses at $16.67 to head nurses at $75 per month; Eleanor Andrews, Helen Clarke, Josephine Colon, Claire Doucet, Hazelle Greene, Emma Long, Irene McMenamin, Anna Magnuson, Alice Murgatroyd, Bella Ring, nurses, $10 to $12.50 per month.

Institutions Department.

Deputy Commissioner Dennis D. Driscoll has been designated to serve as Acting Commissioner during the absence of Commissioner Dr. David J. Johnson from the city.

The following appointments have been made in the department for the week ending Thursday, October 26:

Boston Almshouse and Hospital.

Patrick H. Connors, institution employee, at a salary of $460 a year, to succeed William L. Eaton.

Emily S. Johnston, head nurse, at a salary of $960 a year, to succeed Grace Hatch.

Park Department.

Christina A. McFate, temporary telephone operator, with wage of $19 a week, has received an extension of temporary employment for a further period of thirty days.

Public Works Department (Bridge Service).

John J. Meehan has been appointed rodman at $1,000 a year.

William L. Campion has been continued in temporary employment as structural draftsman at $150 per month.

Dennis J. McLaughlin and Joseph J. Skayhan have been appointed as assistant drawtenders at $28.76 per week for a period of three months.

Public Works Department (Sanitary Service).

Arthur W. Clancy, Joseph Duggan, Edward Foley, William Koss and Peter Smith have been re-employed as carpenters at 70 cents an hour for a period of two months.

Charles A. Shoner, David F. Foly, Henry F. Short, John J. Hayes, William F. Shea, James M. Palma, John J. Hillen, Patrick G. Kelly, Thomas E. Greene, Cornelius J. O'Handley, Joseph H. Ware, James F. Dargon, Henry F. Furey and Anthony B. Trayers have been given permanent appointments as teamster-laborers at $4 a day.

Public Works Department (Sewer Service).

Vincent Brady and Ernest Dolan have been given an extension of temporary provisional employment as rodmen at $15 a week for three months.

Public Works Department (Street Cleaning Service).

Dennis Egan, William J. Keogh, Peter S. Kilduff, Patrick Costello, Thomas F. Gaffney, James W. O'Brien, Cornelius J. Sullivan, John Wark, Charles F. McCarthy, Raymond Dicillio, Walter F. Wenzel, William H. Haugh, Michael T. Clougherty and Patrick J. Linehan have been appointed as teamster-laborers at $4 a day. These men are veterans.

Christopher S. Winter, Jr. has been given temporary provisional employment as clerk at $1,000 a year for a period of two months.

Public Works Department (Water Service).

Michael J. Brown, Charles F. Conlon, John M. Donnelly, Patrick Gallagher, George M. Mulvey and William E. Tierney have been given additional temporary employment as laborers at $4 a day.

Peter V. Fernandes has been appointed fireman at $26.50 a week in the Water Service. He is a veteran.

Soldiers' Relief Department.

John F. Fitzgerald, permanent clerk, has received an increase of salary from $1,000 to $1,200 a year.

Transit Department.

Charles F. Miller, veteran, has been appointed as laborer at a wage of $4 a day, for a period not exceeding six months.

John F. Hayes, veteran, has been reinstated as a laborer at a wage of $4 a day.

John T. Nolan, veteran, has been appointed as laborer at a wage of $4 a day, for a period not exceeding six months.

Harry Davis, veteran, has been appointed as laborer at a wage of $4 a day, for a period not exceeding six months.

James F. Dolan, Dennis Lyons and Timothy F. McCarthy, concrete cutters, at a wage of $4.50 a day, have received an extension of employment for a period not exceeding three months.

Hugh Killon, veteran, waterproofer at $4.50 a day, has received an extension of employment for a period not exceeding three months.

Francis A. Trayers and Charles F. King, veterans, skilled laborers at $4.50 a day, have received an extension of employment for a period not exceeding three months.

Patrick E. Cahill, veteran, Patrick J. Hurley, veteran, James Coleman, Thomas Barrett, veteran, Thomas J. Feeney and John J. Connelly, bracers at $4.50 a day, have received an extension of employment for a period not exceeding three months.

Benjamin F. Lyons, Felice Giammito, William W. Dwyer, John J. O'Leary, Thomas J. McDonough, Frank P. Joyce, William Elwood, Daniel Gardner, Charles J. Howard, Francis J. O'Connell, Frederick W. Johnston, Peter F. Jorduli, Timothy J. Frane, Thomas H. Lyons, Joseph B. Collins, Anthony Salprizio, Frank H. Foley, Eugene J. O'Neil, Coleman Lydon, Michael J. Crosby and Joseph F. Collins, veterans, laborers at $4 a day, have received an extension of employment for a period not exceeding three months.

OVERTIME ALLOWED.

The heads of various departments whose employees have received payment for overtime state in connection therewith that if any laborer has been allowed to work more than eight hours per day it has been only in case of emergency under the law.

Hospital Department.

For the week ending Thursday, November 2:

Main Department.

E. Daicy, fireman, 12 hours, $8.25; V. Pepe, fireman, 12 hours, $8.25; T. Goodwin, coal passer (supply fireman), 12 hours, $8.25; M. J. Lynch, plumber, 9 hours, $5.63; W. J. Robbins, plumber, 9 hours, $5.63; W. O'Connell, plumber's helper, 25½ hours, $6.38; P. A. Curran, steamfitter, 9 hours, $5.81; J. J. Eisen, steamfitter, 9 hours, $5.81.

Haymarket Square Relief Station.

T. Clark, ambulance foreman, 12 hours, $7.

Total, $61.01.

Park Department (Cemetery Division).

The following employees of the division were actually engaged in making burials Sunday, October 29:

Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Nine funerals.

Enrico Binda, Thomas H. Brahany, Michael Conway, John J. Desmond, George J. Duffy, Bernard McCabe, laborers, 1 day each, $4; John E. Mulrey, sexton, 1 day, $4. Total, $28.

Public Buildings Department.

For the week ending Thursday, November 2:

J. Conlon, engineer, 3 hours, $2.50; J. H. Butt, fireman, 3 hours, $2.06; T. Jennings, elevatorman, 2⅝ hours, $1.63; J. McDonough, elevatorman, 1½ hours, $0.75. Total, $6.94.

Public Works Department (Bridge Service).

For the week ending Monday, October 30:

Drawtender.—J. E. Murray, 1 day, $4.93.

Assistant Drawtenders.—J. B. Reilly, W. M. Tracy, 1 day each, $4.11.

Total, $13.15.

Public Works Department (Ferry Service).

For the week ending Monday, October 30:

Quartermaster.—Rufus Clark, ¾ day, $4.08.

Deckhand.—Thomas Barry, ¼ day, $1.06.

Gateman.—James E. Green, ⅝ day, $3.

Fireman.—John McQuade, 1 day, $5.50.

Machinist—William Blinn, ¾ day, $375.

Total, $17.39.

Public Works Department (Paving Service).

For the week ending Monday, October 30:

Laborers.—John Dacey, Francis Turner, Antonio Nazzaro, Robert Barnes, John Dillon, John McCarthy, John Prior, James McGillicuddy, Wesley Hamilton, Hubert Darlington, Patrick Manning, John Mitchell, Leo McCoy, Bartholomew Clements, George Kraytenberg, Augustus Doucette, Eugene Parker, John Kernan, Frank Gavaghan, John Jenkins, Francis Carney, Peter McLaughlin, Richard McCarthy, James Dooley, James O'Rourke, Frederick O'Brien, Joseph Ricco, John Geary, 1½ days each, $6; William Watson, Harry Johnson, ¾ day each, $3; Thomas Lydon, Joseph Newton, 1½ days each, $6.

Engineers.—Thomas McManaman, John Mahoney, 1½ days each, $7.50.

Carpenter's Helper.—Michael Maguire, 1½ days, $6.

Painters.—H. Wagner, 1½ days, $7.50; James Craffey, 1½ days, $6.75.

Total, $221.25.

Public Works Department (Sanitary Service).

For the week ending Monday, October 30:

Feeder.—P. J. O'Rourke, 1 day, $4.25.

Public Works Department (Sewer Service).

For the week ending Tuesday, October 31:

Sewer Cleaners.—James Clancy, Michael Mulvey, 1¾ days each, $7.88; John O'Connor, ¾ day, $3.38.

Laborers.—James McNabb, 1¾ days, $7; Peter McKenna, Cornelius Sullivan, ¾ day each, $3.

Total, $32.14.

Public Works Department (Street Cleaning and Oiling Service).

For the week ending Monday, October 30:

Yardman.—M. J. Hurley, J. Holland, R. Morrissey, 1 day each, $4.

Teamsters and Laborers.—J. Considine, J. Golden, E. Noonan, R. Jennings, J. F. Cosgrove, E. F. Murphy, B. Callahan, P. Quigley, M. J. O'Connell, R. J. Nugent, J. Donovan, 1 day each, $4.

Total, $56.

Public Works Department (Water Service).

For the week ending Monday, October 30:

Chauffeurs.—J. Broderick, J. Conlon, T. Kelleher, 1 day each, $4.50.

Emergencymen.—M. Carney, 1 day, $4.25; A. Christie, $\frac{27}{32}$ day, $3.59; W. Fitzimmons, $\frac{9}{32}$ day, $1.13.

Firemen.—W. Abbott, J. McLaughlin, 1 day each, $5.

Foreman.—P. Mullen, 1 day, $5.

Repairers.—R. Welch, $1\frac{5}{16}$ days, $8.72; W. Rice, ¾ day, $3; J. Begley, ⅝ day, $3.13; P. Heffernan, $1\frac{5}{16}$ days, $6.56; D. Burke, ⅝ day, $2.81; W. Scanlan, ¼ day, $1.13; C. Sullivan, ⅝ day, $2.66; J. Donovan, 1½ days, $6; C. Driscoll, 2⅝ days, $13.13; T. Sullivan, 1½ days, $7.50; D. Kirby, $4\frac{25}{32}$ days, $21.72; A. Brennan, ⅝ day, $2.66; J. Dolan, 1½ days, $6.38; J. Leonard, $1\frac{5}{16}$ days, $5.58; N. McPhee, $\frac{27}{32}$ day, $3.59; W. Shields, $\frac{9}{16}$ day, $2.39; P. Coleman, 1⅛ days, $4.78; G. Green, $\frac{9}{32}$ day, $1.27; T. Byrnes, $\frac{15}{16}$ day, $4.22; A. McDougall, ⅜ day, $1.50; J. Blessington, $\frac{9}{16}$ day, $2.39; J. Cummings, $1\frac{5}{16}$ days, $5.91; F. Aucielo, $\frac{3}{16}$ day, $0.75; J. Burke, $\frac{3}{16}$ day, $0.75; F. Skaynor, ¾ day, $3.38; M. Burke, 1 day, $4.50.

Laborers.—A. LoPilato, ¾ day, $3; W. Lonnergan, 1 day, $4; P. Lydon, 1½ days, $6; S. Mariani, 1½ days, $5.58; M. Mulloy, 1½ days, $6; F. Petrocelli, $\frac{3}{16}$ day, $0.75; J. Roust, $1\frac{15}{16}$ days, $7.75; J. Schoen, ¾ day, $3; F. Ware, 2⅝ days, $10.50; B. Dellorusso, $2\frac{1}{16}$ days, $8.77; H. Pitrola, ⅜ day, $1.50; J. Mariani, $\frac{9}{32}$ day, $1.13; J. McCaffrey, 1 day, $4.

Total, $225.86; paid by Transit Department, $4; paid by High Pressure Fire Service, $4.50; net total, $217.36.

Transit Department.

For the week ending Thursday, October 26:

Watching at East Boston Tunnel, Repairing Machinery, Alterations Storage Yard and Pumping.—William Elwood, laborer, 1 day, $4; John J. Kelley, ironworker, 8 hours, $6.40; James M. O'Rourke, laborer, 1 day, $4. Total, $14.40.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Reconstruction and Repair of Streets).

Upon November 2 the Mayor approved a contract with S. J. Tomasello for bitulithic pavement in Chambers street, from Chambers street across Green street, city proper. Bids for the work, opened October 23, were as follows:

S. J. Tomasello, sheet asphalt, $4,513; bitulithic, $4,636; John J. Lane, sheet asphalt, $4,716.50; bitulithic, $5,024.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewerage Works).

Upon November 2 the Mayor approved a contract with R. Zoppo for sewerage works in Landseer terrace, between Landseer street and point 231 feet southwesterly, West Roxbury. Bids for the work, opened October 27, were as follows:

R. Zoppo, $2,326.50; M. De Matteo, $2,437; Vozzella & Capone, $2,510.25; DeChristofore & Brothers Company, $2,578.75; John Williams & Co., $2,579.75; V. Barletta, $2,888.50.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Upon October 30 the Acting Mayor approved a contract with F. J. Van Etten for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

BOSTON, October 25, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to F. J. Van Etten, 80 Boylston street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance, but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon November 2 the Mayor approved a contract for work upon Chelsea street, from Adams street to Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, with division force. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works, was as follows:

CITY OF BOSTON,
PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, October 26, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Authority is requested to perform work on Chelsea street, from Adams street to Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, with division force, without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $5,000. This is an assessable street and can, in my opinion, be done as advantageously by day labor methods as any work now necessary.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon November 2 the Mayor approved a contract with the Boston Buick Company for furnishing one five-passenger 1923 Buick touring car for the Sewer Service of the Public Works Department. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

CITY OF BOSTON,
SUPPLY DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, October 31, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to the Boston Buick Company for furnishing one five-passenger 1923 Buick touring car with full equipment, delivered in Boston to the Sewer Service, Public Works Department, at a price of $1,305.

As this machine best meets the requirements of this department, I trust that the permission requested will be granted.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon November 2 the Mayor approved a contract with the Boston Buick Company, for furnishing one seven-passenger 1923 Buick sedan car for the Transit Department. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

CITY OF BOSTON,
SUPPLY DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, October 31, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is requested to award a contract to the Boston Buick Company for the following machine required by the Transit Department:

One seven-passenger 1923 Buick sedan with standard equipment, delivered in Boston to the Transit Department, $2,360; less allowance for one 22-45 Buick touring car to be turned in toward purchase of new car, $775; total amount of contract, $1,585. As this machine best meets the requirements of the Transit Department, I trust that the permission requested will be granted.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

An addition, amounting to $40, on contract with Charles Capone for artificial stone sidewalks in Amherst and Morton streets, West Roxbury; Dana avenue and Oak street, Hyde Park, on account of removing tree where directed. Original contract, $6,934.09; total addition, $40; contract as standing, $6,974.09.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Bridge Service).

An addition, amounting to $150, on contract with the General Construction Company, Inc., for rebuilding Hyde Park Avenue Bridge, Hyde Park, on account of cutting and dressing stone bridge seat and concreting holes behind parapets. Original contract, $11,250; total addition, $150; contract as standing, $11,400.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Reconstructing and Repairing Streets by Contract).

An addition, amounting to $125, on contract with B. E. Grant Company for recutting and relaying granite block pavement in Essex street and Harrison avenue, on account of relaying granite block pavement where directed with gravel base and gravel joints, for the sum of $1 per square yard. Original contract, $14,166.40; total addition, $125; contract as standing, $14,291.40.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

A deduction, in the amount of $100, on contract with Lamont Brothers Company for work on tenth floor, 15 Beacon street, Boston. For omitting the roof ventilator over the westerly staircase shaft, for omitting the pipe covering called for and for omitting the adjustable radiator legs. Original contract, $4,300; total additions, $1,411.98; total deductions, $100; contract as standing, $5,611.98.

A deduction, in the amount of $978, on contract with John A. Gerrity for work at the Girls' High School, 100 Beacon street, Back Bay. For omitting all electrical work, which was done under separate contract. Original contract, $12,921; total deductions, $978; contract as standing, $11,943.

A deduction, in the amount of $796.25, on contract with John Bowen Company for work at Lewis District School, Roxbury. For allowance for 455 cubic yards of earth excavation at $1.75. Original contract, $171,500; total additions, $16,654.90; total deductions, $3,690.58; contract as standing, $184,464.32.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

An extension of time has been granted on contract with B. Krivitsky & Co. until November 4.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Gore, Inc., for laying granite block pavement in D street, from Fargo street to Claflin street, South Boston, from October 31, 1922, to November 15, 1922. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor was delayed by the gas company lowering main.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with John T. Shea, Jr., for building sewerage works in Dorchester avenue, between Summer street and Fort Point channel, city proper, from October 18, 1922, to January 16, 1923, 88 days. This extension of time is occasioned by the fact that the completion of that part of the work not yet finished is dependent upon the relocation of Boston Elevated Railroad tracks.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with D. M. Biggs & Co. for laying artificial stone sidewalks in Ashmont street, north side, from Adams street to Train street; Maxwell street, from Capen street to Nelson street; Park street south side, from Washington street to Alpha road, and Westville street, south side, from No. 59 to No. 89, Dorchester, from October 31, 1922, to December 1, 1922. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor was delayed on account of inability to get labor.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with the B. E. Grant Company for laying wood block pavement in Pearl street, from 153 feet south of Milk street across Franklin street; Franklin street, from Pearl street to Oliver street, and Congress street, from Milk street to 73 feet north of Franklin street, city proper, from October 31, 1922, to November 15, 1922. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor was held up by delay in delivery of wood blocks.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Antony Baruffaldi for building sewerage works for Glendale road outlet, Section 1, and North avenue, West Roxbury, from November 1, 1922, to January 3, 1923, 91 days. This extension of time is occasioned by delay caused by flood from brook crossing New Haven street and by the nature of the rock encountered in the excavation.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Timothy Coughlin for building sewerage works in Lorna road, Tiverton road, Stow road, Doone avenue, Glenhill road and Owen street, Dorchester, from November 4, 1922, to December 30, 1922, 56 days. This extension of time is occasioned by the fact that on account of scarcity of labor and the difficult nature of the work in Lorna road not anticipated the work will require the additional amount of time as aforementioned.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with M. DeSisto Company for building sewerage works in River street, from Perkins avenue about 360 feet northeasterly Hyde Park, from October 31, 1922, to December 30, 1922, 60 days. This extension of time is occasioned by the fact that on account of encountering ledge in larger quantity than had been anticipated and in close proximity to the street car tracks the work will require the additional length of time aforementioned.

An extension of time has been granted for completing the contract of the Union Water Meter Company for furnishing water meters to the Water Service, Public Works Department, until December 15, 1922, owing to the delay in awarding the contract, after the opening of bids, as there has been but a short time to make deliveries.

An extension of time has been granted on contract with the Nichols-Egan Company, for delivering finish hardware to the elementary school in the Samuel Adams District, Porter, Lubec and Frankfort streets, East Boston, until November 30, 1922.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

V. Grande has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Bowditch road, Firth road, Lasall street, Murray Hill road, Newfield street, Perham street, Roseway and Temple terrace, West Roxbury; also Forest avenue, Hyde Park. Items ordered: Twelve-inch pipe ordered laid in Firth road in lieu of 10-inch pipe shown on plan; 10 cents per foot increase, totalling $8; also hauling and handling 12-inch pipe not installed on the work and searching for buried gate; also placing 3-inch joists on Murray Hill road—the estimated cost of extra work being $35.

The C. & R. Construction Company have been directed to make the following substitution of work under contract for building sewerage works for Dorchester brook sewer, east fork, in Norfolk avenue, Dorchester. Items ordered: Substitute 2-inch wrought-iron pipe for 6-inch cast-iron water pipe, called for in Item 72 of contract, on account of inability of city to furnish 6-inch cast-iron pipe specified in said item, at price bid ($0.55 per linear foot) in proposal of the contract. Result will be a reduction of approximately $18.50 on account of this item.

Samuel J. Tomasello has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for paving Kingman road, from Westville street to Dakota street, Dorchester. Items ordered: Remove tree and stump on east side near the schoolhouse and remove stump of tree on east side about 50 feet south of tree to be removed; price to be paid for removing tree, the sum of $35; for removing stump of second tree, the sum of $15—the estimated cost of extra work being $50.

An extension of time for completing contract has been granted the Mt. Pleasant Contracting Company for the development of new section for single graves at Mt. Hope Cemetery, West Roxbury, until December 1, 1922.

An extension of time for completing contract has been granted Lamont Brothers Company for moving five portable school buildings in various districts, until November 15, 1922.

An extension of time for completing contract has been granted Lamont Brothers Company for moving six portable school buildings in various districts, until November 15, 1922.

An extension of time for completing contract has been granted the New England Iron Works Company for repairing and retubing boilers in various schools, until November 15, 1922.

George J. Regan has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for building sewerage works in Morton street, from West Selden street to summit, about 90 feet southeast of Fairmount street, Dorchester. Items ordered: Remove tree stumps not visible before beginning of work at Stations 0 plus 86, 1 plus 22, 1 plus 34 and 1 plus 53 in sewer on northerly side of street—the estimated cost of extra work being $4.50.

Samuel J. Tomasello has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for building sewerage works in Oak avenue, Fairview street and Ormond street, Dorchester. Items ordered: Remove four tree stumps in line of trench in Ormond street, Dorchester, on account of same having been invisible on the ground before beginning the work —the estimated cost of extra work being $12.

James Barletta has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for sewerage works for Faneuil valley brook conduit and dredging in Charles river, between Charles river and North Beacon street, Brighton. Items ordered: Furnish labor and materials to repair concrete parapet wall at end of Faneuil valley brook conduit at Charles river, including all incidental work—the estimated cost of extra work being $250.

The C. & R. Construction Company have been directed to perform the following additional work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Faxon street, Waupello street, Worcester square and Harrison avenue, South End. Items ordered: Lay 600 feet 12-inch pipe in Boardman street, between Leyden and Ashley street, East Boston, at the contract price of Item 1 (a), namely $1.10—the estimated cost of additional work being $660.

The B. E. Grant Company have been direced to perform the follownig extra work under contract for paving Dorchester avenue, from Summer street to bridge over Fort Point channel, city proper. Items ordered: Bar out and recut granite blocks where directed and bar out, clean and relay granite blocks with asphalt joints on the northerly side of Dorchester Avenue Bridge. Price to be paid, for each square yard of blocks barred out and recut, the sum of $1; for each square yard barred out, cleaned and relaid with asphalt joints, the sum of $2—the estimated cost of extra work being $3,200.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Acting Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works in Brook street, West Roxbury.

The property is bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Brook street, bounded:

West by Beryl street, six feet; north by another part of Brook street, two hundred and twenty feet; east by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Orange street) six feet, and south by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes September 24, 1903, two hundred and twenty feet; containing thirteen hundred and twenty square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Orange street, bounded:

West by land hereinbefore described as taken from owners unknown (Brook) street), six feet; north by another part of Orange street, nine feet; east by easement taken for sewerage purposes by the City of Boston February 9, 1916, six feet, and south by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes September 24, 1903, nine feet; containing fifty-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works, to be constructed are as follows: 261 linear feet of 20-inch pipe surface drain in the above-described premises, being part of the private way known as Brook street, between Beryl and Orange streets, and part of the private way known as Orange street, adjoining Brook street.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of said easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

BUILDINGS TO BE RAZED.

The Mayor has formally approved the request of Building Commissioner John H. Mahony that the following buildings, which constitute a fire menace and nuisance, may be razed:

Premises 227 Fairmount avenue, Ward 24. The owner, Mary E. Warren, address 87 Milk street, Boston, has been served with notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

Premises 69 Ceylon street, rear, Ward 17. The owner, Elm Farm Milk Company, has been served with notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

Premises 31 and 33 Oakdale street, Ward 22. The owner, John Everett, address Canton, Mass., has been served with notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

Premises 1436 Blue Hill avenue, rear, Ward 21. The owner, Mrs. Komniskey, 109 Maple street, Dorchester, has been served with notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

PURCHASE OF STEAMER.

Dr. David J. Johnson, Institutions Commissioner, received the following telegram yesterday from Mayor Curley in New York:

"War Department have finally agreed to sell S. S. 'General Rochester' to City of Boston for $20,000, an excellent bargain considering it cost $229,000. I have notified Colonel Gibbs that you will be at War Department Tuesday. Kindly arrange to do so."

Dr. Johnson left for Washington upon the 30th instant on the Federal Express to complete arrangements for the purchase of the boat.

ARMORY FOR EMERGENCY.

Mayor Curley has communicated to the City Hospital Trustees the advisability of conference with State military authorities for the use of the East Armory, East Newton street, as an auxiliary and annex to the City Hospital, if conditions require it, in anticipation of an unusual degree of sickness among the poor this winter, due to fuel shortage.

"Both National and State Fuel Administrators predict a considerable amount of discomfort, if not actual sickness, as the result of insufficient cars to bring anthracite to New England until well into the winter, or perhaps spring.

"In any event, all kinds of fuel will be costly all winter. Persons of small means are likeliest to be hardest hit, and their bodily resisting vigor will fall below par," the Mayor declared.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz. 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 153.

A trial board consisting of Captains Grant, Hickey and Skillings, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman John J. Barry of Division 3, charging him with entering a building, not on police business and without permission, has reported to the commissioner a finding of not guilty. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the complaint against the said Patrolman John J. Barry be dismissed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 155.

The attention of the force is hereby called to the adoption of a new procedure to be followed by the members of the force in the prosecution of cases which may come before the courts. This procedure will cause the discontinuance of the practice instituted by superintendent's orders of December 13, 1919, and March 25, 1920, requiring the presence of a sergeant or one of the older members of the force to be in attendance at court to assist and instruct the new officers in the prosecution of cases.

Commencing on November 1, 1922, there will be assigned from each division, excepting the Harbor Police, Traffic Division and headquarters, one patrolman, with two substitutes, either one of whom may act in the event of the absence of the first named in the order which is to follow, and who will be charged with the duty of instructing their brother officers in the proper method of presenting their evidence, properly prepared, for the determination of the court. This will not be construed as abridging or depriving the officer who has the case in hand of any credit which might come from it, as it will remain the case of the officer who originally brings the complaint.

Instructing officers will note the manner in which the younger patrolmen testify and correct any omissions or unnecessary language. They will impress upon all patrolmen the fact that at all times they must be respectful to magistrates and when giving testimony, must not appear timid, must stand naturally, and must not, under any circumstances, hold a toothpick in the mouth or chew gum, tobacco or any other substance. Before cases are presented to the court, the instructing officers will be especially careful to see that all proper witnesses are present and that corroborating witnesses, if any, are present or properly summoned before the case goes to trial. It is to be impressed upon the officers that they need have no fear of any cross examination of opposing counsel so long as they adhere to the truth.

The instructing officers will not limit or confine their instructions to the men of their respective divisions, but should such emergency arise they will lend their assistance to the officers of any other division who should appear to be in need of such assistance.

The officers who are to be assigned to this work are as follows:

Division 1.—Elmer W. Jones, Hugh J. Sullivan, Michael J. Kilroy.

Division 2.—John T. Clifford, Thomas F. J. McGrade, John E. Powers.

Division 3.—Richard J. Butler, John M. Sullivan, Edward P. O'Neill.

Division 4.—Linwood S. Leavitt, John J. Downey, James Hanlon.

Division 5.—Dennis F. Desmond, William Hazlett, Frederick I. Morrill.

Division 6.—Norman A. Eaton, John L. Sullivan, Joseph T. Geary.

Division 7.—Herbert J. Patterson, Peter F. McCoy, Thomas G. Duggan.

Division 9.—Frederick G. Higgins, Philip E. Schumann, John H. McFarland.

Division 10.—Frank E. Gilman, Frank V. Sullivan, John B. Dolliver.

Division 11.—Cornelius F. Leary, Charles C. Ridlon, Wiswall W. Randolph.

Division 12.—Thomas F. Casey, John J. Sweeney, James M. Breen.

Division 13.—John W. Shone, Patrick H. Purcell, Athanasius McGillivray.

Division 14.—Walter Brown, Daniel F. Sullivan, John T. Dolan.

Division 15.—Jeffrey J. O'Connell, William J. Bonner, George W. Quilty.

Division 16.—Frank McNabb, Edwin L. Montgomery, John J. Devine.

Division 17.—James H. Jacobs, Frederick G. Brauer, Albert J. Nott.

Division 18.—Frank H. Shepard, Alexander Herring, Thomas J. Meighan.

Division 19.—William Balch, Edward A. Burroughs, Ferdinand E. Breed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 156.

The resignation of Patrolman Myrl E. Robards of Division 2 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Monday, October 30, 1922, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 157.

The resignation of Patrolman William P. Kelly of the Traffic Division having been presented while charges are pending against him, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Tuesday, October 31, 1922, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS.

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel, states the Law Department has disapproved seven claims against the city, in four of which no amounts were specified, and the other three aggregated $498, and are classified as follows:

Against the Fire Department, two, in one of which no amount was specified, and the other one amounted to $150; against the Hospital Department, one, amounting to $10; against the Police Department, one, amounting to $338; against the Public Works Department, three, in which no amounts were specified.

All these claims have been disapproved for the reason that there appeared to be no legal liability on the part of the city.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 80.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF BOSTON'S GREAT FIRE.

Thursday, November 9, 1922, will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the great fire which visited Boston in 1872. This fire covered an area of 65 acres and resulted in a property damage, both real and personal, amounting to approximately $78,000,000. Eleven lives were lost and 776 buildings were destroyed during the progress of the fire. The fire was a serious shock to the business interests and citizens of Boston, but the city was quick to recover from the disaster, and the past fifty years have been marked with progress and advancement. Fire fighting has become a science, and especially trained men are required to maintain and operate the fire-fighting machinery of the department, which has developed in type and efficiency in the same degree as many other noteworthy inventions of the past generation. Boston has kept abreast of the times, and the lessons learned from the fire of 1872 are reflected in the high character of the Fire Department of 1922. It has been most pleasing to the present Fire Commissioner to listen to the most favorable comment on the efficiency, equipment and standards of the Boston Fire Department of today from visiting fire officials from various parts of the world.

The fiftieth anniversary of the fire is to be observed in one way or another by many organizations. The anniversary is one of particular significance to the Fire Department, and naturally the Fire Department is making appropriate arrangements for a proper observance of the day.

The most prominent feature in the program of the Fire Department is a parade to be held on the afternoon of Thursday, November 9, starting at 1.30 p. m. In order that the efficiency of the department may not be weakened it becomes necessary for the Fire Commissioner to call on the members of the department who are off duty on that day to volunteer and represent the department in the parade. The regulation uniform with white gloves will be worn. Approximately 400 men will be on a day off November 9, 1922, and it is hoped that every one of these men will find it possible to volunteer his services for the afternoon and assist in an effective commemoration of the day. All men who will volunteer for this service are requested to give their names to their company commanders so that they may be forwarded to the Fire Commissioner on Friday, November 3, 1922.

It is proposed to start the parade at 1.30 p. m. at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Arlington street, and proceed along the following route: Arlington street, Beacon street, School street, Washington street, Milk street, Federal street, High street, Summer street, Winter street, Tremont street, Boylston street to Park square, and disband. The parade will be reviewed at the State House by his Excellency Governor Channing H. Cox, at City Hall by his Honor Mayor James M. Curley, and in Park square by the Fire Commissioner and staff.

In addition to the members of the Boston department who will participate in the parade, invitations have been extended to the various cities and towns in the vicinity of Boston, and to all cities and towns who responded to the call for assistance in 1872. Judging from the replies already received from the cities and towns, the representatives from outside departments will assist in making the parade a most formidable one. As all replies have not yet been received a complete roster cannot be issued at this time.

Another item of the program is as follows:

At 7.24 p. m., November 9, 1922, the old fire alarm box signal "52," which was sounded for the 1872 fire, will be struck out on department tappers and gongs.

The following apparatus is assigned to respond to the old box location (present Box 1431), Summer and Lincoln streets:

Engines 7, 10, 25, 35, Ladders 8, 17, Rescue 1, Tower 3, Division 1, Districts 3 and 5.

Engine 39 will cover at Engine 25's quarters until that company returns.

Upon receipt of the signal "52," high pressure pumps will be started in operation.

In the event of any of the above scheduled apparatus having responded to a preceding alarm, or being out of service, the Fire Alarm Office will dispatch such apparatus as will cover the quota assigned above.

In the event of any succeeding alarms from boxes to which any of the apparatus engaged in this demonstration would respond, the Fire Alarm Office will dispatch a full quota to such alarms.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

John O. Taber,
Chief of Department.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Acting Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works in Mildred avenue, Dorchester.

The property is bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to George H. Thompson, bounded:

Northeast by land of the City of Boston (Norfolk Street Playground), eight feet; southeast by other land of said Thompson, three hundred twenty-six and 71-100 feet; southwest by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes August 25, 1898, eight feet, and northwest by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes October 19, 1915, three hundred twenty-six and 49-100 feet; containing twenty-six hundred and thirteen square feet, more or less.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of said easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

FALSE AGENT AT WORK.

The Fire Commissioner has been informed that some person or persons have called at commercial houses in this city representing themselves as collectors for a fund for the Fire Department. When notified of this fact, the Fire Commissioner, Theodore A. Glynn, stated that "No individuals whatever have been authorized in any way to solicit funds for the Fire Department or to use the name of the Fire Department in connection with the raising of any fund."

DEMOLITION OF BUILDINGS.

The following is a list of the buildings for the demolition of which permits have been issued by the Building Department during the week ending Saturday, October 28:

FINANCE COMMISSION.

Boston, November 2, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,— On June 8, 1922, the division engineer of the Paving Service sent a requisition to the Superintendent of Supplies for the purchase of "one scarifying road roller" for the Paving Service of the Public Works Department.

On June 17, 1922, the Superintendent of Supplies advertised in the City Record for bids for furnishing "one scarifying road roller" for the Paving Service of the Public Works Department. No specifications, either oral or written, were indicated in the proposal to bidders.

After the advertisement appeared in the City Record, but before the bids were opened, a representative of the Buffalo-Springfield Roller Company inquired of the division engineer of the Paving Service of the Public Works Department as to the size of the roller required, and learned that the department needed a 15-ton roller with a scarifier attached. This company accordingly bid on that size roller.

The Barber Asphalt Company, the lowest bidder, did not inquire of any city official as to the size of the roller required, for the reason that that company had only one size of roller, namely, a 12-ton steam roller, in two styles, one with a locomotive boiler and the other with an upright boiler.

A representative of the Acme Road Machinery Company, which specializes in the manufacture of a roller driven by a gasolene engine, made inquiry of the division engineer of the Paving Service after the bids were opened as to the size of the roller required, and was informed that a 15-ton roller with a scarifier attached was needed, and was further informed that a roller driven by a gasolene engine was not desired, because in the opinion of the division engineer gasolene-driven rollers had not proved a success wherever tried.

On June 27, 1922, bids were opened. The three companies above mentioned submitted bids as follows:

	Gross Bid.	Per Cent off for Cash.	Discount.	Net Bid.
Barber Asphalt Company:
Weight, manufacturers' rating, 12 tons, with scarifier, 24,800 pounds.*
With locomotive boiler	$3,950 00	5	$197 50	$3,752 50
With upright boiler	4,250 00	5	212 50	4,038 50
Acme Road Machinery Company:
Weight, manufacturers' rating, 10 tons, with scarifier, 24,000 pounds *	6,000 00	2	120 00	5,880 00
Buffalo-Springfield Roller Company:
Weight, manufacturers' rating, 15 tons, with scarifier, 29,000 pounds *	6,983 00			6,983 00

* Weight does not include load of coal and water.

After the bids were opened a representative of the Barber Asphalt Company called upon the Superintendent of Supplies and was informed that his bid, although the lowest by more than $2,000, would not be accepted, for the reason that his company's 12-ton roller was not heavy enough. This company, not having a roller heavier than 12 tons, took no further steps in the matter.

Thereafter the Superintendent of Supplies submitted to the Commissioner of Public Works—on the office paper of the Acme Road Machinery Company—the specifications for a 12-ton roller of both the Acme Road Machinery Company and the Buffalo-Springfield Roller Company, and stated to the Commissioner of Public Works that the bids of both companies were based on these specifications and that the bid of the Acme Company was substantially $1,000 less than that of the Buffalo-Springfield Company. This was not the truth. The specifications that the Superintendent of Supplies submitted to the Commissioner of Public Works were not the specifications on which the bid of the Buffalo-Springfield Roller Company was based. The Buffalo-Springfield Roller Company would have furnished the roller described by the Superintendent of Supplies for approximately $5,430, or $450 less than the Acme Road Machinery Company.

Relying, however, on the above statement of the Superintendent of Supplies, the Commissioner of Public Works replied that he could not see any difference between the specifications to warrant a difference of $1,000 in the price.

It has not been made clear to the Finance Commission why the Superintendent of Supplies submitted to the Commissioner of Public Works specifications for a 12-ton machine, after telling the Barber Asphalt Company, the lowest bidder for a 12-ton machine, that the city would not buy a machine of that weight. Nor is it apparent why the Superintendent of Supplies in submitting the above specifications did not submit also the specifications of the Barber Asphalt Company, the lowest bidder for a machine of the same type and of slightly greater weight. If this had been done and a comparison made and properly presented by the Superintendent of Supplies, it would have been clear to the Commissioner of Public Works that the city would save $2,000 by purchasing the Barber Asphalt Company's roller.

On August 2, 1922, the Superintendent of Supplies in writing requested your Honor's permission to be allowed to purchase without advertising one scarifying road roller of the Acme Road Machinery Company for $6,000, but did not state the size or weight. He said:

"I submitted the specifications for the steam roller furnished by the Acme Road Machinery Company to the Commissioner of Public Works and he informed me that it is practically identical with that of the Buffalo-Springfield Rollers, which have been used exclusively by the City of Boston.

"The purchase of the Acme roller will mean a saving to the Public Works Department of almost $1,000, and I therefore trust that the permission requested will be granted."

The above statement was not true in respect to the specifications submitted to the Commissioner of Public Works, nor was it true with respect to the saving by the city.

Your Honor granted the request of the Superintendent of Supplies on August 3, 1922. On that date the roller which the city purchased had not been manufactured.

A representative of the Acme Company testified before the Finance Commission that he was at the company's factory in Frankfort, N. Y., in August, 1922, and that at that time the roller purchased by the city had not been assembled, but that the company was then working on the parts.

The roller was received by the city on September 22, accompanied by a skilled mechanic of the Acme Company, who remained in Boston three weeks, although no work was done with the roller until October 5. A few days of this delay was caused by the refusal of the state department to certify the boiler, because it did not have the year of its make stamped upon it. The roller was put to work on October 5, on North Anderson street, West End, because, as the division foreman testified, the job was an easy one for any roller. Shortly after work was begun the fire box broke down. Examination disclosed that the fire box grate was supported by cotter pins only, an unusual construction for steam rollers.

Work was resumed by the roller on October 9 and continued with more or less regularity until the afternoon of October 24, when it was removed to the South End yard, because the Department of Boiler Inspection of the Commonwealth refused to permit the roller to be used until the boiler was stamped with the year of its make. The boiler used in this steam roller was made by the Ames Iron Works of New York in July, 1920, and was not shipped from the manufacturer's yard to the Acme Company until June, 1922.

The Acme Road Machinery Company is engaged chiefly in the manufacture of stone crushers. Its manufacture of road rollers has been confined chiefly to those driven by a gasolene engine, although it has manufactured a few steam road rollers.

The Finance Commission requested the Acme Company to furnish a list of owners or users of its steam road roller. It appears from a list of users furnished the Finance Commission that none of its steam rollers are used in New England, except in the village of Foxcroft, Me. The chief users appear to be small towns in New York State. Two of these towns reported that they had rented steam road rollers of the Acme Company, the rent of $20 per day when used to be applied on the purchase price of $5,200. The prices paid by eight purchasers of Acme Road Machinery Company steam road rollers with scarifiers ranged from $4,650 to $5,600.

As a result of the conduct of the Superintendent of Supplies in this transaction, the City of Boston has bought a road roller that is too light in weight for the work for which it was purchased, and at a cost of over $2,000 above what a similar roller could have been bought for, had the lowest bid been accepted. In addition the city has lost the use of a road roller for practically a whole season.

The Finance Commission recommends: That your Honor demand of the Superintendent of Supplies an explanation of his neglect of the city's interest in the purchase of this scarifying road roller.

Respectfully submitted,

Michael H. Sullivan,
Chairman,
Courtenay Guild,
John F. Moors,
J. Waldo Pond,
The Finance Commission.

Mayor Curley addressed the following letter:

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman, Finance Commission, Boston, Mass.:

BOSTON, November 2, 1922.

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication this day with reference to a minor purchase by the Supply Department for the Paving Service of the Public Works Department, and would greatly appreciate in future the submission of these communications during working hours, and also would respectfully suggest that common courtesy would dictate that reports of your commission should be submitted to the Mayor before providing the press with the same. I might also suggest that common decency might require the secretary of your commission to discontinue the practice of attempting to stampede the press with advance information unless the same be of importance.

I have conferred with the Commissioner of Public Works relative to the road roller in question and am informed by him that it is satisfactory so far as he has been able to ascertain and meets the requirements of his department.

I have conferred with the Superintendent of Supplies and he informs me that this type of road machine was recommended for the reason that the price was $1,000 less than that of the Buffalo-Springfield Roller Company, the only other road rolling scarifier that in his opinion would meet the requirements of the Public Works Department of Boston. With reference to the statement that similar road rollers had been purchased by other cities at a price 7 per cent less in some cases than the price paid by the City of Boston, this is disputed by the Superintendent of Supplies, who states that he has conferred with representatives of the Acme Road Machinery Company, and has been informed by them that in no case has a less price than that which the City of Boston was required to pay been paid by any other city.

With very kindest regards and deep appreciation for directing my attention to this matter, I beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 158.

The Superintendent of Police is hereby directed to make the following details for duty at the state election in this city on Tuesday, November 7, 1922:

1. Three patrolmen for duty in the office of the Board of Election Commissioners, City Hall Annex, from 12 o'clock noon, Monday, November 6, 1922, such detail to continue until all ballots cast at the election have been returned.

2. An officer of rank above that of sergeant for duty at the City Hall Annex, to supervise the police detail, from 4 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, 7th inst., until relieved.

3. Three patrolmen for duty at the office of the Election Commissioners at 11.30 o'clock a. m., Monday, 6th inst., to guard ballots in transit on trucks at door of office of the Election Commissioners to its vaults in the basement of City Hall Annex.

4. The necessary number of patrolmen from the several police divisions to attend the several polling places in this city on state election day, to preserve order and protect voters in the full exercise of their rights.

5. Two patrolmen from Division 18 to report at office of Board of Election Commissioners at 3 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, 7th inst., and there to receive ballot boxes, ballots and other paraphernalia required for the election in Ward 24, and deliver same on motor vehicle, furnished by the Election Commissioners, to the station house of Division 18.

6. Twenty-five sergeants, one to a motor vehicle, to report at office of the Election Commissioners, City Hall Annex, Court square, at 4 o'clock a. m. (excepting the sergeants for Wards 21 and 23, who will report at 3.30 o'clock a.m.), Tuesday, November 7, 1922; thence to proceed in such vehicle with ballot boxes, ballots, etc., to the several precincts in their respective wards (Ward 24 excepted), and deliver same to the police officer detailed in each precinct.

7. Nine patrolmen from Division 18, one patrolman from Division 19 and one patrolman from Division 17, to report at the station house of Division 18, at 4.30 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, November 7; thence to proceed in a motor vehicle to be provided for the purpose with the ballot boxes and other paraphernalia and distribute the same in the various precincts of Ward 24.

8. One patrolman to each of the 274 precincts to report at 5 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, November 7, to receive ballot boxes, etc., from sergeants detailed on motor trucks, in such cases provided; such detail to continue until the ballots are counted and the result declared. They are then to bring the ballots and returns to the Election Commissioners' office.

9. Cards with the ward and precinct number and location of voting booth printed thereon have been forwarded to the several police divisions, on which the division commander will write the name, the division number, and the number of the officer detailed at 5 a. m., November 7, at the voting booth of each respective precinct on his division. This card, to be given to the officer so detailed at the voting booth, will be retained in his possession until delivered by him to an employee of the Board of Election Commissioners, who will arrive accompanying a sergeant on motor vehicle from the Election Commissioners' office on the morning of November 7, with ballot boxes, ballots, etc., as hereinbefore stated. This card, when returned by such employee to the office of the Election Commissioners, will be its receipt that the ballot boxes, ballots, etc., have arrived at their proper destination.

In the case of Ward 24, such cards, after having been properly filled out by the division commander, will be given to the two patrolmen who are to report at the office of the Election Commissioners at 3 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, 7th inst., as herein stated, and are to be delivered by them to the Election Commissioners on receipt of the ballot boxes, ballots, etc.

10. On receipt by the patrolman from as herein provided, of registering ballot as herein provided, of registering ballot-box, voting lists and such other documents as may have been received from the Election Commissioners, the patrolman detailed at polling places will deliver same to the warden or clerk of the precinct, allowing no person to take or handle them before such delivery, and hand the key of the registering ballot box to the warden. On delivery of ballots to the warden, the patrolman will take from him a receipt for the ballots, which receipt will be returned to the Election Commissioners.

11. After the warden has opened the box and allowed the election officers and the public to see that it is empty, the box is to be again locked and the key given to the patrolman, who is to retain it until after the polls have closed, except that, at the request of the warden, the patrolman may allow him to open the box for the purpose of pressing down the ballots, in order to make room for more ballots, after which the patrolman will see that the box is again locked, and the key returned to the police officer.

12. The patrolman will obtain from the warden copies of poster, which will be sent to the latter, in relation to smoking and the use of liquor in polling places, and post same in conspicuous places where it may be easily read. Tacks will be sent for the purpose.

13. The warden will deliver to the patrolman detailed at the polling place for his use at that place a copy of the descriptive voting list, which must be returned to the warden at the close of the polls.

14. When the polls are opened, the patrolman will mark in the place indicated on the tag attached to the key the figures which the register shows before any ballots are cast.

15. At 4 p. m., Tuesday, November 7, when the polls close, one sergeant will report in each of the 26 wards (Ward 24 excepted), to meet motor vehicle at last point of morning distribution; thence to proceed to each of the several precincts in his respective ward, and receive registering ballot box (which must be locked) and key thereof, voting lists envelope, signed by the warden and other election officers, receipts for ballots, unused ballot envelope (containing unused and spoiled ballots), stamps for marking spoiled ballots, carry them to the Election Commissioners' office and deliver same to some member of the Board of Election Commissioners.

16. When the polls are closed, the patrolman will mark on the same tag the figures which the register shows after all ballots have been cast. He will then hand the key to the warden, who will open the box and take out all the ballots to be sorted and counted. The warden will then cause the voting lists, including the list used by the police officer, to be sealed up in an envelope and the envelope certified by the signatures of himself and the other election officers, and the same returned to the Election Commissioners, as described in section 15 of this order. The patrolman will not allow this envelope to be put into the ballot box. The sergeant, who will report on motor vehicle, will keep it about his person until delivery at the office of the Election Commissioners. The unused and spoiled ballots are then to be put in the envelope for unused ballots, and the envelope sealed and certified.

17. When returning from polls, all motor vehicles must drive to the easterly side of City Hall Annex, Court square, where ballot boxes will be conveyed by chute to the basement.

18. It is important that the patrolman sees that the voting lists envelope is signed by the warden, clerk and all the inspectors. The patrolman will also see that the special book for signatures of voters is returned in the registering ballot box.

19. In case a patrolman is detailed to relieve another after the close of the polls, the commanding officer will see that he is instructed as to the duty of bringing the official returns, the box of ballots cast, and the press return to the Election Commissioner's office as soon as they are delivered to him by the election officers.

20. When the ballots have all been counted, the ballots thus counted, tally sheets and nothing else, shall be placed by the warden in the leatheroid box sent for that purpose, which must be sealed up and signed by all the election officers. The patrolman will particularly see that this box is properly sealed up and that all the election officers have signed their names to the certificate on the box. The patrolman will then bring the box, official return, press return, and stamps for marking defective ballots to the City Hall Annex, Court square, and deliver same to the Election Commissioners. The patrolman is directed not to allow the official return or record book to be placed in the leatheroid box.

21. After the close of the polls, a vehicle, to be provided for the purpose, will be sent to the various precincts in Ward 24, to bring police officers with regular ballot boxes, unused ballots, etc., to the station house of Division 18, from which place only two police officers need accompany the motor vehicle with the regular ballot boxes, unused ballots, etc., to the office of the Election Commissioners.

22. While the polls remain open, an officer of rank will visit the polling places in each division at stated intervals, to be designated by the captain, and in case of any disturbance will report the fact to the commanding officer of the station house without delay. If additional men are needed beyond the number available in that division, the officer in charge will communicate immediately with headquarters.

(Note.—Refreshments consisting of coffee and sandwiches will be provided by the Board of Election Commissioners in Station House No. 2 for the officers detailed to report at the office of the Election Commissioners on the morning of November 7.)

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Acting Mayor has approved the following construction work requested by the Commissioner of Public Works:

A sanitary sewer of 12-inch earthen pipe in Adams street, between Milton street and a point 110 feet southerly, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $770.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe and a surface drain of 10-inch earthen pipe in Landseer terrace, between Landseer street and a point 231 feet southwesterly, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $2,415.

A sanitary sewer of 12-inch earthen pipe in Gertrose street, between Webber street and Mall street in the Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $3,666.

A sanitary sewer of 26-inch by 39-inch concrete and a surface drain of 7-foot by 6-foot 4⅝-inch concrete in private land south of Beacon street, between westerly line of Prendergast avenue and a point 335 feet easterly, in the Brighton district, at an estimated cost of $17,000.

PUBLIC RECREATION IN BOSTON.

Number of large parks, 24; separate playgrounds, 43, with total of 324 acres, also 13 playgrounds in parks, with area of 155 acres; small parks and squares, 75; total area, 2,685.68 acres. Cost of Main Park System, i. e., 1,386 acres (incl. Common and Public Garden, 72.65 acres) land and construction (since 1877 when begun), $12,180,832; of Marine Park System, i. e., 457.9 acres (since 1883), $4,474,150; of all other parks and public grounds, $2,274,437; of separate playgrounds, $4,385,346. Total cost, $23,314,765.

The leading attraction of the Main Park System is Franklin Park (named for Benjamin Franklin), acquired in 1883-84, and containing 527 acres, about 80 of which are occupied by the Zoological Garden, 15 miles of walks, 8 miles of driveways, etc., the entire cost up to 1921 being $4,496,801. There are also within the City limits 958 acres of Metropolitan parks and parkways under State control, chief of which is Stony Brook Reservation in West Roxbury, containing 464 acres of wild forested hill and dale with many rocky knolls and an extensive view of the Charles River valley and beyond.

Number of public indoor baths open all the year, 14; 9 beach baths and 7 floating baths open during summer; indoor gymnasia, 11; total number of indoor baths taken in year 1920, 1,389,994, of which 74.2 per cent were by men and boys.

Total valuation of City properties devoted to recreation $69,306,900 (including $55,112,400 for Boston Common and Public Garden), which far exceeds that of any other American city except New York.

HOW THE CITY DOLLAR WAS SPENT DURING THE LAST FINANCIAL YEAR.

For Public Schools, $0.23 cents (if the total amount appropriated had been expended, the correct figure would be 0.262); Public Works, 0.176; State Tax and Assessments, 0.133; Debt Requirements, 0.12; Police Dept., 0.08; Fire Dept., 0.07; Institutions and Poor Relief, 0.039; Hospitals and Health, 0.038; General Government, 0.037; County Courts, etc., 0.037; Public Recreation, 0.027; Public Library, 0.013, making a total of 100 cents. This excludes all expenditures from loans, etc., but includes Special Appropriations from Tax Levy and other General Income.

The revenue of the departments amounted to 16 per cent of their gross expenditures. The revenue of Public Service Enterprises alone (including Water Service, Markets, etc.) amounted to $3,997,166 or $234,117 more than their total expenditures. The fractions of the dollar above stated represent net expenditure, computed after deducting department revenue.

Revenue from another class of public $19,979.55 more than the interest and sinking-fund requirements of the Rapid service enterprise, i. e., Rapid Transit subways and tunnels, $1,446,516.75 or Transit debt in 1920.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

FOREST HILLS COURTHOUSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 21, 1922.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Superintendent of Public Buildings relative to the work on the new Forest Hills Courthouse, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Buildings Department,
October 18, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The contractors for the erection and completion of the new Forest Hills Courthouse, in excavating for the grading of the grounds around said building, have discovered considerable rock formation which will necessitate blasting. No provision for this was made in the contract and inasmuch as the appropriation for this work is practically exhausted, it will be essential to provide money for doing this work.

There is an appropriation in the sum of $30,000 for a site for this building and I am informed that this will be more than sufficient to provide said site and that there will be quite a balance remaining.

I therefore respectfully request that a transfer from the appropriation, Courthouse, Forest Hills Site, in the sum of $5,000, be made to the appropriation, Courthouse, Forest Hills.

Respectfully yours,
FRED J. KNEELAND,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Courthouse, Forest Hills Site, $5,000, to the appropriation for Courthouse, Forest Hills, $5,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

BOSTON CONSERVATION BUREAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 19, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The Boston Conservation Bureau, established by city ordinance September 18, 1922, is desirous of maintaining its program of indoor meetings in municipal buildings and public halls for the promotion of its safety, health and welfare campaign, and that there may be no cessation of this most necessary work I recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the Boston Conservation Bureau, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

BOSTON RETIREMENT ACT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 20, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—In order to provide for the expenses necessary for the administration of the Boston Retirement Act for the remainder of the year, I respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the expenses incurred for the remainder of the financial year 1922-23 by the Retirement Board appointed to carry out the provisions of chapter 521 of the Acts of 1922, be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER, DEPARTMENT OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 21, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication received from the Sealer of Weights and Measures, requesting a transfer of $1,600 from the Reserve Fund for the repair and care of automobiles, and respectully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Weights and Measures Department,
October 18, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—Because of the poor condition of our Ford trucks, necessitating much more repair work than anticipated when the budget was in the making, we have at the present time a balance, on B-14, Motor vehicles, repairs and care, of $178.80. Our other items are figured so close that it will be impossible to make a transfer from any other item to B-14. For the balance of the year we figure that we will need approximately $1,600 for care and repairs of cars.

At the time the budget was figured we wrote the Mayor and Finance Commission in part as follows: "We have found that Ford cars for our work is a poor investment . . . the expense for repairing is surprisingly large after the first year." At the time we understood from the Finance Commission that they would recommend to the Budget Commissioner and Mayor the necessity of turning in Ford cars every two years or purchasing a more substantial car in the future. We expected a revision of the budget on these recommendations but they were never taken up, with the result that we had six 1920 and one 1919 cars left in the service in very poor condition. The cars have been given a general overhauling but they are yet giving poor satisfaction and hampers the men in their departmental duties.

I therefore respectfully request that a transfer from the Reserve Fund be made to our appropriation B-14, in order to keep the eleven cars now in service in condition for the balance of the year.

Respectfully yours,
CHARLES B. WOOLLEY, Sealer.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $1,600, to the appropriation for Weights and Measures Department, B-14, Motor Vehicle Repairs and Care, $1,600.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFERS WITHIN APPROPRIATIONS.

The following was received:

TRANSFER OF AVENUE LOUIS PASTEUR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 20, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to the transfer of Avenue Louis Pasteur to the control and care of the Park Department, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying ordinance.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
October 20, 1922.
To the Honorable the Mayor:

I return herewith letter of Mr. James B. Shea, chairman of the Park Department, relative to the transfer to that department of Avenue Louis Pasteur in the Fenway.

This street is now practically given over to schools and colleges and it would be well to restrict traffic by making it a part of the park system. It is now in good condition.

I respectfully recommend that the transfer be made.

Yours respectfully,
J. A. Rourke,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,
Park Department, October 11, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners you are respectfully asked to request the City Council to transfer Avenue Louis Pasteur from the Public Works Department to the control and care of the Park Department, after the road surface has been placed in a proper condition.

The reason for this request is that it is evident that the public and semi-public buildings lining this avenue, and the fact that it is on the axis of the main drive of the Fens, and the central building of the Harvard Medical School, would lead most people to believe that it was, or should be, a part of the park system.

Yours respectfully,
James B. Shea, Chairman.

City of Boston.
In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-two.
An Ordinance Concerning Avenue Louis Pasteur.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Avenue Louis Pasteur, from Longwood avenue to the Fenway, is hereby placed under the care, control and custody of the park commissioners, and all rules, regulations or ordinances, now in force or hereafter adopted, relating to parks or parkways shall apply to said avenue.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

MAINTENANCE OF BRIDGES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 20, 1922.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The Park Department is of the opinion that the maintenance of bridges at present under the control of that department could be more efficiently and economically administered by the Public Works Department. I transmit herewith communication received from the Commissioner of Public Works, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying ordinance.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, October 14, 1922.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners you are respectfully asked to request the City Council to transfer the following bridges from the control of the Park Department to the control of the Public Works Department:

Columbia Road, over Old Colony avenue and Plymouth Division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.
Columbia Road, over Shoreham street.
Audubon Road, in Riverway, over Boston & Albany Railroad.
Charlesgate West, in Fens, over Boston & Albany Railroad.
Footbridge from Prescott street to Wood Island Park, over the tracks of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad.

The reason for this request is that the Public Works Department has a specially equipped division for bridge work, and has engineers and inspectors who thoroughly understand what is needed. The engineers of this department, while well equipped for ordinary park construction work, can hardly be classed as specialists on bridge work.

This is a matter which has been under consideration for a great many years, and for this reason I ask that you give it your attention.

Respectfully yours,
James B. Shea, Chairman.

City of Boston.
In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-two.
An Ordinance Concerning the Control of Certain Bridges.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

The following-named bridges are hereby transferred from the care, custody and control of the park commissioners to the care, custody and control of the commissioner of public works, viz.:

Columbia Road, over Old Colony avenue and Plymouth Division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

Columbia Road, over Shoreham street.

Audubon Road, in Riverway, over Boston & Albany Railroad.

Charlesgate West, in Fens, over Boston & Albany Railroad.

Footbridge from Prescott street to Wood Island park, over the tracks of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

REMOVAL OF CERTAIN BOOKS FROM SCHOOLS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
School Committee, October 17, 1922.
Mr. W. J. Doyle,
Assistant City Clerk:

Dear Sir,—At the meeting of the School Committee held on Monday, October 16, 1922, a copy of an order passed by the City Council on October 9, 1922, requesting information as to whether certain specified books are used in the public schools, was duly presented and placed on file.

At the same meeting the School Committee passed an order in reply thereto, a copy of which is inclosed herewith.

Very truly yours,
Thornton D. Apollonio, Secretary.

Ordered, That in response to the order passed by the City Council on October 9, 1922, requesting information whether or not certain books named therein are in use in the public schools either as text books or reference books, the following statement is submitted:

"A History of the United States for Schools," by McLaughlin & Van Tyne, 1919. D. Appleton & Co.

"A History of the United States" by McLaughlin and Van Tyne, published by D. Appleton & Co., was authorized as a text book in Grades VII. and VIII. of the elementary schools, April 22, 1912, and was dropped from the list, no further copies to be purchased, June 14, 1917.

McLaughlin & Van Tyne's "History of the United States for Schools," by the same authors and published by the same publishers, was authorized for use as a text book in the elementary schools June 14, 1917; Volume I. in Grades VI. and VII.; Volume II. in Grade VIII. This book was dropped from the list, July 5, 1922.

"School History of the United States, Revised, 1920, by Albert Bushnell Hart. American Book Company.

Hart's "School History of the United States," published by the American Book Company, was authorized for supplementary use in Grades VII. and VIII. in day elementary schools, June 10, 1918.

"American History for Grammar Grades," by Everett Barnes, 1920. D. C. Heath & Co.

No book having this title is authorized for use in any of the public schools.

"Short American History by Grades," Parts I. and II., by Everett Barnes. D. C. Heath & Co.

No book having this title is authorized for use in any of the public schools.

"School History of the United States," by John P. O'Hara, 1919. MacMillan Company.

No book having this title is authorized for use in any of the public schools.

"Burke's Speech on Conciliation" edited by C. H. Ward, 1919. Scott, Foresman & Co.

"Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America" was authorized for use as a text book in the Latin and day high schools, June 18, 1907. Any edition approved by the Board of Superintendents is so authorized. It appears that forty (40) copies of the edition, edited by C. H. Ward, have been purchased.

"Our United States," by W. B. Guitteau, 1919. Silver, Burdett & Co.

No book having this title is authorized for use in any of the public schools.

"American History" by D. S. Muzzey, 1920. Ginn & Co.

Muzzey's "American History," revised edition, was authorized for use as a supplementary book in high and Latin schools, May 5, 1913, and transferred to the text book list for Latin and day high schools, June 14, 1917, and its purchase was disapproved on account of increase in price on June 30, 1921, a revised edition being substituted July 5, 1922.

"Builders of Democracy," by Edwin Greenlaw, 1918. Scott, Foresman & Co.

No book having this title is authorized for use in any of the public schools.

"History of the American People," by Willis Mason West, 1918. Allyn & Bacon.

No book having this title is authorized for use in any of the public schools.

Passed.

A true copy.

Attest:

THORNTON D. APOLLONIO, Secretary.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the School Committee be requested to remove from use in the Public Schools the following books:

1. "School History of the United States." Revised 1920, by Albert Bushnell Hart, American Book Company.
2. "Burke's Speech on Conciliation," edited by C. H. Ward, 1919, Scott, Foresman & Co.
3. "American History," by D. S. Mussey, 1920, Ginn & Co., and that they give a public hearing on the same.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, it is my purpose, as long as I am a member of this body, to continue to seek publicity against the false history in our public schools and libraries. The message from the School Committee is rather lengthy, and I presume that no member of the Council has read it, but I am going to take my stand on their answer as referred to on part of page 26 of the Boston Post of Tuesday morning, October 17, 1922, which says:

"Only three of the historical text books, concerning which information was recently asked by the Boston City Council, are now in use in the schools, according to a statement ordered by the Board last night to be sent to City Hall. Out of the list of ten which was submitted, the Council is told that 'Hart's School History of the United States,' by Albert Bushnell Hart, 'Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America,' and 'American History' by D. S. Muzzey, are now being studied by pupils of the Boston schools. In the case of Burke's conciliation speech information is supplied by the committee that it was authorized June 18, 1918, and that forty copies have been purchased. This is the edition by C. H. Ward. The School Board makes the statement that 'Professor Hart's book was authorized for supplementary use in Grades 7 and 8, in day elementary schools on June 10, 1918.' "

Albert Bushnell Hart is a professor of history in Harvard College who approved of our action on a book called "The Book of American Wars," his comment being published in the Post of three weeks ago last Sunday. He complimented us and said we were correct in the position we took on the "Book of American Wars." I had a talk with Mr. Belden, the librarian, and Mr. Belden informed me that he had talked with Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart, Professor of History at Harvard College, at the suggestion of the trustees of the Boston Public Library, to ascertain from him what his views were as to whether or not the books should be permitted to be issued by our Public Library. Mr. Belden told me that Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart said the books should be removed from the library, and then Mr. Belden, I was informed by Mr. Belden himself, said to Professor Hart, "Do you intend to recommend the removal from the Widener Library of Harvard?" He said, "Oh, no, oh, no!" In other words, he did not want to have our school children reading false history and Anglicized propaganda, but he did want the students of Harvard College, of a more mature age. to read blasphemous history, containing a vilification of our patriots of Revolutionary Days. D. S. Muzzey's "American History" is unfit for anyone to read, from the cover in the front to the cover at the rear. It is a positive vilification of the early patriots, and it does not confine its propaganda to the early days, but comes down through the War of 1812, the Civil War of 61–65, to the Spanish War and even down to the late great World War, and contains inaccuracies, falsehoods and prejudices all the way through. I have here extracts from it sent to me by somebody, but I have checked up and found that the analysis made by this individual is absolutely correct. I would like to read one thing in particular. Speaking of Van Buren, one of our early presidents, in section 333, on page 242, the author says:

"Van Buren was an aristocratic New Yorker, a rich widower, who, according to campaign orators, lived in solitary splendor at the White House, eating off golden plates and drinking costly wines from silver coolers."

That is quoted from Muzzey's school history, used in our public schools. Read the comment by the author of this pamphlet, who says:

"Van Buren was one of the great men of the middle period of American history. I strongly object to his characterization in this offensive language."

And it is so all the way through Muzzey's book. That book should be removed, and I publicly criticise the supervisors, who I understand are the censors of the history books in our schools, for permitting the book to be given to any of our school children, and publicly criticise Jeremiah Burke, Superintendent of the Public Schools of Boston, for not seeing to it that no such book is permitted in our schools. I know that I am hitting a lot of heads, but in order to make progress you sometimes have to even hit the heads of your friends. I am entirely willing to do so at any time, when the circumstances warrant it. That shows how jealous I am of my Americanism and how strongly I feel against this anti-American propaganda. Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart said in the Sunday paper, as a sort of softening of the vilification of our early patriots, that of course our early patriots had failings and faults. Of course, they did. They were only human. But who wants to go back nearly two hundred years, or about one hundred and fifty years, and rake up the dead past of men who might have had failings but who were responsible for our liberties and our institutions? Would we want anyone to go back into our early days? I am fifty-two years of age. My past is behind me, if I have one, and it is so with every other man. It is not what you were, but what you are. What right have these people got to bring before the public, before our children, the failings of our patriots, and exaggerate them? British propaganda! Oh, I might read extract after extract, but I will not burden the Council with them. What I am saying now will be spread on the pages of at least two of New York's leading newspapers, in all probability, every line. I have been invited to dictate my speech, or secure it from the stenographer, and send it to one New York paper, and it will probably also be handled by another New York paper. The New York American will print it, and the other paper will take the matter under advisement and probably print it, because I have letters of encouragement in regard to the matter. Let me read to this body a letter, Mr. President, to show the encouragement I am receiving from the great American forces of this country, not from cheap, small people, people who are propaganding for their own benefit, but from men who are American to the core, men who fought in the late war and did it heroically. The President of this body knows many of the men whom I am referring to now. This letter is from the National Americanization Committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, headquarters 32 Union square, New York city. The letter is headed "Walter I. Joyce, Chairman," "Walter A. Johnson, Secretary," and the Executive Committee is made up of twelve men belonging to posts of veterans of recent foreign wars, and the advisory committee is made up of thirty more. Here is the letter:

"New York, October 20, 1922.

"Hon. James A. Watson, City Council, Boston, Mass.:

"Dear Mr. Watson,—Kindly permit me to express to you a word of admiration for the able and patriotic manner in which you are advocating true and loyal American history for use in the public schools and public libraries.

"I want to assure you that our National Americanization Committee, of which I have the honor to be chairman, and the entire body of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States most enthusiastically support you in this patriotic effort.

"Our great organization in its recent National Convention at Seattle unanimously adopted ringing resolutions on this matter, from which I quote one paragraph:

" 'We demand that the treason texts be thrown out of the public schools of every state, and that truthful histories be restored instead, and we pledge our unflagging efforts to this end.' "

Mr. President, indorsement by such people is an indorsement that I am proud of, one that I glory in. Laughs and sneers, cajolings, insults and other means of attempting to stop me in this work, will not retard me a particle, when I can call to mind the words in that letter concerning a resolution introduced in the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, made up of men who did great and noble things in the late war. That is the only indorsement I desire, except the indorsement by the public of my attempt to rid our public schools and libraries in Boston of this vilifying and corrupting Anglicized propaganda. I will continue the letter:

"Our patriotic instructors throughout the country have been especially instructed to fully co-operate in such activities as yours; and you will soon find that every veteran of foreign wars in your community is with you.

"I also have privilege to speak as a foundation member of the Patriot League for the Preservation of American History, which is a new nation-wide organization, composed primarily of the officals of all patriotic organizations, for co-operative measures concerning text books. Accepted into active membership are all good Americans who are willing to become active for the purification of patriotic teachings in the public schools. It is with pleasure that I greet you as a comrade in the Patriot League for the Preservation of American History and assure you that I am proud to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with you in such good company and in so good a cause.

"Kindly let me know in what ways I can be of special assistance in your patriotic movement in Boston.

Yours in comradeship,
WALTER I. JOYCE,
Chairman, Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Americanization Committee."

Mr. President, is there a man native born or citizen by adoption who can remain idle for a moment, knowing that this propaganda is sinking into the vitals of our institutions? You might think that this sort of thing is confined to men of Puritan birth alone, who might be a little Anglicized, but I am sorry to confess that I find, either because of lethargy, or some sleeping sickness, something of the sort, that men of Irish extraction are parties to this propaganda as well. You have to be on guard, fellow-members, you have to keep your ears and eyes open, because this vicious propaganda is filtering through much faster than it should into our great free country. I made no preparation for this speech. I had the order prepared, thinking I would introduce it and let it go at that; but when I got this lengthy report of four pages from the School Committee, which was given about ten lines in the Post, I thought it was about time that I made a speech on the matter in the hope that the press might at least print what was said by somebody concerning the propaganda. The press is alive, permeated with the propaganda. Some of the press of Boston is now under the influence of this Anglicized propaganda, and at a later date I will present my information and evidence that will be interesting. But I do not propose to use all my shot on one duck. There is a raft of evidence in regard to this thing. It is coming to me in every mail, to my home and here. It is even coming from the city of Chicago. As the result of a visit here recently by an alderman from Chicago, there is now a movement there to remove from the Public Library the very books we are talking of today plus a few more that are not in our library. Now, Mr. President, the order speaks for itself. I wrote a letter to the members of the School Committee asking for an individual hearing on this question and sent a copy to the press, but they must have put it in between the leaves of the first and second pages! If somebody's else name was signed, undoubtedly it would have been used. There is no question about that at all. But, my heavens, why cannot the press, the reporters and the editors, rise to the occasion and forget the disagreeable Jerry Watson, and join in fighting with me for this cause? Why can't they forget me and line up with me for the sake of the principle I am fighting for, even if they don't like me? Even if they don't like my tongue, don't like my ways, why can't they be American in action as well as in name in a matter of this kind? I have no feeling against them. They don't like me, and perhaps I might have the same feeling for many of them if I gave way to it, but I rise to an occasion once in awhile, forgetting my differences with others, bceause of the conditions I am trying to bring about, which are more important than any of us. I don't know whether or not any member of this body desires to have this matter referred to the Executive Committee. If they do, I am perfectly willing to have it go there for consideration by them; but if they have no such desire, I shall ask a suspension of the rule, in order that the order may go upon its passage at this time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ELECTION RETURNS.

President BRICKLEY offered an order—That the City Messenger be directed to make arrangements for receiving election returns on the days of the coming state and city elections, and that the Council Chamber be opened on the evenings of said days for the announcement of the returns; the expense attending the same to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, G-3, Election Returns.

Passed.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION.

President BRICKLEY offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Bullard street, in front of the estates numbered 31, 33 and 35, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

President BRICKLEY offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along the northerly side of Perkins street, from Day street to Jamaicaway, Ward 22, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Severally passed.

ACCEPTANCE OF BELGRADE TERRACE.

President BRICKLEY offered an order—That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested to accept and lay out as a public street Belgrade terrace, Ward 23.

Passed.

STATE ELECTION.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered the following:

Ordered: That meetings of the citizens of this city, qualified to vote for state officers be held at the several polling places designated for the purpose by the Board of Election Commissioners, on Tuesday, the seventh day of November, 1922, for the election of Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, State Secretary, State Treasurer, State Auditor, Attorney-General, Senator in Congress, Representative in Congress, Councillors, Senators in the General Court, Representatives in the General Court, District Attorney, Clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court for the County of Suffolk, Clerk of the Superior Court for Civil Business, Clerk of the Superior Court for Criminal Business, and Register of Deeds; also to give in their votes "Yes" or "No" in answer to the following questions:

Shall the following proposed amendment to the constitution be approved?

Article of Amendment.

Article XLVIII of the Amendments to the Constitution is hereby amended by striking out, in that part entitled "II. Emergency Measures," under the heading "The Referendum," the words "A separate vote shall be taken on the preamble by call of the yeas and nays, which shall be recorded, and unless the preamble is adopted by two thirds of the members of each House voting thereon, the law shall not be an emergency law; but" and substituting the following: A separate vote, which shall be recorded, shall be taken on the preamble, and unless the preamble is adopted by two-thirds of the members of each House voting thereon, the law shall not be an emergency law. Upon the request of two members of the Senate or of five members of the House of Representatives, the vote on the preamble in such branch shall be taken by call of the yeas and nays. But Shall chapter 368, Acts of 1921, entitled "An Act providing for suits by and against certain voluntary associations," be approved?

Shall chapter 438, Acts of 1921, entitled "An Act relative to the examination and licensing of motion picture films to be publicly exhibited and displayed in this commonwealth," be approved?

Shall chapter 427, Acts of 1922, entitled "An Act to carry into effect, so far as the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is concerned, the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States," be approved?

Shall chapter 459, Acts of 1922, entitled "An Act providing that district attorneys shall be members of the bar," be approved?

Shall the representatives from this district be instructed to support the passage of an Act at the incoming term of the General Court ordering the School Committee of the City of Boston to make effective, during the current school year, the economic principle of "equal pay for equal service and no further discrimination because of sex" in the matter of teachers' salaries in the schools of Boston?

The polls at said meetings shall be opened at six o'clock a. m. and closed at four o'clock p. m.

Ordered, That the City Clerk be hereby directed to give notice of said meetings according to law.

Ordered, That the provisions of sections 55, 56 and 57 of chapter 54 of the General Laws be and hereby are suspended and made inapplicable as to the several questions to be voted upon at the State election to be held on November 7, 1922.

Passed.

APPOINTMENTS TO CONSERVATION BUREAU.

Notice was received from the Mayor of the appointment to the Boston Conservation Bureau of Mrs. Eva W. White, M. Douglas Flattery, Harry N. Guterman, John H. Johnson, Harry H. Kay, Mrs. Alice M. Maloney, John J. Moragan, Dr. Sarah E. Palmer, and Mrs. Francis E. Slattery.

Certified copies of the above appointments were delivered to the Commissioners of Civil Service October 21, 1922.

Placed on file.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS IN UNION SQUARE, BRIGHTON.

Coun. WALSH offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to locate and maintain one or more electric lights of the boulevard type in Union square, Brighton.

Passed.

RECESS TAKEN.

President BRICKLEY declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair at 3.18 p. m.

The members of the Council reassembled in the Council Chamber at 5.17 p. m. and were called to order by the President.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. FORD, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Reports on notice of hearings on petitions of Harvard Club of Boston, Charles E. Pego, Sarah Cohen, Edward Clifton, John J. Moore, for storage and sale of gasolene (severally referred September 25)—that the same be placed on file.

Reports accepted; said notices placed on file.

2. Reports on notice of hearings on petitions of John H. McDermott, trustee, Lionel D. Greene, Three Fields Garage (severally referred October 9), for storage and sale of gasolene—that same be placed on file.

Reports accepted; said notice placed on file.

3. Report on message of Mayor and various orders (referred today) transmitting requests for transfers within department appropriations—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said transfer orders severally passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

4. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) authorizing transfer of $5,000 for Forest Hills Courthouse—recommending passage of said order.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

5. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) authorizing transfer of $1,600 from Reserve Fund to appropriation for Weights and Measures Department—recommending passage of the order.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

6. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) that expenses incurred for remainder of financial year 1922-23 by Retirement Board be charged to Reserve Fund—recommending passage of the order.

ORDINANCE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. HAGAN, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of the Mayor with ordinance relative to salary of secretary of Statistics Department (referred October 9)—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

APPOINTMENT OF PAUL A. FREED AS CONSTABLE.

President BRICKLEY called up unfinished business, No. 1, viz.:

Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor October 16, 1922, of Paul A. Freed, to be a constable.

Committee, Councillors Gilbody and Walsh. Whole number of votes cast 9, yeas 8, nays 1, and the appointment was confirmed.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I have seen a number of constables confirmed here of late, and have not seen one of them appear before the Council. I feel that something is being slipped over, and that, in order to properly carry on the work of the Council in this matter every constable whose name comes in here by way of appointment should appear before us in person. I would like to look some of these babies over. I voted against this particular man. I don't know who he is, and don't care. I still think that any man who will take the job is not a real man. I do want to say this, that I am going to strenuously object in the future, more so than I have in the past, if these appointees do not appear here in person before the Executive Committee. I don't think the question of their confirmation should go on our calendar until they appear before the body.

Pres. BRICKLEY—The Chair would state that hereafter all constables will appear before the Council.

TRIBUTE TO THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Coun. BRICKLEY offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take such action as may be necessary to arrange for a silent tribute to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt on the sixty-second anniversary of his birth on October 27, 1922, on the part of the city departments and business houses, if possible.

Passed.

MOTION PICTURE CENSORSHIP.

Coun. WATSON offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council is opposed to the passage of the referendum that will appear upon the ballot to be voted at the state election November 7, 1922, of the so-called "Motion Picture Censorship."

Coun. GILBODY moved that the matter lie over to the next meeting, but stated later that he labored under a misunderstanding, and withdrew the motion.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am going to make the same request, and if the councilor on the other side (Coun. Watson, who had asked Coun. Gilbody for his reasons for the motion to lay over) wants my reasons, I shall be glad to give them to him.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I do not desire to know why the councilor wants to put it over, but I do say, if you don't want to vote in favor of it today, very well. I am perfectly willing that the matter should go over for a week, if that is desired.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I will state my reasons. I am in favor of your order, but I do wish to refer to an incident that happened within the past week. I happened to go to one of the theaters to buy some tickets. I found quite a number of people waiting in line to buy tickets, and I could not spend the time, and started away. I found three or four speculators in the lobby of the theater. I could have been amply supplied with tickets if I desired to pay their price. I have looked up the act and I find that, in so far as the theaters in our city are concerned, we have absolutely no control over them. The Building Department has control over the theaters in so far as the construction of the buildings is concerned, dealing with the question of whether they are safe for citizens to go into, and the Fire Department has another control. Also the Police Commission, if there is anything obscene, have a right to step in and stop a play. I went to the Mayor and told him what I had found, and what I intended to do. Coming in late, I did not have time to get the order prepared, but the next meeting I intend to introduce an order asking the Mayor to have the Law Department draw up legislation to be introduced into the next Legislature, embodying an amendment to the act so that wherever scalpers are found upon theater property selling tickets the theater shall lose its license to serve the citizens. I feel that we will not be acting fairly towards the citizens of our city if we do not try to protect them, and I am going to say here that I believe there is collusion between every ticket office in every theater in Boston and the scalpers.

Coun. WATSON—Not only the scalpers but the so-called legitimate ticket agents. So you can go farther.

Coun. MORIARTY—Well, I am not talking so much about the legitimate agents on the outside, but my position is this, that I am supposed to be able to go to a ticket office and, by paying $2.50 get the best seat in the house. I could not get the seats I wanted at the office, but if I had wanted to pay $3.50 I could have done so from two scalpers who were there selling tickets. I will refrain from using the name of the theater, because I don't think any one of the theaters is better than another. They are all the same. It is all according to the play they have. I have already had a talk with the Mayor, and he said that if I introduced the order he would give it very close attention. I don't know whether I am going to be able to accomplish anything or not. If we cannot do anything with the theaters in this other matter, I don't know that the movement I am connected with would be in favor of your order. They are out today talking for your order, but if the theaters are not willing to do something for the people, I believe in taking a crack at the theaters, and if we have to take a crack at them by passing the censorship bill, they will all be in the same boat. We are here representing the people, and we ought to tell them where they get off.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, there is a lot of truth in what the councilor has said. I have talked today with several members concerning the treatment which is being accorded the people of Boston by the theaters. I am told that when Mr. Clancy, corporation counsel of St. Paul, Mr. McNally, a representative man of that city, and Mr. Seymour, chairman of the taxation board of the city, were here awhile ago, the privilege of theaters in this town could not be obtained for them, and that the Mayor of Boston had to pay for three tickets for those gentlemen to see a show here, from his contingent fund, and I know that Coun. Walsh had to pay for three tickets to the Harvard-Centre football game, which took place in Boston last Saturday. That is right, isn't it?

Coun. WALSH—That is a fact.

Coun. WATSON—Notwithstanding the fact that the grand stand in the Stadium is there illegally, and I want to get that right on the records now. I don't want to take up the time of the body, but I do wish to have this correctly stated. I was told when Mr. Patrick O'Hearn was Building Commissioner eight years ago, when they started to get a permit to build that wooden stand, he said, "You cannot do it, it is against the law." I know that the most influential people then in political circles tried to get the late Patrick O'Hearn to change his mind, but he wouldn't do it. Even the Mayor suggested that it meant the loss of a million dollars worth of business if they did not get that permit, and I know that people close to the Mayor begged the Mayor to try to use his influence with Pat O'Hearn to change his mind. But he refused to do so. They then immediately appealed from Mr. O'Hearn's decision, and the Board of Appeals heard the appeal, and in fifteen minutes voted unanimously to set aside the decision of Pat O'Hearn. According to the law today, as I am told by a man who knows, when the Building Commissioner refuses to grant a permit according to law, by appealing to the Board of Appeal and showing that there is a public necessity, a decision may be obtained from the Board setting aside or overriding the law, without a hearing from those opposed to the appeal. That is something that the Supreme Court cannot do, set aside a law without giving a hearing to both sides. I would say, in regard to this ticket matter, that I have been on the black list of the Harvard Athletic Union for six years. I have tried to get a hearing before that Athletic Committee to prove my innocence of a charge that my tickets fell into the hands of a speculator, and they would not give me a hearing. But they apply every year for that stand, calling it a temporary structure. It is a temporary structure, and when they ask the right to erect it of Mr. O'Hearn, Mr. Wilson or other building commissioners, and are turned down, they can go to the Board of Appeals on this temporary structure and get a permit issued in fifteen minutes. There is a hearing by the Board and the appeal is granted because of "public necessity." What man of common sense can reason that it is a public necessity to add 18,000 or 20,000 seats to the Stadium for one or two football games, because of the crowd coming here from other cities who wish to be accommodated? Public necessity means something for the benefit of all the people. Mr. President, I think it is illegal, that their stands are illegally there. We get very little courtesy from them, although the location is in Boston. I did not intend to say anything about this matter, but Coun. Moriarty's words gave me the opportunity. Now, concerning the theaters: The leading agents for tickets admit that they have an arrangement with the ticket office, treasurer or management of the high class theaters, and get a block of the best seats early, paying for them, and by returning them twenty minutes before the raising of the curtain securing their money back. A lot of chance they take! That sort of thing has been going on here for years; in my second year in the City Council I spoke an hour on it. When I told the gentlemen from St. Paul that we could not get seats for them at the Colonial show without paying for them, they were surprised. "But," I said, "you are the guests of Mayor Curley, and he will not permit you to pay your way into a Boston theater." He then called up the theater, made the arrangement, and bought the three tickets and paid for them. You will remember Commissioner Clancy, Coun. Lane, whom we met coming from Milwaukee to Detroit. He has been here recently for three days, with the other two men. He said to me, "You don't mean to say to me that you gentlemen do not have any privileges in the theaters here." I said, "No," and we don't have privileges of any kind. If we go to Hyde Park on business connected with the city, we have to pay 40 cents from our own pockets." He said, "Well, we have privileges in St. Paul; have a season ticket to every public event, good for four each week." That illustrates the difference between Boston and other cities. Here we are, nine red-blooded men, nine of the ten trustees of this great corporation, and there are only three theaters to which I can go and show my face at the door and get a seat,—and you members have the same privilege. The late Doctor Lothrop always had his doors open to the members of the Council, not only to ourselves but to friends if we desired to bring them. The three theaters to which I refer are the Howard, the Bowdoin Square and the Grand Opera House, and Mr. Charles Waldron, of the Casino, gives the same privilege. In the other theaters it does not exist. Now, let us get back to the subject under discussion. Coun. Moriarty's heart beats right all the time. He is impetuous, like myself. Let us be bigger than the theater managers. Let us make them feel cheap by showing that we are big enough to do something for all the people. We know, after all, that it is dangerous to put the power into one hand to censor anything, even of an educational nature, in the moving picture line. Let us bear in mind the fact that moving picture censorship means that they can censor educational motion pictures, if they desire. I sincerely trust that we will take the popular side, the right side here, against censorship. Freedom in that matter is akin to free speech. It is true that some bad pictures get by, but in heaven's name, don't bad books get by just as well? Don't condemn all because of the few. I sincerely trust that Coun. Moriarty will withdraw his motion to lay on the table for a week, in order that our support may be given to the movement to defeat the moving picture censorship bill.

President BRICKLEY (to Coun. Moriarty). Do you withdraw your motion?

Coun. MORIARTY—Well, I think it would be well to lay the whole matter over.

Coun. WATSON—I don't think these things should be tied up together. I think we should act upon this order, and then, upon the other matter, I am willing to go the limit.

Coun. FORD—It seems to me, Mr. President, that Coun. Moriarty's motion is the better one, taking the whole matter up at once, if possible. We have all suffered from persons who have charged premiums on tickets. I don't know that anything can be done in the matter—in fact, I feel doubtful about it,—but if anything can be done, let us at least consider that possibility. There is certainly no use in running to give these fellows everything they want in connection with the censorship business, and then having them throttle us on something else. I think it is just as well to have the matter remain in abeyance until it can all be cleared up. I don't want to be delivered on this censorship business, and I don't propose to be. I think the matter had better stay on the table.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. Prseident, I don't care. I didn't give the matter a thought until a gentleman came here and said, "Jerry, has the Council gone on record concerning the moving picture censorship?" I said, "No." He said, "Why don't you pass an order concerning the matter?" I thought it might be a good idea, as I thought we were all opposed to the proposed censorship. That is all. But if Coun. Ford wants to exercise his legal knowledge in the matter, looking into it further, I have no objection. I thought if Coun. Moriarty was satisfied you would all be satisfied. But, of course, if you desire to look into the matter from a legal standpoint, I don't object.

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I don't desire to look into the matter from a legal standpoint, at all. I simply think that action at this time might be rather premature. It might be that I would be against the censorship bill, or it might be that I would favor it. Personally, I feel that I would be against putting the censorship in one man's hands. That is the way I feel at the present moment. Still, it is one of the questions that has been referred to the people for their judgment, and I really think, seriously, that they ought to be left free to deal with the whole question. But, while I would probably be ready to vote "yes" on this order, generally speaking, inasmuch as Coun. Moriarty intends to do something on the other thing, I think we ought to make one bite of a cherry. There is no use delivering everything to the people one day and then find that we have put ourselves in a position where we cannot do anything in some other line. In other words, if the people back of the propaganda to prevent the passage of the censorship bill are doing anything to create this situation at the theaters, which has been criticised here, it does not seem to be consistent on our part to one day pass an order of this kind, and then next Monday to introduce an order of another nature, referring to this other practice. I think it would be just as well, without going into the merits of the question involved at this time, even if we are all against the passage of the censorship bill, to put the matter over and take it all up at once. We may be able to do something, or we may not be. But it does not seem consistent, to my mind, to one day give them the whole works, and then next Monday, when are are powerless, when we cannot do anything, to find ourselves helpless in this other matter. I think the whole matter ought to be taken up at once, and putting it over to the next meeting is not with me a matter of arriving at a legal opinion. I do not need information along that line. If Coun. Moriarty can accomplish something, I am with him. To pass this order at this time, without reference to the other matter, accomplishes nothing along the lines where we would like to see something accomplished. It simply gives these people who are opposed to the censorship bill, which we are all against, something for nothing. That is what it boils down to. Why not let the thing stand until something can be accomplished along the line that the councilor suggests? Don't give them anything until they give you something. That is mighty good politics.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I think the councilor opposite has made a very, very poor speech for a man with his legal ability. He said, as cold as he could say it, "We will use this to hold the other fellows up."

Coun. FORD—And that is what I meant.

Coun. WATSON—All right. Then, I am against that kind of business. The two things should stand by themselves. Either this movement in opposition to the censorship bill is a good thing or it is a bad one, and the question of free tickets or speculators does not enter into it at all. I am not going to be a party to any legalized hold-up. You have really reiterated what I assumed you meant. You made no bones about it, saying that that was what you meant. I am going to move that those remarks of yours and mine referring to it be taken from the record, because they are no credit to us, suggesting any such position on this whole proposition. I am surprised at you, that you, with your legal training, should say that we ought to use our power in this matter in any such way, delaying action on the censorship bill until these men do something for us. I have never done that in my career, and I never will. I am big enough to divide the question. If moving picture censorship is a good thing, we ought to have it, and if it is a bad thing, we ought not to have it. I am opposed to it. I am opposed to the abridgement of our liberties. I am opposed to taking from us our liberties and rights, whether under the Volstead act, depriving us of light wines, beers or liquors, or taking away from us the right to choose the moving pictures we want to see. It is no more right, in my opinion, to tell me what I shall drink or what pictures I shall look at than it is what I shall eat. That is my philosophy, and I am surprised at the councilor opposite taking the position he does. I don't think Coun. Moriarty had any such thought in his mind. He did want to have the two considered together, I think for a good reason, but the reason advanced by the gentleman opposite is a mighty poor one. I am going to move, with his consent, to strike from the record what he said he wanted and what I said concerning what he said he wanted.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I was glad to hear Coun. Gilbody ask for postponement, but when the answer he gave Coun. Watson was not satisfactory I jumped into the breach and told him I would be glad to give my reasons, and the only reason I suggested was because he had asked that question of Coun. Gilbody. I have never gone into Waldron's, the Howard or the Bowdoin Square Theaters, without paying. It is not a matter of holding them up. I don't know anything about them. I don't know one of these people from another. I don't know Judge Brackett, if that is his name, from a hole in the wall. I never saw him that I know of, and I know nothing about him. It is not a question of free tickets. It is a question of not rushing in and helping out people in one matter, when they are not willing to correct an abuse in another matter. Perhaps these may be independent questions, but I think they may well be considered together. I think it is well for us to take our time and go slow, correcting abuses of which we know, if it can be done, by a conference in the Mayor's office, at which all these matters can be considered. I do not intend to hold them up, and don't know that I could do so if I wanted to. But I do think it would be a dignified procedure for the Mayor to send to these various theater owners and representatives and say, "Here, cut this ticket business out." If the men in the box offices did not stand in with the speculators the thing could be stopped in twenty minutes. There is no doubt of that. I simply think it would be well to hold up the order until there can be a conference as a result of which possibly the whole situation may be straightened out and both abuses corrected. I think it can be done. But if you give them all they want, it is human nature for them to afterwards do as they please. When you then want them to do something that they should do, but which they do not feel like doing, they will not do anything at all. If that is to be considered as holding them up, let it be so.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, just a word more. Mr. Harkins, here, a friend of mine of long standing, and a man who I think has no connection whatever with the moving picture industry, said to me, "Don't you think it would be a very popular and wise thing to do to take this action?" I thought it would be, and I don't think he ever had anything to do with Judge Brackett. I simply feel that this matter should be dealt with on its merits. I feel that it is nothing but right and proper, not in the interest of the managers, but in the interest of the public, in the interest of personal liberty, that this censorship proposition should be defeated. However, I don't care what you do with the order. It may be that if it came to a vote today nine members would favor it, or it might be that it would be defeated. I am not interested in what action the members may take, but I would like to know how some of the members here arrive at the point of view that they have expressed.

The resolution was referred to the Executive Committee.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. MORIARTY moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 5.56 p. m. on motion of Coun. DONOGHUE, to meet on Monday, October 30, at two o'clock p. m.

CITY CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885 and 1909 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission, and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2 was adopted by a majority of 3,894. Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirement as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor, and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway from Broadway and Tremont st., South End, to North Station and from Boylston st., near Charles to Park st., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State st. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,327,000; East Boston Tunnel Extension, from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917 to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; trains of four or six cars are run in the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel and connecting Cambridge Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways; amount borrowed to 1921 for the Dorchester tunnel, $10,750,000. Total cost of all subways and tunnels, about $36,995,000, incl. loan of $825,000 for new Arlington Station, against which a sinking fund of $5,818,710 has been accumulated from the revenue, payable mostly in 40 years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways about 8.9 miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of 4½ to 4⅞ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at ⅜ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be 4½ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

POPULATION OF BOSTON BY WARDS.

In stating the population by wards and comparing same with the ward totals in 1915, various incredible decreases appear. The 1920 totals are as follows, with increase or decrease from 1915 stated for each ward by + or — sign: Wd. 1, 24,738 (+962); Wd. 2, 38,313 (—3,591); Wd. 3, 18,566 (— 2,450); Wd 4, 15,706 (—2,879); Wd. 5, 63,267 (—14,306); Wd. 6, 35,030 (—2,220); Wd. 7, 38,091 (+3,007); Wd. 8, 39,105 (+788); Wd. 9, 28,959 (—5,037); Wd. 10, 25,727 (—14); Wd. 11, 26,875 (+641); Wd. 12, 28,015 (—1,401); Wd. 13, 26,380 (—4,153); Wd. 14, 26,003 (—1,796); Wd. 15, 25,960 (—265); Wd. 16, 29,363 (+3,959); Wd. 17, 27,277 (+1,424); Wd. 18, 28,547 (+2,670); Wd. 19, 24,810 (+2,062); Wd. 20, 26,546 (+3,588); Wd. 21, 33,938 (+7,439); Wd. 22, 25,989; (+2,177); Wd. 23, 24,904 (+3,462) Wd. 24, 23,849 (+1,234); Wd. 25, 22,8282 (+5,681); Wd. 26, 20,020 (+1,639). Gain of 40,733 in 15 wards, mostly in Wards 16 to 26 incl.; loss of 38,112 in 11 wards, mostly in Wds. 2 to 15 incl. These 11 wards contained 56.8 per cent of the foreign-born residents in the entire city in 1915.

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON.

Boston was settled in the latter part of August, 1630, by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to September 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

Bids close Monday, November 20, at 12 m.

NEW ELEVATED STATION PROPOSED.

Mayor Curley announces that before any station of the Cambridge-Dorchester Tunnel can be established at the corner of Cambridge and Charles streets for the accommodation of thousands of persons traveling to and from hospitals near that point, the State Legislature, the Boston Elevated Trustees and its directors must concur in such a decision.

The Mayor will forward data to the Elevated Trustees with the urgent suggestion that some action be taken quickly in the matter, because of the really pressing need of a station there. He hopes the trustees will petition for the required legislation at the forthcoming session.

The Transit Commission estimates the cost of such a station at $600,000. In its opinion, the erection of a station would compel a rearrangement of the entire elevated structure at that point. The state now controls the Dorchester-Cambridge Tunnel. The Transit Commission believes, with the Mayor, that such a station is needed for the proper accommodation and development of this section of the city.

THE CITY'S EXPENDITURES AND TAXATION.

Mayor Curley appeared before the Recess Commission on Municipal Expenditures and Taxation at Room 433, State House, upon Thursday, the 9th instant, and presented a carefully drawn brief relative to the tax limit question and the futility of the service of the Boston Finance Commission.

Mayor Curley said:

The City of Boston appears before the Commission on Municipal Expenditures and Taxation and seeks relief from a burden, the imposition of which is not justifiable and the continuance of which constitutes the rankest character of discrimination and special legislation. Every municipality in the Commonwealth, with the exception of Boston, today enjoys the privilege of determining its own tax limit and we demand, as our right and in justice to the dignity of the position which Boston occupies as the foremost New England city, that the present imposition, both unjust and humiliating, be ended.

I assume that the thought which will naturally arise in the minds of the members of this commission is as to the advisability of extending this right which, after all, is not a privilege but a right to the City of Boston. The answer to this thought is best expressed by the tax rate as declared by the city in recent years.

In 1917, under my preceding administration as Mayor, the City of Boston established the lowest tax rate of any municipality in the Commonwealth with the exception of the small city of Peabody whose low rate was made possible by the activities in the leather industry as a consequence of the World War.

The same character of enviable record established in 1917 has been achieved this year. Despite a reduction in estimated state revenue amounting to $1,700,000 as against a reduction in state tax of about $1,250,00, it was possible, despite an increase in substantially every other city in this Commonwealth and the major cities of the nation, to maintain the same rate of taxation as in the preceding year.

This rate was achieved despite an increase of approximately one half millionl dollars in the cost of schools and the normal increases due to the sliding scale of Fire and Police Departments, as well as advanced cost of commodities in use by the city.

Boston city government has a profound realization of the fact that it is a creature of the state like every other municipality, but is desirous that it be considered as a legitimate child rather than treated as an unnatural offspring; in other words, we believe we are entitled to equal rights with other cities, and look to this commission to accord that right.

It is an injustice to require that the City of Boston appear annually, like a bankrupt mendicant, before the Legislature asking for such funds as may be necessary to properly conduct the activities of the city. There is a menace in this procedure in that it tends to develop an agency that may be taken advantage of by corrupt legislators in the event of venal men ever being elected to the Massachusetts Legislature.

The City of Boston, under the revised charter of 1909, centers responsibility in the chief executive, but the division of that responsibility is today such that the city government has direct control over but 39 per cent of the total expenditures, while 61 per cent is beyond the control of the city government.

There are certain expenditures required by statute which the City of Boston believes are unnecessary since Boston is the only city in the entire state in which this application of state control and direction obtains. The annual expenditure of $40,000 for the maintenance of a Finance Commission represents an expenditure which is not required in any other city in this Commonwealth.

The Finance Commission is not only repugnant to the principle of democracy but, in view of the fact that the purpose of the commission is purely political, it is an exceedingly distasteful example of bureaucracy, and in no sense constructive or helpful.

The abolition of the Finance Commission would result in an annual saving of $40,000 in cash and an inestimable amount in benefit resulting from the discontinuance of the practice of holding up to public censure for political ends whoever may be fortunate or unfortunate enough to occupy the office of Mayor.

The Licensing Board, another example of bureaucracy, serves a most useful purpose in providing a prolific source of income to a group of lame ducks who duplicate the work in part at present performed by the chief of the Licensing Bureau of Boston.

The annual expenditure of $35,668 could be saved by the abolition of this Board and the moral standard of the city improved through a refusal to longer continue the granting of permits for out-door amusement enterprises which, prior to the transfer of the power to control the same from city to state, authority had been refused in the interests of public welfare by the officials of Boston.

The City of Boston has no quarrel with the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission as a commission, but to the extension of the bureaucratic system, made from time to time in recent years and which unless checked may prove a decided injury to the city.

The selection by the Mayor of Boston of competent men for department heads is made difficult by the refusal of men who are qualified in many cases to accept of appointment, because of injury that may result to their reputation or standing in the community in consequence of a rejection by the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission.

The revised charter of 1909 centers responsibility in the Mayor of Boston and holds him accountable for all activities of the city, yet we are continually confronted with the ludicrous spectacle of three very estimable but mediocre citizens passing upon the qualifications of professional men whose mental capacity and practical experience in legal, scientific or other lines are in no sense comparable.

A continuance of the present system is an injustice to the men who constitute the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission or to any man appointed as a member of the Civil Service Commission, because it is unreasonable to expect that any man will be so versatile as to be possessed of the mental equipment to serve as judge as to legal, scientific and other qualifications that may be requisite in an individual appointed to serve as head of some one of the many municipal departments.

In the matter of confirmation by the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission of appointees of the Mayor of Boston, I respectfully ask that the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission be relieved of a present duty that is both onerous and unjust to the City of Boston and the Civil Service Commission, and which obtains in no other city of the Commonwealth, with the exception of one other city, and in that city applies to but two offices.

The present system, which requires the approval of the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission before employees of the city can be paid, represents a duplication of expense which serves no useful purpose unless it be construed as a useful purpose to create unnecessary positions, the cost of the maintenance of which must be borne by the entire Commonwealth.

We accordingly request that we be relieved from this unnecessary imposition and unwarranted expenditure.

The annual appropriation for the Police Department is $4,165,411, and while I have no criticism to make of the conduct of this department, it is an injustice to limit the authority of the Mayor to the matter of determining concurrently with the Police Commission the number of policemen and their compensation. I do not contend that there would be a considerable reduction in the cost of conducting the Police Department even were it under the control of the Mayor of Boston, but I maintain that, if it is proper to vest this authority in the Mayor of every other city in the Commonwealth, with the exception of one, it is the foulest character of assault on the principle of home rule to refuse the authority in the case of the capital city of the Commonwealth.

The menace of division of authority was never more manifest than in the police strike which unquestionably could have been averted if full responsibility were vested in the Chief Executive of Boston.

Replying to No. 3 of the questionnaire submitted by the commission, I beg to say that the City of Boston will expend in the year 1922 approximately $2,500,000 for parks and playgrounds within the City of Boston in addition to the assessment for metropolitan parks which in 1922 is $901,319.44 or 54.66 per cent of the total assessed on thirty-eight cities and towns within the metropolitan district, despite the fact that less than 10 per cent of the total area of metropolitan parks and boulevards obtain within the limits of Boston.

The City of Boston favors the transfer to the state of the metropolitan park system with an apportionment of the cost of maintenance and extension assessed proportionately upon all other cities and towns of the Commonwealth, rather than upon the metropolitan district alone.

I contend that the position of Boston is sound upon this project for the reason that we, at present, are required to bear 100 per cent of the cost of parks and parkways systems, and that only a limited portion of the citizens of Boston either seek or have access to metropolitan parks, boulevards or reservations.

I contend that the Fellsway, the Nantasket reservation, the Lynn shore drive, the Revere Beach and boulevards adjacent thereto, the Blue Hill reservation and other portions of the present metropolitan park system are for the common use of the entire Commonwealth, and the apportionment of more than one half of the total cost of maintenance and extension upon the City of Boston is the rankest character of injustice and should no longer be permitted.

FORMATION OF CONSERVATION BUREAU.

The new Boston Conservation Bureau organized by Mayor Curley under the ordinance passed by the City Council in September is now functioning under the chairmanship of M. Douglas Flattery.

Plans are being developed by the Bureau for the establishment of a health clinic to meet a need not now covered. This will have an advisory committee of medical men of standing, and the plans will be perfected in cooperation with the municipal Health Department and the City Hospital. Mr. Flattery is especially interested in this undertaking and is giving it personal attention with the Mayor's approval.

A series of free public meetings in municipal buildings and school centers is in progress with a community information program of Boston songs, motion pictures that instruct and furnish enjoyment, together with inspiration on safety, health and worthy citizenship topics related to Boston.

One of the public meetings was held Wednesday evening at the East Boston High School Hall. Another was held Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the municipal building, Vine and Dudley streets, Roxbury. Friday evening the program was repeated at the assembly hall of the Boston Normal School, Huntington and Longwood avenues.

Meetings were held last week in Hyde Park and Roslindale, with audiences of several hundred people. Others are to be held this month in Charlestown, South Boston and Dorchester.

Each program lasts nearly two hours and includes seven thousand feet of motion pictures besides the songs and other material. One of the films being used this week is entitled "The Reward of Courage" and tells the story of right precautions to prevent serious consequences from cancer, a disease in which Massachusetts has an undesirable record. Another film "A Get-Together Holiday" was photographed on Boston Common, and shows the international civic celebration of last Columbus Day. The singing by each audience of a group of old time songs as well as the parody songs about Boston are features of interest.

These municipal neighborhood meetings are for constructive purposes and are worthy of attendance by men and women who have an interest in the welfare of the city, as well as by those who may be more interested in the enjoyment elements of the programs. The public is invited. The indoor meetings continue the work carried on by the open air park shows during the summer.

DEPARTMENT CHANGES.

The following changes in the number, rating and compensation of city employees have been made during the week ending Thursday, November 9:

PUBLIC LIBRARY EXHIBIT.

Special Exhibition Commemorating the Great Fire of November 9, 1872.

The library is making in the Exhibition Room on the third floor of the Central Library in Copley square a small exhibit of memorabilia of the great fire of 1872 and of other Boston conflagrations. Of the great fire, one finds contemporary accounts, newspapers, books, official reports, published letters, tracts and sermons; also an interesting collection of photographs of the ruins. Noteworthy is a panoramic view showing the unfinished Post Office building and the City Hall towering above the lower buildings in its neighborhood.

The exhibition includes also some memorials of other Boston fires, especially three notable conflagrations in the 18th century, 1711, 1737 and 1760. The last destroyed a large part of the town.

A curious broadside commemorates the loss of six lives when a wall fell in the fire of 1897. It is modestly entitled: "A Funeral Song . . . composed by Jonathan Plummer . . . a poetical servant of the most high God." Plummer's poetical genius stands revealed in the first two lines:

> Six persons now at once have fell
> And quick have gone to heaven or hell.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

Fire Department.

Upon November 7 the Mayor approved a contract with Henry J. Walper for removing the stucco side walls of Fireboat Station No. 44, Northern avenue, and replacing them with copper siding. Bids for the work, opened October 23, were as follows:

Henry J. Walper, copper, $4,495; galvanized iron, $3,362; M. S. Kelliher, copper, $5,139; galvanized iron, $3,600; Northeastern Metal Company, Inc., copper, $6,897; galvanized iron, $4,347; Frank J. Gallagher & Co., copper, $7,924; galvanized iron, $5,589; W. A. Murtfeldt Company, copper, $9,125; galvanized iron, $3,280.

Upon November 7 the Mayor approved a contract with the Highland Contracting Company for recut granite block pavement in the Bristol Street Yard. Bids for the work, opened October 25, were as follows:

Highland Contracting Company, $3.50 per square yard; John J. Lane, $3.79 per square yard; John T. Shea, Jr., $5.80 per square yard. The work to be performed covers an area of approximately 575 yards.

Public Works Department (East Boston Ferry Improvements).

Upon November 4 the Mayor approved a contract with the Rudolph Jurgenson Company for foundations for ferry bridges for the South Ferry. Bids for the work, opened October 30, were as follows:

Rudolph Jurgenson Company, $23,959.20; William Barrett & Co., $24,340; W. H. Ellis & Son Company, $27,841; C. & R. Construction Company, $34,750; W. S. Rendle & Son Company, $37,049.

Public Works Department (Ferry Service).

Upon November 3 the Mayor approved a contract with the R. Minton Company for furnishing and installing roadway barriers and sidewalk gates on ferryboat "Noddle Island." Bid for the work, opened October 26, was as follows:

R. Minton Company, $2,250.

Public Works Department (Sewerage Works).

Upon November 8 the Mayor approved a contract with Samuel J. Tomasello for sewerage works in Gertrose street, between Webber street and Mall street, Roxbury.

Bids for the work, opened October 31, were as follows:

De Cristoforo & Brothers Company, $3,070.50; John Williams & Co., $3,445.50; S. J. Tomasello, $3,542; M. De Sisto Company, $3,563; V. Grande, $4,138; Vozzella & Capone, $4,543.

Incident to the award of this contract Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works made the following statement:

"The proposal of the lowest bidder, De Cristoforo & Brothers Company, has been rejected because this contractor is now engaged in work on two sewer contracts, on one of which the time limit has already been passed. The second bidder, John Williams & Co., has never built any sewerage works for this department, and for that reason his bid has been rejected. The work to be done under this contract is to be completed on or before December 16, 1922."

Upon November 8 the Mayor approved a contract with V. Barletta, the second lowest bidder, for sewerage works in Alley No. 930, between Peterborough street, and Queensberry street, Roxbury, at an estimated cost of $13,742.50.

Bids for the work, opened November 6, were as follows:

M. De Russo & Co., $12,533.50; V. Barletta, $13,742.50; Thomas Cavanaugh, $13,906.50; V. Grande, $14,459.50; John Guarino & Co., $14,977.50; C. Russo, $15,278.50; John Williams & Co., $22,715.

Incident to the award of this contract Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works made the following statement:

"The proposal of the lowest bidder, M. De Russo & Co., has been rejected for the reason that he has never laid any sewer nor water pipe for this department, and it is believed that he lacks the necessary experience to perform the work to be done under this contract in a satisfactory manner."

Public Works Department (Street Improvements).

Upon November 6 the Mayor approved a contract with the Warren Brothers Company for bitulithic pavement in Centre street, from Washington street to Centre avenue; Centre avenue, from Centre street to Dorchester avenue; Gibson street, from Dorchester avenue to Adams street; and Victoria street, from Pleasant street to Dorchester avenue, Dorchester. Upon November 8 the Mayor approved a contract with Kennedy Valve Manufacturing Company for fifteen 16-inch gate valves for the High Pressure Fire Service, Water Service.

Bids for the supply, opened October 30, were as follows:

Fifteen 16-inch Valves.—The Kennedy Valve Manufacturing Company, $442.40 each valve; Michigan Valve and Foundry Company, $370 each valve. Specifications not according to City of Boston specifications.

A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, November 8, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Attached please find list of bids on proposals for furnishing fifteen 16-inch gate valves to be delivered to the High Pressure Fire Service, Water Service, Public Works Department, which were publicly opened and read at this office under date of October 30, 1922.

In connection with this bid would state that the bid submitted by the Michigan Valve and Foundry Company, the lowest bidder, at $370 each, is based on a valve which is not in accordance with the City of Boston specifications, and for that reason this office is unable to accept this price. The Commissioner of Public Works and the Division Engineer of the Water Service also agree that the bid was informal and for that reason recommend its rejection. In view of this fact and also with the knowledge that bids were asked for from all concerns able to handle this requirement, I respectfully request that permission be granted to award this contract to the Kennedy Valve Manufacturing Company at $442.40 each, which bid is in accordance with City of Boston specifications.

Yours respectfully,

Frank P. Rock.
Superintendent of Supplies.

* Awarded contract.

† No copy at auditor's office and did not bid on bread flour for City Hospital.

Discount, Ten Days.—Lewis Manufacturing Company, 1 per cent; F. H. Thomas Company, 1 per cent; Hygienic Fibre Company, 2 per cent.

A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department, was as follows:

Boston, November 8, 1922.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—This department awarded a contract for furnishing gauze and Bellevue rolls to the Hygienic Fibre Company, the lowest bidder on advertised bids which were opened at this office on September 29, 1922. When the copies of the contract were forwarded to the Hygienic Fibre Company for signature they refused to sign these contracts at the prices stated in their proposal, claiming that an error in price of the gauze had been made, and that their proposal which read 2.3 cents per yard should have read 3.2 cents per yard, and therefore would not accept the contracts with the prices filled in as quoted by them in their proposal.

I took this matter up with the Law Department and they advised me that I was within my rights when insisting that the Hygienic Fibre Company accept the contract at the prices quoted in their proposal or forfeit their check for $300 which had been deposited with their proposal as good faith on their part. I informed the Hygienic Fibre Company of the decision of the Law Department regarding this contract and also forwarded to them four copies of the contract for their signature. These were again returned to us unsigned and also a letter stating that they would not accept the contract at the prices quoted in their proposal, and asking that we return their certified check for $300, deposited with their bid.

I therefore recommend that the contract be awarded to the New Hartford Cotton Manufacturing Corporation, at a price of $0.0323 for gauze and $0.539 for Bellevue rolls as this concern is willing to accept this contract at the prices they quoted in their bid of September 29 although since then the cotton market has advanced considerably. The bid of the Lewis Manufacturing Company, the second lowest bidder, of $.031 for gauze is based on fabric that is 20 by 12 count instead of the 20 by 16 count which is required by the Boston City Hospital. For that reason we cannot accept their proposal.

I am sending to the City Collector for deposit to the credit of the City of Boston certified check of the Hygienic Fibre Company for $300, No. 12707, drawn on the Greenwich Bank of New York, which was deposited by them with their proposal. Trusting that the permission requested will be granted, I am,

Respectfully yours,

Frank P. Rock,
Superintendent of Supplies.

In the East Boston district where the bid submitted by William Culkeen & Sons Company and Hosmer, Robinson & Co. on hay were identical, the contract for furnishing the hay in this district has been awarded to William Culkeen & Sons Company by lot.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Upon November 8 the Mayor approved the purchase of the steamer "General Rochester" from the United States War Department in the amount of $20,000. A communication from Dr. David J. Johnson, Commissioner of the Institutions Department, was as follows:

BOSTON, October 30, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully ask your permission to purchase the steamer "General Rochester" from the United States War Department, in the sum of $20,000, without advertising. I believe this is an unusual opportunity to secure a very good boat at a very low figure to take the place of the steamer "Monitor," which has been condemned by the United States Inspectors.

Very truly yours,

DAVID J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon November 4 the Mayor approved a contract with the J. F. Fitzgerald Construction Company for building artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

BOSTON, November 3, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the J. F. Fitzgerald Construction Company, 533 Old South Building, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance, but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Bridge Service).

Upon November 4 the Mayor approved the renewing of the deck, sheathing and some stringers upon the Commercial Point Bridge, city proper, with department force. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

BOSTON, October 31, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Authority is requested to renew deck, sheathing and some stringers on Commercial Point Bridge, city proper, with department force, without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $2,000. This is maintenance work and in my opinion can be as advantageously done by day labor methods as any work now necessary.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Upon October 20 the Mayor approved the performance of work upon Chelsea street, from Adams street to Bunker Hill street, Charlestown. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works, was as follows:

CITY OF BOSTON,
PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT,
October 20, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Authority is requested to perform work on Chelsea street, from Adams street to Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, with division force, without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $5,000. This is an assessable street and can, in my opinion, be done as advantageously by day labor methods as any work now necessary.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon November 4 the Mayor approved a contract with the Bermudez Company for repairing sheet asphalt pavement in Brookline avenue between Governor square and Newbury street, Roxbury. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

BOSTON, October 18, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Your approval is respectfully requested for the awarding of a contract, without advertising, to the Bermudez Company for repairing sheet asphalt pavement in Brookline avenue, between Governor square and Newbury street, Roxbury, at an estimated cost of $3,500.

The asphalt pavement on this street was laid and paid for under a contract with the Bermudez Company, dated September 20, 1917, although not covered formally with an extra work order. It, however, was paid for under the contract and is subject to all the contract requirements, including a guaranty for five years.

Therefore it is necessary to make a particular contract covering this resurfacing, which was occasioned by the construction of the Muddy river conduit by the Sewer Service, begun July 16, 1920, finished February 10, 1922, which practically destroyed the entire street surface.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon November 8 the Mayor aproved a contract with the Troy Laundry Machine Company for furnishing supplies to the Boston City Hospital. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, November 7, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract to the Troy Laundry Machine Company, Ltd., without publicly advertising the same, for furnishing the following to the Boston City Hospital:

One 42-inch by 72-inch BJ-2 Henrici, Tobin bronze washer, belt driven, machine to have two doors, one vertical partition, making two compartments, $2,350; two L38 Troy, Prosperity presses in tandem, with one puff iron, f. o. b. factory, $695. Total, $3,045.

The Henrici washer is a machine which has been used for demonstration, but which carries a new machine guarantee, and as the price of the new machine would be $2,750, the purchase of this practically new machine at $2,350 shows a saving of $400.

The Boston City Hospital has notified this department that the type of machines described above are those best suited for their purposes, and for this reason I respectfully request that the permission asked for be granted.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY LESSONS.

Beginning November 21 a course of ten lessons in elementary reference work will be given to junior assistants in the Central Library and general assistants in the branch libraries and reading rooms. The class will meet on successive Tuesday mornings at 9.30, in the Staff Room of the Central Library. In order to obviate the absence from duty of too many assistants at a time, the course will be repeated on Thursday mornings, beginning February 8.

Branch librarians and heads of departments are requested to designate assistants who should take this course, which will be a part of their regular library work. There will be an examination at the end of each course.

Carfare will be allowed to branch assistants who attend the course.

Charles F. D. Belden,
Librarian.

COAL SUPPLY SECURED BY MAYOR.

Mayor Curley has closed a contract with the Pocahontas Westmoreland Company of New York, at $9.95 a long ton, delivered alongside at the Navy Yard. This 6,000 tons of semianthracite Welsh coal, which will be available for public use, will cost the city about $8.80 a short ton, and can be sold at the municipal fuel stations at about $12 a ton. Prisoners from Deer Island will unload the coal from the vessels.

BUILDING TO BE RAZED.

Mayor Curley has approved the request of Building Commissioner John H. Mahony to take down the building located at 197 Milton street East, rear, Ward 24. The owner, Mary L. Murray, address, 47 Maple street, Hyde Park, has been served with a notice but has neglected to remove the cause of complaint.

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON.

Boston was settled in the latter part of August, 1630, by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630.

MAYOR CRITICISES PROGRAM FOR CLEMENCEAU.

The Mayor addressed the following communication to Mr. F. L. Higginson, Jr., upon the 8th instant:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
November 8, 1922.

Mr. F. L. Higginson, Jr., 44 State Street, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Mr. Higginson,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication dated November 2, 1922, extending the invitation to contribute $5 to cover the charge for tickets at Symphony Hall, where the reception is to be tendered M. Georges Clemenceau, upon Thursday, November 23.

I beg likewise to acknowledge receipt of your communication under the same date, November 2, requesting that I disregard your previous letter written on the same day, and tendering me two seats gratis for the reception at Symphony Hall.

I appreciate the generous impulse prompting your course of action, but I confess I am at a loss to know by what right you have delegated to yourself the chairmanship of a committee, whose existence is as yet a mystery, self-appointed, to entertain the distinguished representative of the French Republic.

It was my purpose, as Mayor of Boston, in extending an invitation to M. Georges Clemenceau, to include Boston in his itinerary upon the occasion of his visit to the United States, and it was my intention further to appoint a committee of representative women and men of Boston to receive this distinguished representative of the French Republic and entertain him in a manner in keeping with the responsible position he has occupied.

I am at a loss to understand by whom authority was delegated to you to assume charge of a function that should be discharged by the municipality extending the invitation.

However, assuming that this authority has been delegated to you, I beg to say that, being personally of a modest and retiring disposition and having no desire to transgress upon a privilege either delegated or voluntarily acquired, the City of Boston, having no desire to embarrass you, withdraws from any participation in the exercises incident to the reception of M. Georges Clemenceau, whom, from your letters, I now assume is your personal guest.

Respectfully,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

The letters of Mr. Higginson were as follows:

My dear Mayor Curley,—You are invited to become a member of a committee formed to welcome and receive M. Georges Clemenceau upon his arrival in Boston on Wednesday, November 22.

It is expected that M. Clemenceau will arrive at the South Station at 2.30 p. m. He will be met and escorted by military and naval bodies to the State House, where he will be received in the Hall of Flags by the Governor and the Committee of Welcome.

At four o'clock on Thursday afternoon, November 23, M. Clemenceau will speak at Symphony Hall.

As nothing will be charged for the tickets to Symphony Hall, and as there will be certain other incidental expenses, the members of the Committee of Welcome are asked to contribute five dollars. Cheques should be made payable to F. L. Higginson, Jr., chairman.

Should you be able to accept this invitation, you will be sent a formal invitation and card of admittance to the Hall of Flags and two seats in Symphony Hall.

Please send your answer to me at 44 State street, Boston, before November 8.

Very truly yours,
F. L. Higginson, Jr.,
Chairman.

P. S. Kindly disregard my previous letter to you, which was sent in error.

Mayor Curley addressed the following communication to Mr. Francis L. Higginson, Jr., upon Friday the 10th instant:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
November 10, 1922.

Mr. Francis L. Higginson, Jr., 44 State Street, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir,—I have this day notified the French Consul as to my decision with reference to the coming of M. Georges Clemenceau, namely, that the City of Boston will not officially participate, and under the circumstances, a conference with you as requested at 11 a. m. today would be productive of no change as to my decision in the matter and consequently you will consider the engagement for 11 a. m. today as canceled.

Respectfully yours,
James M. Curley, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works in Spring street brook, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said land not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city' intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston, formerly West Roxbury, and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Richard Codman, bounded.

West by Centre street, twelve and 1-100 feet; north by other land of said Codman, one hundred forty-four and 53–100 feet; northwest by the same, twenty-nine and 11–100 feet; northeast by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes September 14, 1922, twelve and 43–100 feet; southeast by other land of said Codman, thirty-seven and 21–100 feet; and south by the same, one hundred forty-eight and 95–100 feet; containing twenty-one hundred and fifty-nine square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 180 linear feet of 5-foot 6-inch concrete surface drain, in the above described premises, being private land easterly from Centre street, near Spring street.

Ordered, That this Board deeming it necessary for the sewerage works ordered by this Board, to take certain rights in certain lands shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 477, Sewerage Works, Spring Street Brook, West Roxbury, October 10, 1922, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and deposited in the office of the Public Works Department, Sewer Service, do hereby take the same as follows:

The right to exclusively use and occupy for one year from date of entry on said land and to work therein for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works and leave in substantially the same condition as at the present time to the full ownership and control of the present owners thereof, their successors, heirs and assigns when said sewerage works shall have been made, the parcels of land bounded and described as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Richard Codman, bounded:

West by Centre street, thirty and 2–100 feet; north by other land of said Codman, one hundred forty-eight and 95–100 feet; northwest by the same, six and 13–100 feet; northeast by the same, thirty-one and 8–100 feet; southeast by the same, twenty-six and 38–100 feet; and south by the same, one hundred and sixty feet; containing fifty-one hundred and twenty-two square feet more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Richard Codman, bounded:

West by Centre street, twenty-seven and 77–100 feet; northwest by the same, three and 17–100 feet; north by other land of said Codman, eighty-nine and 32–100 feet; northeast by the same, fifty-eight and 52–100 feet; and south by the same, one hundred forty and 82–100 feet; containing thirty-four hundred and eighty-four square feet, more or less.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easements and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 162.

The resignation of Patrolman John G. Chambers of Division 7 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Friday, November 10, 1922, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Herbert A. Wilson,
Commissioner.

STUDENT AID ENLISTED.

Mayor Curley has enlisted the aid of Massachusetts Institute of Technology students in the solving of civic problems which have baffled succeeding administrations at City Hall through the past generation of Boston's expansion.

The Mayor has a prize of $500 in cash for the man among the 3,200 students at Tech who can turn out the best practical working plan or plans for relieving Boston's acute vehicular traffic congestion; for improved methods of keeping public highways clean and for correcting or minimizing the insanitary condition arising from operation of certain types of industrial and commercial establishments within city limits, and for amendments to the building laws tending to promote more nearly fireproof construction in future.

Prof. Charles M. Spofford of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology department of civil and sanitary engineering, through whom Mayor Curley outlined his plan to the students, acknowledged receipt of the communication. Professor Spofford believes the students will react to the Curley plan as enthusiastically as he himself, and that the institution's authorities will also look sympathetically upon the innovation.

Mayor Curley's letter to Professor Spofford was as follows:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
November 4, 1922.

Prof. Charles M. Spofford, Department of Civil and Sanitary Engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.:

Dear Sir,—I beg to submit for your consideration, and I trust acceptance, an outline of certain problems of municipal administration, the proper solution of which should prove of tremendous value to every municipality.

The progress made in the development of labor-saving devices has perhaps been less in the matter of care of highways and dispositions of refuse than in any other field of activity, while the problem of a proper solution of street traffic congestion, so far as not only Boston but all cities are concerned, is at present unsolved. Realizing the necessity for concentrating if possible many minds upon these problems, in order to aid in their solution, we look forward with hope to the light which I believe it will be possible for some bright student of your university to shed, and by so doing not only aid Boston but all municipalities, thereby lessening in part the burden of taxation at present weighing so heavily.

Sincerely yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

Prize Offer to Students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

For the best reports and working plans for solving certain municipal problems and improving the administration of certain municipal functions and activities.

The Plan.

To the end that the hazards, congestions and delays of street traffic may be diminished, that the dangers to public health from polluted waterways and offensive trades and enterprises may be minimized, that dangers to life and property by fire and wreck may be decreased by improving the safeguards in building construction, and that the interests of the city's industry, commerce and retail trade may be conserved and its prosperity increased by relieving them from the handicaps imposed by the evils indicated, the City of Boston, desirous of securing a larger measure of efficiency in the administration of the municipal departments and agencies having these functions and activities in their charge and care, will pay the sum of $500 for the best report and working plan or plans submitted by a student of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on any of the four subjects indicated in a list below.

It is understood that this communication in effect takes the place of a contractual proposal. Upon the selection of the best thesis which shall be deemed technically acceptable by a committee of judges to be appointed later, a contract, without advertising, shall be entered into by which the City of Boston agrees to purchase the thesis or report and plan or plans, approved, accepted and designated by the judges as the best in each subject and pay for each the sum of $500 to the successful student and the student agrees to sell the same to the city. Should the committee of judges find that the best thesis submitted on any of the designated subjects is not of sufficient technical merit to warrant its purchase by the city it may reject it and no purchase shall be made.

The Conditions of the Contest.

1. This offer is open to any student enrolled at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology during the school year of 1922-23; but the term students shall not be held to include school instructors temporarily at the institute taking courses.

2. All theses must be submitted to the Budget Commissioner of the City of Boston in a sealed envelope not later than May 1, 1923, unsigned, and accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the full name and address of the student writer; and both shall be inclosed in an envelope. Each of the envelopes shall be marked with an identification number; that containing the thesis shall be delivered to the examining judges; that containing the name of the contestant shall remain in the possession of the Budget Commission until a decision is made by the judges, when the writer's name will be revealed.

3. The merits of each thesis shall be passed upon by a committee of three judges, whose decision shall be final. One judge shall be appointed by the Mayor of Boston, one by the head of the Department of Civil and Sanitary Engineering of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the third shall be selected by the two judges thus appointed.

The Subjects to be Treated.

1. Street Traffic.—How best can the flow of vehicles be made to move more quickly and continuously, so as to avoid blockades and congestions, minimize danger to foot passengers, remove delays and difficulties, provide parking facilities and prevent undue dawdling with the least public inconvenience—without impairing the efficiency of commercial service or checking the expansion of the business of the retail trade section of Boston? Having in mind the financial limitations of the municipality, and the imperative necessity of relieving the congestion of the narrow streets of a crowded business section of meager limits—how would you proceed to secure relief and keep it? Widening streets, removing sidewalks, substituting arcades without destroying the superstructure of buildings, eliminating certain classes of vehicles, regulating deliveries and shipments by time restrictions or how?

2. Sanitation.—How can the streets of Boston and the lanes, alleys and ways tributary to them be kept clean, sanitary and safe, at a minimum of cost and maximum of results? In working out this problem have in mind the public peace and convenience, the prompt and final disposal of waste and insanitary material collected, the question of hours when the work should be done, the character and kind of machinery and vehicles to be used, and some practical suggestions for retrieving useful and merchantable by-products to offset some of the costs of administration.

3. Sanitation.—What is the best method controlling and regulating necessary but offensive industries and enterprises situated inside the jurisdiction of the municipality,—garbage plants, rendering establishments, oil refineries,—so that their malodorous and insanitary features may be rendered innocuous, their waste be sterilized and prevented from polluting the soil and water adjacent to them and their detrimental influence on the health and values of neighboring localities be corrected or minimized?

4. Protective Construction.— Section 32 of chapter 550 of the Acts of 1907 directs that in building construction fire protection shall consist of:

(a) Concrete, and describes the method of protection.

(b) Terra cotta, and describes the method of protection.

(c) Brickwork to be set in cement mortar.

(d) Any material or form of construction that will resist the action of flames and a heat of 1,700 degrees Fahrenheit for at least two hours without raising the temperature of the material to be protected above 550 degrees Fahrenheit through a thickness of 2 inches, as determined by fire and water tests for fireproofing construction adopted by the American Society for testing materials.

The problem here for the student is to ascertain whether or not a better and more effective method of protecting steel construction from heat can be secured, a method that can be applied in a simpler and less expensive manner and which will not add to the weight the construction should carry nor to the cost of material. The nature of the material and the manner of its application should be fully described and the reasons for its superiority and desirability be clearly explained. There are many systems in the market; can the student suggest a better one and why?

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works in the Arnold Arboretum, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Adams Nervine Asylum, bounded:

West by Centre street, ten and 56–100 feet; north by other land of said asylum, three hundred sixty and 48–100 feet; northwest by the same, by two measurements, four hundred forty-five and 80–100 feet and seventy-eight and 76–100 feet; southeast by land hereinafter described as taken from President and Fellows of Harvard College, City of Boston, lessee (Arnold Arboretum), and by other land of said asylum, by three measurements, thirty-one and 74–100 feet, forty-seven and 3–100 feet and four hundred forty-nine and 80–100 feet, and south by other land of said asylum, three hundred sixty-nine and 48–100 feet; containing eighty-seven hundred and fifty-seven square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to President and Fellows of Harvard College, City of Boston, lessee (Arnold Arboretum), bounded:

Northwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from Adams Nervine Asylum and by another part of said Arboretum, by two measurements, thirty-one and 74–100 feet and one hundred four and 12–100 feet; northeast by another part of said Arboretum, fifty-four and 65–100 feet; again northwest by the same, one hundred ninety-one and 22–100 feet; north by the same, seventy-five and 21–100 feet; again northwest by the same, five hundred thirty-five and 76–100 feet; again north by the same, twenty-eight and 50–100 feet, more or less; northeast by Arborway, ten feet; south by another part of said Arboretum, twenty-eight and 50–100 feet, more or less; southeast by the same, five hundred thirty-four and 30–100 feet; again south by the same, seventy-four and 79–100 feet; again southeast by the same, one hundred ninety-four and 88–100 feet; southwest by the same, fifty-five and 5–100 feet; and again southeast by the same, one hundred twenty-seven and 89–100 feet; containing ten thousand and twenty-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 1,300 linear feet of 15-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 580 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being private land easterly from Centre street and part of the Arnold Arboretum.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

BUDGET OF 1923.

Mayor Curley issued the following circular letter upon the 4th instant:

To the Heads of Departments:

Budget sheets are now ready and may be obtained at the office of the Budget Commissioner, 307 City Hall Annex.

Estimates for the new year are to be submitted not later than December 1, 1922, and as many of the smaller departments can prepare their estimates without delay it is desirable that they do so at once. The greatest possible care in the preparation of estimates is essential in order that every economy consistent with good service to the public shall be provided for in the budget.

The basis for estimates should be actual requirements of the new year rather than the amount expended during the current year. In cases where the rate of salary is below a fair maximum for the service performed, increases should be recommended, also where the character of the service rendered justifies additional compensation and the so-called sliding scale providing minimum and maximum salary adjustments over a period of years based on service rendered should be considered, more particularly in the case of persons receiving less than $2,000 per annum.

The adoption of the Boston Retirement Act which will become operative in February of 1923 should result in a considerable number of vacancies and wherever necessary these vacancies should be filled by promotions within the department.

It is advisable that before final submision of your departmental budget you confer with the Superintendent of Supplies with reference to such commodities as may be required by your department and also with the Budget Commissioner relative to the compilation of your budget.

The Legislature having granted an increase in the tax limit for one year only, it becomes necessary for the city to appear again in January as an humble mendicant seeking the necessary money with which to properly conduct the city's activities and consequently illness alone will be accepted as an excuse for failure to submit the budget estimate by your department on or before the date determined upon, namely, December 1, 1922.

Respectfully yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

ART COMMISSION RULINGS.

The Art Commission, after formal hearing, has approved the erection of a cement enlargement of Artist Alexander Pope's group depicting "Our Vanishing Wild Life," in Franklin Park, as soon as the artist and the Park Commission can agree upon a suitable site.

The Commission has also approved Clipston Sturgis' design for a wrought-iron fence to protect the so-called Boston Common tablet near Park street, and also has sanctioned a design by John F. Parmanto for the bronze tablet which the Society of Founders and Patriots will place at the Common Central Burying Ground.

A third vote by the Art Commission sustains its first vote against acceptance by the City of Boston of the Paolo marble bust of Gen. Clarence R. Edwards.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and awards no damages therefor.

CONGRATULATIONS OF MAYOR.

Mayor Curley sent the following telegram to Mr. E. F. Albee, director of the B. F. Keith Theatres, upon the dedication of the "Perfect Playhouse," Cleveland, Ohio, upon the 6th instant:

Boston, November 6, 1922.

Mr. E. F. Albee, B. F. Keith Theatre,
Cleveland, Ohio:

Dear Mr. Albee,—I regret beyond measure that the burden of municipal labors has precluded an acceptance of your kind invitation to attend the dedication of the "Perfect Playhouse," at Cleveland, and erected at an expenditure of over four million dollars. It is thirty-nine years since Benjamin Franklin Keith and your good self established the new era in vaudeville entertainment in Boston, and no man of this generation has accomplished more for the betterment of the American stage than yourself. I pray you will accept an assurance of my hearty congratulation and that today's eventful and delightful program may bring to you a testimonial which you richly deserve from your army of friends who extend from sea to sea. Kindly present my compliments to Mayor Kohler and express my very great regret at my inability to be with you at the dedication ceremonies.

With many renewed assurances of my highest consideration and regard,

Sincerely yours,

James M. Curley, Mayor.

BOSTON, November 3, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—As president of the Retail Trade Board I wish to express my appreciation for your veto and statement about the itinerant vendors' ordinance. The wise consideration which you have given this subject is quite evident to one acquainted with the facts.

Respectfully yours,

FELIX VORENBERG,
President.

GREAT OUTDOOR PLAYGROUNDS.

A great boon for the more than 70,000 young men and women students at educational institutions in and abutting the Fenway, in the establishment of a great outdoor playground with all modern equipment, is outlined in a plan drawn by A. A. Shurtleff, Park Department landscape architect, and announced by Chairman James B. Shea of the commission.

The playground calls for a $50,000 expenditure, and will undoubtedly be approved finally by the Mayor and Council. The necessary money will come from the Parkman Fund income next year.

The site will be the broad meadow land on the northeasterly wing of the Fens, not far distant from the Art Museum and the Gardner Palace. Two footbridges across the Muddy river will make it more accessible from the east.

Baseball diamonds and football gridirons will be created when the land has been filled. Concrete bleachers only 10 feet high so as not to obstruct landscape vistas are features of the plan. Trees and shrubbery will set off the play area.

Some idea of the prospective popularity of such an establishment is afforded by the attendance figures of educational institutions in the neighborhood: High School of Commerce, 1,600 students; Girls' Latin School, 1,550; Tufts College Dental and Medical Schools, 1,450; Simmons College, 1,200; Harvard University Dental and Medical Colleges, 400; Notre Dame Academy, 150.

MAYOR'S PLAN INDORSED.

Dr. Edwin A. Locke, of 311 Beacon street, has highly commended the proposal of Mayor Curley to bring the inmates now confined at Long Island to new infirmary quarters at West Roxbury.

The letter of indorsement of Doctor Locke was as follows:

BOSTON, November 6, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

MY DEAR SIR,—I have read with great interest the newspaper report of your recent recommendations with reference to the disposition of the chronic cases now at the Long Island Hospital. For many years following 1901 I was a member of the staff of the Long Island Hospital and have always felt a keen interest in the development of the institution. Many carefully thought out plans for the improvement of the standard of medical and surgical work at the hospital have been made in past years, but all have more or less failed, due largely to the fact of the location of the hospital on an island. This isolation makes it absolutely impossible for physicians and surgeons to give the attention desired to the care of the patients.

The clinic is one of the most interesting in Boston and were it more accessible would attract to its staff the best men in the profession. The successful and consequently busy physician or surgeon cannot spend the time to make the journey to Long Island at frequent intervals. The consequence is that the poor chronic sufferers, while doubtless well cared for, are nevertheless deprived of the best which modern medical methods are providing in the Boston hospitals for the acutely sick. Its inaccessibility furthermore works an obvious further injustice to the patients at Long Island in that it is not easy for friends and relatives to visit them. Finally, the association of the hospital with the almshouse is very unfortunate indeed, as you have always maintained.

Were a new hospital to be established on the mainland and within city limits the obstacles above mentioned would be entirely removed and the hospital could easily be made one of the best among the city public hospitals. Your plan to send the poor now at Long Island to West Roxbury and the sick to Parker Hill seems to me an admirable one from every point of view and I believe will receive the most hearty indorsement of the medical profession. Among the many splendid things which you are inaugurating I believe this plan, if it can be carried out, will be among the most important.

I am,
Very respectfully yours,
EDWIN A. LOCKE.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works in Belle avenue, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Belle avenue, bounded:

Northwest by the northwesterly line of Belle avenue, northeast by Baker street, seven and 91–100 feet; southeast by another part of Belle avenue, ten hundred seventy and 56–100 feet; and southwest by the same six feet; containing sixty-five hundred and twenty-nine square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 1,075 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Belle avenue, leading southwesterly from Baker street for a distance of about ten hundred and seventy one feet.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on the westerly side of Belle avenue for a distance of about ten hundred and seventy-five feet southwesterly from Baker street, excluding the lot at the westerly corner of Baker street and Belle avenue, now or formerly owned by Joseph B. Thomas heirs, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement ordered herein.

LABOR REPORT.

Business during October, according to the records of the Public Employment Office, 23 and 25 Pearl street, showed a decided improvement over the previous month and over October of last year. There were 10 per cent more persons called for by employers than in September and 37 per cent more than in October last year. The number of positions reported filled showed an increase of 13 per cent over September and 23 per cent over October a year ago. The attendance of applicants for employment was greater by 18 per cent than in September but was 32 per cent less than in October, 1921.

During the month 1,522 service men (1,087 soldiers, 435 sailors) visited the office looking for work, 196 of these (130 soldiers, 66 sailors) were given introduction cards to employers and 149 (100 soldiers, 49 sailors) secured positions.

Males.—In the men's skilled department there was a good demand in the steam trades with an excellent supply and most of the vacancies were quickly filled. The demand for building mechanics continues to be large with only a small supply of competent help. There were few calls for machinists and the few jobs received have been quickly filled. The demand for machine molders has been hard to fill and there are several good positions waiting for applicants. There do not seem to be any upholsterers in the market and several orders remain unfilled. Cabinetmakers are in fair demand and applicants will accept city jobs but decline out of town positions. During the latter part of the month, the printing trades began to show activity and a number of positions for compositors, pressmen and feeders have been filled. The demand for shipyard workers continues to be good and a fairly large number of mechanics have been secured.

The demand for able-bodied laborers continues to dominate the men's unskilled department with practically no applications for positions. The demand for men on farms has fallen off considerably and the supply of good, capable men is very small. The demand for culinary workers in restaurants, cafes and clubs has been fairly good but there is great difficulty in filling positions with suitable men. There are hundreds of men without trades who are looking for inside work but there is no demand for their services.

There has been a strong, steady demand for boys for errands, office and factory work and the positions filled last month show an increase of 100 per cent over last October.

Females.—In the women's skilled department the early part of the month showed a heavy demand for factory girls, sixteen to twenty years old, which depleted the market and there are a number of orders waiting to be filled. During the latter part of the month there has been a little more activity in the bindery and printing trades, the demand being easily met. The needle trades are showing some activity and the positions are quickly filled.

The demand for housework girls continues to be heavier than the supply, there being about four times as many places offered than there are applicants. Day workers and cleaners continue to be called for but the supply is greatly in excess of the demand.

The average daily number of positions offered by employers in October was 74 as compared with 54 in 1921, and the average daily number of positions filled in October was 52 as compared with 42 in 1921.

MUNICIPAL COAL YARD UPHELD.

The city of Waseca, Minn., by its charter authorized the establishment and maintenance of a public coal and wood yard from which the inhabitants of the city could purchase these necessities at retail. There was also a provision in the charter that taxes should be levied for the purpose of financing the project. An action was then brought to enjoin the city from maintaining this yard and collecting taxes for the purpose of its upkeep. The principal question involved was as to whether the establishment of a municipal coal and wood yard was a "public purpose" within the state Constitution, for which taxes could be lawfully levied. The supreme court of Minnesota, in Central Lumber Company vs. City of Waseca et al., 188 Northwestern Reporter, 275, upheld the action of the lower court denying the temporary injunction. Judge Dibell said in the course of the opinion:

"The question is whether the establishment of a municipal coal and wood yard is a public purpose. The constitutional validity of the charter is presumed. It is to be assumed that in framing their charter the people were informed of conditions, such as the sources of supply, the ability and disposition of dealers to care for local demands, and other relevant factors affecting the situation, and found that public necessities and conveniences were such that the establishment of a municipal fuel yard was a public purpose. They have the responsibility of their finding and the wisdom or folly of the policy which they authorize. Their determination of public purpose is not final. It is accorded weight, but finally the court must determine as a judicial question whether the purpose for which taxes are exacted is public.

"Economic and industrial conditions are not stable. Times change. Many municipal activities, the proprietary of which is not now questioned, were at one time thought, and rightly enough so, of a private character. The constitutional provision that taxes can be levied only for public purposes remains, but conditions which go to make a purpose public change.

"In our judgment the establishment of a municipal fuel yard is a public purpose."

BOSTON RETIREMENT BOARD.

City Hall, November 1, 1922.

To the Heads of Departments:

Under the provisions of the Boston Retirement Act it will be necessary, beginning with February 1, 1923, to deduct 4 per cent from the wages of employees who become members of the retirement system on that date, and from the wages of all employees appointed thereafter.

This will necessitate providing two additional columns on the pay roll blanks, one for the 4 per cent deduction and the other for the net wages.

You are requested to issue the necessary instructions to your pay roll clerk or bookkeeper so that the proper pay roll forms will be in readiness on February 1, 1923. Sample forms may be obtained at the auditor's office.

Respectfully,

Boston Retirement Board,
by W. J. Doyle,
Chairman.

FIRE ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.

Thousands witnessed the most impressive display of fire apparatus ever seen in this part of the country when the parade in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Great Boston Fire of November 9, 1872, passed through the downtown streets upon the afternoon of Thursday, 9th instant. Nearly fifty cities and towns, most of which sent help to Boston in the time of her greatest fire emergency half a century ago, were represented in line—many by their latest pieces of apparatus.

The parade was in three divisions, with the Boston Fire Department the host, comprising the entire first division and serving as escort to the visitors, who came from places as far distant as Maine and Connecticut. The home department showed practically every type of apparatus that it uses today and turned out several hundred of its members, without impairing the efficiency of the department in the least. This was accomplished by taking the men who were on their day off and who volunteered for this service. The apparatus was practically all from the reserve.

There was an escort of mounted police and the 101st Infantry Band and a color guard, after which came Mayor Curley and the Fire Commissioner, who served as chief marshal. Chief Taber was next in line, followed by the assistant chief of staff, Henry A. Fox, deputy chief, and the deputy chiefs. The Massachusetts Fire Chiefs Club and the First Corps Cadets Veterans were largely represented.

Three battalions and the department drill squad received applause all along the route. The Boston Protective Department also made a good showing. The veterans of the Great Boston fire were favorites with the crowds everywhere and were kept busy bowing their acknowledgments.

The exhibit of an old-time and a modern fire alarm box on a truck attracted attention. There was a representation of Box 52, the one from which the first alarm was sent on the night of the great fire, supposedly fastened to the side of a brick building, with the street sign "Lincoln street" above it on the corner, and a box of 1922 model at the other end of the truck.

The old engines from Cambridge and Newton that were sent to Boston's assistance fifty years ago were in line. They were observed with interest by the crowds as the parade passed, the same as the fire "fans" had inspected them for an hour while the parade was forming on Commonwealth avenue. The Newton engine has been in storage for several years, but ready for an emergency if called upon as a piece of special reserve apparatus, despite the fact that it had forty-nine years of service previously.

Newton 2 was brought to the Back Bay attached to a motor truck, but in the parade it was drawn by hand by twoscore men, with three or four holding ropes attached to the rear wheels in order to "snub" the engine on the steep grades. The old engine was drawn through the streets Thursday as she was all the way from Newton on the night of the fire.

Chief Sewall M. Rich of the Somerville Fire Department, one of those which aided Boston in 1872, was in line with three officers, fifty men and four pieces of apparatus; Malden, Chelsea, Cambridge, with modern apparatus as well as the old-time engine; Beverly, Lawrence, Biddeford, Me.; Watertown, Melrose, Peabody, Lowell, Quincy, Medford, Winthrop, Lynn, Nashua, N. H., Newton, also with modern apparatus besides its old engine of '72; Milbury, Pittsfield, Woburn, Pawtucket, Belmont, Billerica, New Bedford, Taunton, Swampscott, Marblehead, Saugus and several other municipalities were all represented.

The parade included a number of pieces of special apparatus which were new to the average spectator. The Commonwealth showed the equipment used by its Forestry Department in fighting forest fires. This display included four trucks and twenty-eight men.

From the Watertown Arsenal came one of the largest fire-fighting machines in the parade. It was a Knox pumping engine, manned by a crew of soldiers and carrying also Sergt. William Houck, U. S. A., retired, of Watertown. On the night of the fire Sergeant Houck came from the Arsenal to Boston with a company of soldiers to do guard duty. He is the sole survivor of that company.

New Haven, Pittsfield, Biddeford and Nashua were all represented in the parade by modern apparatus. The Pittsfield engine came over the road, starting at 2.30 o'clock upon the morning of the 9th instant. An engine from Ashland was manned by a crew who wore the old-fashioned, blue-cape overcoats that fire-fighters used many years ago.

Worcester firemen were present with several pieces of apparatus and their company included Capt. J. H. Madden, who, at seventy-one years of age, is still on the active list, and for a dozen years has been captain of Hose 2, the same company with which he responded to the appeal for help from Boston. He has never been connected with any other fire company.

The educational features of the parade included two trucks, one of which bore a section of the old water mains and an old hydrant similar to those used in Summer street fifty years ago. The second truck carried a new hydrant and sections of the new types of water mains.

The route of parade was largely through the fire area of 1872.

The parade was headed by his Honor Mayor James M. Curley and Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn.

The Fire Commissioner was the Chief Marshal, with headquarters at the Engineers' Club, 2 Commonwealth avenue.

The formation of the parade was as follows:

The parade started promptly at 1.30 p. m., from the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Arlington street, and moved over the following route:

Arlington to Beacon to School to Washington to Milk to Federal to High to Summer to Washington to Temple place to Tremont to Boylston to Park square, and there dismissed.

The reviewing stand for the city government was located at City Hall, School street.

The parade was reviewed at the State House by his Excellency Governor Channing H. Cox, and at the reviewing stand on Tremont street by his Honor Mayor James M. Curley, the Chief Marshal, his staff and invited guests.

The members of the various units participating formed in columns of squads (or fours), and kept that formation throughout the line of march.

During the period of parade, First Deputy Chief Daniel F. Sennott was in charge of the fire force of the City of Boston.

Fire Commissioner Glynn had arranged to serve a luncheon to about 1,500 firemen, but the parade far exceeded his fondest expectations and between 2,000 and 2,500 firemen marched into the armory.

Mayor James M. Curley created much happiness among the Boston fire fighters by telling them that he intended to grant them the "two-platoon," but when he said that it would not go into effect until 1924, considerable dissatisfaction was expressed.

Mayor Curley told them that he intended to completely motorize the department next year and also rebuild every fire station that needed rebuilding.

The exercises commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the big Boston fire were brought to a close Thursday night with a demonstration of modern firefighting at the scene of the start of the big fire, and later with a demonstration of the fireboats.

A great crowd was gathered on Summer and other streets when Mayor James M. Curley pulled the hook in Box 1431, which resulted in the signal 52 being sent out.

The apparatus and crew of Engine 7, which has temporary quarters at Fort Hill square were stationed outside of their own station on East street, received the signal, and it seemed but a few seconds after the hook was pulled before the engine was rushing up Lincoln street.

A hose was attached to a high pressure hydrant on Lincoln street, and a stream of water poured from the gun on the wagon as Deputy Chief Edward J. Shallow, District Chief Cornelius J. O'Brien, Engine 25, Ladder 8, Tower 1 and Protective 1 rolled into Church green through High and Summer streets, from the direction of the South Station.

While these companies were getting to work at the lower end of the block, where the original fire started, the scene on upper Summer street was just as exciting, with District Chief A. J. Caulfield, Engines 10 and 35, Ladder 17, Rescue 1, Protective 2 and the emergency truck of the Consolidated Gas Company dashing into position.

The roof of the building at the corner of Summer and Kingston streets was covered with railroad torches, and a glare that lighted up the entire district gave the appearance of a conflagration.

The demonstration brought from the visiting firemen cheers and applause.

Following this demonstration, thousands flocked to the station of Engine 44, a fireboat located at the Northern Avenue Bridge, where they were treated to a wonderful display by three fireboats moving off the dock with all guns and streams, going.

Following the demonstration, there was a collation and entertainment for the guests.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

V. Barletta has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Perkins street, between Chestnut street and Hyde square, West Roxbury. Items ordered: Relocating catch-basin drains, house drain, resetting catch-basin trap, rebuilding sewer manhole, also increasing, hauling and freight charges on 36-inch pipe hauled from South Boston and Massachusetts avenue railroad yards—the estimated cost of extra work being $275.

The Rudolph Jurgenson Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for monitor over boiler room in present coal house, Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester. Items ordered: Reinforce two trusses on coal house roof in accordance with sketch submitted with two 1¼-inch turnbuckle rods, timbers, etc.; place iron straps and angles to secure monitor timbers to roof—the estimated cost of extra work being $427.

William Barrett & Co. have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for furnishing and laying 42-inch steel pipe and laying 48-inch cast-iron pipe in Beacon street, under the Boston & Albany Railroad tracks. Items ordered: Break out and remove a portion of the southerly masonry abutment to permit of the laying of 42-inch steel pipe; due to conditions uncontrollable and of which no accurate knowledge was available, the grade of 42-inch steel pipe was changed radically from contract plan—the estimated cost of extra work being $1,700.

The B. E. Grant Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying wood block pavement in Pearl street, Franklin street and Congress street, city proper. Items ordered: Relay granite block paving where directed in Pearl street and Franklin street with gravel base and gravel joints. Price to be paid: For each square yard of granite block paving relaid, the sum of $1—estimated cost of extra work being $100.

John T. Shea, Jr., has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for paving Berkeley street, from Providence street across Columbus avenue, Back Bay. Items ordered: Bar out, recut and relay granite blocks on 6-inch concrete base, grout joints, in track area and brows of Boston Elevated Railway Company, and furnish and lay concrete base where directed outside of brows at the intersection of Berkeley street and Columbus avenue. Prices to be paid: For each square yard of paving laid, including concrete base, etc., seventy-five (75) cents in addition to price bid (Item 5f of contract), i. e. $3.50 per square yard. For each cubic yard of concrete base furnished and laid, the sum of eleven (11) dollars—the estimated cost of extra work being $525.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract of the Davis & Farnum Manufacturing Company for furnishing 467,000 pounds of castings to the Water Service, from December 1, 1922, to January 15, 1923. This concern wishes to reduce the loss they are suffering by reason of the very low contract price, as, if the extension of time is granted, it will be possible for them to put other work in the foundry at a higher price. The Commissioner of Public Works states that the interests of the Water Service will not suffer by this extension.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract with A. DiLucci & Co. for building sewerage works in Mt. Vernon street, between Charles street and Charles River Embankment, city proper, from August 15, 1922, to December 1, 1922, 107 days. This extension of time is occasioned by a provision in the contract which requires the macadam surface to be replaced four months after the completion of sewer construction.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with DeChristoforo Brothers Company for building sewerage works in Broadway, from a point about 65 feet northwest of Harrison avenue to a point 125 feet northwesterly, from October 7, 1922, to December 30, 1922, eighty-four days. This extension of time is occasioned by the fact that the progress of the work was retarded by the contractors' difficulty in obtaining sufficient labor.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract with William Barrett & Co. for furnishing and laying 42-inch steel pipe and laying 42-inch cast-iron pipe in Beacon street under the Boston & Albany Railroad tracks, from September 1, 1922, to February 1, 1923. This request is made due to the fact that the Boston & Albany Railroad Company were unable to obtain beams to shore tracks until the Water Service finally furnished them. The railroad company refused the contractor permission to proceed with the work until the tracks were supported.

PRICE OF COAL SOARS.

Mayor Curley addressed the following communication to Mr. James J. Phelan, State Fuel Administrator, upon Thursday the 9th instant:

"My attention has been directed to the fact that the coal dealers of Boston have this day advanced the price of fuel $1 per ton. In view of the fact that there has been no announced increase in the cost of either mining or freight rates within the last ten days—there has been, in fact, a reduction in rates for coal, at the mine—the local increase appears to me to be both unwarranted and unjustifiable. I am directing your attention to the same in the hope that it may be corrected."

Mr. Phelan replied as follows:

"Your communication of even date has just been received at 4.45 p. m.

"Early this morning in my first mail I received a communication from the Metropolitan Coal Company, a copy of which I inclose herewith. I immediately wrote the Metropolitan Coal Company in answer to the same. My reply was handed to Mr. Edward Hamlin, president of the Metropolitan Coal Company, in my office at the State House this noon, when, among other things, I took up with Mr. Hamlin the question of the advance in price for anthracite coal just announced by the Metropolitan Coal Company.

"I also sent to Mr. Everett Morss, Boston fuel distributer, copies of the Metropolitan Company's letter to me and my reply to them."

PUBLIC LIBRARY LECTURES.

Public Courses in American Literature.

The Division of University Extension of the Massachusetts Board of Education, Room 217 State House, offers two new courses in American Literature by Prof. Robert E. Rogers of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to be given in the Lecture Hall of the Boston Public Library on Friday mornings at 9.30 o'clock, beginning respectively on November 17 and April 13.

I. American Literature from its beginning to 1870, twenty lectures.

II. American Literature since 1870, ten lectures.

The lectures are especially intended for library workers, but are open to everybody on payment of the enrollment charge of $1 for each course.

Charles F. D. Belden, Librarian.

OMISSION OF WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

The Bermudez Company have been directed to omit and substitute the following work under contract for laying bitulithic pavement in Prince, Salem and Thacher streets, North End. Items ordered: Omit the furnishing and laying of bitulithic pavement and substitute the furnishing and laying of sheet asphalt pavement; price to be paid, the same as that bid for doing the work, viz., $3.30 per square yard, including preparing site and concrete base—the estimated decrease in cost being $1,326.

HISTORIES OF UNITED STATES IN PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the Library Trustees, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish the City Council with the titles and authors' names of all histories of the United States now indexed and distributed at the Central Library and all branches.

Coun. MORIARTY in the chair.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I am going to ask for a suspension of the rule on this order. It may be that it is getting a bit tiresome to my fellow members to hear me every Monday concerning these blasphemous and un-American histories that are now in libraries throughout the country and in the public schools in almost every large city, as well as being in the libraries and schools of the small towns of the United States, with very, very few exceptions. The exception among the larger cities is New York, where all these un-American and pro-British histories are barred. Every book that was brought to the School Committee of greater New York by the Sons of the American Revolution, the Knights of Columbus, the United Spanish War Veterans, the G. A. R., the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been dropped, in New York. Boston, where the spirit of liberty was first kindled, is the greatest offender in the matter of teaching the youth wrong history, more so than any other city or town in the United States. I appreciate as well as anybody the fact that to some my continued opposition to this condition in our schools and libraries is getting a bit tiresome, but anyone who becomes tired at an honest effort to begin the teaching of true history to our youths is rather a lukewarm American, whether he be my friend or my foe, because 95 per cent of the men, women and children in the United States are pro-American. I believe that the birth of this nation in 1776 was the next thing to the resurrection, and I believe that our children should be taught just what it meant. I propose to continue my feeble efforts, with the co-operation of my associates and the press, if the press will co-operate with me, to attempt to keep lit or to rekindle, if I may use that term, patriotism in the public mind. It is unfortunate that I am the instrument. It is too bad that there is not some one of greater means or greater influence than I who can make this contest. But I am getting great courage because of the backing I am securing in the matter from every patriotic organization in the United States. I have the backing to the limit, 100 per cent, of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, through its director, Judge Wallace McCamant, of Portland, Oregon, the man who nominated Calvin Coolidge at Chicago for Vice President of the United States. I have the undivided support and the written indorsement of the chairman of the Americanization Bureau of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mr. Walter J. Joyce; I have the backing of the National Organization of the Grand Army of the Republic, through the national commander; I have the backing of the American Legion, through the new commander, Mr. Owsley, of Texas; I have the backing of the Spanish War Veterans National Organization, through their commander; I have the backing of Edward F. McSweeney, who is authorized to indorse and back my efforts on the part of the Knights of Columbus committee on true American history. I have the backing of many individuals who are patriotic, and I will say frankly that the preponderance of the indorsement I have received, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the Gulf of Mexico to Maine, comes from what may be termed the Pilgrim or Puritanical element in our community, men who date ancestry from the time of the landing of the "Mayflower," together with the indorsement of those who came over in more recent times but who have become patriotic sons, true Americans. I have not met an individual who has contested my position concerning these vicious histories. To think that the greatest offender, one of the greatest offenders, is Albert Bushnell Hart, professor of history at Harvard College! Why, Mr. President, he is the most inconsistent gentleman who ever lived. He indorsed our attitude concerning the book in our library entitled "The American Wars," by Miss Nicolay. When asked by Mr. Belden whether or not he, Mr. Hart, thought that book should continue in the library, Mr. Hart said without qualification that it should be barred. I might say at this time that the papers were in error when they quoted me as saying that I had the indorsement of Mr. Belden concerning the later books I have talked about. I merely have Mr. Belden's indorsement, if it may be called such, to the effect that he agrees as librarian of the public library that "The American Wars" by Helen Nicolay is unfit for distribution by the Boston Library. Mr. President, Professor Hart is like all employees of Harvard. They are American until their pay roll is attacked. Professor Hart told Mr. Belden that "The American Wars" should be barred from the Boston Public Library and public schools. Then, when he was asked by Mr. Belden whether the book was in the Widener Library at Harvard, he said it was, and when asked by Mr. Belden if he favored its being taken out of that library, he said, "Oh, no." The answer is that Professor Hart is on the pay roll of Harvard, and part of his pay is furnished by money spent indirectly in favor of British propaganda, because Harvard College is teeming with British and un-American propaganda. It is unfortunate that I have to speak so strongly about it, but it is a fact. During the war the greatest offenders in the matter of opposing the allies were such men as Professor Frankfurter and others connected with Harvard, who appeared at the courthouse and in other places endeavoring to prevent men who were opposed to the war from being interned. One of the judges on the bench told Professor Frankfurter, "I believe that you, in endeavoring to prevent certain men from being interned, are more hostile to the allied powers and are creating more trouble than the ones who want them interned." I can furnish the name of the judge who said that, in substance, if not actually. Now, I am satisfied that we are going to eliminate from our libraries and schools in the United States this British propaganda. I don't use the word "Anglo-Saxon" because that is a myth. "Saxon" is German, and "Anglo" is British, and how they got the two words together I fail to know. We have this Anglicized propaganda, these Anglicized histories, fostered and encouraged by men who ought to be willing to lose their last drop of blood for the institutions under which we exist. Our constitution is the greatest in the world, each of its articles breathing a spirit in opposition to English acts and English institutions prior to the Revolution. My friends, I am going to continue this at every meeting, if necessary. I ask this information from the Library Trustees, knowing full well that all of the history books mentioned are pro-British and anti-American. While there may be no intention to do wrong on the part of those who are furnishing these books to readers, it means one of two things. Either those responsible for these books are on the Cecil Rhodes pay roll, or else on the pay roll of the Carnegie libraries, or they are directly employed by the British to bring about what the English call a "better feeling between America and England." I, as an American, desire to continue as an individual on friendly terms with England, but I am not willing that America should be a tail to the kite of Great Britain. Great Britain, with a population of 37,000,000 people, governs from the British Isles 380,000,000 whom they have no right to control. I hope that this order will be passed under a suspension of the rule. I feel that it is unfortunate to have to attack Harvard continually, but you do have to do it. You cannot approach this great question in any pussy-footing manner. "Pussy-foot" Johnson tactics will not prevail. You must drag out the snake into the open and kill it so thoroughly that it cannot even wiggle. We have to hit the nail on the head. Harvard College, whether knowingly or unknowingly, is pro-British, and if I have to name certain individuals who are connected with this movement I will name them. They are either on the pay roll of the Carnegie Foundation or on the pay roll of the Cecil Rhodes Foundation, absolutely. They are corrupting the minds of the youth of Harvard with this so-called highbrow stuff, which is another name for pro-British propaganda, and I say that any man who professes to be either ten per cent American, who will not stand up and fight in the open against British propaganda, is, knowingly or otherwise, a friend of Great Britain, and Great Britain is his first choice when it comes to any question between America and England. I think, Mr. President, that I have covered the ground pretty thoroughly. My speeches get a wide circulation. I get more publicity in the New York Sun and World, the Kansas City Star and the Los Angeles Inquirer than I do locally. I do not blame them, of course. In the early days Benjamin Franklin, Sam Adams, Otis and the other patriots who stirred up something were pointed out as worthless fellows, men who beat their wives, or something of the sort. That doesn't matter! The patriot Hancock, the first signer of the Declaration of Independence, was referred to as a smuggler by the cozy highbrows of the early days, who were like the highbrows of Harvard College of today. They are all identical. If you don't belong to their little class or circle, you are not fit to be considered. I am satisfied, however, to remain as I am. I would rather be with the great unwashed majority than to be classed with these Harvard College highbrows who profess to bathe three times a day. I am with the everyday man, and my colleagues are. There are no artificial distinctions here. Each member here is as worthy and as honest in his position in these matters as I am. They are not as fortunate as I am in respect to having this data, which is very valuable, and which offers me an opportunity to present this propaganda in its true light. I am going to continue this movement as long as God will permit me to talk either here or elsewhere. We are going to have pro-British and anti-American histories removed from our schools and libraries. I am willing to admit that I know of cases where there are these very books I have referred to, today and in the past, in certain convents of the faith that I profess. That is unfortunate, but where I know of such cases I am writing to them, and two such institutions have already removed them. But such cases are very few and far between. The books are, however, in our public and private schools, other than the parochial schools. We cannot remove them from the private schools because that is their business. If the fathers and mothers desire to send their children to schools where pro-British history is taught to the growing child, that is their privilege. The right is given them under the Constitution to educate their children how and where they see fit, the same as they have liberty in the matter of worship. We have liberty here of thought and action not contrary to our American institutions. Mr. President, there is no division here in this body. Every member is with me, and in this movement I know that they are proud to be with me. I am simply an instrument whereby this matter may be kept going. I may remain in this body, but I may not. You cannot always tell. I am a candidate for re-election, and if I lose I will take up the fight somewhere else or in some other way. But Coun. Gilbody, Hagan, Donoghue and Moriarty will be here, if I am not, next year, and I know that they will continue this contest until they bring it to a successful finish. We are going to have America for Americans, and I am just bigoted enough an American, if I may use that term, to favor the erection of a great big wall around the boundaries of the United States, doing our business within those boundaries and living by ourselves, if we cannot live as we see fit because of foreign propaganda. I have no quarrel with England, not a particle; I have no wish to appear offensive to our British-American citizens, provided they are Americans first. That is the important thing. I have not the slightest quarrel with a British-American, Italian-American, Irish-American or French-American naturalized citizen, but to suit me as an American citizen he must be an American first and for his home land afterwards. I move a suspension of the rule that the order may pass.

Coun. WATSON submitted the following:

Sons of the Revolution in the State of California,
Los Angeles, October 20, 1922.

Hon. James A. Watson,
City Council, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Mr. Watson,—Having recently noticed in the Associated Press mention of your commendable and determined effort to bring about a thorough investigation of the histories now in use in the public schools of the City of Boston, in the hope that such an investigation may result in a restoration of truthful patriotic histories, I write to extend my well wishes for your success.

It is, of course, unnecessary for me to mention that you may expect every kind of opposition imaginable, including political, intellectual, racial and sentimental, and, last but not least, financial. You will be abused by some and ridiculed by others, but you are in the right and will enjoy the respect and admiration of every true American.

We made a fight here, but lack of funds prevented our carrying it to a successful issue. We got some results, but pro-British propaganda seems to have already gotten its work in on this coast to such an extent that it cannot be easily disturbed.

Hoping you will not allow the opposition to stop you in your worthy and patriotic fight, and again wishing you success, I am

Yours very truly,
FRANK HERVEY PETTINGELL,
President.

National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution,
Portland, Ore., October 18, 1922.

Hon. James A. Watson,
City Council, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Mr. Watson,—I have learned through Mr. Charles Grant Miller of your deep interest in the matter of a reform in our school histories. At Mr. Miller's request I am writing Mayor Curley as per copy herewith. These objectionable histories have been introduced into the schools through the personality of selling agents while the rest of us have been asleep. No one who has not looked into the subject can have any idea of how bad are many of the histories which are now in general use. The National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution at its Springfield congress last May took pronounced ground on the subject, and the committee of which I am the chairman is charged with the duty of carrying its resolution into effect. I have prepared a review of the Muzzey history, which is one of the worst, and will be glad to supply you with copies of this review in such numbers as you can use. The Willis Mason West history is even worse than Muzzey. It eliminates the entire story of the Revolutionary War and is socialistic in its trend. The O'Hara and McLaughlin & Van Tyne histories are only a shade less objectionable and the Everett Barnes history is impossible.

The chief value in the study of American history is the inculcation of patriotism. A history which tells the story in cold and colorless outline, eliminating all enthusiasm for the heroes of our past, is of no value and should not find lodgment in any American school.

With every good wish,

Cordially yours,
WALLACE MCCAMANT.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF CONVENIENCE STATION.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That the Board of Health through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to remove forthwith the convenience station at the corner of Washington and Eustis streets.

Passed.

TICKET SPECULATION ON THEATER PREMISES.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to adopt such regulations as may be necessary in connection with the licensing of theaters and public amusements, so as to provide that the license shall be revoked if ticket speculation is allowed on the premises, or if it is shown that the proprietor or manager or any employees have any dealings with ticket speculators.

Coun. GILBODY in the chair.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am going to take but a very few moments on this matter, as I understand that some of the heads of departments are here to appear before us and that they are anxious to get back to their offices to meet appointments. I had the pleasure of going to one of the prominent theaters in town within the last ten days, to buy tickets. I found a line of about fifty waiting to buy tickets. I started to go out of the lobby and was accosted by some speculators in the lobby of the theater, trying to sell tickets, such tickets as the people in the line were not able to buy. I had a talk with the Mayor in regard to this order, and he is very favorably inclined to it. While we may have no power to revoke a license in one of the playhouses in Boston, they do have to be licensed yearly, and the Mayor will be in a position to refuse a license where these people are found selling tickets upon the premises. It is a well known fact, in the case of every good show that comes to town, that there is a large number of good tickets taken out by the men in the box office and handed to speculators, and that the speculators charge anywhere from $1 to $3 a ticket more than the face value. When people go to the theater to get tickets they find that they cannot get the seats that they want, but that these same leeches are hanging around the doors of the theater and trying to drag extra money of the people in this way. They are men who are not willing to go out and make an honest living, but they take this means of getting money away from the unfortunate who is not able to spend it, except perhaps on pay day. At this time, on account of the presence of heads of departments who are anxious to get away, while there is a lot more that I could say, I will refrain from doing so. But before I sit down I will move a suspension of the rule so that the order may be put upon its passage.

The question came on suspending the rule for the passage of the order.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I want to say that I indorse everything that Coun. Moriarty has said. I might say much more. I know that he knows much more, as well as I do. But, as these heads of departments are present, as he has said, I am willing to refrain from saying more at this time.

Coun. MORIARTY——Mr. President, I want also to say to the newspapers that I did not see anything in the papers last Tuesday in regard to what was said here about the theaters. I would like to ask the newspapers to invite the public to send complaints to the Mayor's office every time when anything of this sort happens, when they run across one of these speculators on the property of any of the theaters in town, so that we may be able to follow the matter up.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 3:20 p. m. to take a recess, subject to the call of the President.

The Council reassembled in the Council Chamber at 4.57 p. m., and was called to order by the President.

COMMITTEE ON JITNEYS.

Coun. FORD, for the Committee on Jitneys, reported on petition of Alfonso Roberto (referred October 9), recommending that a license be granted.

Report accepted; said license granted, subject to terms and conditions expressed in city ordinance.

COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. HAGAN, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted reports as follows:

1. Report on message of Mayor and ordinance (referred October 20) relative to transfer of Avenue Louis Pasteur from control of Public Works Department to control and care of Park Department—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said ordinance passed.

2. Report on message of Mayor and ordinance (referred October 20) transferring certain bridges from custody and control of Park Commissioners to custody and control of Commissioner of Public Works—that the same ought not to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the ordinance.

The ordinance was rejected, yeas 4, nays 4.

Yeas—Coun. Ford, Hagan, Lane, Watson—4.

Nays—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Moriarty, Walsh—4.

Coun. FORD—Mr. President, I would move a reconsideration of our action, because of the tie vote. There are now nine members present, and I think, as long as that is the case, the ordinance had better be either accepted or rejected by majority vote.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I trust reconsideration will prevail. I happened to be outside on an emergency matter, and that is the reason why I was not present to vote.

Coun. FORD—On such an important matter, Mr. President, I feel that we should have a vote of the full body, as long as all of the members are now present.

Reconsideration prevailed, and the ordinance was rejected, yeas 4, nays 5:

Yeas—Coun. Ford, Hagan, Lane, Watson—4.

Nays—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Gilbody, Moriarty, Walsh—5.

3. Report on itinerant vendors' ordinance (referred June 26), recommending the passage of the ordinance in the following draft:

TRANSIENT VENDORS' LICENSES.

Section 1. Every transient vendor, whether principal or agent, authorized by state license to do business in this commonwealth, before making any sales of goods, wares and merchandise in the city of Boston, shall make application for local license to the city clerk, stating the names, residences and places of business of the owners or parties in whose interests said business is conducted.

Sect. 2. Upon the payment of a fee of $200 the city clerk shall issue to the transient vendor a license authorizing the sale of such goods, wares and merchandise within the city of Boston. Such licenses shall remain in force so long as the licensee shall continuously keep and expose for sale in the city of Boston such stock of goods, wares and merchandise, but not later than the first day of April following its date of issuance.

Sect. 3. Every transient vendor who is granted a license under the provisions of this ordinance shall exhibit the same at all times, while in force, in some conspicuous part of the place of business for which it is issued.

Sect. 4. The term "transient vendor" for the purposes of this ordinance shall be the same as defined in sections 1 and 2 of chapter 101 of the General Laws of Massachusetts, as amended by chapter 2 of the General Acts of 1920 and chapter 106 of the General Acts of 1921, and shall include any person, either principal or agent, who engages in a temporary or transient business in this city, either in one locality or in traveling from place to place, selling goods, wares or merchandise. "Temporary or transient business" for the purposes of this ordinance shall mean and include any exhibition and sale of goods, wares or merchandise which is carried on in any tent, booth, building or other structure, unless such place is open for business under the direction of such vendor during usual business hours for a period of at least ten months in each year. The provisions of this ordinance, however, shall not apply to sales by commercial travelers or by selling agents to dealers in the usual course of business, or to bona fide sales of goods, wares or merchandise by any person, whether principal or agent, who engages in the temporary or transient business within the city, and who has paid taxes upon his stock in trade during the current year, or to hawkers and pedlers as defined by the laws of this commonwealth and the ordinances of the city of Boston.

Sect. 5. Any person, association or corporation who shall engage in the business of a transient vendor, as herein defined, without having secured a license for that purpose as provided in this ordinance, or who, having secured such license, shall thereafter fail to pay the sum provided herein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $20 for each day during which such goods, wares or merchandise are kept or exposed for sale.

Chapter 11 of the Ordinances of 1920 is hereby repealed.

The question came on the acceptance of the report.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I am going to make a motion that the committee report back "Ought not to pass," the object being that I may have an opportunity to present some arguments as against the proposed amendment. When this ordinance was up for consideration some few years ago before the then City Council it was agitated pro and con for a long period of time, was finally accepted, was agreed to by the then Mayor, and this ordinance has been in existence now for a period of some two or three years. During that period there has been no opposition to the existing ordinance. Your merchants doing business here for twelve months in the year have been satisfied and contented. There has been no opposition from any source that I or anybody knows anything about until this opposition has appeared here now, when a New York concern desirous of doing business in competition with our local merchants is asking for the privilege of acting under this proposed amendment, which repeals the provisions of the ordinance in existence and takes from it, in my judgment, all the force, power and teeth that the ordinance possesses. I want to call to the attention of the committee who have reported favorably on this amendment the fact that if there ever was a case appearing before the Boston City Council involving special legislation this is one, this one concern coming in here in opposition to all the merchants in Boston, being the only concern which has asked for this repeal and for this proposed amendment. Therefore I think this should very properly be classified as special legislation, and I think special legislation is something that should require the most careful scrutiny on the part of this or any legislative body. While this matter was pending, knowing that it was coming up for consideration before this body, I received from the merchants of Boston various letters, as set forth in this list in my hand, all uttering their sincere and honest protest against the adoption of the proposed amendment. The letters here are signed by Jones, Peterson, Walkover Shoe Company, C. D. Whitney Company, Conrad & Co., Butler Company, Summerfield, Regal Shoe Company, S. S. Pierce Company, N. Sallinger, F. P. O'Connor Company, Smith, Patterson Company, R. H. Stearns Company, Jordan March Company, A Stowell Company, Jackson & Co., P. F. Bonney's Sons, Jay's, Gilchrist Company, Scott & Co., Dennison Manufacturing Company, E. T. Slattery Company, Houghton & Dutton, Andrews Shoe Company, R. H. White Company, Damon Company, Shreve, Crump & Low, Walter M. Hatch Company, Credit Reporting Company, Better Business Commission, John H. Pray Company, William C. Adams Company, Burditt & Williams Company, Adams, Cushing & Foster, Jones, McDuffee & Stratton. I think, Mr. President, that that is a very representative body of Boston merchants, who usually know what is best for them and what is best for the citizens of Boston, and who are capable in every way of giving an honest expression of their viewpoint. These letters are here for the perusal of any member of this body, voicing the opposition of these concerns to this amendment in a decided and pronounced way. We are asked to ignore, and by vote of committee have ignored this representative body of Boston merchants, who pay taxes to the City of Boston each and every year, spending their entire business life here. We are asked to ignore them entirely, so that we may grant special legislation to a New York concern who come here to Boston every year and spend one week in our midst, taking away from us in Boston money from $75,000 to $100,000. I am told that that is the usual volume of business that they do here. These people are a legitimate, high grade, well rated concern, operating in New York City, and coming here to Boston for a short time each year and finding here a fertile field during the holiday season, when the buying of jewelry is most pronounced, when persons are purchasing Christmas presents for members of their family and for their friends. This concern desires to come to Boston during that one week or ten days to do business in competition with our merchants who are here for twelve months in every year and who pay taxes to the city. They seek to come here and pay the minimum amount of tax and take away from Boston money some $75,000 to $100,000, which is going to be spent in New York. Your Boston merchants, when they want a carpenter, plumber or other people, hire them from among Boston people, and that money is distributed to the residents and citizens of Boston, or at least of Greater Boston. But this money is going to New York. So that, in addition to the granting of special legislation to one concern,—a deplorable act, I think, in itself,—you are permitting this one concern, legitimate as it is, to take away from Boston every year from $75,000 to $100,000 of our money, to be spent in New York City. We hear a great deal of opposition here because the Boston Public Library and other institutions connected with Boston will hire an employee who lives outside of municipal Boston. I think it well for those who are opposed to the continuation of that system to weigh well the fact that they are granting this special legislation now to a New York concern which is taking away from Boston $75,000 to $100,000 every year. This concern has done business here before. They were here in 1919. Going back in the Municipal Court docket in the City of Boston, I find that the records of that court show that J. Arthur Hull, representing the Dreicer Company, was summoned into court on April 22, 1919, on the unlicensed transient vendors' charge. The date of the offence was April 16, 1919. So, you see, they knew that this ordinance was in existence. They evidently preferred to ignore it and take their chances, and somebody, I don't know who, cited them into court.

Coun. WATSON—The Chamber of Commerce.

Coun. HAGAN—I don't think so.

Coun. WATSON—Well, they admitted it here.

Coun. HAGAN—It may be so, but I don't think so. They were arraigned on July 15, 1919, and entered a plea of "Guilty." On July 15, 1919, they paid a fine of $25. With that ordinance clearly in their minds, with a knowledge that there was an ordinance of the City of Boston that prevented an itinerant vendor from doing business here in our midst, after paying a fine in 1919, as shown by the docket of the Municipal Court of 1919, the 1922 docket of the Municipal Court of the City of Boston shows that J. Arthur Hull, representing the Dreicer company, was summoned into court on the unlicensed transient vendors' charge, and that the summons was made out by Officer F. S. McNabb, from Division 16. The date of the offence was given as April 15, 1922. Mr. Hull was arraigned on April 21, 1922, and entered the plea of "Not guilty." The case was continued until May 1, 1922, on a $100 bond, on his own recognizance. The docket shows that he defaulted on this bond. There were no other entries. The number of the docket is 3665. Nothing has happened to this case since the default. The cash for the bond was not put up in this case. The clerk said that Mr. Hull is subject to arrest. This has not changed up to October 25, 1922. This shows, gentlemen, that this concern, knowing that there was an ordinance preventing their doing business here, ignored it in 1919, coming then to Boston and doing business, and being content to pay a fine of $25. Here are your legitimate merchants in Boston, men doing business here the year round and paying thousands and thousands of dollars into the city treasury and employing citizens of Boston, while these men are willing to come in here and take a chance and pay a fine of $25 in the Municipal Court, the only contribution they have made to the revenue of the city. They tried to follow the thing up again in 1922, with that experience and history, and that time didn't even pay a fine.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, if the gentleman will yield for a question, I would ask him if he will kindly cite any other prosecution than this one which has been brought to his knowledge under this act?

Coun. HAGAN—I don't know of any others, Mr. President. There may be a lot of them, and there may not be one.

Coun. WATSON—I mean outside of this particular concern?

Coun. HAGAN—I don't know of any other concern that has come under my observation or that I have any knowledge of at all. There may be others, or there may be none. But the fact is that the ordinance is in existence and the fact that there have not been a number of prosecutions under the ordinance is not the fault of this Council. It is the fault of someody else if they have not been prosecuted. The ordinance has been in existence. Perhaps there could not have been. But the point I am trying to bring out to members of the body is that you are being asked here for special legislation for a New York concern which is going to take a goodly sum of Boston money back to New York to spend, that they have ignored our ordinance in the past, as it existed in 1919, and even up to the present time, as the history of the Municipal Court and the records I have read show. I think it is bad enough to pass this special legislation, letting down the bars in the good ordinance you have today. Unfortunately, while this concern is a good, high grade concern, you cannot legislate for them alone, and I think ought not to do so. So, when you let down the bars you open wide the doors to every illegitimate faker doing business to come to Boston during the holiday season, or when he will, any fly-by-night concern, opening up here and doing business for a short time to the detriment of the citizens of Boston and then disappearing. After all, in the last analysis, the citizens of Boston are the people who are being swindled by these illegitimate and fake concerns. You and I have known all our lives that these fakers do not in the majority of cases render a straight deal to the customer who unfortunately sees fit to patronize them. We know, in the case of the dealer who is here twelve months in the year, building up his business during that period, that it is a matter of policy and good judgment on his part to deal fairly by the consuming public of Boston, so that he will continue to retain their friendship, their good will, the greatest asset which he has. But your fly-by-night concern, your faker, knows nothing of good will and cares less. He wants the nimble shilling, the dollar that comes quick, and he wants to gather in all the suckers that he can, and proceeds along this line. We have to put up fences or safeguards along our bridges in Boston to keep irresponsible people from falling overboard. It is necessary to have an ordinance to keep out these fake concerns. Only the very few of the Boston public, the wealthy class, deal with Dreicer, because he is carrying very high grade jewels, very high grade pearls and diamonds, and he does not reach the great masses of our people. It is the elite who patronize him when you invite and permit him to come into Boston. But bear in mind, gentlemen, that when you let down the bars, open the doors for him, you are permitting any faker, at any time, from anywhere, to come into Boston and take away to his headquarters, wherever they may be, a certain amount of Boston money culled from gullible people, who would otherwise go into the various Boston establishments, and do business with our Boston merchants, men who are helping to support the city and who are interested in giving a square deal to the people. That is the most important thing to consider with reference to the amendment as presented today. I don't blame Mr. Beal, representing the Dreicer company, for coming in here and presenting this case in the best possible way. He is merely acting as attorney here, wants to collect his fee and do the best possible job for his people, so that they may come in here in the holiday season and take money away from such of our local concerns as Shreve, Crump & Low, Smith, Patterson, Bigelow, Kennard, and others, who are here throughout the year and who pay heavy taxes into the treasury of the City of Boston. And remember, when you let the Dreicer people in you are going to let the fakers in, too. There is a thing that you are going to face and that you cannot overcome. You are ignoring the legitimate merchants of Boston and opening the doors to a single high class concern, but in doing that with this high grade concern you are also allowing to come in a vast swarm of fakers from other places, who will reap as big a harvest as possible and then disappear to other sections of the country. That is what you are going to do under this proposed amendment. If that appeals to you as a proper thing to do, it is what you should do.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, as one member who proposes to vote for the amendment reported back by the Committee on Ordinances, I cannot permit this to go by without having a word to say in defence, if defence is necessary, of my position. The nub of the whole thing is this, in my opinion, that this concern he refers to from New York is competing with such local concerns as Smith, Patterson, Shreve, Crump & Low, Bigelow, Kennard, and other merchants. All right. If those concerns cannot compete with this concern that comes in here from outside, then let us give the people of Boston an opportunity to trade with these outside people, to their advantage, even if the merchants of Boston do suffer. I think there is no question about the soundness of that. Take, for instance, the matter of reciprocity. Suppose we should start in in this way with a concern coming from New York, and that New York should immediately start in to keep Boston merchants out of New York. They would be entitled to take that position against us, if we should take the position that the Chamber of Commerce and Coun. Hagan take in regard to this matter, affecting New York concerns. Now, Mr. President, we are trying to get some revenue from this ordinance, and the Lord knows that Boston needs some revenue. We will have to have more revenue, and that will be the result when these honest merchants and even the so-called fakers and shysters come in here, if they have to pay $200 into the treasury of Boston, where they now pay nothing. Now, itn't it better to have an ordinance that compels the so-called shyster, as well as the legitimate concern, to pay $200 to do business in Boston, than to have the thing go on as you, Coun. Hagan, and the Chamber of Commerce want it to go on, in the old way, under which they come in and do not pay a nickel. The fakers and the fly-by-night concerns who want to come in here to do business will have to do so subject to this ordinance, as well as the legitimate concerns. That, in itself, will have a restraining and a beneficial influence. And when you talk of fake concerns coming in here, what about fake auctions, where men and women go into a place, and where they are presumed to have ordinary intelligence and to know in a general way whether they are being rightly or wrongly treated? Anybody of common sense knows when he goes into a fake auction room that he is not going to get a thing worth $50 for $3. What is the use of bluffing ourselves? We are supposed to exercise some ordinary intelligence in our daily affairs. Mr. President, the Chamber of Commerce committee is a farce. Of course, Coun. Hagan, you are a member of it, looking for better, bigger, busier business, fostered by a man from Cleveland. Of course, you have interested yourself in this matter and you have got to get something, got to get your money back. I don't blame you. You are the suckers. Do you see them prosecuting the piano man who sometimes advertises through a page or half a page in some of the papers here, saying that you can get an Emerson piano or some other high grade piano, in A1 condition, for $175, or less? Why not get after things like that, which are fakes? But we see no prosecutions, not a particle. Just think, after all the violent opposition in this matter on the part of the Chamber of Commerce, of what has actually happened. There has been prosecution of just one concern, this New York concern. It is a concern which I know nothing about, personally, I never met Mr. Beal until Coun. Lane introduced him to me here. But the only prosecution has been of this concern, which has a high rating among business organizations, a concern worth probably about $6,000,000, a reputable, legitimate concern, as all admit. Why was the concern prosecuted? Because Smith, Patterson, who belong to your merchants' organization, Bigelow, Kennard and Shreve, Crump & Low, and others, called for prosecution. Why? Because these men came over here and interested the people of Boston to the extent of buying jewelry, simply because they gave them an improved or better article than the Boston merchants offered. Now, remember that under the ordinance as it now stands—your ordinance, if I may use that term—these men can come in here and do a big business and not pay a nickel. They can show a diamond necklace for $5,000 and up, and simply say, "This is a duplicate, only a sample, and if you want to buy it, while I cannot sell this to you now, I will send you the duplicate," and then they can simply send not the duplicate but the original necklace, and you cannot prosecute. Here, however, is a chance for the city to get some revenue. If we wait for the Chamber of Commerce to improve conditions in Boston we will be a hamlet of about the size of Natick in fifteen years. You know it. They are absolutely dead. I know a man who came on here from Los Angeles with a proposition to buy at least a million dollars' worth of iron castings in Boston, and the Chamber of Commerce didn't take any interest whatever in the proposition. The man, who was an A1 member of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce,—and I might as well give his name, E. W. Hartmann, of the Hartmann Process,—came here, endeavoring to operate with the Chamber of Commerce, and they didn't give him any reception at all. He said, "Watson, I am leaving here. I am through with Boston and Massachusetts. I am sending an order today to Los Angeles for a million dollars, paying a cent more a pound. I wanted to deal with Boston, with the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, but all that I have met have lilies in their hair." I said, "What do you mean by that?" "They are dead." Now, I have no quarrel with members of the Chamber of Commerce. Ninety per cent of them are all right, but the trouble is with the dead ones. They are the ones who spoil things. I know that you, councillor, are only selfish in your own particular interest, that is all. I know that you intend to do something for the city. Now, for heaven's sake, don't let it be said of us that one member of this Council, even though he is controlled by the Chamber of Commerce, voted against this proposition and went and sent word back to the merchants of New York that Boston, with its puritanical narrow-mindedness and interference, through a dead Chamber of Commerce, has driven this $6,000,000 concern out of Boston. I am satisfied that they have been persecuted. They seem to have been the only concern that has been brought into court and that has been obliged to pay $25. I am no lawyer, but I am satisfied that that ordinance is not constitutional, and I think lawyers of reputation will agree with me. It compels legitimate concerns to do something that is unnecessary. For heaven's sake, Coun. Hagan, I trust that you will make this unanimous. I don't think we want to be put in the position of taking this attitude not only towards merchants of New York, but also merchants, for instance, from Lynn and other cities in our own neighborhood. This is an ordinance which will be general in its application, which will affect a merchant from Lynn coming in with a first-class lot of shoes in competition with you, sir, requiring him to pay $200 to do business, although the competition may be absolutely legitimate. I trust that the member will not think that I am harsh with him. I don't blame him a bit. He is in the Chamber of Commerce. It is the old story, of course. You like to be in harmony with your organization. But the trouble with many members of the Chamber is that they not only have lilies in their hair, but have one in one hand and a pink in the other, all laid out in a nice box.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I will not attempt to answer the argument of the gentleman who has preceded me, as I think it would be a physical impossibility. I have listened to many wild and crazy statements emanating from that source, but his last statement is about as crazy and as wild as any that he ever uttered here.

Coun. WATSON—I have your goat, Henry.

Coun. HAGAN—From the purely selfish standpoint, I want to tell you that it does not make any difference to me whether the ordinance is amended or thrown out and no ordinance exists. It would not make a particle of difference to me, individually. If I cannot meet competition I do not desire to be in business, and I am not seeking anything of a personal or selfish nature. I am trying to voice the sentiments of the great majority of the reputable merchants of Boston, who know something about business and who know something about the conduct of business, and I am here to give voice to their feelings in the matter, to which you may pay attention or not as you may prefer. I am here to tell you that you are opening the doors to anybody to come in here, that it is going to result in bleeding the citizens of Boston by innumerable fake concerns, who will take advantage of the letting down of the bars, and that this Council is going to be responsible for that condition. Whether the Chamber of Commerce enters into it or not to my mind is unimportant, but I do think that the great majority of the members of the Chamber of Commerce are most careful to protect the public interests. I think most of them would agree that this is not in the public interest. So, eliminate the Chamber of Commerce from your mind, if you will, those of you who can, and there are some who can. There are others who cannot eliminate the Cnamber of Commerce or the Good Government Association from their minds in deciding any question in this body. They are prejudiced against that body. I am asking those who will do so to weigh the reasons that should be considered in connection with this question, passing on the matter on its merits, giving no thought to the Chamber of Commerce. Give thought to the merchants of Boston, but give still greater thought to what you are doing to the citizens of Boston.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, any words of mine after listening to the masterly oratory of Coun. Hagan on this proposition would be idle. I think he has presented to you as clean a case against the proposition as I have listened to since I have been in the Council. There was one thing that came out in the opposition to Coun. Hagan's argument—that even without this ordinance these people could come in here and, by showing a sample, go back to New York and send the original, and make the sale in that way. Of course, all of us know that that is not so. We all know that during the holiday season, when these people, either legitimate or illegitimate, are here, in dealing with the public they must have their goods on hand, because it is all a cash business around Christmas time and people are anxious, are in a hurry to buy goods, and are not going to wait for a concern to go back to New York or to send in other similar goods here. They want the goods when they see them, and they purchase them immediately and take them away. It is a cash business. If this concern spoken of so highly here today is a reputable concern of such magnitude, of $6,000,000, why doesn't it come here and compete on the same basis that the Boston merchants compete with one another? Why should they be allowed to come in here a week or two before the Christmas holidays, in the holiday rush and, as Coun. Hagan says, take whatever ready money they can get away from Boston concerns, and then leave Boston and leave its people to stand the burden, causing during this week or two before Christmas a hardship upon our Boston merchants who are doing business here for the other fifty or fifty-one weeks in the year. Most of the sales of jewelry by Boston merchants are made at about Christmas time, or in the holdiay season, and the rest of the year they are here, doing business legitimately, forming a part of our city life. I think we ought to do something which will result in our people purchasing from legitimate houses which are here every day in the year, and not at one short single season in the year. I think it is absolutely unfair to the merchants of Boston to allow these outside houses, whether legitimate or illegitimate, to come in here and, with the payment of $200 or $100, whichever it may be, in a week or two take whatever they can get and then get out. I say you are not giving the people of Boston a square deal, and I know that you are not giving the merchants of Boston a square deal. I hope the ordinance will be defeated.

Coun. FORD in the chair.

The ordinance as reported was passed, yeas 5, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Ford, Lane, Moriarty, Watson—5.

Nays—Coun. Donoghue, Gilbody, Hagan, Walsh—4.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. GILBODY, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted a report recommending the passage of an order for the payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of October, 1922.

Report accepted; order passed.

MOTION PICTURE CENSORSHIP.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, the Executive Committee has for some reason overlooked the order which I offered in opposition to the motion picture censorship. I think that order should be recalled from the committee, I ask that that be done.

The Council voted to recall the resolution from the committee, as follows:

Resolved, That the City Council is opposed to the passage of the referendum that will appear upon the ballot to be voted at the state election, November 7, 1922, of the so-called "Motion Picture Censorship."

The resolution was passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

RELEASES BY CITY.

Coun. LANE offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized, in the name and behalf of the city, for a nominal consideration and by an instrument or instruments satisfactory in form to the Law Department, to release to George W. Meserve all its right, title and interest in lot No. 1 on Clifford street, and to Bessie Miller all its right, title and interest in lots No. 3 and No. 4 on Blue Hill avenue, in the Roxbury district, all as shown on a plan by C. H. W. Wood Company, dated November 6, 1900, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Lib. 2727, page 273, subject to all encumbrances, easements and agreements of record, if any, affecting said lots of land respectively.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I move that the rule be suspended and that the order be placed on its passage. This has come in today from the Law Department. It seems to be merely the case of a lost deed, and they want another deed. There is a flaw on that account, and the Law Department recommends the passage of this order.

The rule was suspended and the order was read once and passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

Assigned for fourteen days for final action.

EAST BOSTON DISTRICT COURT.

Chairman FORD, for President BRICKLEY, offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Superintendent of Public Buildings to take immediate steps to remedy the unsafe, unsanitary and dangerous conditions at the East Boston District Court.

Passed.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. WALSH moved a general reconsideration of all business transacted today, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 5.40 p. m., on motion of Coun. WATSON, to meet on Monday, November 13, at two o'clock p. m.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commission announce examinations for desirable positions.

ASSISTANT OPERATOR, FIRE ALARM BRANCH, FIRE DEPARTMENT, NOVEMBER 24, 1922.

The salary is $1,400 per year.

Applicants must be not less than twenty-two nor over thirty-five years of age at the time of filing application. A certificate of date of birth must be filed with the application.

Applicants should know the Morse code and be able to transmit and receive messages at the rate of twelve to fifteen words a minute; should know the definition of common electrical terms and at least the primary principles of elementary electricity. It is desirable that they be familiar with the different parts of Boston geographically.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; special questions on common electrical terms and elementary electricity, 3; practical tests in telegraphy, 3; total, 10.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

SWIMMING INSTRUCTOR (MALE), PARK DEPARTMENT, NOVEMBER 24, 1922.

The salary is $4 per day for a six-day week. The swimming instructor is used in a laboring capacity during a portion of the year, if necessary.

The subjects and weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 1; practical tests, 1; total, 2.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

The date given above is not the actual examination date, but the date on or before which application blanks must be filed. Experience sheets will be mailed to applicants to be filled out, and they will then be notified of the time and place of the practical tests.

In certifying from the eligible lists established as a result of the examinations named above, preference will be given to veterans as provided for in chapter 31 of the General Laws.

CITY CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885 and 1909 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission, and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2 was adopted by a majority of 3,894. Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirement as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor, and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway from Broadway and Tremont st., South End, to North Station and from Boylston st., near Charles to Park st., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first municipal subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State st. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages); Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway, from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,327,000; East Boston Tunnel Extension, from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,450,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station, on December 15, 1917 to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal; trains of four or six cars are run in the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel and connecting Cambridge Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways; amount borrowed to 1921 for the Dorchester tunnel, $10,750,000. Total cost of all subways and tunnels, about $36,995,000, incl. loan of $825,000 for new Arlington Station, against which a sinking fund of $5,818,710 has been accumulated from the revenue, payable mostly in 40 years from date of each loan (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent. These underground ways about 8.9 miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of 4½ to 4⅞ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at ⅜ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company). In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be 4½ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

NET DEBT PER CAPITA IN LEADING CITIES (BY RANK).

New York, $183.87; Cincinnati, $169.13; New Orleans, $117.56; Boston, $113.72 (i. e. with population wrongly estimated at 738,901. Should be $106.39 with population estimated at 789,817 on Feb. 1, 1919); Baltimore, $100.54; Cleveland, $95.75; Pittsburgh, $91.44; Los Angeles, $87.61; San Francisco, $86.24; Philadelphia, $79.60. THE MAYOR APPEALS TO THE PRESIDENT.

VIGOROUS BRIEF PRESENTED BY HIS HONOR REHEARSING THE STORY OF BOSTON'S COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL DECLINE.

Mayor Curley, in appreciation of the vital importance of the forthcoming ruling by the Interstate Commerce Commission, relative to rate schedules for the City of Boston, and which, in the event of a favorable consideration, would materially relieve the present industrial and commercial decline of the municipality, has presented a vigorous brief for the consideration of President Warren G. Harding, at the White House, Washington, D. C.

The brief of Mayor Curley was as follows:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor,
November 14, 1922.

Hon. Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, The White House, Washington, D. C.:

Your Excellency,—With all due respect and a full consideration of the dignity of your high office, I have the honor to submit herewith for your attention, consideration and decision, this document which is not so much a legal brief as a layman's presentation of the story of the decline of industrial and commercial Boston through the destructive influences of the rate schedules established by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This question is now officially before the Interstate Commerce Commission, an administrative and not a judicial body, as it has been on numerous occasions during the past twenty years without any resultant relief. In the interim the evils Boston is suffering from continue; industry and commerce are drying up and some prompt and direct action on the part of the National Administration is imperatively necessary.

This call for the personal intervention of the President in this matter is not unprecedented. The President of the United States in recent months established a precedent when, by his direction or suggestion, certain rate schedules established by the Interstate Commerce Commission, covering the transportation of commodities to and from the Middle West, were reduced to the manifest betterment of the railroads and the agricultural and commercial interests of the country affected.

Only the seriousness of the conditions prevailing in the Port of Boston and reflected in the hinterland this Gateway of New England serves has led to this personal appeal to the President, as I am convinced that any action or suggestion coming from the National Administration will be accepted without question by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Respectfully yours,
James M. Curley,
Mayor.

THE PORT OF BOSTON vs. THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

Dangerous Powers.

Congress always enters upon a dangerous course when by legislative enactment it delegates to any appointive administrative body authority which enables it to stimulate or retard the industrial and commercial growth of any community, or group of communities, to foster the business of the South and West and diminish that of the North and East, or vice versa, since such authority when transformed into an administrative policy becomes a violation of the natural laws of trade and a form of oppression repugnant to the principles and practices of the American system of government. Congress attempted to delegate such power to the Interstate Commerce Commission, when it gave it authority to regulate the interstate and internal commerce of the Republic and to establish rates for the carriage of passengers and freight over the railway and steamship routes of the country; for, like the power to tax, the power to regulate and establish rates is the power to destroy, the power to foster and fatten, to cripple and starve. The delegation of such authority, even when surrounded and circumscribed by well-defined limitations, is always a perilous experiment in administration, since the commission and its administration are too far removed from the reach of the people and proximate only to the public weal through the slow, tedious, uncertain and expensive processes and methods of reaching the Supreme Court for a definite decision and declaration of the scope of the commission's authority, and is then only practically possible through the initiative of sovereign states, municipalities and rich commercial bodies. As stated above, like the power to tax, the authority to decree and enforce rate schedules is the power to ruin communities, destroy industry, shrivel up prosperity and wreck enterprise; and this power is vested in a body over whom the sovereign states of the Union, as such, have no authority, and which has successfully assumed to over-ride and nullify the laws and ordinances of the states for the regulation of trade and transportation inside their frontiers.

Boston Crippled by Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Port of Boston charges that the Interstate Commerce Commission has so used its delegated authority in its administration of the trust committed to it by Congress, that the growth and prosperity of the port have been arrested and its commerce diminished to the point of disappearance; that the disastrous results of this policy have included in the decay of the industries of Massachusetts, the decrease of her population and the decline of her agricultural interests. Since Boston has appealed to the commission at various times for relief from the artificial evils inflicted upon it and the regions it serves, without receiving any remedy, it is warranted in believing that the destructive policy of the commission has all the ear-marks of a well considered plan to put Boston and New England out of business. Moreover the Port of Boston, through its constituted representative, believes that in applying its rate-making authority to the seaports of the United States and their import and export commerce, the Interstate Commerce Commission has violated the provisions of the Federal Constitution, by assuming powers under the law that created it, that Congress could not delegate, since these powers are denied by the Constitution to Congress itself. In making differential rates between the various seaports on the Atlantic Coast, rates that favored Philadelphia and Baltimore and penalized Boston and New York, the Interstate Commerce Commission has arrogated to itself an authority not possessed by its creator, the Congress of the United States.

Constitution Violated.

Section 9 of Article 1 of the Constitution of the United States says: "No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state. No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one state over those of another."

It would appear to be clear that the Constitution aimed to protect the states from one another and the individual from the whole, and made it obvious that in the regulation of commerce and revenue all ports should be treated with equality and be subjected to no preferential, differential or discriminatory laws or rates.

It is interesting to know that the constitutional validity of the so-called "differential" rates has never been tested before the United States Supreme Court. Certain rulings and decrees of the Interstate Commerce Commission have been before the court from time to time to ascertain whether the Interstate Commerce Commission had transcended the powers conferred upon it by the act creating it; but the basic principle that lies in the Constitution itself has not been applied to the legal authority to establish as between ports on the Atlantic Coast certain differential rates.

Justice Story's Views on Uniformity.

Justice Story in his learned analysis and disquisition on the Constitution, discussing the necessity for uniformity of duties, imposts and excises throughout the Republic, says among other things that unless uniformity prevails "the grossest and most oppressive inequalities, vitally affecting the pursuits and the employments of different states, might exist. The agriculture, commerce, or manufactures of one state might be built up on the ruins of those of another; and a combination of a few states in Congress might secure a monopoly of certain branches of trade and business to themselves, to the injury, if not the destruction, of their less favored neighbors." Further on he continues: "If this provision as to uniformity of duties had been omitted, although the power might never have been abused to the injury of the feebler states of the Union (a presumption which history does not justify us in deeming quite safe or certain) yet it would in itself have been sufficient to demolish, in a practical sense, the value of most of the restrictive clauses in the Constitution. New York and Pennsylvania might by an easy combination with the Southern states have destroyed the whole navigation of New England and the Western States, might have borne down the agriculture of the South; and a combination of a yet different character might have struck at the vital interests of manufacture.

Anticipated Evils Verified.

The anticipated evils, visualized by the great jurist as possible under certain conditions and combinations, have been brought about by the Interstate Commerce Commission to the very serious injury of the commerce and industry of Boston and New England and the gain of Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Discussing the provision of the Constitution which declares: "No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state. No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one state over those of another," Justice Story says: "The obvious object of these provisions is to prevent any possibility of applying power to lay taxes or regulate commerce injuriously to the interest of any one state so as to favor or aid another. . . . The power is, therefore, wholly taken away to intermeddle with the subject of exports. On the other hand, preferences might be given to the ports of one state, by regulation, either of commerce or revenue, which might confer on their local facilities, a privilege in regard to commerce or revenue." This is precisely what the Interstate Commerce Commission has done in establishing preferential rates to the detriment of Boston and the preferment of Philadelphia and Baltimore, for the so-called "differential" is nothing more nor less than a tax on the import and export trade of Boston and a bonus or subsidy to that of the others.

What the Interstate Commerce Commission has done to Boston and to New England may at any time be done to other ports and other regions, according as the policy and personnel of the commission change from time to time; and therefore those who have the preservation of the interests and integrity of Boston in their keeping and those who have the commerce and industry of New England and New York in mind, must unite in an effort to curb such practices of the commission either by a decision of the Supreme Court or the action of Congress, or both.

In justification of the contemplated action by Boston and its interests let the story of the dealings of the commission with the Port of Boston and their disastrous outcome be told here and told as simply and succinctly as possible and with only such statistics as illustrate without confusing the statement.

Maritime Boston.

Time was when Boston, next to New York, was the most important seaport on the North Atlantic Coast and gave a service to New England and the continental hinterland North and West of it that fostered the growth and maintained the activity and prosperity of the industrial and commercial interests using the port for the delivery and distribution in foreign and domestic markets of the raw material and finished product of their business.

Boston's maritime eminence was based upon her natural fitness for the work,—her geographical position; her superior contiguity to European and South American markets; her possession of a deep, spacious and secure harbor, within quick reach of the open sea, free from the perils of fog and ice all the year round; her safe and ample anchorages; her generous dock and pier accommodations, equipped with the most modern facilities and instrumentalities for handling cargoes with expedition and economy; and served by three railroad systems; her unsurpassed banking facilities; and her supply of labor skilled in the service of the shipping business. Her natural and acquired advantages still remain.

Moreover, Boston was and is pre-eminently a port of passenger service, since travelers from all parts of the country can obtain direct and uninterrupted carriage from their initial journeying points to the pier alongside the steamer, and returning home from dock to destination, the service being free from the dangers, delays and annoyances incidental to the waterfronts of most seaports. The fact that time is an important element to business man and tourist gives Boston an added asset, either to the outgoing or homecoming traveler, because everything being equal, the overseas passage is from twenty-four to thirty-six hours shorter than to or from any other Atlantic port.

Boston's Natural Advantages.

The natural and geographical advantages of Boston, enhanced by the courage, enterprise and shrewdness of her merchants and manufacturers gave Boston her proud eminence in the commerce she enjoyed until the rate policies of the Interstate Commerce Commission were introduced to curtail her commerce, destroy her prestige and minimize her maritime importance; for to these policies and restrictions are directly traceable the evils of which Boston justly complains.

The rate schedules for the transportation of import and export commerce have favored Philadelphia and Baltimore and penalized Boston and New York; but the latter port possesses advantages that are beyond the power of the commission so far to destroy even though they are injured; but even New York may be reached in time if the combined activity of administrative usurpation and commercial greed should elect to try it. Boston stands in the commercial America of today as a startling exhibit of unjust and unfair administration; its commerce a shadow of its former greatness, its shipping driven to other ports, its New England hinterland in industrial decay, with dwindling population, impoverished agriculture and the hope of remedial readjustment gone.

Its rivals, in whose interests the commerce of Boston and the industry of New England have been stifled, Philadelphia and Baltimore, are located on rivers relatively far from the open sea; navigation to and from them is necessarily slow and hazardous, since river channels are capricious and impermanent, expensive in upkeep, demanding constant attention and imposing delays in sailing. They are naked of all the advantages and requirements a natural port like Boston possesses; yet by tempting shipping with subsidies disguised as "differentials" commerce has been tortured out of its legitimate channels, and Philadelphia and Baltimore have grown fat at the expense of Boston and New England. The Constitution and law never contemplated a policy of overcoming the natural maritime defects of any port by an administrative destruction of the natural superiority of other ports through a system of "differential" rates that forced commerce from its natural channels.

A quarter of a century ago Boston was surpassed in the value and volume of its imports and exports by New York alone.

Results of Rate Discrimination.

Between 1891 and 1900—normal years of peace and production—Boston's imports alone averaged $68,467,648 per year; as compared with Philadelphia's $50,450,914 and Baltimore's $13,631,613, showing that during that period Boston's imports exceeded that of Philadelphia and Baltimore combined. The average annual exports of these ports during the period of years ranging from 1878 to 1896, when competition was possible and when the grain trade of America was the lure of the liner and made possible a substantial import business, the export of grain was divided fairly well between the three ports, and Boston was able to maintain its place as second only to New York for many years.

With the growing authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission and its acquisition of mandatory powers competition was killed and a "differential" rate established which sent the grain trade away from Boston. Grain cargoes for ballast in the overseas trade with Europe are necessary to make permanent the sailing of liners from Boston, since industrial New England, which transforms the heavy volume of imported raw material into a finished product, cannot supply the necessary tonnage for export and must look to the grain growing West for it. A difference of a few cents per hundred from Chicago and Buffalo in favor of Philadelphia and Baltimore does not seem large, but it is the determining factor in the selection of ports by shippers when the volume of exported grain runs

QUANTITIES EXPRESSED IN SHORT TONS (2,000 POUNDS).

Port.	Year.	Imports.	Exports.	Totals.
Boston	1919	1,106,266	1,452,039	2,558,305
Philadelphia		2,925,223	5,259,766	8,184,989
Baltimore		2.246,616	4,404,151	6,650,767
Boston	1920	2,090,602	535,419	2,626,021
Philadelphia		5,300,314	6,029,488	11,329,802
Baltimore		3,833,940	7,972,851	11,806,891

into the many millions of bushels. The grain trade of Boston in 1899 was 44,000,000 bushels; in 1920, 7,986,000 bushels; and today it has practically become negligible.

In view of the commercial Boston of the past, the table of tonnages on page 1256 covering the commerce of the three seaports for 1919 and 1920 tells its own story.

The figures of 1921 are equally cheerless.

Effects on Industry.

In any fair competition by sea or land New England has asked no odds. It has only asked a free field and no favors. Industrial New England has had not only to face the competition of its business rivals outside its frontiers, but has to overcome the rate policies of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Our industries are surrendering in many instances and moving into places where long hauls from favored ports and high traffic rates do not cripple them; their skilled and specialized workers are following them to secure employment and less costly necessaries of living; the New England farmer sees his local markets vanishing and his investment diminishing and the country merchant grows disheartened.

New England and Boston have their backs to the wall; they insist that a radical change of policy or personnel in the Interstate Commerce Commission be made quickly, and they demand that their representatives in Congress get together to secure the change and save New England before it is too late.

The preservation of New England and the adjacent territory from industrial and commercial decay should be the first duty of those who represent them in Congress, regardless of political allegiances. The time has come when drastic action is necessary to secure ordinary fair play. Boston and New England neither need nor ask any favors. What they do ask and what they are entitled to is equal economic opportunity for every port; equal rates for all that will compel competition and stimulate it along lines of better and more expeditious service. There are many interests in the Middle West that prefer to do their overseas trade through Boston rather than through Philadelphia and Baltimore, but are debarred by the rate schedules decreed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

When unfair and arbitrary rates are swept away the overseas business of the country will flow through the ports that give it the best economic service, a service that connotes efficiency, economy, safety and expedition.

The Zone Policy.

The commission has established a policy of equal rates to all ports on the Pacific Coast from the Middle West and likewise to the Gulf ports, giving each group in these zones an equal opportunity in the import and export trade of the country. This wise and equitable policy is abandoned when the ports on the Atlantic Coast are dealt with. The coast is divided into North and South Atlantic zones; but in the North Atlantic zone the policy of equal rates for overseas commerce is abandoned; Philadelphia and Baltimore are favored and Boston and New York discriminated against.
